SHE HAD SUFFERED FOR ELEVEN YEARS

Only Weighed 100 Pounds—Elijah Mitchell Praises Tanlac for Restoring Wife's Health.

"As long as I live I shall praise Tanlac for what it has done for my wife," said Elijah Mitchell, Oyster Pond, Jeddere, Halifax County, Nova Scotia, Canada, recently. Continuing, Mr. Mitchell said:—

"For the past eleven years my wife has been in extremely poor health. Everything she ate disagreed with her and she suffered terribly with indigestion. She would bloat badly with gas after every meal and complained of a heavy feeling just like her food had formed into a lump, and she would have the worst sort of cramping pains. She was bothered with constipation so bad she had to always be taking some sort of laxative and at times suffered with intense headaches. She was so nervous the least little noise out of the ordinary would completely upset her and she would tremble all over and become weak after the least little excitement, and was so restless at night she could get but little sleep. She had fallen off from 140 to 100 pounds, and was in such a weak condition and so badly run down she was about as near a physical wreck as any one ever gets to be and live. She would very often have to give up entirely and get to bed, and at one time was confined to her bed for four months.

"She had taken many different medicines but none of them seemed to do her a particle of good. Well, I had been reading so much in the Halifax newspapers of the good Tanlac was doing others that I got her some, and while she has only taken five bottles it is simply remarkable how it has built her up.

"She is gaining in weight and strength every day, and looks like a different person, and she says she feels better in every way then she has in years. She can eat anything she wants and never suffer any bad after effects; her nerves are getting in fine condition and she can sleep as peaceful as a child all night long. She never complains of a pain of any kind anymore and has not had a headache since she started taking Tanlac. I was badly worried over her condition, and I can not tell you how thankful we both are for the good Tanlac has done her."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

Alliston has a population of 1264. The assessment is $637,867.

FRANK CARLSON FOUND RELIEF IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Saskatchewan Man Who Suffered All Summer Claims That His New Lease of Health is Due to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Livelong, Sask., May 17th, (Special)—Most enthusiastic about the benefit he has received from Dodd's Kidney Pills is Mr. Frank Carlson, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place.

"I was gassed in a well on my farm 25 feet deep," Mr. Carlson says. "I was nearly dead. I was treated for a whole summer for my trouble, but did not get better.

"Then I read in a little almanac about Dodd's Kidney Pills. I had no idea they might benefit me, but was willing to try anything. To my surprise the improvement in my general health was so great, and my kidneys were so much better, that I feel like advising everybody to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. I would not be without them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys and enable them to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the sovereign remedy for sick kidneys.

PRESIDENT BEATTY ON Y. M. C. A. WORK.

In a foreword to an attractive little pamphlet issued by the Railway Y. M. C. A. of Canada, Mr. E. W. Beatty, President of the C. P. R., pays a tribute to the work of this association.

"The high value of the work," says Mr. Beatty, " of the Young Men's Christian Association in the interests of men and boys has come to be generally and properly recognized, particularly on account of its efforts and accomplishments on behalf of our soldiers during the recent world war.

"Among the various spheres of the Association's activities not the least valuable is the work of the Railway Branches which minister to the intellectual, the social, the moral and the physical needs of the railway men irrespective of race or creed.

"The inception of this work on the Canadian Pacific Railway dates back to 1906 when the building at Revelstoke, B. C., was erected, and so well satisfied was the Company's officers with the experiment tried there that 9 additional branch associations have since been established. These provide home surroundings and comforts for men in train service when away from home and to many employees located at outlying points they afford the only home facilities that are available to them.

"It is not only that good meals and clean beds and baths are provided, but the educational advantages, the recreational facilities and the opportunities for social intercourse amidst wholesome surroundings must necessarily contribute to the well being of the men and benefit the community in which they live, and the Company with which they are employed.

"The eminently satisfactory results of this work on the Canadian Pacific lines in the past for which I desire to express my admiration and appreciation, have without doubt been achieved through the earnest and cordial co-operation of the Company's employees with the Association's officers and staffs, and with the continuance of their united efforts the future success of the work can, I feel sure, be confidently entrusted to them."

The Railway Y. M. C. A. provided 140,000 beds to railway men and served 328,000 meals in 1919. Its buildings are valued at $580,000.

The closing of the Queen's Hotel for conversion into a garage and the removal of Mr. and Mrs. McGrath to Toronto leaves Shelburne with only one hotel.

POISONED BY GAS WHILE IN A WELL

FRANK CARLSON FOUND RELIEF IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Saskatchewan Man Who Suffered All Summer Claims That His New Lease of Health is Due to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Livelong, Sask., May 17th, (Special)—Most enthusiastic about the benefit he has received from Dodd's Kidney Pills is Mr. Frank Carlson, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place.

"I was gassed in a well on my farm 25 feet deep," Mr. Carlson says. "I was nearly dead. I was treated for a whole summer for my trouble, but did not get better.

"Then I read in a little almanac about Dodd's Kidney Pills. I had no idea they might benefit me, but was willing to try anything. To my surprise the improvement in my general health was so great, and my kidneys were so much better, that I feel like advising everybody to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. I would not be without them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys and enable them to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the sovereign remedy for sick kidneys.

PRESIDENT BEATTY ON Y. M. C. A. WORK.

In a foreword to an attractive little pamphlet issued by the Railway Y. M. C. A. of Canada, Mr. E. W. Beatty, President of the C. P. R., pays a tribute to the work of this association.

"The high value of the work," says Mr. Beatty, " of the Young Men's Christian Association in the interests of men and boys has come to be generally and properly recognized, particularly on account of its efforts and accomplishments on behalf of our soldiers during the recent world war.

"Among the various spheres of the Association's activities not the least valuable is the work of the Railway Branches which minister to the intellectual, the social, the moral and the physical needs of the railway men irrespective of race or creed.

"The inception of this work on the Canadian Pacific Railway dates back to 1906 when the building at Revelstoke, B. C., was erected, and so well satisfied was the Company's officers with the experiment tried there that 9 additional branch associations have since been established. These provide home surroundings and comforts for men in train service when away from home and to many employees located at outlying points they afford the only home facilities that are available to them.

"It is not only that good meals and clean beds and baths are provided, but the educational advantages, the recreational facilities and the opportunities for social intercourse amidst wholesome surroundings must necessarily contribute to the well being of the men and benefit the community in which they live, and the Company with which they are employed.

"The eminently satisfactory results of this work on the Canadian Pacific lines in the past for which I desire to express my admiration and appreciation, have without doubt been achieved through the earnest and cordial co-operation of the Company's employees with the Association's officers and staffs, and with the continuance of their united efforts the future success of the work can, I feel sure, be confidently entrusted to them."

The Railway Y. M. C. A. provided 140,000 beds to railway men and served 328,000 meals in 1919. Its buildings are valued at $580,000.

ANAEMIA ROBS ITS VICTIMS BY STEALTH

Conditions of Thin Blood That Could be Corrected Easily are Stealing the Health and Energy of Many Men and Women, and Boys and Girls.

Anaemia, which literally means bloodlessness, is one of the most prevalent troubles of the present day. If neglected it is apt to develop into pernicious anaemia, one of the most hopeless diseases. While anaemia attacks men and boys, it is more prevalent among young girls and women, and for this reason every woman, particularly every mother, should know how to recognize the signs of this trouble which makes its approach so gradually and so stealthily that it is often far advanced before the nature of the trouble is noticed. One general symptom of anaemia is pallor. The cheeks gradually lose their color and the lips become pale or white. With this loss of color there comes a tendency to fatigue, or palpitation of the heart, and breathlessness after slight exertion, with occasional headaches. In the more severe cases fainting spells frequently occur.

In ordinary anaemia conditions, including the anaemia that affects young girls in their 'teens, Dr. Williams Pink Pills are all the medicine required. Fresh air, sunlight and nourishing food will do the rest. Any woman or girl taking Dr. Williams Pink Pills can tell by the growing redness of her lips that the pills are making her blood rich and red.

Miss Mabel Feener, Liverpool, N. S., says:—Before I began the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills I felt like a complete wreck of my former self. My blood was thin and watery; I suffered from faint and dizzy spells, and had headaches almost every day. I was taking doctor's medicine, but it was not helping me and at this time I was learning my trade as a tailoress, and was forced through my illness to give up work. After reading an advertisement of Dr. Williams Pink Pills one day I decided to give the pills a trial. After taking two boxes I felt that I was being benefited and continued their use until I was fully restored to health. The pills certainly did wonders for me, and I cannot recommend them too highly."

The purpose of Dr. Williams Pink Pills is to build up the blood. They do this one thing and they do it well. They are for this reason an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or deficient blood, as rheumatism, neuralgia, after-effects of the grip and fevers. The pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drug, and cannot injure the most delicate system. You can get Dr. Williams Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE DUKE CASE

As stated briefly in last week's Banner the Duke case came to a sudden end about four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon of last week. When the Prosecution had put in the evidence it had to offer His Lordship intimated that he did not think the Crown had made out any case. Mr. A. J. Russell Snow, the Crown Prosecutor, stated that he was inclined to agree with his Lordship, but was not prepared to take the responsibility of withdrawing the case from the jury. Mr. Snow added that if the Court was inclined to take the responsibility he would not offer any objection. His Lordship thereupon directed the jury that as there was no evidence to substantiate a charge of manslaughter through neglect to supply the Hambly woman with medical necessaries during her illness it was their duty to bring in a verdict of "Not Guilty." This the jury did and the Court then discharged the accused. The Crown witnesses were Sam Courtney, Mrs. Sanderson, Dr. M. Dunning, Dr. T. W. Allison, Dr. T. H. Henry, Dr. J. A. MacLeod and Wm. Shaw. A fact that helped Duke materially was Dr. Dunning's statement under oath that the accused had asked him when he visited the sick woman on Monday to visit her twice a day if necessary and to see that she was given whatever medicine she needed.

HOSPITAL NOTES

At the regular meeting of the I. O. D. E. at the home of Mrs. J. B. Adamson on Friday evening, a most interesting report of the recent Provincial Convention in London was given by the Regent, Mrs. W. E. Irvine. To hear of the work, not only in the Province and the Dominion, but also in the United States and Great Britain, was most inspiring. The Order is putting forth a strong effort and exerting a great influence in educational work. When a Dominion-wide organization works in harmony much is bound to be accomplished. Every woman in our Dominion should be a member of the order and so work for the good of our Empire.

A linen donation will be gratefully accepted for our hospital. Tray cloths and towels are especially solicited as well as money to buy other articles. Miss Nellie Hewat, Second St., is the convenor and will be most happy to receive individual or institute donations.

MR. JOHN LAVERTY

Mr. John Laverty, an old and highly respected resident of Mono, died very quietly at the home of his son, Mr. Robt. G. Laverty, lot 20, con. 7, east, in that township, on Wednesday evening, May 12th. Deceased, who was 90 years of age, was born and had spent the whole of his life on the farm, where he died. Despite his great age, he had been bright and quite active until about two weeks before his death, when he became suddenly ill. His demise was not due to any particular ailment, but to the inevitable breakdown that is bound to come to the aged sooner or later. Deceased was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Laverty, who were amongst the first settlers in the east side of Mono township. When a young man Mr. Laverty was married to Miss Margaret Lindsay, a daughter of Mr. King Lindsay, also one of the early settlers in the east of Mono. His wife died about seventeen years ago. Deceased is survived by a family of four sons and two daughters, namely, W. L. and Robt. G., farmers in Mono, Thos., of Orangeville, Richard and Mrs. J. Irwin, of Adjala and Mrs. W. J. Irwin, of Toronto. Mr. William Laverty, of Shelburne, is the only surviving brother. The late Mr. Laverty was a member of the Anglican church, a Conservative and had been a member of the Orange Order in his younger days. He was a quiet, industrious man, a successful farmer and was highly respected for his integrity and excellent qualities as a neighbor and citizen. There was a large attendance of the neighbors and friends at the funeral, which was held to Wesley Church cemetery on Saturday afternoon. Rev. G. W. Lynd, of Rosemont, conducted the services at the house and grave and Messrs. Sam E. Stinson, G. Lindsay, J. A. Marshall, John Solomon R. J. Wilson and W. J. Bower officiated as pallbearers.

STEPHEN A. CUNNINGHAM

After an illness of ten days from pneumonia followed by other complications, Stephen A. Cunningham passed away at his residence, 64 Brookfield St., Toronto, early on Sunday morning, May 2nd. Deceased was the eldest son of the late John Cunningham and Mrs. Cunningham, of Grand Valley. He was born in Peel township 59 years ago and with his parents moved to East Luther when a small boy. With them he endured the hardships and privations of pioneer life and saw the dense woods that covered the country converted into fertile fields. Mr. Cunningham followed farming in East Luther for a number of years, afterwards removing to Toronto, where he followed the trade of house carpenter. Deceased was a man of quiet disposition, who never sought public favors or desired to be in the public eye. He was never so happy as when in his home with his family gathered around him. He was a lifelong member of the Methodist Church. His wife, who was Miss Ferrier prior to marriage, his aged mother, four sons and two daughters, and also seven brothers and five sisters mourn the loss of a loving husband, son, father and brother.

The remains were conveyed to Grand Valley for interment. The funeral, which was held from the home of Mr. W. H. Mutrie, Mill St., on Tuesday afternoon, May 4th, was very largely attended by former friends and neighbors. The services at the house and grave were conducted by the Rev. Samuel Landis. The remains were laid to rest in the Union Cemetery. The pallbearers were six nephews, Messrs. Robt., Jos. and Elgin Cunningham and Frank, Percy and Jos. Ferrier. The family are John, in Alberta, Mrs. J. McPherson, East Luther, Wilfrid, Leslie, Oliver and Grace, at home. The brothers and sisters are, P. J. Cunningham, of Peel township, James, John and George, of East Luther, Ed. and Fred, in the West, Abner, in Fergus, Mrs. Geo. Adair, in the West, Mrs. W. B. Dodds, Caledon, Mrs. W. H. Mutrie, Grand Valley, Mrs. Irvine Crow and Mrs. W. Smale, Brantford. The many beautiful floral tributes bore testimony to the sorrow of those who had loved and lost their loved one.

—Mrs. John Porterfield, Fraxa Junction, had the misfortune to fall and fracture her wrist while attempting to alight from a slowly moving car last Friday. Dr. T. H. Henry attended to her injuries.

JAS. B. REID

Death Removes Former Prominent East Garafraxa Citizen and Public Servant.

James B. Reid, a former Reeve of East Garafraxa and for many years a prominent resident of that municipality, passed away at his late residence in the Jackson Block about two o'clock on Thursday afternoon. Deceased, who had reached the ripe age of 83 years and 5 months, had been in feeble health for the past year or longer and his death was by no means unexpected. Born in the township of Etobicoke, a short distance from Weston, in 1836, the late Mr. Reid came to East Garafraxa with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reid, in 1846 when a lad of twelve years. The family was one of the first to settle in The Maples district. There were no school facilities in the community until six years later and as a consequence young Reid had little opportunity to acquire even an ordinary public school education. What education he did receive was picked up during a couple of winters in school when nearing young manhood. Notwithstanding this disadvantage, he was well informed on current events and topics and early in life manifested an active interest in the public affairs of his municipality. He was assessor of the township before its division into East and West Garafraxa, took an active part in the proceedings which culminated in the creation of the municipality and was also active in the agitation, which resulted in the organization of the County of Dufferin out of portions of the Counties of Wellington, Grey and Simcoe and the selection of Orangeville as the county seat. Mr. Reid acted as collector for East Garafraxa for a number of years and after he resigned this position was induced to enter the township council. He served as Councillor for several terms, and was then elected Reeve, which position he filled with credit to himself and to the advantage of the municipality. Later on he was appointed township treasurer and served his fellow ratepayers for several years in this capacity, finally retiring voluntarily from the office. Early in life the subject of our sketch married Miss Mary Hunter and about the same time started farming on his own account on lot 6, con. 18, East Garafraxa, where he lived until he retired from the farm and moved to Orangeville in 1903. Mrs. Reid predeceased her husband by about twelve years. Deceased is survived by a family of four sons and three daughters. These are Thos. W. Reid, Reeve of Amaranth, Matthew H., of Orangeville, Jas. A. and Samuel J., of Melfort, Sask., Mrs. W. A. Donaldson and Mrs. Wm. Carroll, of East Garafraxa, and Mrs. R. Forgrave, of Orangeville. Mr. Reid was the oldest of a family of nine brothers and one sister. Five members of the family survive him, namely, County Clerk J. C. Reid, Mr. T. H. Reid and Mr. Joshua Reid, of Orangeville, and Mr. Isaac Reid and Mrs. A. J. Simpson, of East Garafraxa. The late Mr. Reid was a member of the Methodist church, a Conservative in his political leanings, an Orangeman and a Mason. He had been an active member of Jordan Hall L. O. L. No. 22 for 65 years and was an honored Past Master of the Lodge. As a neighbor and a citizen he was held in the highest esteem as was abundantly testified by the unusually large attendance at the funeral on Sunday afternoon. An immense concourse attended the service at the residence and there were nearly fifty motors in the cortege which followed the remains to their last resting place in Greenwood cemetery. A large number of beautiful floral tributes also bore testimony to the worth of the departed man. Rev. E. R. Young had charge of the services at the house and grave. Members of L. O. L. No. 22 and other lodges to the number of seventy were present in full regalia and circled the grave while the impressive burial ritual of the Orange Order was read by W. Bro. J. A. Hughes, County Master of Dufferin, and W. Bro. Rev. W. M. Morris, County Chaplain. The four brothers already named and two sons, Messrs. Thos. W. and M. H. Reid, were the pallbearers.

DROWNED

Little Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Moote, of East Garafraxa, lost life in Pond.

A distressing fatality occurred near The Maples in East Garafraxa on Monday afternoon. While playing on the banks of a fishing pond on her father's farm, Mildred Moote, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Moote, fell into the pond and was drowned. The little one was not missed for a few minutes and when her body was recovered about ten minutes later life was apparently extinct. Dr. MacLeod was immediately summoned by 'phone and reached the scene about half an hour after the unfortunate accident. He worked over the little body for thirty minutes or longer in a fruitless effort to induce respiration. The child, who was about twenty-one months of age, had been at the pond earlier in the afternoon in company with some older children. They had taken her to the house when they left, but she returned to the water alone. The little victim was the youngest of a family of five young children. The sad occurrence has thrown the whole community into gloom. Profound sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents, who are heartbroken over the loss of the little one.

The funeral was held from the stricken home to Greenwood cemetery yesterday afternoon. Practically every home in the neighborhood was represented in the lengthy procession that followed the remains of the little victim to their last resting place in the cemetery.

ENGINEER'S DEATH

Former Orangeville Man is Instantly Killed at Parkdale.

Thomas Morrow, a C. P. R. engineer, was instantly killed in the railway yards at Parkdale station about 10.56 o'clock on Tuesday forenoon, May 11th. An injector on his engine was causing some trouble and after running the engine on a siding he got down to fix it. He was enveloped in a cloud of steam and finding the steam uncomfortably hot drew back a little to get a view of the troublesome injector from another angle. Just as he made the movement Morrow was struck on the side of the head by the bumper beam of an engine on a fast passenger train from the west. The passenger train, which was in charge of Engineer Russell Fallis, was running about forty miles an hour and the force of the blow threw Morrow a distance of fifteen or twenty feet. His death was instantaneous. On account of the steam the unfortunate man had no warning of the approaching train. For the same reason the engineer on the passenger train was unable to see Morrow.

Deceased, who was 59 years of age, was a former Orangeville man and a brother of Mr. William Morrow, Amanda St. He had been railroading over thirty years. He had formerly lived in Teeswater, running out of that town to Toronto for a number of years, but had resided in Toronto for the last twenty years and was engineer on one of the yard engines at the time of his death. He is survived by a widow, formerly Miss Matilda Corbett, of this town, and a family of two sons and two daughters. The latter are Mrs. Lorne Williamson, of Arthur, and Mrs. Arthur Williamson and Edgar and Harold Morrow, of West Toronto. Mr. Wm. Morrow is the only surviving brother. The sisters are Mrs. Henry Craigie, Rochester, Mrs. Harvey Sadd, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Geo. Edgington, of Brownsville, Ont. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, the funeral taking place from the C. P. R. depot to the Forest Lawn cemetery on Friday morning. Rev. Capt. Stewart, rector of St. Mark's, conducted the burial service. Deceased was a member of Teeswater Masonic Lodge and was buried with full Masonic Honors. At the request of the Teeswater brethren, Harris Lodge, Orangeville, took charge of the funeral arrangements here. Quite a large number of the members of the craft were present in full regalia and the burial service of the Order was taken by W. Bro. A. T. Howard, P. W. M., and Bro. Rev. E. R. Young. The pallbearers, all Masons, were Bros. Hugh Craigie, C. R. McKeown, N. Willoughby, Wm. Braiden, J. L. Island and A. E. Annis. There were a large number of floral tributes, including a beautiful "Gates Ajar" design from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and a pillow from Teeswater Masonic Lodge.

A MOTHER'S ADVICE

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she is always happy to recommend them to others. Her advice, given after a careful trial, can be readily followed with assured good results. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach. They always do good—they cannot possibly do harm even to the youngest babe. Concerning them Mrs. P. Laforest, St. Nazaire, Que., writes:—"For three months my baby was constipated and cried continually. On the advice of a friend I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and now at the age of five months he is perfectly well and weighs twenty pounds. I am delighted to use them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

From the reports received, whether final or otherwise, a total of $37,126.35 has been subscribed. It would seem from this that when full reports are received it will be found that the Presbytery has exceeded its allocation of $40,000. On the basis of the reports to date the allocation is exceeded by $2,272.35. It is gratifying to be able to state that a large proportion of the subscriptions have been paid in cash. The success of this splendid Christian Enterprise so far will no doubt be a great incentive to the congregations that have still to complete their campaign.

CALEDON

(Too late for last week.)

Our telephone situation is gradually becoming worse and worse. No decision has yet been handed out from Osgoode Hall as to who really owns the concern, and now after working since December last without any remuneration our "Central" girls have served notice that they will not operate any longer after the 14th inst. No one can blame these girls for taking this course after the way they have been treated. They have rendered courteous, pleasing and efficient service and it is surely high time that they were paid something for their faithful discharge of their duties, and some arrangement made whereby they would be assured some remuneration for the future.

An appeal should be made to the Railway Board for the appointment of a Receiver, who would take steps to collect some of the long past due rentals and pay those who have stuck to their posts and discharged their duties under discouraging conditions. Mr. McDonald, our new Councillor, was elected to solve the telephone problem. We appeal to him to make a serious effort to keep the system going. Get busy Mac., it seems to be up to you.

BOYLE-DOHERTY

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Doherty, Second St., at 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning, May 12th, when their elder daughter, Otta May, was united in marriage to Mr. L. Norman Boyle, of Rosemont, the Rev. W. M. Morris officiating. As the wedding march was played by the bride's sister, Miss Bertha Doherty, the bridal couple, who were unattended, took their places under an arch of evergreens. The brde wore a travelling suit of navy blue garbardine with georgette blouse and hat to match. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl crescent, and to the pianiste an amethyst ring. After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Boyle left for Toronto on a short honeymoon trip. They will reside on the groom's farm near Rosemont. C. C. M. Prices Only Half Those of Twenty-Five Years Ago

Twenty-five years ago $100 to $150 was paid willingly for a bicycle.

In those days, riders took pride in their mounts. They carefully examined specifications and equipment before buying.

Then came the slump!

People became careless.

Any kind of a bicycle was thought good enough.

Price — cheapness—was the main consideration.

The Bicycle of Quality Has Come Back

To-day the bicycle—the bicycle of quality — has come back.

Riders are again taking pride in their mounts and showing discrimination in their buying.

They are demanding bicycles built of the highest grade materials, with all parts accurately made.

They are demanding bearings that will not only run perfectly when new, but that will continue to run easily.

They are insisting on bicycles that are not only easy and comfortable to ride, but with a quality of materials that assures safety in riding.

They are demanding bicycles that will retain the bright lustre of the showroom product.

In other words, Canadian riders are insisting on C. C. M. Bicycles — the Standard of Canada—used and sought for by Bicycle Riders in all overseas British possessions.

C. C. M. Bicycles are sold at prices consistent with C. C. M. quality.

To pay less is to risk disappointment.

LEAP YEAR, 1920

Give me your rapt attention,
Oh, maidens fancy free!
Here are golden Leap Year chances,
That will make your sorrows flee.

Jim Hillyard has been so patient,
Looking forward to this year;
If some girl would only ask him,
It would fill his heart with cheer.

Though Thompson Nesbitt gives the music,
And tends to his farm meantime,
His eyes are for the pretty girls,
We hope that he will shine.

Frank Johnston is another,
Waiting still in Bachelor's Row,
He'll accept you any minute,
Anyone will tell you so.

Then comes cheery Jimmie Garrity,
As patient as can be;
If you think Jimmy won't marry,
Just ask him once and see.

Jack Lundy is still single,
And many a girl will sigh;
But though prospects are not very bright,
It's always worth a try.

George Emack is a typical farmer,
Has no time for girls at all;
So it's plain your hour's wasted,
When on him you call.

Joe Nesbitt, happy Joe!
For him jolly girls should try;
Just put your slippers on the sill,
And you'll get him bye and bye.

Homer Hillyard still chores away,
And often late at night,
So girls, please heed my warning,
Unless he takes a fright.

Sam Warbock, returned soldier,
He smiles, and that with vim;
But, girls, don't waste your precious time,
Some Scottish lass got him.

Norman Harrison Farquhar Baxter,
Angus McLeod and Cecil Dodds—
Now here's a bunch of lovely boys,
Who should be caught by all odds.

Oh, all you girls of Caledon,
Who chance to read this rhyme,
The bachelors of the district
Await you any time.

Now, show them you can do it!
The way is surely clear,
Pick out your man, and bear in mind,
It's a long, long time to next Leap Year.

RENNICK–BACON

On Wednesday afternoon, May 5th at two o'clock, a happy wedding took place at the home of Albert Bacon, 4th Concession, west, Caledon Township, when his second daughter, Una Mary, was married to David James Rennick, eldest son of James Rennick, of Marsville.

The ceremony was performed in the prettily decorated parlor of the home in the presence of immediate relatives of the contracting parties by Capt. Rev. Frank C. Harper, B. D., minister of St. Andrews Church, Hillsburg. The bride entering the room on the arm of her father during the playing of the wedding march. Many happily chosen gifts were tokens of the popularity of the young couple, and there was a happy circle of friends who sat down to the tasty wedding breakfast after the conclusion of the ceremony.

The bridal dance that evening was a delightful social gathering, and everyone enjoyed it to the full, breaking up about two a. m. The good wishes of their many friends are with the bride and bridegroom on their new home at Hillsburg, that they may have a long and happy married life.

M'VANEL–TIPPING

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Tipping, "Hill View" farm, Jessopville, was the scene of an interesting event on Wednesday, April 28th, when their only daughter, Jeanetta Arabella, was united in the holy bonds of wedlock to Mr. Bruce A. McVanel, of Amaranth, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McVanel. The marriage took place promptly at four o'clock, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. F. G. Stotesbury, of Corbetton, in the presence of about seventy-five guests. The bride entered the parlor with her brother Wallace, while the wedding music was being played by Miss Jessie Murdy, and took her place beneath a dainty arch of evergreens and roses, being attired in a pretty gown of pale blue pussy-willow taffeta with georgette. Both the bride and groom were unattended. After the signing of the register all partook of an excellent wedding dinner, the tables being tastefully adorned with smilax and roses. Toasts were proposed and were honored by happy speeches expressing the felicitations of friends and heartiest good wishes for the newly wedded couple. The bride was the recipient of many pretty and useful gifts, the groom's gift being a diamond ring and to the pianist a brooch of English jade with pearls. The young couple will reside on lot 28, con. 13, East Luther, and the best wishes of their many friends will follow them to their new home.

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Brampton had a near tragedy on Monday evening when Neil McArthur, second son of Rev. and Mrs. McArthur, of the Presbyterian church, was knocked down and run over by an auto.

The little fellow was going to the Post Office for mail and was riding his bicycle. He had just turned from Church Street into Main when a car knocked him headlong from his wheel. He fell on his face on the pavement, receiving severe bruises and was rolled over twice before the two wheels passed over his legs in two different places, both inflicting bad bruises.

The spectators held their breath expecting that the little fellow was killed, but the plucky chap got up, staggered to the curb and sat down, disclaiming even the need of a doctor.

The lad will eventually be none the worse for his adventure, and he and his parents have received many congratulations upon his providential escape.—Conservator.

Dr. R. F. Taylor, of Bolton, will remove to Listowel June 1st.

W. Grummett, of Wareham, a veteran of the great war, and nephew of Jas. Grummett, of Honeywood, is now studying law at Osgoode Hall.

LOWE BROTHERS
HIGH STANDARD PAINTS

These paints of proven performance show their quality by their looks, life and wear. Results have proved their certain economy.

HIGH STANDARD saves money now and next time.

It saves money "now" because a gallon covers more surface than a gallon of cheaper paint. You will need fewer gallons of HIGH STANDARD. It spreads easier enabling your painter to do a better job in less time.

It saves money "next time" because HIGH STANDARD is a long-wearing paint. You don't need to paint so often. And when after years of service it has gradually worn away, it leaves a good surface for repainting. This means saving of time and material.

There is a Lowe Brothers paint, varnish, enamel or stain for every purpose

CARLOAD OF WHISKEY

Halton County Inspector makes a big Seizure at Moffatt.

On Monday Inspector Harvey got an inkling that a car containing 200 cases of Walker's whiskey had arrived at Moffats station on the C. P. R. and circumstances surrounding the shipment looked suspicious. The Inspector at once hurried to Moffat. He found the car there and upon investigation ascertained that twelve cases had been stolen from the car enroute. He took possession, put padlocks on each door of the car and sealed it, and went to the C. P. R. station to guard the car Monday night. He returned at short intervals to see that the car was not being tampered with. He was closely watched by a gang in hiding and about midnight, when he returned to car after only a quarter of an hour's absence, found the lock and seal broken and fourteen cases stolen. He then secured a coal oil heater and spent the balance of the night in the car. Mr. Harvey has been in poor health lately and his all night vigil was rather trying. He remained on guard until Tuesday afternoon, when the car was shipped to Toronto to the license Branch, in charge of a couple of the department's officials.

The value of the whiskey seized is between $5000 and $6,000.

The event created considerable excitement at Moffatt. The consignees have been summoned and the case will be heard at Brookville on Saturday.—Acton Free Press.

Owing to the rising costs, particularly the big increase in the price of newsprint, the Listowel papers have found it necessary to increase their subscription rates, and after July 1st will charge $2.00 a year.

X-RAY FAILED

Mechanic Gives Evidence

There are cases where science in its most profound phases is absolutely balked, yet other help is at hand.

This is proved by the testimony of a mechanic, 35 years of age, who suffered, at times, positive torture from stone in the bladder. After trying many remedies without result, he had an X-Ray photograph taken, which also failed to show where the trouble was. Fortunately, just at this juncture, when he almost had given up hope of any relief, Gin Pills were brought to his notice. These famous Pills in a very short time enabled him to pass the stone which was the cause of his trouble. We will give the name of this man on request.

Kidney and Bladder troubles should not be neglected. The first symptoms should be sufficient warning. Pain in the sides or back, constant headaches, neuralgic and sciatic pains, rheumatism, dizziness, constipation, gravel, highly-colored urine, specks before the eyes, all point to derangement. Gin Pills should be obtained without delay. Druggists and dealers carry them—50c—your money refunded if not satisfied. Free sample on request.

George Smith, of Wingham, thoroughly believes in advertising. Several weeks ago he advertised in the Webster Advertiser for a wife, and a young lady named White of Eldorado, Ill, answered. HUSBANDS

A perfect husband, who can find one? For his price is far above gold bonds. The heart of his wife rejoiceth in him, and he shall have no lack of encouragement.

He worketh willingly with his hands and bringeth home all his shekels.

He riseth without calling and lifteth the ice from off the dumb-waiter. He starteth the kitchen range. He considereth his wife, and kisseth her occasionally.

Six days of the week he doeth labor for his moneys, and upon the seventh doeth chores within the house for relaxation.

With his own hands he runneth the lawn mower and washeth the dog.

He layeth his hands to the parlor curtains and putteth up the portieres.

He hooketh his wife's dresses up the back, without mutterings.

He putteth the cat out by night.

He is not afraid of the cook.

His ashes fall not upon the carpet, and his cigarette burneth not holes in the draperies.

For he doeth his smoking on the piazza.

He weareth everlasting socks and seweth on his own buttons.

His overcoat doeth him two seasons.

Yet, when he ventureth abroad with his wife he donneth a dress suit without grumbling.

The grouch knoweth him not and his breakfast always pleaseth him. His mouth is filled with praises for his wife's cooking. He doth not expect chicken salad from left-over veal, neither the making of lobster patties from an ham-bone.

His wife is known within the gates, when she sitteth among the officers of her Club, by the fit of her gowns and imported hats. He luncheth meagerly upon a sandwich that he may adorn her with jewels. He grumbleth not at the bills.

He openeth his mouth with praises and noteth her new frock. And the word of flattery is on his tongue.

He perceiveth not the existence of other women.

He may be trusted to mail a letter.

Lo, many men have I met in the world, but none like unto him.

Yet have you all seen him—in your dreams!

CADET INSPECTION

Lieut.-Col. Huggins, Organizer and Inspector of Cadet Corps in Military District No. 2, made his annual Inspection of the High and Public Schools Cadet Corps on the High School campus on Friday afternoon. A large number of citizens and friends of the students were on hand to witness the inspection. Upon his arrival at the grounds at 2.30 the Inspecting Officer, who was accompanied by Lieut.-Col. Preston, was given the general salute by the two Corps, who were drawn up in order on the grounds. After inspecting the Corps very carefully and following closely the drill under the direction of their officers, the Inspecting Officer addressed the Cadets at some length, complimenting them on the excellence of their work and the great improvement since he had made his last inspection a year ago. Col. Preston also spoke briefly, after which the students gave hearty cheers for the Inspecting Officer, Lieut.-Col. Preston, Principal Hackett and Principal Firth, who was in charge of the Public School Corps. After they had been Dismissed the two Corps marched down town and paraded Broadway headed by their bugle band, under the leadership of Mr. Aurie Aiken, an ex-student of the High School and also a Great War Veteran. The boys made a smart soldierly appearance and their excellent marching elicited much favorable comment from the onlookers. The parade strength was slightly over sixty, the two Corps being about equal in numbers. The efficiency of the bugle band was also the subject of many favorable remarks from the spectators of the parade. Just here a word of credit is due to Mr. Geo. Ball, another ex-pupil and a War Veteran, and Mr. Russell Merrow for their services in instructing the band. The officers of the Corps are:—

HIGH SCHOOL
Instructor—Principal Hackett.
Captain—Arthur Macpherson.
1st Lieutenant—Terence McKeown.
2nd Lieutenant—Will Porter.
Sergeants—No. 1, Armour Robinson, No. 2, Ross Walker; No. 3, Charlie Robinson; No. 4, Bruce Kyles.

MRS. WM. HOWARD

Mrs. William Howard, an old and respected citizen of this community, passed away very peacefully at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. J. Crowe, Zina St., late on Tuesday afternoon. Deceased, who had attained the good old age of 79 years and 10 months, had been bedfast for the last year or longer. Her husband died a little over a year ago. She is survived by one son, Mr. John Howard, of Orangeville, a veteran of the Great War. Mrs. Crowe is the only daughter. The sympathy of all friends of the family is extended to the son and daughter in the loss of a mother, whom they loved and revered. The funeral will be held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Crowe to the Forest Lawn Cemetery at 2.30 o'clock this (Thursday) afternoon.

YORK STREET FIRE

Monday forenoon a spark from the chimney lodged in the shingles and set fire to the roof of Geo. Foster's dwelling house on York St. Fortunately the shingles were laid in mortar and this prevented the fire from spreading as rapidly as it would otherwise have done. An alarm was sounded and the fire brigade was soon on the scene and speedily extinguished the blaze. About the only damage to the lower part of the house was that caused by water, which did some injury to the contents. Mr. Foster had shingles on the ground before nightfall and a start was made on Tuesday on the job of repairing the damaged roof. We understand the loss will be fairly well covered by insurance. Just as the electric alarm started to ring an excited fireman thought to expedite matters by pulling the bell rope. The effect was to put the electric alarm out of commission and the only alarm that could then be sounded was created by the use of the rope and the old-fashioned hand power. The damage was trifling and was speedily repaired later in the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fish, of Beeton, wish to take this opportunity of thanking the people of Hockley and vicinity, who contributed so kindly and generously toward presenting them with furniture and a valuable set of dishes. Such kindness and generosity will never be forgotten.

SPECIAL SERVICES

Large Congregations Hear Evangelist Robinson and his Co-Workers—Mission will close on Sunday.

The special services in St. Andrew's Church continue to draw large congregations. In fact the attendance is increasing as the services progress thus showing a deepening interest in the work. The evangelist, Mr. F. A. Robinson, spent a busy day last Sabbath. In the morning he spoke to a large congregation in the Methodist church and in the afternoon addressed a gathering of about 250 men in the Opera House. The subject at the latter meeting was "Seeing the World." The speaker made a strong plea for purity of life, emphasizing the dangers of incontinence and the penalties that it usually visits upon the offender. Sunday night Mr. Robinson occupied the pulpit in St. Andrew's and conducted the best attended and probably the most impressive service yet held. The large edifice was crowded to the doors and the ushers had difficulty finding seating accommodation for the late comers. Mr. Robinson preached a heart searching sermon on Paul's appearance before Felix, emphasizing the governor's fatal delay in putting off to a more convenient season the fateful decision that the Apostle's reasoning had almost persuaded him to make. The singing by the choir was even more effective than usual and the same may be said of the playing of Miss Grunert, the accompanist, and the solos by Miss Niven and duet by Miss Niven and Mr. Robinson.

Monday night the church was again filled to the doors to hear Mr. Robinson tell the beautiful story entitled "Probable Sons." As a story teller Mr. Robinson is hard to surpass and he had the undivided attention of the large audience from start to finish. The story was illustrated by a series of exceedingly fine pictures.

All who saw the beautiful slides shown on Monday night and at other times during the services will be delighted to know that to-night's (Thursday) service will be given entirely to pictures. Much pictorial information will be given on "How the Other Half Lives." The pictures and Mr. Robinson's word descriptions will be humorous and at the same time inspiring.

An object lesson, Talk and Story will be given in the church on Friday afternoon at 4.15, to which all the boys and girls are invited. Boys and girls should not miss this.

Some friends who heard Mr. Robinson elsewhere have asked that he preach on Immortality. Consequently on Sunday morning he will first address the children and then in his sermon answer the question, "If a Man Die, Shall He Live Again?" Many have stated that this message of courage and hope has cleared away their doubts regarding another life. There should be a large attendance at this Sunday morning service.

The service on Sunday evening will bring the Mission in Orangeville to a close. Mr. Robinson will speak on the subject, "Disturbing Conditions." There will be the usual song service by the choir, with singing by Miss Niven and Mr. Robinson.

A gratifying feature of the services has been the goodwill and the interest manifested by the sister congregations of the town. There has been a large and constant attendance from the other denominations and the pastors of the town have been interested listeners at the services whenever their other duties would permit them to attend. The Methodist congregation showed its interest in a very special way by withdrawing the Thursday night prayer meeting during the two weeks that the evangelists are here. For these evidences of goodwill and co-operation the people of St. Andrew's desire to express their sincere and grateful thanks.

The members of Mono Mills L. O. L. No. 192 and Mono True Blue Lodge, will attend Divine Service in the Methodist Church here at 7 o'clock next Sunday evening. Members of neighboring Lodges are given a cordial invitation to join in the service.

EPISODE 3.

Dick, on the shore, is told by some of the trainmen that a girl is helpless and threatened with drowning in one of the cars. Dick swims to the car, breaks a window, and rescues Bella. Bullhead and Wiggins, knowing Bella was on the train, believe she has perished. Much to their surprise Dick and Bella soon arrive at the camp and Bella accuses Bullhead and Wiggins of having spirited her father away. They deny it and offer to help her find her father and blame his disappearance on thieves. Bella leaves for town and is taken prisoner by Squinty. She is imprisoned in the same cabin where they had placed her father, before removing him to a deserted mining shaft. In an attempt to escape she sets fire to the cabin and is rescued by Dick. That night she is captured again. Dick finds a note from Bella and knows she is in danger. Bella is chased on top of a high tree and her father is forced to watch the gang start to chop it down. The tree begins to fall unexpectedly. Dick has followed the trail and climbs a tree alongside. The tree falls down; the villians run from the scene, and Bella is, apparently, killed.

—Representatives of upwards of one hundred High Schools waited on the Ontario Government on Friday to urge certain reforms in school matters. Their chief request was that municipalities outside those in which High Schools and Collegiates are situated should be required to pay the full 100 per cent. of the cost of pupils attending, instead of the 65per cent. which they now pay. Speakers for the deputation argued that these outside municipalities were having their pupils educated at an unfair expense to the school municipalities. Orangeville High School was represented by Rev. W. M. Morris, Chairman of the Trustee Board.

HOW LONG WILL IT LAST

What's your job? Do you repair cars, work in a factory, work on a farm, handle lumber, pack shingles, drive a delivery rig? I mean, do you wear working-clothes? If so, take a tip from me. Do not buy overalls for a while unless you can no longer obey the laws of decency by fastening the old ones with binder twine. For why? Our "Smart Set" have developed a new disease: overallitis. They are all going to buy new suits of overalls "to defeat the high cost of clothing." It will last nearly a month. It is not due to strike Bracebridge until next Saturday. Then each of our "Smart Set" will invest in a suit of blue denim and wear it conspicuously for a week or so. After that there will be 27 suits of overalls for sale cheap. Wait for this "stupendous sale." Now, I think if men desire to defeat the "High Cost of Clothes," they should cultivate "patchelitis." It would be very much cheaper and could be made fully as conspicuous to wear patches instead of overalls. Doctors, lawyers, foverors, priests and the rest of us find clothes wear chiefly in two places or points of contact; the points of contact in devotions and with our office chairs. The rest of the garment lasts on and on. If the adversaries of H .C. of C. would wear, say green patches on the knees and red ones on the other worn places, would it not be fully as conspicuous as whole suits of denim? It would also conform with the "rules of the road" in having the red light in the proper position. Even at the present exorbitant prices of woollen goods, one could buy a good many medium sized inserts of red flannel for the price of a suit of overalls. It would also be more comfy to settle down on a nice pad of flannel than to just have a thin sheet of denim between knee and floor.—Bracebridge Gazette.

The Newmarket Express-Herald for those unable to join the overall brigade, suggests an example from India:—

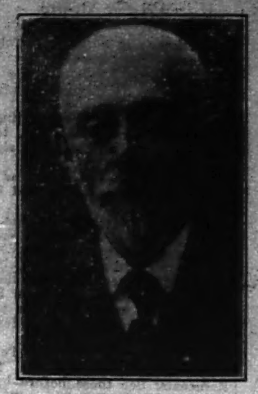
He does the best he kin do;
He sticks to his caste
From the first to the last,
And for pants he makes his skin do.



SIR KNIGHT T. H. BULLOCK elected Grand Lecturer of the Grand Black Preceptory of Ontario West at the recent Annual Meeting in Orillia.

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS

Councillor Jas. A. Morton, of Mono, Expresses His Views.

Editor of The Banner:
Dear Sir:—

Please allow me space in your columns to discuss some of the arguments advanced by Mr. William Iverack, of Isabella, Man., in favor of Consolidated Schools in his recent addresses in this country.

In the first place I would like to ask why Mr. Iverack did not refer to the Consolidated School that we already have in Ontario and about which we know nothing. Why did he not tell us why three sections dropped out of the Consolidated School at Guelph after trying the experiment for three years. After three years' experience with the Consolidated Schools the people of these three sections were satisfied to go back to the rural school system. Why should these sections have taken this step if the Consolidated School is the improvement in educational efficiency that this gentleman would have us believe it is? For my part I would rather take the action of these three sections as my guide in this matter than the opinions of any professional orator, who is going around the country speaking for what he can get out of it.

Mr. Iverack also tells us that if the English speaking people of Canada are going to maintain their status we must pay more attention to the education of the children of our rural districts, where after all our very best people are still to be found. Now, Mr. Iverack, in speaking about education and future citizenship, what did Christ, whom we believe to be the best judge on all matters, teach us on this point? From which of the two classes did Christ select his apostles? Was it not from the untutored, illiterate fishermen of Galilee? Now if a High School education is what is required to make good citizenship, why then did the Judge of all things call those unlearned men to teach the educated to be good citizens? Why did he entrust them with such an important lesson—the one upon which in my opinion the good citizenship of the whole world depends?

Now, sir, I wish to call the attention of your readers to the case of the Germans, who were known as one of the best educated peoples in the world and you will have to admit that education will not do all that you claim for it. With Sabbath Schools, High Schools and Business Colleges on all sides to give our children all the education they need to fit them for any walk in life why should we introduce an expensive system of Consolidated Schools to further tax the poor, struggling farmers on rented farms, or worse still the men who are paying off mortgages or struggling to make ends meet while raising and fitting as best they can large families of children for the stern struggle of life? I say, Mr. Iverack, that your scheme would easily double our present school taxes.

In conclusion I wish to say that our Farmers' Parliament is composed of the very kind of men that Christ chose to do his work when he turned down the High School educated people that you have told us so much about in your attempt to show us that Ontario needs Consolidated Schools on top of its Universities, Commercial Schools, High Schools, Business Colleges, Sunday Schools and Rural Schools, all easy to reach without paying men and teams for hauling the children to school in all kinds of weather and over all kinds of roads—roads that are filled with snow as high as the horses' backs at certain times of the year. Another point the elector of Ontario should remember is that the law has been changed since the Consolidated School was started over in Wellington County, so that now when you vote these schools into your sections you cannot drop out as the three sections I have mentioned did, when they discovered the mistake they had made.

Yours Respectfully,
JAS. A. MORTON.

MRS. W. E. CLAYTON RECEIVES ROSES

On Thursday evening of last week the W. A. of St. Alban's Church, together with many of the congregation, motored to Mrs. W. E. Clayton's and spent a happy and enjoyable hour. Mrs. Clayton is leaving her old home to live with her daughter in St. Catharines and as one who was very actively interested in the church in years gone by, her removal could not go without some appreciation being manifested, the more particularly as of late years she has been confined to the house. Rev. G. H. Snell, rector, spoke the sentiment of those present, in losing one so concerned about the church, while Mrs. H. Bates presented Mrs. Clayton with a sheaf of roses. Mrs. Clayton's reply was an extremely interesting history of St. Alban's, from its formation 42 years ago by Mr. R. S. Radcliffe, to the present time. None of the five original members were now living. Her father gave the land for the church and rectory and also for the cemetery and strangely, was the first one to be interred there. Her late husband drew the first load of bricks for the church, and was the first to be confirmed and the first to be married in the church. It was to the undying credit of those loyal people that the church property was opened free of debt, particularly considering the weakness in numbers and trying conditions in those days. Time has taken its toll of the first supporters of the church, only Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davey, of Musselaw, surviving. The ministers were Revs. R. S. Radcliffe, R. T. W. Webb, deceased, Mr. Blathford, Mr. Scudamore, Mr. Madill, Mr. Lech, Mr. Leith, Mr. Fletcher, deceased, Mr. Ballard, D. R. Smith, Mr. Sparling, deceased, Dr. Smith, G. McQuillin, deceased, O'Glyn H. Lloyd, and G. H. Snell.—Star & Vidette.

Taxes Raised by Hard Times

BURDEN IS LIGHTEST IN COMMUNITIES BOASTING LIVE AND THRIVING TOWNS.

FARMER FEELS THE EFFECT

IS INCLINED TO FORGET, AT TIMES, THAT HE IS MOST VITALLY INTERESTED IN PROSPERITY OF NEAR-BY TOWNS.

(Copyright.)

Taxes are always heavy—to the man who has to pay them—but taxes in some communities are much higher than in others. If you have ever stopped to investigate the matter you have discovered that the lowest taxes are found in the most prosperous communities. And there's a reason.

The prosperous community has the lowest taxes because there is a large amount of wealth in the community against which the taxes may be assessed. There are prosperous merchants with large stocks of goods upon which taxes are levied. Property values are high and there are thriving industries which pay a large proportion of the taxes.

The higher the property values and the greater the wealth of the community the lower are the tax levies, for a lower tax on each hundred dollars of valuation is required to produce the necessary revenue for the administration of the town and county governments.

OTHER TAXES ARE RAISED

On the other hand, take a dead town. Property values are low. Merchants' stocks are small and they have little money in the bank. Industries which ordinarily pay a large part of the taxes of a community have closed down. There are vacant store buildings which were formerly filled with stocks of merchandise upon which the owners paid heavy taxes. Who pays the taxes that were once paid by the merchants,, the manufacturers, the bankers and the men who had large holdings of high-priced property? The taxes to conduct the town and county governments, to maintain the schools, to build and repair the roads must be collected from someone. Who pays them? The man who owns his little home or the vacant lot or two upon which he has been planning to build his home must pay double or triple the amount which he paid in the times when the town was prosperous, to make up for the taxes which are not paid now by the merchants, the bankers, the manufacturers and the big property owners who bore the heaviest burdens of taxation when times were good.

The farmers in the country surrounding the town are also among the heaviest sufferers from the ebbing of the town's prosperity. A certain amount of money must be raised by taxation to provide for the expenses of the county. Roads must be built and kept in repair. Bridges must be built and maintained. Salaries of county officers must be paid. County institutions for the care of the sick and the poor must be maintained. In counties which contain one or more thriving towns, a large proportion of the taxes for the county are paid by the towns. The greater the wealth of the towns and the higher the property valuations, the lower the tax levy for the entire county. When the tax levy is low the burden placed upon the farmer is light.

BURDEN FALLS ON FARMER.

When the county contains no prosperous and wealthy towns, the greater part of the burden of taxation for the county falls upon the farmer The value of the farmer's property does not fall in proportion to the value of the property in the town and the higher tax levy that results from the lower property values in the towns makes his taxes higher.

The farmer forgets at times that he is vitally interested in the prosperity of "his town." He thinks that it is up to the town to take care of itself and that it is up to him to take care of himself and he overlooks that fact that the prosperity of the town means as much to him as it does to those who live in it. The farmer who is inclined to overlook this fact has only to think of the matter of taxes and he is likely to change his point of view for taxes are one thing that neither he nor anyone else can escape, and they are one thing in which the farmer ordinarily takes a very lively interest.

HOW FARMER CAN HELP

There is just one way in which the farmer can best promote prosperity in the town near which he lives and that is by spending his money in that town instead of sending it away to the far-distant city. Every time the farmer sends an order to a mail order house he helps to destroy the prosperity of his own community and to boost his own taxes. When he sends a dollar away from home he gets none of it back. When he spends a dollar at home, a part of that dollar comes back to him in some way. It helps the town where it is spent to provide a profitable market for his products and it helps the town pay a large part of his taxes.

The farmer is the one man in the community, above all others, who should have no love for the mail order houses for they are doing more to add to his troubles than any other one agency.

IS GLAD SHE TOOK FRIEND'S ADVICE

Toronto Woman Restored to Health By Taking Tanlac—Delighted To Recommend It.

Although it is more than a year now since Mrs. Elsie Mavor, of 11 Mallon Ave., Toronto, Ont., Canada, realized the wonderful powers of Tanlac, she still finds pleasure in praising it, for she says it was the means of restoring her health when she was in an extremely weak and run down condition. In the course of conversation with the Tanlac representative at Tamblyn's Drug Store, Mrs. Mavor said:—

"When I look back on those two years of suffering and ill health, I realize what a boon Tanlac has been to me. I was in an extremely bad run down condition. My appetite was feeble, and, although not troubled with indigestion, I had to eat sparingly or my liver would get out of order. I was continually having such frightful headaches that I simply had to give up and lie down. I had severe pains in my back, especially whenever I went to stoop over. I hardly knew how to get through the day and my sleep was so broken that I would rise in the mornings feeing tired and heavy.

"It was a friend of mine who advised me to try Tanlac, and as she herself had tried it with excellent results. I decided to take her advice and I am very thankful for it. In a very short time I knew the medicine was doing me good for my appetite picked up wonderfully and I felt so much better and stronger. By the time I had got through the second bottle all my aches and pains had disappeared and I have been well ever since. I can sleep fine, eat well and am so much stronger that I can do all my housework with perfect ease. It is over a year now since I stopped taking Tanlac but I am so delighted with what it did for me that I take pleasure in recommending it."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

New name for Owen Sound.—The Owen Sound Advertiser is calling for a suitable name for the new city-to-be, and already has announced several names that have been put forth—the Valley City, Harbor City, Georgian Bay City, Liverpool of the North, etc. With a record of one boat a week during the season of navigation, this latter seems like a joke. Why not then, call it the Joke City? DO yOU LIKE CORN ?

Would you like to grow a kind that will give you a 10 to 14 Rowed Cob, bulging with sweet, creamy white kernels?

I grew this Corn for the first time last year and planted the same day as "Bantam." It was fit to eat TEN DAYS EARLIER. This year being somewhat acclimated it should do even better. It is of dwarf habit, shorter than the "Bantam" and with sweeter and larger cobs than "Malakoff."

I have for sale a small quantity of Seed with a germination test of 95.

Price—200 Seeds, 30 cents, prepaid.

BOWLING GREEN

Here goes for a few notes about our burg. First of all I want to tell a story about last Saturday night. I was sitting in my office looking over some papers, when I heard a knock at the door. In response to my invitation to enter, in walked a young gentleman dressed like a Christmas tree. I gave him a chair and after we got talking he said that he gave dancing lessons. I asked him if he could give me a few notes about Bowling Green. He agreed to do so and here they are.

Mr. Will Hill has had his car repainted and it looks good as new. Some bus, eh?

Seeding is almost finished in this locality.

Mr. A. Dodds, of Toronto, spent the 24th in our burg.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Smith has recovered from her recent illness.

Of Success of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills

—o—

Wm. Fullarton, R. R. 1, Listowel:

"I doctored for eight years for Stomach Trouble and Pains all through my body, got no relief until I used Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy which fixed me up all right. I used Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills along with the Remedy."

Mrs. H. Hinchcliffe, Wingham:

"I was on the point of a complete Nervous Breakdown, could not sleep or plan my household duties, suffered with my Heart and my Nerves and doctors could do little for me. After taking the first box of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy I improved so much in health that I continued with a 6 box treatment and am able to return to my work with renewed vigor."

Mr. Richard Jones, Doon, Ont.:

"I have had Pains under my Heart for some time and tried all sorts of remedies and have been to four different doctors and could get no relief. I took one box of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and felt very much better. I took another box and have been able to work again. Before I took your remedy I could not work for weeks at a time, the pain was so great."

Extra Years of Easy Riding

Many a bright, shiny-looking bicycle is a gay deceiver! It is merely built to sell. In a few short months it becomes a chipped, rusty-looking object that runs as hard as it looks.

On the other hand, C. C. M. Bicycles retain their looks and continue to run easily for years and years. Many in use for 10 to 20 years are still running well.

C. C. M. Bicycles depreciate more slowly than ordinary bicycles because they are made of better materials.

For example, C. C. M. case-hardened bearings are so hard a file cannot cut them. That is an assurance of extra long years of easy running.

C. C. M. smooth, highly-polished nickelling over rust-proof copper and C. C. M. brilliant, waterproof, triple enamelling mean a sparkling, bright finish with years of durability.

When you decide to buy a new model you can always obtain a good allowance for your used C. C. M.

This year's models have the new Hercules Positive Drive Brake—the Coaster Brake without a side arm. See them at your local dealer's.

CANADIAN SHOEMAKERS START AN INTERESTING CAMPAIGN

Not long ago the Canadian Shoe Manufacturers' Association held a convention in the ancient and picturesque City of Quebec, at which convention, to use the vernacular, there was "something doing." This is such a large and spread-out country that Canadians are sometimes apt to get insular or local in their view point. In consequence many Canadians imagine that the shoe industry of the country is not a very important one. But there are to-day 158 concerns making boots and shoes in Canada. These firms employ over 22,000 people—as many people as there are in the City of Brandon, or New Westminster—which 22,000 people support perhaps three times as many more. These employees make over seventeen million pairs of shoes a year, valued at approximately $500,000,000. The shoe industry in Canada has attained greater proportions than many people imagine.

At the convention referred to it was resolved that action should be taken to acquaint the people of Canada with the facts regarding the native shoe industry. In the first place, this industry, as one of the delegates pointed out, has come in for some rather harsh and adverse criticism lately at the hands of politicians, as an industry fattening at the people's expense, behind a tariff wall. The shoe men decided that there was only one way to refute that accusation—that was to prove by figures that Canadian-made shoes are better value, grade for grade, than shoes made in the United States, and that the tariff, while necessary to prevent the flooding of this country at odd times with foreign goods, is no in any way a factor in determining the price of Canadian-made shoes.

Another point that is to be made in the advertising campaign is this—Many Canadians believe that in order to get styles fitting their own individual ideas of smartness, they must buy shoes imported from other countries, notably the United States. This prejudice acts in a peculiar way. It has caused us to think that Canadian shoe styles must be behind those imported. They would accept any style of shoe, if imported, as being correct, and refuse any Canadian shoe, no matter how smart and attractive it was simply because it was a home product. As a matter of fact, shoe styles are not indigenous to any country. Canadian shoemakers are abreast of every change in style, no matter where in the world it occurs. And it is interesting to know that Canada, which once slavishly followed the least whim of the foreign makers, is now showing commendable independance in this particular. A visitor from New York told the writer recently that the famous Scotch brogue had not taken in the United States at all, whereas in Canada it is a most popular and widely worn model.

With the utmost enthusiasm, enterprise and alertness, the Canadian manufacturers are conducting their business on the basis of service to their employes and buyers of their goods. They are making and marketing goods of the highest quality at the lowest possible prices, and conducting their business on an independent and competitive basis. They are giving the 12,000 retailers, through whom their goods are distributed, all the assistance in their power, and distributing millions of dollars in wages to Canadian workmen. Now, through a campaign of advertising, they are laying all their cards on the table before the Canadian people, and asking their support, not on sentimental grounds, but as a matter of straight business.

All things concerned, the Canadian shoe manufacturers are deserving of the enthusiastic support of every man and woman who wants to seen this country's industries maintained and enlarged, and the Canadian dollar returned to its full purchasing power in every market in the world.

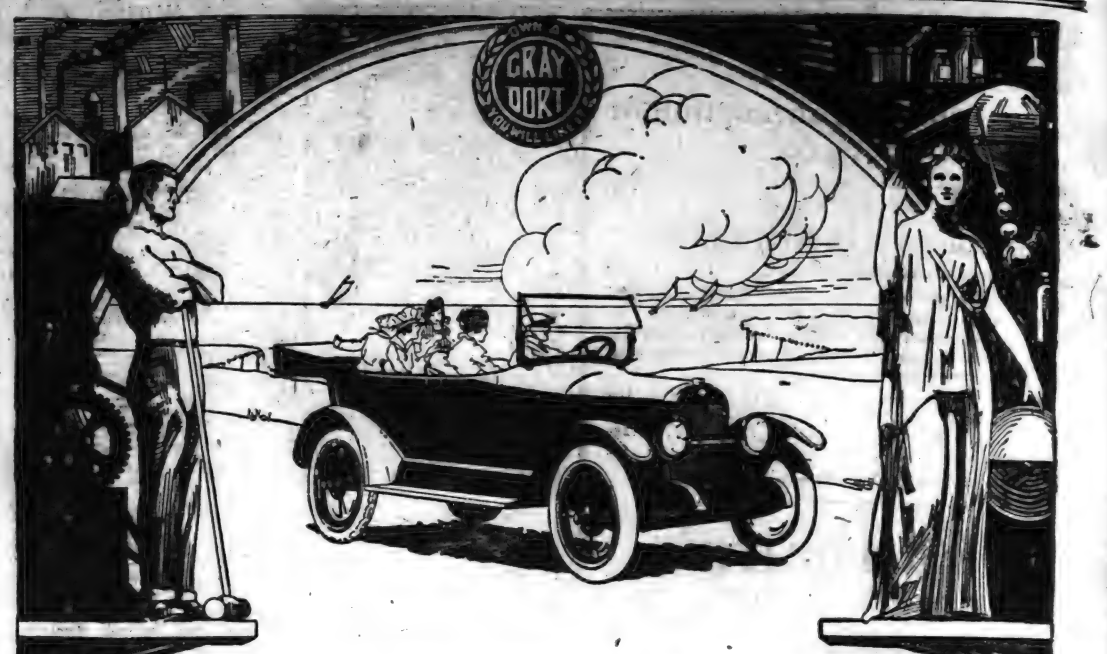
VICAR CHANGED HIS MIND

The village painter was painting the inside wall of the church and was getting on remarkably well with the work, his brush keeping time to a lively jazz tune which he was whistling. The vicar walked in and exclaimed: "John, you should not whistle in church." "I can work better while whistling sir," said John, and commenced whistling that well known tune, "The Old Hundredth," very slowly, his brush also keeping tune. The vicar hastily went up to him and said: "Whistle the other tune, John."

A flat rate for Hydro Power over Ontario is the aim and object of the Ontario Hydro Power Uniform Rate Association and they are making a big bid to give the matter publicity and prominence. The association has sent out a letter stating that the U. F. O. are favorable and asking councils to endorse the move.



First to Give Peace-Time Value

$1465 F.O.B. CHATHAM WAR TAX EXTRA GRAY-DORT

Immediately the armistice was signed, Gray-Dort executives began working towards a readjustment of motor car values.

Last fall we were able to put in production the present Gray-Dort—the first car to offer you heaping, peace-time value.

Overshadowing Other Light Cars

Ordinary light car standards did not satisfy us in building the Gray-Dort.

So we built a bigger and better motor—with 3½-inch bore and 5-inch stroke; with a heavy crankshaft—weighs 40 pounds, as against about 25 pounds in other light cars. Specially-designed, quiet valves; extra-large wrist-pins; extra-light, three-ringed pistons.

As in the motor, so it is throughout the chassis: A cellular-type radiator and extra big water jackets for cooling. *A heavy, safe steering gear which is unusually easy on the driver. Frame heavier and sturdier than the light car standard. Rear axle specially strong and fine—and built right under our supervision here in Chatham. The long springs are built here, too. *The gas tank is big and is placed in the rear for convenience and appearance. *The emergency brake is on a lever, as in big cars—and the brake lining is Thermoid.

Convenience has not been sacrificed to sturdiness in the Gray-Dort. *The side-curtains open with the doors as in cars costing $2000 and up, and they fit smoothly. *The tonneau has very much more legroom. *A shorter, smarter cowl does the same for the driving compartment. The gears can be shifted with the pressure of two fingers. The brakes are positive in action. To drive a Gray-Dort is real pleasure.

Clothed in Beauty

Completing this high-grade chassis is a body wonderfully good-looking. The smooth lines do not force themselves upon your attention. They are not extreme. But always you are aware of their supreme good-looks. And Gray-Dort design is the type which remains in favor for many years.

And then the wonderful Gray-Dort finish! We have spent 60 years developing this finish for vehicles. It is applied as only master craftsmen can finish a job. It is lasting and lustrous. It is one of the outstanding features of the Gray-Dort.

*You will notice, too, the rather high hood with its many long, narrow, louvres, *The smart top, hand-tailored in our own shops. The French pleated upholstery. The full sweep of the heavy gauge fenders.

At $1465 the Gray-Dort will be the fastest selling car of the year. The output has been doubled. Yet there is every sign of a shortage. We advise you to see the Gray-Dort dealer now.

*Features marked with this asterisk are some of the improvements new to this Gray-Dort.

PEEL YOUNG FARMERS UNITE

Passing citizens were curious regardings the lines of automabole which surrounded the Royal and Victoria Hotels in Brampton on Friday evening, May 14th. Hesitating, they noted the strains of jolly music and merriment within and concluded that the local Manufacturers' Association were making merry with their friends. On enquiry, however, they found that the Royal Hotel was filled to the doors and overflowing with young farmers from all parts of the County of Peel from Tottenham in the north to Erindale in the south. Their fair friends were making the best of their time at the Victoria across the way.

For some time it had been felt by thinking young men in the various Peel Junior Farmers' Associations that there should be some central body directing and assisting the work throughout the district. A banquet suggested itself as the best means permitting the getting together of those interested in the different localities. Friday evening was selected as a suitable date and 60 girls, members of the Junior Women's Institute, gathered around prettily decorated tables in the Victoria Hotel. Seventy-five husky young men enjoyed the liberal spread afforded at the Royal. One result was the organization of a Junior Women's Institute with the following officers:—

President—Mildred McCaugherty.
Vice-President—Alice Hooper.
1st Vice-Pres.—Muriel Verner.
Secy.-Treas.—A. McQuarrie.

The Girls were addressed by Miss Ethel Chapman, MacLean's Magazine, Miss Guest, Institutes Branch, Department of Agriculture, Toronto, and Mr. Watson, M. L. A. of South Victoria. Miss McIntosh, the Home Demonstrator, was responsible for order and procedure.

To the boys, Mr. Watson, M. L. A., of South Victoria, brought regrets from the Minister of Agriculture, who had expected to be present, but was unable to attend on account of important business affecting his department coming up at an evening meeting of the Legislature. The substitute addressed the gathering to some length and drove home some very pertinent points on organization.

Mr. S. Charters, M. P. proceeded in his usual quiet and effective manner to congratulate the progressiveness of the young farmers in attendance and illustrated his talk by statistics that proved that the farmers, particularly in Peel County, were not in very unhappy circumstances.

Jos. Snyder, of Downsview, and Mr. Watson, of Woodbridge, both pastmasters in the York County Junior Farmers' Association, spoke very strongly of the advantage of a County Union and told of what had been accomplished in a few years in our neighboring district to the East. J. C. Stockley, Agricultural Representative of Newmarket, known throughout the Province as a leader in Junior Farmers' work, in a very practical address considered the workings and possibilities of such an Association as that proposed. After some enthusiastic discussion by young men from different parts of the County the organization of the Peel Union J. F. I. A. was proceeded with and a constitution adopted as follows:—

Remarkable Meeting of Three Cousins

A letter received last week from John S. Coleman, from Driver, Sask., gives this interesting item of news respecting the accidental meeting of three Acton cousins recently in Vancouver, whose homes are thousands of miles apart. Thos. J. Edmiston, of Alberta, was in Vancouver, enroute for a trip to California and Hawaii. He noticed his cousin, Robert J. Gurney, of Victoria, B. C., go into a store across the street. After a chat with Bob, Tom proceeded down the street, and in a few minutes met his cousin, Joseph H. Boyd, who had come over from Australia and was returning by a steamer which was leaving her dock that afternoon. Remembering where Bob had a business engagement Tom took Joe to meet him. These three Acton boys, sons of three sisters who resided here for years, then had a very happy, though necessarily brief visit together. Tom left for the south next day; Joe returned to the Antipodes, and Bob went back to his business activities at the capital city of British Columbia.—Acton Free Press.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Last Sunday Rev. E. R. Young occupied the pulpit at both services. Special patriotic sermons were preached in remembrance of the late Queen Victoria and in celebration of Victoria Day. The speaker pointed out that to-day we have to consider ourselves citizens of the world and not merely citizens of one particular part thereof. It has come to the time when the nation farthest away from us is our neighbor as well as the one next door. It is up to the white people to realize this and show the world that they are ready to take upon themselves their full share of the world's affairs to-day. Mr. Young said that the character of a nation can usually be determined by its standard of greatness. The Greeks took great pride in their physical beauty and they failed. The Romans prided themselves in their great men and made gods of their Caesars, and Rome, great Imperial Rome, returned to the dust from whence she sprung. And so we find that nations will keep on vanishing until God becomes the one supreme head and Christianity reigns.

Next Sunday, May 30th, will be a special Flower and Children's Day. A large turnout of children is looked for.

On Monday evening, May 31st, the Epworth League will hold a big social rally. Leaguers will please meet at the church at 7.30 p. m. Those owning cars have kindly consented to bring them and take the members for a short ride after which a social evening will be spent in church. All Leaguers are invited to come and bring their friends and help to make this rally a big success.

The Executive of the Epworth League met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Gillespie on Tuesday evening, May 18th. Topics and speakers were selected for the next five months and other business transacted. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting and a very enjoyable time was spent by all present.

LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE

The recently instituted Orangeville Lodge No. 1494 had a visit on Saturday evening last from the officers and degree team of West Toronto Lodge No. 97.

The party, which numbered about 20, motored from West Toronto and on arrival at the Hall, initiated a large class of new candidates.

After the meeting the officers of both lodges, and several members, adjourned to the Queen's Hotel, where 16 sat down to a splendid supper.

Bro. Past Dictator Geo. Mitchell, West Toronto, congratulated the Orangeville members on the able way they had entertained the West Toronto brethren.

Bro. Dictator J. G. Jackson, in an able speech, thanked the Orangeville brethren for their generosity and extended a cordial invitation for them to visit West Toronto.

The following West Toronto brethren, in complimentary speeches, also thanked the Orangeville Lodge for their generosity in inviting them to Orangeville and providing such a splendid supper:—Messrs. Bro. Vice Dictator Jim Garney; Prelate H. Peckham; Sergt.-at-Arms Tom Fraser and Bro. Harry Tomlinson.

Dr. H. F. Sproule, the popular physician of West Toronto Lodge, also thanked the Orangeville Lodge and congratulated them on their growth in such a short time and hoped to see them treble their numbers by the end of June. As an incentive to the Orangeville members, he would present to the first brother bringing in five new candidates by the end of June, with a Watch Fob with the Moose Emblem on same. In concluding his speech, Dr. Sproule gave an interesting sketch of the workings of the "Moose Aid League," which was recently instituted by the West Toronto Lodge to help deserving cases of brethren who, through sickness or bad circumstances, were placed in a position to need help. This help being additional to any sick benefits these brethren would derive from their Lodge.

A splendid musical program was then rendered by the following:—

Duet, Miss Ina Dawdy and Miss Margaret Armstrong; Song, Bro. Dr. H. F. Sproule; Song, Miss Bernice Leighton; Song, Bro. Wm. Riddell; Song, Miss Ina Dawdy; Song, Bro. Harry Tomlinson; Song, Miss Margaret Armstrong.

Miss Edith Anderson gave a splendid piano selection and also acted as accompanist for the evening.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Orangeville and visiting brethren, after which a vote of thanks was passed to the ladies and brethren who so kindly supplied the musical end of the program.

A vote of thanks was also passed to Bro. E. Coates, the popular proprietor of the Queen's Hotel, for the splendid supper he had served.

A most enjoyable evening was then brought to a close by the singing of God Save the King.

SENDS CARLOAD OF FRUIT FROM HIS FLORIDA GROVE TO LOCAL INSTITUTIONS

Inmates of Rochester's public hospitals, orphan asylums and other institutions were made glad yesterday by the gift of many boxes of luscious Florida grapefruit from the grove of Malcolm E. Gray, president of the Rochester Can Company. Mr. Gray is spending the winter on his fruit plantation, near Miami, Florida, and shipped an entire carload of the product of his grove to Rochester for distribution among the city's philanthropic institutions. Edward L. Kane, traffic manager of the Rochester Can Company, received a letter from Mr. Gray the first part of the week, notifying him of the shipment and how to dispose of it. The car of fruit arrived shortly afterwards.

Yesterday Mr. Kane called up the Manager, Mr. Harry P. Warrheim, of the Community Chest, and informed him of the arrival of Mr. Gray's gift and asked him to arrange for its acceptance by the hospitals and other institutions. "The fruit is here," said Mr. Kane, "it is in prime condition and all that the institutions that want a share have to do, is to send for it."

Manager Warrheim lost no time in acquainting the institutions of Mr. Gray's generosity, and the distribution of the carload of fruit began yesterday morning and will continue until the last box is gone.—Rochester, N. Y., Herald.

NEURALGIA AND SCIATICA

Caused by Starved Nerves Due to Weak Watery Blood.

People generally think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve of the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease is the same. The cause is the same, and the remedy to be effective, must be the same. The pain of neuralgia, whether it takes the form of sciatica, or whether it affects the face and head, is caused by starved nerves. The blood, which normally carries nourishment to the nerves, for some reason no longer does so and the excruciating pain you feel is the cry of the starved nerves for food. The reasons why the blood fails to properly nourish the nerves is usually because the blood itself is weak and thin.

When you build up the thin blood with Dr. Williams Pink Pills, you are attacking neuralgia, sciatica and kindred diseases at the root. As proof of the value of these pills in cases of this kind we give the statement of Mr. Thomas McGuire, North Malden, Ont., who says: "I have been a severe sufferer from sciatica, which attacked the sciatica nerve in the left leg. At times the pain was most excruciating and as a result of the trouble there was a distinct shrivelling of the leg. I could only hobble about by using a cane, and if I attempted to walk to the fields I would have to sit down every little while to ease the agony I felt. I was under medical treatment, but as there was no improvement shown, I was getting very despondent, as the trouble was affecting my general health. Finally a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills and I decided to do so. I took the pills faithfully for several months, finding a gradual and increasing improvement in my case, until finally every vestige of the trouble had gone, and I was again enjoying the blessing of good health and freedom from pain. What Dr. Williams Pink Pills did for me seems almost a miracle and I hope that my experience may benefit some other sufferer."

If you are suffering from any ailment due to weak blood avail yourself at once of the splendid home treatment which Dr. Williams Pink Pills so easily afford, and you will be among those who rejoice in regained health. These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AMUSEMENT TAX

Big Increase in License Fees Commencing on June 1st.

Big increases in taxation on theatres, public halls and skating rinks, effective on June 1st, were announced by the Department of the Provincial Treasurer last week. The new scale will become operative by passage of an order in Council and amending legislation to the present act is not necessary.

On theatres in municipalities of 10,000 or more, the proposed new tax is to be 35 cents per seat, as compared with the former rate of 25 cents per seat, for license fee. In municipalities between 5,000 and 10,000 theatres will pay 25 cents a seat, an increase of 20 cents. Municipalities of between 2,000 and 5,000 will pay 20 cents per seat instead of the old time rate of $75; municipalities between 1,500 and 2,000 population, 15 cents a seat instead of a $50 flat rate, and in municipalities of less than 1,500, 10 cents a seat in lieu of a fee previously fixed by the Provincial Treasurer to meet individual cases.

On all travelling theatrical companies a license fee of $25 is imposed, whether the company operates one or 52 weeks in Ontario. On vaudeville companies a similar fee of $1 is imposed.

Instead of the previous flat rate of $1, public dance halls, baseball parks and skating rinks in municipalities of 10,000 or over, will pay a license fee of $10 per year, and in municipalities of less than 10,000, $5 a year.

Film exchanges will pay a license fee of $400 instead of $200, and will pay $1 a reel for censorship of their pictures, an increase of $2. Motion picture operators will be required to pay $15 for their examination, an increase of $7, and $5 for renewal of license, an increase of $2. License fees for travelling motion picture shows are increased from $200 to $300.

It is also announced that all exemptions previously granted to patriotic and charitable entertainments are done away with from June 1st.

METHODISM PROSPEROUS

Returns Submitted at Orangeville District Meeting Tell of a Successful Year.

The annual meeting of the Orangeville District of the Methodist Church was held in Shelburne Methodist Church last Thursday. All the ministers of the district were present, and a strong delegation of laymen. Rev. E. R. Young, of Orangeville, Chairman of the district, presided, and the following were elected Secretaries: Rev. G. W. Lynd, Journal Secretary; Rev. T. W. Lane, Statistical Secretary, and Rev. W. W. Wallace, Financial Secretary.

According to the financial returns, the district has had the most successful year of its history, $5,504 was contributed for missions. $15,589 was paid as the first installment of the Methodist National Campaign, or almost one half, as $32,700 was subscribed by the district for that purpose. For ministerial support the district paid $15,591. The grand total for all purposes was $53,225, as against $36,964 last year. All departments of work, Church, Sunday Schools and Epworth League, were found in good, aggressive condition.

Owing to illness, one minister, Rev. Thos. Scott, M. A., of Laurel, has to retire and seek superannuation. Rev. W. W. Wallace was elected to the Sationing Committee, with Rev. G. W. Lynd as reserve.

The following laymen were elected as delegates to the coming Toronto conference, which will meet in Elm Street Church on June 10th: Wm. Gott, Caledon East; J. M. Dods, Alton; W. J. Hamilton, Laurel; A. Vance, Corbetton; W. D. Bowles, Mono Road; Lawrence Kee, Mono Mills; A. Halbert, Shelburne; R. Mason Honeywood; H. Wallwin, Mansfield; R. J. Ferris, Horning's Mills; Wm. McKelvie, Rosemont; Dr. W. J. Price, Orangeville; reserve delegates, Wilbert Patterson, Elmer Still and W. E. Grosskurth.

An inspiring report of the work of the Womens' Missionary Society was read by Mrs. J. A. Crawford. The district has now 9 auxiliaries, 3 circles and 3 bands, and raised, for Missionary purposes last year $1,028, and increase of 21 1-2 per cent.

The laymen of the district presented a resolution that the minimum salary of a minister should be $1,500, with a free and well-furnished parsonage. Several circuits of the district have measured up to this ideal, and it is considered that an every-member canvass with an educative campaign on Christian stewardship will produce the proper results on all fields.

Special visitors who addressed the meeting were Rev. Mr. Storey, a returned missionary from Bolivia, S. A., and Rev. Mr. Barker, of the Shelburne Congregational Church.

Mr. W. R. Liddy, as chairman of the District Executive of the National Campaign, was thanked for his efficient leadership. Much of the success of the campaign was believed to be due to his endeavors. A resolution of hearty appreciation of the four years' administration of Rev. E. R. Young as Chairman of the District was presented to the meeting by Rev. W. W. Wallace and Dr. Price, and unanimously passed. In thanking the brethren for their appreciation, Mr. Young said that the splendid success that this district had enjoyed was also the result of the fine comradeship that prevailed amongst the ministers and laymen of the district.

CALLED HOME

Rev. Alexander Langford, Former Pastor of Orangeville Methodist Church, Died at Cobourg in his 85th Year.

Pneumonia developing from a severe cold caused the death at Cobourg on Wednesday of last week of Rev. Alexander Langford, who for more than fifty years was a member of the ministry of the Methodist Church. His remains were brought to Toronto by his son-in-law, Rev. N. W. Rowell and following a funeral service at the family residence 56 Roxborough St., on Friday, were taken to London, Ont., for burial in the family plot on Saturday.

A son of the late Capt. Alexander Langford of the 5th Dragoon Guards, Mr. Langford was born in Edinburgh in 1835. While still in his youth his father brought him, with his mother and two brothers, Thomas and Isaac, to Canada, and for a time the family settled in London township, Middlesex, county. He received his theological education at Victoria College, Cobourg, and in 1857, three years after his arrival in Canada, was ordained a Methodist minister, and was given a charge at Lambton.

Later after further study at Victoria, he went to Hamilton, and during his long subsequent ministry he was stationed at St. Catharines, Brantford, Chatham, London, Stratford, Brampton, Orangeville, Owen Sound, Winnipeg and Toronto. His last charge before his superannuation in 1907 was with the Central Methodist Church at Stratford.

His superannuation after fifty years of work did not diminish his activities in church life, and it was his proud record that during thirteen years following he averaged a sermon every Sunday. During those thirteen years he was lecturer in Victoria College, Toronto, a position which he relinquished in 1918.

With the exception of one year, he was annually a member of all the General Conferences of the Methodist body from 1874 to 1907, and three times—at the London, Manitoba and Toronto Conferences—was President of the body. He was also a member of all the various General Conference boards during his active ministry.

The late Rev. Mr. Langford was married in 1861 to Miss Rich, of Lincoln county. He is survived by his widow, who was visiting at Cobourg with her husband at the time of his death; one son, Prof. A. L. Langford, of Victoria College; one daughter, Mrs. N. W. Rowell, and a brother, Isaac, who still resides in London county. Two other sons, Henry L. and Frederick, pre-deceased him.

ROBERT LOGAN

The death of Mr. Robert Logan, of Chatham, took place on Wednesday, May 12th, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Randall, 323 St. Clair Street. Deceased was 87 years, 1 month and 5 days of age and was born near Brockville, moving to Camden 48 years ago. The funeral services were conducted on Friday at Chatham by Rev. Mr. McDougal, of Park St. Methodist church, interment taking place in Blackburn's cemetery, Dresden. Surviving relatives are one son, James of Croton; and five daughters Mrs. (Rev.) Fred Townsend, of Davison, Mich.; Mrs. Geo. Kidd, of Port Huron; Mrs. John Kayburn, of Orangeville; Mrs. Benson Hughson, of Croton, and Mrs. Geo. Randall, of Chatham. The pallbearers were six grandsons of deceased, namely, Bert Earle, Harry McFadden, Clayton and Murray Logan, Glen and Alvin Huston.

MRS. JOHN A. SKELTON

Mrs. John A. Skelton died quite unexpectedly at her home on Zina St. on Friday last after a short illness from pneumonia. The sad event caused widespread sorrow as the departed woman had passed much of her lifetime here and in the township of Mono and was therefore well-known in the district. Mrs. Skelton, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Scott, was in her 66th year and had enjoyed good health until overtaken by the illness which eventuated in her death. She was a kindly, sympathetic woman, whose kindness of heart and fine life had endeared her to a wide circle of friends and neighbors. She retired from the farm, with her husband about two years ago and came to spend the evening of her life in Orangeville. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Skelton, to whom the loss of his life partner is a heavy blow. There was an unusually large attendance at the funeral, which was held from the stricken home to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Capt. Stewart, rector of St. Mark's, of which Mrs. Skelton had been a faithful and consistent member, conducted the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers, mostly former neighbors in Mono, were Messrs. W. Bennett, A. Reid, J. Woodland, C. Atkinson, S. Scott and D. McKim. There were a number of beautiful floral tributes, including a pillow from the husband, wreath from Miss Blanche Scott and sprays from Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Acheson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Scott, Mrs. O'Connor and Mrs. Watt, and Misses Florence and Jennie and Mr. Harry Acheson.

Friends here from a distance were Mr. A. Scott, Miss Blanche Scott, Miss Florence Acheson and Miss E. Hudson, all of Toronto, Mrs. O'Connor and Mrs. Watt of Guelph, Mr and Mrs. T. Scott, Miss Ruby, Mr. John and Stanley Scott, of Sandhill.

THE CANADIAN CLUB

An open meeting of the Canadian Club was held in the Opera House, on Tuesday evening, the 20th inst. Hon. Manning W. Doherty, Member for East Kent and Minister of Agriculture, sent a telegram that owing to pressing sessional duties he was unable to attend. Mr. F. G. Sandy, Member for South Victoria, who introduced the Sandy Bill to prevent Short Circuiting, took his place. Mr. Sandy was the first speaker. He stated that there was nothing to divide the town and country and advocated the cultivation of the community spirit. The farmers, he claimed, had not so far measured up to their responsibilities although the man power invested in farm production produced greater wealth than in any other industry. He advocated greater co-operation and better rural education. He stated that the education given in the country school was not equal to that in the towns and villages and should be improved. He thought that consolidated schools would in many cases be too expensive and advocated the standardizing of assessment as a step towards the betterment of rural education. He advocated a flat rate for Hydro, claiming that Hydro was one of the natural resources of the Province and that the small towns and villages should have an equal chance of procuring industries with other places situated nearer the source of power. Hydro should be brought to the farms, thus making farm life more attractive. He stated that the community spirit should be emphasized.

Mr. Russell T. Kelly, President of the Hamilton Board of Trade, was the next speaker. He urged co-operation between the farmers and the city man and stated that in Hamilton an Agricultural Section of the Board of Trade had been established. He maintained that a great cause of difference was that the people did not know each other and that business is got from friends and not enemies, and friends should be cultivated. Farmers were to be got back to the land by letting them make more money. In the past farmers had not made money. Mr. Kelly stated that there were twenty leaners to one lifter and asked for lifters. He advocated production and thrift, dealt with the problem to be solved respecting the mixed population of Canada which contained a large foreign element and gave his views as to how improved relations between employer and employee could be produced.

Mr Kelly's excellent address was interspersed with anecdote and poetry and held the close attention of the audience during its delivery.

Dr. Campbell, the President of the Club, presided and a vote of thanks was moved by Mayor Parkinson, seconded by Mr. Mc-Naughton. The later stated that there should be no quarrel between the town and country as their interests were identical.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: —

Hon.-Pres., Dr. Campbell; Pres., Col. J. A. V. Preston; 1st Vice-Pres., T. S. Parkinson; 2nd Vice-Pres., J. M. Aiken; Secretary, T. S. Little; Treas., C. A. Lamon; Literary Correspondent, A. D. McKitrick; Directors, A. A. Hughson, E. Hackett, U. W. Christie, M. McNaughton, J. E. Sutherland.

Reasoning From Kittens

Little Edward's twin sisters were being christened. All went well until Edward saw the water in the font. Then he turned to his mother and exclaimed: "Ma, which one are you going to keep?"—Blight (London).

About two o'clock on Tuesday morning of last week, the fine store of Mr. John Geddes at Salem was entirely destroyed by fire. The cause of the fire is a mystery.

SHAKES BRANCHES AND GETS MESS OF PERCH

Wm. Slacker, of Newton, N. J., famous from end to end of the Kittanany Mountains as the best guide in Sussex county, walked into the office of Lion's Head Inn on Dove Island one day and lowered to the floor a bushel basket filled to overflowing with the handsomest catch of perch ever seen in those parts.

"Didn't have no line; didn't have no bait; didn't have no nawthin'," said Mr. Slacker.

"I was just rowin' around Swartswood Lake before breakfast, when I comed up again' them willows on th P'int. The lake is higher than I ever knowed it, and them willows is bended right over into the water, and I'll be doggoned if every branch wasn't crowded with perch.

"I hurried back to camp for this basket, raced back to the P'int, held the basket, shook the branches, and here we be. I could have filled twenty baskets."

Mr. Slacker is an elder in the Church.

A hog was sold in Tara last week for $135.

A rather peculiar and nearly fatal accident happened John Yollop, of Tillsonburg, on Sunday morning last. He took a cow over to his neighbor's barn, and while he was leading it to a stall the cow suddenly swerved and plunged a horn through his chin, the horn coming out of his cheek near the ear, terribly tearing the cheek and upper jaw.

Merchants Must Build "Backfire."

CAN BEAT MAIL ORDER HOUSES AT THEIR OWN GAME IF THEY WILL DO IT.

ADVERTISING ONLY WEAPON

CATALOGUE CONCERNS SPEND HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS ANNUALY TO CREATE DEMAND FOR THEIR MERCHANDISE.

(Copyright.)

The forest ranger and the prairie farmer have learned that they must fight with fire. They know that when the all-consuming forest or prairie fires are sweeping toward them their only hope of safety lies in the "back-fire." By kindling and carefully controlling a fire of their own they force the bigger fire to burn itself out, finding no further fuel on which to feed.

The merchants of the small cities and towns are learning that in waging their fight for existence they must adopt the tactics of the men of the West. The great mail order houses of the cities are the consuming flames which threaten to wipe out the retail merchants of the small towns unless the latter, realizing their danger, take steps to remove the menace. The retail merchants, as a whole, are beginning to realize that they must fight fire with fire and that to save themselves the must build a "back-fire."

Advertising is the weapon with which the mail order houses conduct their warfare on the retail merchants of the small cities and towns. The mail order houses do their advertising through their own catalogues and through certain publications which are known as mail order advertising mediums. A big mail order house spends hundreds of thousands of dollars merely on the preparation and publication of its bulky catalogues.

BUSINESS BUILT UPON ADVERTISING.

The catalogue houses also spend thousands upon thousands of dollars in advertising in the mail order publications which look for their circulation to the people of the small towns and the rural districts. Advertising some of these mediums costs as much as from $40 to $85 for a single inch, yet the mail order house find it profitable to pay these high rates. Their business is built upon advertising and if they were denied the use of the mails for their advertising for a single month their business would be destroyed.

In advertising, the local merchants find the only weapon with which they can beat the mail order houses at their own game. This does not mean necessarily, only newspapr advertising, although that is the big gun in the battery employed by the successful merchant in his battle for trade. Advertising is a big word and it covers a big field. There is no longer to be found the man who does not believe in advertising. Every merchant believes in advertising of some sort. The placing of a display in a show window is advertising. The only difference between that kind of advertising and advertising in a newspaper is that where one reaches dozens the other reaches hundreds. Attractive window displays are, of course, an important adjunct of any retail store. They serve their purpose but this purpose is only to attract the attention of those who may be passing by the store. There are other forms of advertising such as personal solicitation, but printed matter must always continue to be the chief reliance of merchants in attracting customers to their stores.

ADVERTISING BEGETS CONFIDENCE.

The buying public has learned that the store which takes the people into its confidence through its advertising is the one in which it may expect to get the best bargains and the most satisfactory treatment. It knows that the store which advertises consistently and regularly has the best and the most up-to-date stocks because this store sells its goods more rapidly than the one which does not advertise and, therefore, is not forced to carry over old stock from one season to another. The public knows that the store which advertises can place lower prices on its goods because it turns over its stock oftener than the store which does not advertise and therefore does not have its capital tied up in slow-moving merchandise.

The mail order house does not get its business by merely letting the public know that it has dry goods or hardware or groceries or some other commodity to sell. It creates a demand for its goods by placing in its catalogue attractive pictures and detailed descriptions of the articles which it has to sell. The lure of the mail order catalogue lies in the fact that the merits, or alleged merits, of the merchandise offered are placed before the prospective purchaser in the most graphic manner. The local retail merchant has the same opportunity to do this that the mail order house has and can do it much more effectively than the mail order house can. The retail merchant can talk to the people of his community through his home newspaper and that is something which the mail order houses as a rule cannot do, for the local newspapers, through a sense of loyalty to their communities and their home merchants, will not accept the advertising with which the mail order houses would flood them if they had the opportunity.

"BUT HE AIN'T WENT YIT"

Every little while they tell us that the horse has got to go;
First the trolley was invented 'cause the horses went so slow,
And they told us that we'd better not keep raisin' colts no more,
When the street cars got to moving that the horses pulled before,
I thot it was all over for old Fan and Doll and Kit,
S'posed the horse was up and done for,
"But he ain't went yit!"

When the bike craze first got started people told us right away,
As you probably remember, that the horse had saw his day;
People put away their buggies and went kitin' 'round on wheels;
There were lots and lots of horses didn't even earn their meals.
I used to stand and watch 'em with their bloomers as they'd flit,
And I thot the horse was goin',
"But he ain't went yit!"

Then they got the horseless carriage, and they said the horse was done,
And the story's been repeated twenty times by Edison:
Every time he gets another of his batteries to go
He comes whoopin' out to tell us that the horse don't stand a show.
And you'd think to see these chauffeurs, as they go a-chauffin', it
Was good-bye to Mr. Dobbin,
"But he ain't went yit!"

When the people get to flying in the air I s'pose they'll say,
As we long have been a-saying, that the horse has had his day.
And I s'pose that some old feller just about like me'll stand
Where it's safe, and watch the horses haulin' stuff across the land;
And he'll maybe think as I did, while the crowds above him flit,
"Oh, they say the horse is done for,
"But he ain't went yit!"

GOT RID OF BRONCHITIS.

Mr. W. H. Walker, Calmar, Alta writes:—"I am pleased to say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has done much good to myself, wife and children. My eldest girl, 7 years, had bronchitis and the doctor who attended her did not seem to do much good. We got Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for her and she soon got well. We always keep this medicine in the house now ready for use and find that it soon cures coughs and colds."

"Your greatest enemy is whiskey," said the parson to an incorrigible member of his flock.

"But," said the wayward one, "you have always told us to love our enemies."

"Yes," answered the good man, "but not to swallow them."

TORONTO MAN HAS GAINED 16 POUNDS

"Tanlac Has Changed Me Into A Strong Healthy Man," He States

I have gained sixteen pounds in weight and have been changed from a sick, wornout, broken-down man into a strong, healthy one since I started taking Tanlac," said Andrew Thompson, of 1 Poulton Ave., Toronto, Ont., Canada, an employee of E. B. Blaine, wholesale grocer.

"For the past six years I had been suffering with rheumatism in the small of the back so bad I was never free from pain. I could get no relief either standing, sitting or lying down and if I stooped over it caused me so much agony I could hardly bear it. My left arm finally became affected, my elbow got stiff and pained me terribly and the balance of my arm and hand felt numb and dead all the time. I also suffered with severe headaches and was in such constant misery I could get but little sleep, lying awake many a night all night long without sleeping a wink. I lost a great deal of weight, going from 218 pounds down to 176, felt tired and worn out all the time and finally became so badly run down and weak I could hardly get around. I had to lay off from work a great deal and for one whole summer was absolutely unable to do a thing. I tried many different treatments and medicines, but never found anything that did me a particle of good until I started taking Tanlac.

"A friend told me about Tanlac and the good it had done him, and I decided to give it a trial. Well, sir, after I had taken the first bottle the improvement in my condition was simply remarkable. I continued taking it until now I am absolutely rid of rheumatism, never have a sign of a pain and can get around as good as I ever could. I have not had a headache since I started taking Tanlac, sleep well and have regained my strength and feel so good all the time I never miss a day from work. I don't think I could praise Tanlac too highly, and it is a real pleasure for me to tell others about it."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

USED FOR SHAVING.

Many men are troubled, more particularly in the cold weather, with a sort of roughness of the skin or eczema caused by shaving. The application of Dr. Chase's Ointment after the shave soon cures the trouble and by using it after each shave you keep the skin soft and prevent irritation and soreness. Because of its antiseptic qualities this ointment prevents and cures Barber's itch.

A curious accident happened to Mr. Edward Hetherington, a resident of Sarawak, the other day. He was carrying an axe on his shoulder when he slipped and fell backwards. He had the axe on his shoulder with the blade turned in, and when he fell he struck the back of his neck on the blade, cutting a deep gash. It bled profusely for awhile, but he was able to stop the bleeding, and when the wound was bound up he thought little more of it. But that night it became sore and next morning his neck and face were very much swollen, so he consulted a doctor, who found that there was danger of blood-poisoning. After cleansing the wound, the doctor had to put several stitches in it.

MASONIC HONOUR ROLL.

At the regular meeting of Harris Masonic Lodge on Tuesday night Rt. W. Bro. Rev. E. W. Pickford, of Brighton, formerly a member of Harris Lodge, presented the Lodge with a beautifully illuminated Honour Roll containing the names of all the members who enlisted for overseas service during the war. The Roll, which was designed, engrossed and illuminated by W. Bro. Pickford, is a model of good taste and artistic skill. It furnishes the Lodge with a Record of its soldier members that will always be prized as one of its most cherished possessions. The inscription on the Roll and the names, twenty in number, all beautifully engrossed, are as follows:—

HARRIS LODGE
No. 216, A. F. & A. M., G. R. C.

Bro. Rich. Robinson.
Bro. Capt. Dr. W. F. R. Stubbs.
Bro. A. H. Woodland.
Bro. A. C. Galbraith.

Killed in Action
Bro. Lieut. H. B. McGuire.

In making the presentation W. Bro. Pickford referred in terms of the warmest appreciation to the great services Canada's soldier sons had rendered the Empire and the great cause of freedom during the war. W. Bro. Capt. A. Firth, W. M. of the Lodge, expressed the thanks and gratitude of the members of Harris Lodge in a happy manner, when accepting the Roll. W. Bro. Capt. Dr. Carson also spoke expressing the grateful thanks of the soldier members. Afterwards the thanks of the Lodge were formally tendered to R. W. Bro. Pickford on a motion by W. Bro. C. R. McKeown, seconded by Rt. W. Bro. Robt. Irvine.

After the presentation proceedings and the conclusion of the business of the evening, the brethren, of whom there were about seventy present, adjourned to the refreshment hall, where the fourth degree was conferred in the most approved manner. The banquet was followed by toasts, short addresses and a delightful musical program by the Masonic Male Quartette composed of Bros. C. B. Robinson, A M. Ellis, Dr. Price and J. E. Jessop, and the Masonic orchestra, Bros. Russell Morrow, T. H. Greenis, C. B. Robinson and Frank Marshall.

W. Bro. Pickford will be well remembered by many of our readers as a former rector of the Parish of West Mono. Readers who would like to see the Roll may do so by calling at Mr. J. H. Hulse's, where it will be on view for a short time.

MOVING TO COUNTY TOWN

Next month the Simcoe Ontario Department of Agriculture office will be removed from Collingwood to Barrie, the county town. The move is being made owing to the latter town being more centrally situated to serve the county. Possibly a similar move might be beneficial in Dufferin County, with Shelburne as the central point.—Shelburne Free Press.

Naturally, they are moving to and not away from the county town, as our cotem so selfishly suggests should be done in Dufferin.

A GARDEN-PARTY

A big Garden Party will be held on Mrs. Connor's grounds (The Menary homestead) at Bowling Green on Thursday evening, June 10th, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Bowling Green Methodist church. A good program will be provided by Robert Wilson, the Toronto humorous entertainer, and Miss Grace Bonnick, who will give a number of readings and musical sketches. Lunch and refreshment booth on the grounds. Admission, 35c and 20c. See posters.

POTATOES PROFITABLE

Here are the returns two young farmers of this district received for the potatoes they raised on 28 acres of land last season. The cash received amounted up to between $15,000 and $16,000. The lowest price received was $1.50 a bag and the highest $5.25. Had they kept 1100 bags, which were sold in the field last fall, till spring their returns would have been over $20,000. There were still 300 bags left for seed. These potatoes were Gold Coin and Davies Warrior, the latter being the best known variety to withstand rot. The farmers making this nice little pile of money were Messrs. J. O. and Kenneth McKenzie.—Alliston Herald.

The Messrs. McKenzie farmed near Elba in Mono township up to a couple of years ago.

STERLING DIVIDEND ADVANCED TO 8 P. C.

President Somers is Optimistic on Canada's Outlook.

Another increase in dividend, bringing the rate from 7 to 8 per cent., was announced at the annual meeting of the Bank of Canada in Toronto recently. A year ago announcement was made of an advance from 6 to 7 per cent. Though the shareholders present heard with satisfaction of the bank's prosperous year, they were scarcely less pleased at the comments on the general situation in Canada by President G. T. Somers who said:—

"While there is a good deal of talk and general unrest, I have no fear as to the future prosperity of this country. There is a good and comfortable living to be made here for everyone. I believe we have a sound and contented population, whose judgment in the end will lead them to safe conclusions and govern their acts wisely. What we need most now, which I emphasized before the war is 'increased population of a desirable type' to develope our resources and increase our production."

No Merger for Sterling.

In informal remarks at the close of the meeting President Somers said that the Sterling Bank was not going to be absorbed or sold, but was going to retain its identity, and that no matter what is heard to the contrary, there is nothing in any rumor to that effect.

The reference to the increased dividend in the President's remarks was as follows:

"We also feel that our shareholders are entitled to further consideration, and it has been decided to increase the dividend on the capital stock by one per cent., making eight per cent., to date from May 1, 1920.

Year's Large Expansion.

A good increase in profits is shown by the annual statement. Profits for the year ending April 30 were $251,346, as compared with $213,632 in the previous year and $186,129 in 1918. The distribution of dividends amounted to $86,883, as compared with $73,146, the increase being due to the dividend having been raised from 6 to 7 per cent. Other appropriations varied little from the previous year, except that amount transferred to contingent account for depreciation of assets, etc., was $70,000, as compared with $50,000 in the previous year. The reserve fund was augmented by $50,000 and now amounts to $450,000, or about one-third of the paid-up capital. The balance of the profits carried forward was $42,942, as against $40,999. Assets made a large increase, jumping from $19,430,884 to $26,375,867, and there was an increase of about $1,000,000 in deposits and about $2,000,000 in current loans in Canada.

The following are some of the more important items in the statement, with comparisons:—

ANNUAL MEETING OF SCHOOL FAIR BOARDS

The interest in School Fairs is not in the least depressed if the attendance and enthusiasm at the Director's meetings held on Saturdays, May 8th and 15th, may be taken as an indication. All of these meetings were well attended, and in some cases there was very lively discussion on the prize list and other features of the 1920 Fairs.

In addition to the directors of the various schools, there were as many as 8 or 10 teachers at some of the gatherings. The Department of Agriculture was represented as follows:—

Bolton, May 15th; Claude, May 15th; Caledon, May 15th, K. F. McIntosh.

WHERE DID THE FLOUR GO?

This is the question an East Garry farmer is asking himself these days. When there was so much talk of a flour famine during the war, he provided against the possibility of a shortage in the home supply by buying up about seventy-five bags, which he stored for safe-keeping in a vacant house on one of his farms. A few weeks ago he sold five bags to a neighbor at a tidy advance over the price he paid, but when he went to the storehouse to make delivery to the purchaser he was mortified to discover that someone else had been there and had confiscated no less than nineteen bags from the hoard. So far he has not discovered any trace of the missing flour.

MRS. T. G. PHILLIPS

Mrs. Phillips, wife of Dr. T. G. Phillips, formerly of Orangeville, died quite suddenly at her home, 185 St. Clair Ave., west, Toronto, on Sunday last. Deceased, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Duncan, was a member of two of the pioneer families of the county of York, the Mulhollands and the Duncans. She was the younger daughter of the late William Duncan, J. P., of West York, and was educated at the Wesleyan Female College, Hamilton. She was the wife of Dr. Thos. Graham Phillips, formerly of Orangeville and later Medical Officer of Health in Winnipeg. Mrs. Phillips was an Anglican and a member of the Church of the Redeemer in Toronto. She is survived by her husband, three daughters, Misses, Eloise, Florence and Margaret, and one son, T. G. Wendell Phillips. The funeral, which was private, was held to Mount Pleasant Cemetery at 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon.

JOHN BACON

Citizens generally were shocked as the news of the sudden death of Mr. John Bacon spread around town on Monday for it was on Friday afternoon last that Mr. Bacon was driving up around town and he was thought to be improving after an attack of pleurisy with which he was confined to the house for several weeks, heart failure being the cause of death.

The late Mr. Bacon was born in Caledon, in the County of Peel, Ont., in 1855, and after leaving Ontario, he spent a few years in Wisconsin, coming to Manitoba about 15 years ago, where he has since lived.

Deceased was married nearly 43 years ago and a family of two sons and one daughter, have all predeceased him, Bert, being taken a little over a year ago with influenza.

The funeral to Carberry cemetery on Wednesday afternoon was largely attended by old friends and neighbors, Rev. Mr. Bowering, pastor of the Methodist church, conducted the services at the home and graveside, the pallbearers being Messrs. Thos. McGregor, Jos. Mack, S. Jackson, James Graham, W. Miller, and Jos. Cramer.—Carberry, Man., News-Express, May 6th.

ORANGEVILLE

MONO MILLS.

Our little village is again rejoicing in the possession of a store. Mr. Stuckey, of Caledon, has opened out in the stand formerly occupied by Stork Bros. and is doing a rushing business. We hope that the community will give the new merchant the patronage that he deserves.

A number of new automobiles have made their appearance in this vicinity. John Moon has purchased a new Grey Dort special from H. Sanderson, of Caledon East, Mr. James Speers an Overland from Mr. McMinn, of Palgrave, Mr. O. Potter a McLaughlin from Mr. McNichol, of Orangeville, and Mr. Joe. Lyness a new Chalmers from Mr. Blackstock, of Brampton. We wish the purchasers all success with their cars.

The ladies of the Methodist Church W. M. S. are holding their next meeting at the home of Mrs. John Moon, on June 2nd. The Orangeville ladies are invited.

A number of the Orangemen were disappointed in not getting out to the Orange service in the Methodist church on a recent Sunday evening. A heavy downpour of rain at the hour fixed for the commencement of the service kept many people at home. However, it is some consolation to be able to state that the rain did a heap of good.

ALTON

We are glad to be able to report that Miss Nellie Meek is making a satisfactory recovery after her recent serious operation in Lord Dufferin Hospital. Miss Meek is expected home from the hospital this week.

Alton orchestra will furnish the music at the Presbyterian Garden Party at Mr. Jos. Campbell's near Caledon village.

Our citizens miss the smiling face of Cecil Lowe, who left the other day for New York State, where he hopes to be able to better his fortunes. Cecil deserves to succeed and here's luck to him.

"The Village Doctor," which was to have been presented here under the auspices of the Alton Epworth League, has been put off until a later date.

Alton Methodists and Presbyterians are holding Union services in the Methodist church on Sunday, June 6th, and in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, June 13th.

Rev. W. N. Carr, pastor of the Presbyterian church, has gone to Ottawa to attend the General Assembly as one of the Commissioners from the Orangeville Presbytery.

MONO MILLS.

A quiet and pretty wedding took place at the bride's home in this village on Wednesday morning, May 26th, when Miss Ella Valiera Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor, was united in matrimony to Mr. Arthur Henry Woodland, son of Mrs. Woodland and the late Mr. James Woodland, of Mono township. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Alfred Laycock, pastor of Mono Mills Methodist Church, of which the bride was an active and valued member. After a simple and impressive service, followed by congratulations to the newly wedded couple, the bridal party partook of a dainty wedding breakfast. Afterwards the happy couple took advantage of the bright May morning to motor to Hamilton on their honeymoon trip. Mr. and Mrs. Woodland will make their home in Mono on the Mono-Caledon towline. They are both popular and highly esteemed residents of the community and the hearty good wishes of a large circle of friends accompany them to their new home.

A representative of the Dominion Alliance will conduct Union services next Sunday as follows:—Mitchell's Methodist Church, 11 a.m.; Sloan's Presbyterian Church, Adjala, 3 p.m.; St. John's Anglican Church, Mono Mills, 7 p.m.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our darling babe, Mildred Moote, who was taken so suddenly on May 17th, 1920.

One day a fragrant flower
Was placed upon my breast;
I kissed the little treasure,
And laid it down to rest.
Just wet with morning dew,
An angel gave it, saying,
"I lent this bud to you."
But, lo! One Monday evening,
The Gardener drew near
And snatched away that flower,
That we all loved so dear.
Sadly missed by all.

ARTHUR—HADDOCK

A very interesting and happy event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haddock, Rosemont, on Wednesday, May 26th, when their only daughter, Lillian May, was united in marriage to Mr. Wellesley Arthur, a prosperous young Everett farmer and youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Arthur. The ceremony was performed on a beautifully decorated lawn by the Rev. G. W. Lynd, of Rosemont, in the presence of about ninety guests. This is one of the happy occasions when all nature seems to grow conscious. The grass, the hedgerow and the budding flowers breathed out a love tale of their own. Promptly as the warm May sun marked the hour of four, the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, took her place under an artistically decorated arch to the strains of the Lohengrin Wedding March played by Miss Beulah Irwin, Orangeville, a cousin of the bride. The young and winsome bride looked charming in a gown of white satin overdraped with white georgette, trimmed with pearls. She wore the customary bridal veil and orange blossoms, carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and was attended by her cousin, Miss Elsie Haddock, who wore pink satin, trimmed with silk crepe-de-chene and gold lace and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The groom was ably supported by his cousin, Mr. Wilbur Dickey, of Rosemont. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold wrist watch, to the bridesmaid and pianiste a pearl crescent brooch each and to the groomsman a pearl tie pin. After the usual congratulations the happy couple led the way to a marquet on the lawn, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The young couple were the recipients of many valuable and useful presents, which spoke silently, yet eloquently, of the high esteem in which they are held. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur left on an early train Thursday morning from Alliston on a honeymoon trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls, Guelph and other points, the bride travelling in a suit of victory blue serge, with peach colored georgette blouse and large picture hat. Following their return they will reside on the groom's farm near Everett. The Banner takes unfeigned pleasure in addings its hearty congratulations and good wishes to those of the many friends of the happy young couple.

BLANKET ON DOORSTEP

At the time of his sale in Caledon on Feb. 17th, 1919, Mr. Thomas J. Henry, East Broadway, lost a horse blanket under circumstances, which caused him to believe that it had been stolen. He got no trace of the missing article until the day of Mr. J. B. McNichol's sale about a month ago, when he espied a robe that he took to be his missing property. After enlisting the aid of Chief Ewing Mr. Henry laid claim to the horse covering, but the justice of the claim was stoutly disputed by the man who had the blanket in his possession. The Chief eventually took charge of the blanket until the claimants should decide who was the rightful owner. The following night sometime after 10 o'clock, Mr. Henry's missing blanket was left on his doorstep. When he was examining it the next morning the owner discovered the following anonymous note inside the blanket:—

"Say Tom, as it is a mistake of mine, instead of the man you blamed, I thought I would leave this cover that was taken in mistake, instead of the other man's cover, which you accuse, and you will identify this cover better than any other as it has your name. I took this way of delivering this cover and when you and the other party are clear, I will make this matter clear to you. The cover was brought home in a mistake and I neglected returning it. I would not like to see the other party blamed on a mistake of mine, as I am slightly acquainted with the accused party through him working at ....."

Up to the present time the writer of the note has not called on Mr. Henry to make the matter clear.

AUTOMOBILE RECOVERED

S. J. Halbert, who while in a picture house in Toronto during exhibition time last fall had his car stolen, was surprised last week to recover it. Friday Mr. Halbert received word that a car bearing the same number as the engine as his had been located in Hamilton. Saturday morning Mr. Halbert went down to Hamilton and that evening drove his long lost automobile into his own premises. Mr. Halbert had given up all hope of seeing the car again and had purchased another. He was agreeably surprised to learn that it had been located in Hamilton. This had been done through the department of highways in Toronto. An application had been received for a license for a car bearing numbers corresponding with those on Mr. Halbert's car. The police had taken the precaution to have particulars of this as well as those of other cars stolen on file in the highways department and were watching for trace of these automobiles. On examining the car in Hamilton Mr. Halbert was surprised a second time to find it in practically as good condition as when he lost it. He was able to identify it beyond a doubt. The man who had it stated that he had purchased it and the date of purchase given was the day after it had been stolen in Toronto. Mr. Halbert of course claimed the car and got it. There is no clue to the thief so far as Mr. Halbert could learn. If the police have any information along that line they are keeping it to themselves. The man who had Mr. Halbert's car of course lost the amount he paid for it. He wanted to buy it, but Mr. Halbert preferred to bring it home.—Alliston Herald.

Wash Day and Backache

WASH day is the least welcome day of the week in most homes, though sweeping day is not much better. Both days are most trying on the back.

The strain of washing, ironing and sweeping frequently deranges the kidneys. The system is poisoned and backaches, rheumatism, pains in the limbs result.

Kidney action must be aroused—the liver awakened to action and the bowels regulated by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This favorite prescription of the well-known Receipt Book author will not fail you in the hour of need.

One pill a dose, 25c a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

TALL YARNS

"Talking of hens," remarked the American visitor, "reminds me of an old hen my dad once had. She would hatch out anything from a tennis ball to a lemon. Why, one day she sat on a piece of ice and hatched out two quarts of hot water."

"That doesn't come up to a clubfooted hen my mother once had," remarked the Irishman. "They had been feeding her by mistake on sawdust instead of oatmeal. Well, sir, she laid twelve eggs and sat on them, and when they hatched, begorra, eleven of the chickens had wooden legs and the twelfth was a woodpecker!"

MRS. J. C. WHITTEN

Well-known Shelburne Woman Dies in Toronto General Hospital.

The news of the death of Mrs. J. C. Whitten, in the Toronto General Hospital on Wednesday morning of last week, following operations for internal trouble, was received with the greatest sorrow by her many friends. Mrs. Whitten was taken to the hospital about three weeks previous to her death in the hope of prolonging her life through an operation, but indications after same were performed gave but little hope for recovery. Mrs. Whitten, whose maiden name was Margaret Mara, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mara, of Orangeville, and was about 69 years of age. In the year 1852 she was united in marriage to James C. Whitten, of Shelburne, who died very suddenly on June 22nd, 1916. After the death of her husband she spent some months with her now deceased sister, Mrs. Thos. Jennings, at Syracuse, N. Y. Returning to Shelburne in the following spring, she later disposed of her property and interests here and during the past winter made her home with Mr. and Mrs. T. Y. McKay Second Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Whitten were both early residents of Shelburne Mr. Whitten being elected a member of the first Council for Shelburne after its incorporation in 1878. The late Mrs. Whitten had a host of friends. She was a member of Knox Presbyterian church and on December 4th 1918 she was presented with a life membership in the Women's Missionary Society in connection with that church.

Deceased leaves no family but is survived by three brothers, Thos. Mara, License Inspector for Peal County, Brampton, and Messrs. Geo. and Wm. Mara, of Sarnia. The remains were brought to Shelburne on the evening train on Thursday and the funeral took place on Friday from Knox church, where service was held at two o'clock by the pastor, Rev. A. E. Thornley, to Shelburne cemetery.

Relatives from a distance who attended the funeral were the three brothers of the deceased, Messrs. George and Wm. Mara, of Sarnia, and Thos. Mara, of Brampton; and four nephews, Messrs. Russell Hewitt, of Windsor, Wm. Jennings, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Fred Mara and Mr. Joslin, of Toronto.—Free Press.

WHILE THE DANCE WENT ON

Art. McCartney, Jr. motored a party of young friends over to a social hop at Hanover on Friday night, and putting his Chevrolet car in an hotel shed proceeded to where the bright lights were burning and the fiddlers were working overtime scratching music from the strings. It was while the dance was on that some uncultured urchins stole the fliver from the sheds and scortched up and down Hanover and far into the suburbs on Walkerton gasoline. In blissful ignorance of what was happening the family car, the local chauffeur stayed with the melody and glare until 2 a. m., when all decided to hit the trail for home. Going to the sheds they found the car conspicuous by its absence. After tramping the town until four a. m. they finally located the missing chariot on the street, and from its appearance, it had just weathered the roughest spell of its career. No less than three spring bolts were broken off the front, and the car in general looked as if it might have seen better days. In fact the culprits had shown little mercy to the bus and must have been touching only the high spots on the pike to bring it to such grief. A Hanover repairer was aroused from his dreams, and hustled out of bed to repair the wreck which he succeeded in putting into shape to make the return trip by 5 o'clock. As other visiting cars have been similarly "borrowed" and ill-treated in Hanover the local police are awakening to the seriousness of a menace that is all too prevalent there. —Walkerton Herald-Times.

CASH PRIZES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

The Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture for Canada, has completed arrangements whereby the Canadian Bankers' Association will again co-operate with the Dominion Department of Agriculture, in providing liberal cash prizes for boys and girls under seventeen years of age, who exhibit pigs or calves at their local fair, and comply with the rules governing the Competitions known under the title of "The Canadian Bankers' Competitions." The Canadian Bankers' Competitions are proving of no little value in teaching the future live stock producers of this country the value of type and quality in cattle and hogs, and the healthy rivalry prevailing in the prize ring, together with the reward of merit, makes these Competitions deserving of every encouragement. These Competitions should, therefore, receive the support of all live stock associations and clubs, as well as of the individual producer.

In the light of the world's normal meat requirements, Canada is short on supply, especially of beef, while our Wiltshire sides are still lacking somewhat in uniformity of quality. If therefore, full advantage is to be taken of the present opportunity to expand and develop our export trade in live stock and live stock products, we face the immediate necessity of augmenting our live stock population, and at the same time, of largely increasing the percentage of export type and quality. The markets to which we have access are exacting and competitive, and Canadian products must establish themselves purely on merit.

Competitions will be held at practically all the Summer and Fall Fairs in the Dominion during the coming season. Boys and girls eligible to compete for the prizes ofered, can do no better service for their county than to enter their animals and thereby materially contribute to the production of a better class of live stock. No time should be lost in finding out all about these Competions. The importance of quick action is apparent when it is understood that the calves and pigs must have been fed for a period of at least, six weeks by the boys and girls who exhibit them.

Full information regarding the prizes can be obtained from the Manager of any Branch Bank in the locality, where a Fair is held, and boys and girls are urged to get in touch with the Manager, who will supply on application a copy of the rules and other information.

Dam—Fanny of Rosside (3104), by Sir Colin (2166), by Samson (741).

In 1901 she was second at Edinburgh, 1st at Berwick, and third at the R. & A. S. Show at Inverness; and in 1902 she was first at Carlyle, and the H. & A. S. Show at Aberdeen.

BARON HAMLET is also a full brother to the well know horse, Watchwood, winner of first at Castle-Douglas and Kilmarnock as a two-year-old, and 1st at the Highland at Edinburgh as a three-year-old.

BARON HAMLET is also a half brother to Baron of Buchlyvie, who was sold at Ayr, Scotland, on December 14th, 1911, for Forty Six Thousand Dollars at public auction.

BARON HAMLET proved himself a sure foal getter in 1919. Parties having Registered, or good grade mares, should not fail to see this horse before breeding their mares.

NOURISHING FOOD AND GOOD HOURS

Help You to Resist Disease—Aid Those With a Tonic to Keep the Blood Pure.

The power of your body to resist disease and to fight it after disease gets a foothold, is one of the most precious possessions you have. You weaken this power when you let your general health run down your blood gets thin and your nerves unsteady.

You weaken it when you worry, when you over-work, when you do not get sufficient sleep, and when you are under-nourished, either because you do not eat the right kind of food or because your digestion is out of order.

You preserve your power to resist disease when you keep good hours and eat proper food at regular intervals. You further increase and strengthen resistance to disease when you build up your blood and nerves by the occasional use of a tonic like Dr. Williams Pink Pills, which are free from opiates and harmful drugs of any kind. The value of these pills as a health builder is fully shown by the experience of Mrs. E. C. Taylor, Hanover, Ont., who says: "At various times since I was a girl of fifteen I have proved the value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. At that age I was in a much run down condition, suffering from many of the well-known symptoms of anaemia. My mother procured a supply of Dr. Williams Pink Pills, and after taking about a half dozen boxes I was restored to normal health. Again after my marriage, and before my boy was born, I felt miserable and again took Dr. Williams Pink Pills, which once more met all my expectations and fully restored my health. My latest experience with these pills was following an attack of pleurisy, which left me completely broken in health. Part of the time I was under the care of two doctors, and for three months I was practically between life and death. Again at my mother's suggestion I started the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. I had not been taking them long before I could tell that they were helping me. Day by day I could feel my strength returning, and was soon enjoying good health once more. In view of my experience I think I can safely say there is nothing in the way of medicine better than Dr. Williams Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Mr. Robert Henderson met with a serious accident while engaged reshingling Mr. C. C. G. Hannah's potato house near the C. P. R. station on Saturday morning. He had just reached for the marker to start another row of shingles, when the "creeper" on which he was sitting, slipped, causing him to slide off the roof. He fell on his back on the hard roadway in front of the granary, sustaining a bad shaking up and a severe wrenching of the back, which for the time being almost paralyzed the lower part of his body. He was hastily removed to his home a short distance west of the station, where his injuries received attention from Dr. Kyles. Fortunately there were no broken bones. The injured man is suffering a good deal of pain, but his condition is showing improvement and there is every reason to hope for an early recovery.

A BEAUTY SPOT

Mr. R. J. Cluffe, a wealthy Torontonian, is rapidly converting his farm and fishing ponds on the Centre Road, Caledon, a short distance below the Mountain, into one of the most beautiful country places in this part of Ontario. The ponds have been improved until they are little short of an angler's paradise. The dwelling house and outbuildings are lighted by power and fitted with every modern convenience and labor saving device. Mr. Cluffe is also paying particular attention to the productive possibilities of the property. He has had a tractor at work on the farm all spring in charge of Mr. Al. Galbraith, a former Orangeville man, and has a large acreage sown to grain crop and roots. Mr. John Galbraith, a Dufferin County boy and a Great War Veteran, and Mrs. Galbraith are in charge of the farm this season and have everything about the place in apple pie condition. Mr. Cluffe, who is a self-made man, takes a great deal of interest and pride in his summer home and is keenly interested in the farming operations on the property.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

A successful social evening was held last Monday evening. Upon arriving at the church the Leaguers were taken for a car ride after which they returned to the church where they enjoyed a dainty lunch. Different ones were called upon to tell their experiences while out, and some very wild and hair-raising episodes were related. If all really happened that was reported the whole countryside would be mourning for months to come. A vote of thanks was tendered to those who had so kindly loaned their cars for the occasion. Much credit for the success of the evening is due to the Social Committee.

Next Monday evening Mr. Will Kearns will speak on the "Growing Life." There will also be a Roll Call, collection and reception of new members. Will any young Methodists wishing to join the Society kindly give their names to the President or the Secretary?

DUFFERIN CONSERVATIVES

Dufferin Liberal-Conservative Association will hold its annual meeting in the Town Hall, Shelburne, on Friday afternoon, June 18th. Heretofore the Association has always held its annual meeting in January but a change has now been made to June, when it is thought those interested will find it more convenient to attend on account of the large number of cars now owned and in constant use in the county. Arrangements are being made for addresses by some of the prominent Parliamentary members of the party. Full particulars will appear in next week's Banner.

"I HAVE PROVED"

Zam-Buk invaluable for eczema, both in the case of my baby and myself," says Mrs. L. Bonia of West Arichat, N.S. She adds: "Baby's skin was badly broken out, but repeated applications of Zam-Buk entirely cured it.

"In my own case, I had eczema on my hands, which made it very inconvenient for me to do my housework. Particularly was this so, as it aggravated the trouble so to put my hands in water. By using Zam-Buk, however, I soon got relief, and it was not very long before every trace of the trouble had disappeared. I really think no home should be without Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk is equally good for all skin injuries. All dealers 50c. box.

A BUSINESS CHANGE

Mr. Hugh McMillan, a Stratford man, who has been in the meat business in Harriston for the last four years, has purchased the business of T. Wright & Son, local butchers and meat dealers. The new owner, who is a young married man, took over the business on Monday. The Banner wishes the new owner every success in his undertaking. Mr. Thos. Wright, who has been in the meat business on Broadway for 45 years, and his son, Fred, are both retiring from business for the present. We are glad to be able to add that they will continue to reside in Orangeville. They were honorable business men and are excellent citizens—men of a stamp that Orangeville could ill afford to lose.

MIXED FARMING IN WESTERN CANADA

—In Central Alberta and Saskatchewan are rich park lands—open prairie ready for the plow, interspersed with trees, which afford excellent shelter for stock. Here grain growing, dairing and livestock raising are being carried on successfully. The country is ideal for mixed farming. The Canadian Pacific Railway is offering a large area of these fertile lands in the neighborhood of Lloydminster and Battleford. These rich districts will become the home of thousands of prosperous farmers. On similar land Seager Wheeler grows the world's prize wheat. Near Lloydminster the world's prize oats have been grown and butter of the highest quality is made. A man can soon become independent on a farm here.

These lands can be bought now at prices averaging about $18. You pay down 10 per cent. If land is purchased under settlement conditions, no further payment of principal until end of fourth year, then sixteen annual payments. Interest is six per cent.

Irrigated lands in Southern Alberta $50 an acre upwards. Same terms. Write for illustrated booklet.

EPISODE 5

Dick manages to loop his lariat over a tree stump and climbs back to safety. The villians chuckle over what they think is the end of the meddler. Bullhead's gang go to the shelf of rock on which Bella has been hiding and with great show rescue her. She is very grateful to Wiggins. Dick appears on the scene and Bella is led to believe he is one of the lumber thieves. She curtly orders him away. He leaves the camp and meets an old college chum, who re-pays a loan. Dick learns his father is hot after some oil prospects discovered on a ranch nearby. Wiggins and Bella are thrown together and the old fraud proposes marriage. Bella thinks about accepting him. The villians hear of the oil discovery. They try for an option, but Dick beats them. Wiggins sends for a minister and Bella sends Long Tom with a message to Dick. Dick leaves Tom in charge of his options. Dick arrives just in time to prevent the marriage. Bullhead sets another trap and they are trapped in a lonely shack. The shack stands on props above a deep pit. The gang knock the props out from under and drop it into the pit. Before Dick and Bella are aware of what has happened, they hear the clods of earth hitting the top of the roof and realize that the gang is burying them alive.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The regular monthly meeting of the Orangeville Branch for May was held at the home of Mrs. Chas. King, Zina St., and was mainly of a business nature. In the absence of the President, Mrs. E. R. Young, the Vice-President, occupied the chair. Reports of the work done during the year were given by the Superintendents of the various Departments, after which the election of the officers for the ensuing year was proceeded with. It was unanimously decided that Mrs. (Rev.) E. R. Young be re-elected President, there being some hope that the removal of the family from town may not take place for another year. Mrs. Young's unfailing interest in the work of theUnion and her capable administration of the duties of office make her an ideal President. The other officers were also reelected with the exception of the Secretary, Mrs. Chas. King, who asked to be allowed to resign. Much regret was expressed over Mrs. King's resignation and also appreciation of her faithful work for so many years. Mrs. Willoughby kindly consented to accept the office.

The complete list of officers follows:—Pres., Mrs. E. R. Young; Vice-Pres., Mrs. D. Macpherson; Treasurer, Mrs. B. McGuire; Rec.-Secretary, Mrs. N. Willoughby; Corr.-Secretary, Mrs. T. J. Henderson. The Superintendents of the different Departments will be appointed at a later date.

Much appreciation was expressed by the members present of the unfailing kindness shown the Union by the publishers of The Banner and for their generosity in allowing space for the reports of the meetings sent in from time to time.

The meetings during the summer will be held in the different churches of the town, that for June to be in the Methodist church on the fourth Thursday of the month. All interested in Temperance and in the welfare of the community are welcome.

Even Two Coats of Paint Give Less Than a Hundreth of an Inch Protection

When you know that you must depend on a paint film less than a hundredth of an inch thick to protect your buildings from weather's wear and tear you begin to realize the vitalness of buying the right paint.

An outside paint must be not alone waterproof but weatherproof. Making a paint weatherproof is the difficult part. If it is not weatherproof it will not long stay waterproof.

To be weatherproof, the paint film must be so elastic that it will expand or contract with the weather's changes—and do it without cracking.

Lowe Brothers High Standard Liquid Paint is specially made to meet these conditions. That is why it stands so many years of weather's wear and tear.

The picture above is taken from a photograph showing a two-coat film of High Standard Paint held in the hand. The film was over two months old when photographed; yet it was as flexible as a handkerchief.

If you have been having paint troubles, or want to prevent them, tell us about your painting needs. The expert advice given so gladly will cost you nothing. It may save you much.

Dead Town is Always Shunned

COMMUNITY WITH SUCH A REPUTATION SUFFERS AS FROM A PESTILENCE.

RESTS WITH THE CITIZENS

PEOPLE CAN CREATE AND MAINTAIN PROSPERITY IF THEY WILL KEEP THEIR MONEY AT HOME IN CIRCULATION.

(Copyright.)

"Stay away from that town. It's a dead one."

Do you want that to be said of your town? Of course you don't, for you wish, as a matter of local pride, if for no other reason, to have your town stand high in the estimation of the world. But are you sure that you are doing everything in your power to place your town in the position which you wish it to occupy? That is the question that every person should ask himself or herself at frequent intervals.

When things are running smoothly, when times are good, and when it is fairly easy to make a good living for the wife and kiddies, it is so easy for a man to forget that these things do not come to a town as a matter of course, but are the result of the right kind of effort on the part of the citizens of the community. It is so easy for a man to grow careless and think that because this condition existed it will continue to exist without any effort on his part or that of the other residents of the community. That is why it is important for every one to stop and think seriously once in a while about what it would mean to him if the prosperity that makes life worth living for him should takes wings and fly away.

NOBODY LOVES A DEAD TOWN.

Nobody likes to live in a dead town. No one even likes to visit a dead town. That is why you sometimes hear that warning, "Stay away from that town, it's a dead one." The town which has the reputation of being a dead one suffers as if from a pestilence. Business men seeking new locations will have none of it. The live travelling salesman, even, will give it a wide berth. Those who live in it will get away if they can.

When a town is live and prosperous, local business is good, real estate values are high and stable, labor is in demand and wages are good, the streets are well lighted, the residents and their property are protected from robbery and fire and schools are maintained for the education of the children. When a town is dead, there is little money in circulation, store buildings stand empty with "For Sale" sign hanging on the front door, there is little employment for the laboring man, the streets are dark, the schools are crippled.

What sort of a town do you want to live in? There is only one answer to that question. You want to live in the live town and enjoy all the good things that come to the residents of such a community.

ANSWER EASILY FOUND.

The only question then is as to how these prosperous conditions can be created or maintained and it is the easiest thing in the world to find the answer to the question.

If the people of a community will keep the money at home and keep it in circulation among themselves, they need have no fear of ever being compelled to live in a dead town. If the people will patronize their own business men instead of sending their dollars to the mail order houses, the prosperity of the community will take care of itself.

The local stores, to a very large extent, make every town. The taxes paid by the business men of the community are the principal support of the schools and public institutions. It is the taxes paid by the storekeepers, to a large extent, that make possible the public improvements, the fire protection, the street lighting and the many other things which make a town worth living in. The mail order house does not pay any taxes in the town from which it gets its money. It does not help to support the schools or the churches. It does not help light the streets or maintain the fire department. It is the aim of the mail order houses to drive small town merchants out of business, so that the people will be compelled to send to the cities for their merchandise and they are spending thousands of dollars every month to accomplish this purpose. If they should succeed, who would pay the taxes that are now paid by the local merchants? It's a certainty that the mail order house would not pay them.

ISSUE IS CLEAR CUT.

Every dollar spent at home helps to make the town a live one.

Every dollar sent away from home to the mail order house helps to make the town a dead one.

The issue is a clear-cut one and is squarely up to every resident of the community, whether a resident of the town itself or of the country surrounding it. The man who does not care whether he lives in a live or a dead town, if there is such a man, need waste no thought on the subject, but the man who wants to live in a live town cannot get away from it. It is up to him to make his town a live one or a dead one.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS WITH ECZEMA

Mrs. Link, 12 Walker street, Halifax, N.S., states—"After three years of miserable torture and sleepless nights with terrible eczema, and after trying over a dozen remedies without obtaining anything but temporary relief, I have been perfectly and entirely cured by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. After the third or fourth application of this grand ointment I obtained relief, and a few boxes were sufficient to make a thorough cure.

Constipation Generates Poisons

When Constipation comes, what happens? The Colons get clogged with waste material, which is extremely poisonous, the blood circulation comes in sufficiently close contact with the waste to take up these Poisons by absorption and to distribute them throughout the body. The result is—the Liver becomes Sluggish, you become dull and heavy, Biliousness asserts itself, then you have Headache, Kidney and Bladder Trouble, Indigestion, Appendicitis, and more evils besides.

Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills
are highly recommended for Constipation and its Evil Results

They are purely vegetable, do not Gripe, Purge or Irritate, and bring relief by producing a healthy condition of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels.

No matter what medicine you are taking for a laxative it might be just as well to change off to Hacking's. The combination of Cascara, Peppermint, Mayapple and the other Vegetable Drugs contained in these pills will produce results to be unequalled by any others. They work beautiful in Digestive Disorders, for Gas on the Stomach, for Spasmodic Pains in the Stomach and Bowels, and for Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

Buy a few boxes from your dealer to-day, but be absolutely sure you get Hacking's.

MOTHER OF 18 SAYS IT WAS A GODSEND

"From Now On Tanlac Will Be My Family Medicine," Says Mrs. Grenier.

"Well, this is certainly a coincidence, for the very moment you were coming in I was pouring into the kitchen sink all the costly medicines that had been prescribed for me," said Mrs. Solomon Grenier, when the special Tanlac representative called at her residence, 1443 Logan street, Montreal, the other day to ascertain the facts.

"Tanlac is the only thing I found during my three years of ill health," added Mrs. Grenier, "that has done me any good. I just consider it a godsend to suffering humanity. For at least two weeks in every month I had frightful headaches and would get so dizzy it was difficult for me to walk. Many a time after meals I had almost unbearable cramping pains in my stomach and, at times, I was so overcome with heart palpitation that I had to sit down. I had no appetite and sometimes got so dizzy that things turned dark and had the appearance of a veil of smoke before my eyes. In order to get relief from these attacks I had to take to bathe my head with ice water. I was constipated the worst kind, had very painful neuralgia in my neck, could only sleep part of the night and my condition was so distressing that life hardly seemed worth living.

"But I began taking Tanlac about three weeks ago and am just so glad to see how wonderful my health has been restored that I want to tell everybody about Tanlac. I have no more headaches or dizzy spells and since I am able to digest my food properly, my heart palpitations have disappeared. My appetite is just fine and I am eating meats— even pork—and anything else I want without the least trouble afterwards. I am no longer constipated, that weak, tired feeling has also left me, and now that my suffering has been relieved I am building up in weight right along. I have already gained five pounds and feel stronger and better than I have since my trouble started three years ago. I am the mother of eighteen children and from this time on I expect the Tanlac to be my family medicine. It is so good that I want to make this statement and help others who need it like I did to know about it."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

The wheel sank immediately, but some spectators rushed to the scene and fished out the small boy who was badly frightened and very wet, but otherwise none the worse. A pike-pole was secured and after some grappling the bicycle was brought to the surface and salvaged. The boy went away riding the bicycle, neither of them any the worse for their experience.

A Scotsman fell off a roof and lay in an unconscious state upon the pavement. A passer-by who had a flask of whiskey with him, began to pour some down the victim's throat in order to relieve him.

"Canny man, canny, or you'll choke him," said a looker on.

The unconscious Scot opened his eyes and said quietly, "Pour awa' man, pour awa', ye're doin' fine."

On May 19th, Burk's Falls Methodist Church, of which Rev. Dr. Caldwell, formerly of Shelburne, is pastor, had a banquet in honor of the burning of the mortgage that had been on the church. There was a balance of $625 on hand after the debt was cleared. This is the third church in succession that has had a "mortgage burning" while Dr. Caldwell was pastor.

THE BANNER

ORANGEVILLE, JUNE 10, 1920.

COUNTY COURT CASE

Before Judge Fisher in the County Court this week George Legate, an East Luther farmer, is the plaintiff in a suit against the Municipality of East Luther for damages to his farm by flooding from the Grand River during the spring freshets in 1918. The plaintiff claims that the flooding was caused by the improper construction of a bridge on the 9th line. The bridge, he contends, has not sufficient waterway, thereby causing the ice to jam and the water to back up, flooding his land. The trial of the case, which is the only one on the list, commenced at one o'clock on Tuesday afternoon and was still in progress when The Banner went to press. Each side has a large number of witnesses. C. R. McKeown, K. C., is acting for the plaintiff and A. A. Hughson for the defendants.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

On Monday evening, June 7th, Mr. Will Kearns gave a very interesting Talk on "The Growing Life." Mr. Edward Wild occupied the chair.

Next Sunday evening the service in the Methodist church will be taken by the League. Mr. C. R. Conquergood, the President of the Toronto Conference Epworth League, will be in charge. Several others will also take part in the service.

On Monday evening, June 14th, Mr. Bert Lindsay, the District President of the League, will give an address in the Methodist church. These meetings are of great interest to the young people, who are expected to be present in large numbers. A hearty invitation is extended to all to attend.

GARDEN PARTY AND DANCE

The congregation of St. Cornelius Church, Caledon, will hold a Garden Party and Dance on the Lawn of Mr. P. Garrity, lot 9, Centre Road, on Wednesday evening, June 23rd. Duncan R. Cowan, the celebrated Toronto entertainer, has been secured for the occasion and will have the assistance of Messrs. Russell Morrow and Clarence Robinson, of Orangeville, in cornet selections and the popular Campbell orchestra, which will also provide music for the Dance. Hon. Manning W. Doherty, S. Charters, M. P., Major T. L. Kennedy, M. L. A., T. K. Slack, M. L. A., and Mr. Bert Taylor, of Cheltenham, have been invited to address the gathering. Mr. A. A. Hughson, of Orangeville, will occupy the chair. Grounds open at 6 o'clock; program at 8. Refreshments served on grounds. Admission, 35 cents; children under twelve, free.

THE MURDISON CONCERT

Through an oversight last week's Banner did not make any reference to the Murdison concert in the Opera House on Friday night, May 28th, under the auspices of St. Andrew's Sabbath School. The concert attracted quite a large audience, the proceeds being in the neighborhood of $90. The star attraction, Murdison, a Scottish-Canadian comedian, described at "The Real McKie," proved an excellent entertainer and his work created a very good impression indeed. He was well supported by local talent and the audience was treated to an excellent program.

GROVE GARDEN PARTY

The Grove Methodist Church will hold its annual Garden Party on the Church grounds, Erin and East Garafraxa townline, near Orton, on Thursday night, June 24th. Joe Williams, the great English comedian, Mount Forest Pipers and Elgin Fines, humorous reader, will be the leading attractions. Addresses by the resident clergymen and Warden Campbell, of Wellington. Warden Jeffers, of Dufferin, will occupy the chair. Seasonable refreshments at booth on the grounds. Program at 8 o'clock. Admission, 35 and 25 cents.

LAUREL GARDEN PARTY

The annual Garden Party of Laurel Presbyterian Church will be held in Maltby's orchard in Laurel, on Wednesday evening, June 16th. An entertaining program will be provided by Joe Williams, Canada's inimitable comedian, and Elgin Fines, who excels in humorous readings. Rev. W. M. Morris, of Orangeville, will occupy the chair and short addresses will be given by Rev. J. R. Bell, of Toronto, John Best, M. P., T. K. Slack, M. L. A., and the resident ministers. At 6 o'clock Grand Valley and Laurel baseball teams will line up for a friendly match. Both nines play fast, snappy ball and a good game is looked for. Earl Stevenson, of Orangeville, will perform the duties of umpire. The ladies of the church will serve a full course supper from 6 to 8 o'clock. Refreshments will also be served at a booth on the grounds. Admission, including supper and entire program, 50 cents and 35 cents.

AUGUST RACING

At a meeting of the Orangeville horsemen and other interested citizens on Monday night it was decided to hold a big Race Meet on the Exhibition Park on August 4 and 5. $1,800 will be hung up in prizes and it is thought this will be sufficient to bring some of the best horses in the province here for the Meet. It is many years now since Orangeville had its last Race Meet. Lovers of the sport will welcome the revival of the pastime.

WEEKLY PRESS MEETS

Messrs. McGuire and McKitrick, of The Banner, were in Toronto on Thursday and Friday attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association. In the neighborhood of 300 newspaper publishers from all parts of Canada were present at the meeting. A number of very instructive addresses were given on topics relating to the publishing business. Considerable attention was given to the serious situation that confronts the newspapers of Canada because of the rapidly advancing cost of newsprint and other kinds of printing material. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that it is not now a question of a $1.50 subscription rate but a question of a $2.00 rate. Some of the speakers took the position that the country weeklies would be obliged to raise their subscription rates to $2.00 a year in the very near future, or else go out of business. Publishers in the counties of Grey and Bruce have already adopted the $2.00 rate to take effect on July 1st. The chief officers of the Association for the coming year are:—

President, W. R. Davies, Renfrew Mercury; Past President, A. E. Calnan, Picton Gazette; Vice-President, V. C. French, Wetaskiwin, Alta., and A. R. Brennan, Summerside, P. E. I.; Secretary, A. R. Alloway, The Reformer, Oshawa; Treasurer; The Manager, Lorne Eedy, Port Elgin Times. Mr. B. McGuire was elected to the Board of Directors, which consists of representatives from all the provinces.

At the close of the Convention on Saturday the newspapermen and their wives to the number of 200 journeyed to Niagara Falls as the guests of the Canada Steamships Company, and from there to the famous Roycroft Printing and Book Binding Shops at East Aurora, N. Y. The party was met at the station by Elbert Hubbard II. and other Roycrofters and, headed by the Roycroft Band marched to the Roycroft Inn, where luncheon was served. After luncheon the visitors were given an opportunity to look through the Roycroft shops, celebrated everywhere for their artistic book and display printing.

A SUDDEN SUMMONS

David Kay Dropped Dead While Working on Mr William Smith's Farm in Garafraxa Last Thursday.

David Kay, a Scotch laboring man, died very suddenly while at work on Mr. William Smith's farm, lot 2, con. 17, East Garafraxa, about 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon Deceased was engaged hauling manure and when last seen alive was just starting for the field with a load, which he had forked on the wagon in the barnyard. Members of the family heard him singing as he left the yard standing on the front of his load. Sometime later his lifeless body was discovered lying on the ground about thirty rods from the buildings. One of the wheels of the heavily loaded wagon had passed over his shoulder crushing it badly. Dr. Macleod was summoned from Orangeville and later in the day Coroner Dr. R. W. Rooney, who had been notified of the sad occurrence, drove out and viewed the remains. After learning the circumstances the Coroner decided it was not necessary to hold an inquest. The two doctors are agreed that Kay's sudden death was caused by an attack of heart weakness, which caused him to fall from the wagon. They are also of the opinion that he was probably dead when he struck the ground and that the injuries sustained from the fall or the wagon were in nowise contributory to his death.

Kay, who was 56 years of age, was born in Australia, but his parents returned to their old home at Alyth, Perthshire, Scotland, shortly after his birth. Here he lived until he came to Canada about nine years ago. Since coming to this country deceased had lived chiefly in East Garafraxa close to the farm where he met his death. He was a good workman and was well thought of by the people of the neighborhood. A few months ago the family moved to Orangeville, taking up their residence on West Broadway, where the widow and a son and daughter are still residing. Besides his wife Mr. Kay is survived by two sons, David J. and Frederic J., in London Eng., a son, George, and one daughter, Lily, at home. There are also four brothers and one sister living in Scotland. Widespread sympathy is felt for the bereaved family in their unexpected trial.

The funeral was held from the family residence to Greenwood cemetery on Saturday afternoon. Rev. Capt. Stewart and Rev. W. M. Morris were the officiating clergymen and Messrs. Jos. and Wm. Bradley, Rich. Robinson, Walter Smith, Albert Richardson and Chas. Davis, the last named an oldtime friend of the deceased from Georgetown, were the pallbearers. A number of beautiful flowers bore mute testimony to the sorrow and sympathy of friends of the family.

CALEDON GIRL'S HIGH STANDING

Graduation exercises in connection with the Toronto Western Hospital School for nurses took place last week. Miss Phyllis Grace Sutton, of Caledon, stood highest in the Class, winning the Dr. A. A. Macdonald Scholarship for general proficiency, the Hart-King Scholarship for the highest average in practical work and a Ferguson prize for anatomy. Miss Sutton is to be congratulated on her great success, the result of hard and earnest work. The young lady is a daughter of Deputy-Reeve W. J. Sutton, of Caledon.

CHAMPIONSHIP LACROSSE

Local lovers of lacrosse will have an opportunity to witness a real championship lacrosse game on Idylwyld Park on Wednesday afternoon, June 16, when The Dufferins and the speedy Bradford team will cross sticks in the 1st championship game in the district. The visitors will bring over a strong team. Dufferins have an abundance of good material and should have no difficulty in placing a first-class team in the field. The game will commence at 3 o'clock sharp. Admission, 35 cents; children, 15 cents; autos admitted to grounds without extra charge.

GOING TO THE SOO

Mr. Ed. Schnurr, formerly manager and more recently plant chief for The Bell Telephone Co. in Orangeville and district, has been appointed Supervisor of Repair and Construction work at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and will leave for that city on Thursday. The appointment is quite an important promotion and as such a deserved recognition of Mr. Schnurr's zeal and ability in the service of the Company. Mr. Schnurr came to Orangeville as local manager six years ago. After three years' service in this capacity he was made Plant Chief. His geniality and courtesy have won him many friends in Orangeville and he carries the good wishes of our citizens with him to the Soo. Mrs. Schnurr and family will not go north until autumn. He will be succeeded here by Mr. L. Binkley, of Harriston.

PINES GROWING WELL

Citizens will find a visit to the pine grove at the Waterworks reservoir near Greenwood cemetery well worth while one of these fine June days. Six years ago the town had over 5000 pine seedlings planted on the vacant ground adjoining the reservoir with the idea of protecting the springs and thereby conserving the water supply. The work was done under the direction of Mr. H. A. Dorrance, representative of the Department of Agriculture, who kindly placed his experience and services at the disposal of the municipality. Two varieties of pine were planted—Scotch and White. Many of the latter died, but the former has done extremely well and the tops of quite a number of the young trees are now about as high as a tall man can reach. Altogether about 3,000 of the seedlings have lived and are now growing into nice sized trees. It has been impossible to secure the Scotch pine seedlings since the beginning of the war but steps will be taken to replace all the dead trees just as soon as these are again procurable. The young pines are looking their best in June and are well worth seeing.

MUSIC INSPECTION

Mr. A. T. Cringan, Instructor of Music in Toronto Normal School and Provincial Inspector of Music for the Department of Education, made his first inspection of the Orangeville Public School on Tuesday. The Inspector expressed himself as greatly pleased with the musical instruction the pupils of the school are receiving from Mr. J. E. Jessop, whom the Board engaged as musical instructor a few months ago. We understand that Mr. Jessop and the school staff are planning to put on a musical concert next fall for the purpose of illustrating to our citizens the benefits of musical training in the school. The Banner wishes to compliment the School Board for the progressive spirit it has shown in making training in music a part of the regular school curriculum. The step is one that should meet with the hearty approval and support of the parents and ratepayers generally.

MONO MILLS

The 60th Anniversary of the Opening of the Mono Mills Presbyterian Church will be commemorated by special services, which will be held on Sunday, June 27th. The morning service will be at 11 a.m. and the evening service at 7. p.m. The church has been repainted and decorated and the people of the congregation will be pleased indeed to welcome all who can possibly unite with them in these services. Arrangements are also being made to hold a Garden Party at the home of Mr. Robert Arlow in Adjala on Thursday evening, June 17th, in connection with the church. See bills for further announcement.

The Union Sunday School in connection with the Anglican and Presbyterian churches is being carried on successfully again this summer. Arrangements are being made to have a Picnic at Stanley Park again this year.

The people of the Methodist church are having the interior of the church repainted and other improvements made. There will not be any service for the next two Sundays.

The following have had telephones installed in connection with the Mono Mills system: Messrs. M. J. Varey, McKenna Bros., threshers and farmers, D. C. Cook, local agent for the Frost Wire Fence Co., James Speers, John Reid and Stuckey's store.

We notice that in some cases the report sent in by the "special" correspondent to The Banner in last week's issue of the new cars being purchased by the people of this community was somewhat previous. Those who undertake the work of correspondent for a newspaper should confine themselves to a statement of the facts, or else leave the job severely alone. A local newspaper has no need of fictionmongers of this class.

M'KELVIE—M'FARLAND

A quiet wedding took place in St. Paul's Church, Mono, on Tuesday, May 25th, when Matie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. McFarland, became the bride of Dr. Silas McKelvie, of Shelburne. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. C. McCollum and the wedding music was played by Miss Bertha Parker. The bride, who was unattended and given away by her father, wore a fawn tricotine suit with navy blue maline hat and a corsage bouquet of sweet peas and sweetheart roses. After luncheon Dr. and Mrs. McKelvie left for Kingston and the Thousand Islands. On their return they will reside in Shelburne.

M'GUIRE—DENTON

"Dentonia," the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Denton, Tillsonburg, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, June 2, when their daughter, Audrey Aileen, was united in marriage to W. Wilfrid McGuire, M. M., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGuire. Rev. T. H. Bole conducted the ceremony. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white brocaded crepe and georgette, with pearl trimmings, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The bridal veil, lined with pale pink tulle, was caught with orange blossoms, which had been worn by the bride's mother. Mrs. R. S. Vance, of Simcoe, sister of the bride, acted as matron of honor. Mr. Ross V. McGuire, of Thamesville, brother of the groom, was groomsman, and Master Jack Vance, was ring-bearer. A bevy of ribbon girls added greatly to the beauty of the ceremony, being dressed in rainbow colors and scattering rose petals in the bride's path. The girls were: Miss Anna Donaldson, Miss Fern Denton, Miss Ethel Jackson, Miss Netta Davis, Miss Mary Denton, Miss Bella Vannorman, Miss Miriam Davis and Miss Grace Vannorman. Miss Vera Tonge sang during the signing of the register, and as the bridal party entered the room. Following the wedding reception the happy couple left on a motor trip to Toronto, Kingston, Ottawa and American points, the bride travelling in a taupe gabardine suit with lace hat.

MENHENITT—VANCE

The marriage of Lois, eldest daughter of Judge and Mrs. Vance, of Barrie, Ont., to Edwin Menhenitt, of Wadebridge, Cornwall, Eng., took place on June 2nd at Trinity Church, Barrie, Canon Woodcock, of Oakville, assisted by the Rev. A. R. Beverley, of Trinity, officiating. The church was beautifully decorated with lilacs and lillies of the valley, and the service was fully choral. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of white brocaded satin, with overdress of georgette embroidered in seed pearls, and long court train of satin lined with pink georgette. Her beautiful veil of Brussels point was caught from a coronet of real orange blossoms. She also wore a handsome string of pearls, th egift of the groom, and carried a shower bouquet of roses. She was preceded up the aisle by little Jackie Brett, of Shelburne, who made an attractive ring bearer, and by the choir singing the processional hymn, "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden."

Mrs. Craig Wright, of Hamilton, played the wedding music, and during the singning of the register, Dr. N. S. Arnall sang. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ruth Vance. Attending the groom was Mr. Dane Harvie, and the ushers were Major Walter Lawson and Mr. Gordon Stevenson, of Barrie, Mr. A. N. Tudhope, of Orillia, and Mr. G. M. Shaw, of Hamilton. Following the ceremony a reception was held at Draycott place, and later the bride and groom left by motor for Kirkfield Inn, the bride travelling in navy blue tailored suit, with vest of sand suede.

CALEDON.

The Ladies' Aid of Knox Church, Caledon, were greatly disappointed the other evening, when Mr. Jack Patterson, the comedian, whom they had engaged as entertainer at the Lawn Social at Mr. Jos. Campbell's, failed to put in an appearance. It has since been learned that through some mistake Mr. Patterson landed at Caledonia instead of Caledon. Hence the disappointment.

MELANCTHON STATION

Our friend, Mr. James Hammond, has a Yorkshire sow that gave birth to a litter of 21 pigs the other night. Mr. Hammond has sold the sow and pigs for $100. Who says farming does not pay?

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sawden and son, Elgin, of Melville Cross, visited Mr. and Mrs. James Sawden here on Sunday. They came up by auto.

Ex-Reeve Wm. Stone is putting a new roof on his barn.

Crops are growing nicely since Saturday's rain and there is every indication of a great crop of fruit in the orchards and of wild fruits in the woods if the frost keeps away. The prospect of a heavy crop of strawberries is especially favorable.

The esteemed pastor of the Gravel Road church is attending the Conference this week. Hence there will be no service in the church on Sunday.

Having finished his duties at the Provincial Capital, Mr. T. K. Slack, M. L. A. for Dufferin, is now home again and appears to be in frequent demand for local garden parties.

The citizens of Dundalk and vicinity will have the rare pleasure of hearing Premier Drury in these parts in a few days.

LAUREL.

Members of the Women's Institute are reminded of the meeting at Laurel on Thursday evening, June 17th, at 8 o'clock. Members are all requested to attend and each is asked to bring along a friend. Miss Una Emery will address the meeting.

CAMILLA

Come to St. Andrew's Church, Camilla, on Tuesday evening, June 22nd, at 8 o'clock and hear Miss Una Emery, Aldershot, Ont., speak. Miss Emery served overseas during the war and her lectures will be found very interesting. There will also be recitations, vocal and instrumental music, etc. Homemade candy and lunch served. Admission 15 and 25 cents. 2t

MONO MILLS.

Owing to the pastor being away to Conference there will be no service at Raney's, Mono Mills or Crawford's Methodist churches next Sunday, June 13th. The pastor is carrying a splendid report to Conference from the Mono Mills circuit.

On Sunday, June 20th, the Rev. Geo. Burry, B. A., will preach on this circuit as follows: Mitchell's, 11 a.m.; Mono Mills, 7 p.m. The pastor will be taking the anniversary services at Caesar's church on the Caledon East circuit the same day.

Mono Mills Presbyterians will hold a big Garden Party on Mr. Robert Arlow's grounds on Thursday evening, June 17th. A delightful program of music, readings, elocution, comedy, etc. will be provided by Percy David, comedian, Albert David, tenor, Miss Jean Greig, soprano, Madame Clara Baker, elocutionist, and Malcolm Wood, accompanist, all of Toronto. With this array of high-class talent a very fine program is assured and the garden party should draw an immense crowd. Refreshments will be served at a tent on the grounds. Admission, 35 cents; children, 25 cents.

The second monthly garden party of Mono Mills Epworth League was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Lyness on Tuesday, June 1st. A large number of the members gathered and indulged in music and games on the lawn. Miss Minnie Lyness manipulated their beautiful new gramaphone, which provided all kinds of refreshing music, including songs, duets, band selections etc. Mrs. Laycock organized the party for healthy recreative outdoor games, which were greatly enjoyed by the young folk and created an abundance of amusement. During the evening Mrs. Lyness served ice cream, tea and other light refreshments. These outdoor socials are proving a great success and the young folk are hoping the next one will come soon.

BOWLING GREEN.

The scribe, whose contribution appeared in your columns two weeks ago, made quite a hit with his little story. We are of the opinion that the writer must have been the Traveller, who was visiting in the vicinity of Laurel and Mono Mills last winter, as our readers will probably agree in thinking if they will look up some of the old issues of The Banner. If that should be the case we gladly welcome him to our little burg. By the way we think a few pointers on this burg would be very useful to him.

He might for instance hire Mr. Hill and his car to take him through the town. He might also engage Mr. Edgar to act as his guide. If the weather proved too hot to continue his journey he might camp along the river in Mr. Whaley's bush.

Mr. John Connor caught an unusually fine fish in the Grand River one day last week. It tipped the scales at two lbs. Some fish, eh!

Mrs. Berry, of Horning's Mills, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Garbutt.

Be sure and do not forget the Bowling Green garden party to be held in the near future.

ONE OF THE BEST

Alton Dramatic Club gave the play "Her Friend the Enemy" before a large audience in Acton one night recently. Commenting on the performance, The Acton Free Press says, "Altogether we believe it one of the best, if not the best, amateur play ever put on in Acton, and although the crowd was not a capacity house, we believe a return engagement would see every seat booked a week in advance."

All This EXTRA For You

Don't buy a bicycle just because it looks good. A bright appearance often hides poor materials and workmanship.

Buy a C. C. M. Bicycle.

The beauty of the C. C. M. is more than surface deep. There are three coats of brilliant, waterproof enamel over a coat of anti-rust. That means an enamel that will stand wear and weather.

The smooth, highly-polished nickelling is over rust-proof copper. That's why C. C. M. nickelling retains its bright appearance and wears so long.

You don't always spin along smooth pavements. Sometimes you have to bump over ruts and cobble stones. So the C. C. M. frame has the long, strong "Fishmouth" reinforcement at the joints. This makes a powerful frame with a large margin of safety.

SWAT THE FLEA!

Eight of the five thousand different kinds of fleas, convey plague. That is why fleas as well known as house-flies, to which we owe the dissemination of typhoid, cholera, dysentery, the summer diarrhoea so fata to children, and tubercle, should be relentlessly swatted. Bugs are known to be carriers of that malignant malarial malady known as Kala Azar, while it was proved during the war that the louse conveys typhus. No fewer than a thousand species of mosquito are known to science, eighteen of which occur in the British Isles. Of the latter one is known to carry malaria. Abroad, malaria, yellow fever, dengwe, and elephantiasis are spread by mosquitoes. The little black "midge" is not usually more than an irritating pest, but it can occasionally be dangerous, especially when it has been in putrefying material. Its bite may then be followed by serious consequences, followed by blood poisoning, are not unknown.

THE SPELL OF THE WITCH DOCTOR

In the twentieth century, according to the report of the Forward Movement survey there are approximately 120 million people in Africa held in abject fear through the hundreds of thousands of witch doctors who alone are believed to have the power of "spelling out" the evil spirits. The theory of the African native regarding disease is that the enemy casts a spell which enters the body, and it must either be spelled out or cast out, and this is accomplished by the use of such charms or prescriptions such as that cited which often kill before they have the opportunity of proving their curative powers. The natives of South Africa, the survey finds, depend entirely on witch doctors and herb doctors. For 8½ million native people there are twenty-three missionary doctors and nineteen nurses. Scattered among the millions, this little band of workers accomplish wonders. But the sway of the witch doctors is practically unaffected.

LOVE-MAKING AMONG MONKEYS

Monkeys make love, according to statement of a well-known naturalist, who relates how, while sitting beneath an imosa tree, he watched a band of baboons feeding on scorpions, which they hunted out from under the stones. One group especially attracted his attention. It consisted of four baboons, three males and a female. The latter was a beautiful creature with a fine blue coat and graceful carriage. The males were her admirers, and their endeavours to win her favor were almost human. But trouble was ahead, for it was quite plain that jealousy was ripe among the males. Then one of the three turned up a big stone at his feet and revealed a family of young scorpions—a great treat—at which the lady baboon was so overcome that she babbled a regular in the ear of the male who had supplied her with the tempting little morsels! At this exhibition of favoritism there was a loud scream from the remaining two males, and the next moment the three of them were rolling in the dust, tearing each other with teeth and nails, while the object of their affections sat on the highest stone and screamed her opinion as the fight progressed. The efforts of the two "jilted" monkeys soon put the favorite to flight, and while the chase proceeded the lady lavished her blandishments on a new admirer who came up as soon as the three males disappeared from the jungle!

FLESHERTON MYSTERY

Considerable excitement was occasioned in town on Tuesday evening last over the disappearance from her home of Mrs. Harry LeGard. Mrs. LeGard has been an invalid for some years, but is able to walk, although unable to mount the stairs in her own home. Her disappearance from the house was a great shock to Mr. LeGard and his daughter, Meda, who takes care of her mother. They searched everywhere around the premises but could find no trace of the missing lady. Neighbors were then called in to assist in the search, which was kept up for a couple of hours, when finally Mrs. LeGard was located, asleep in the hay mow in the stable. How she got there is a mystery, as the lady is unable to tell owing to the infirmity of speech caused by paralysis. She must have climbed a ladder to the hay loft, which it was thought utterly impossible for her to do. The invalid appears to be no worse for her little expedition.—Advance.

NOW A CITY

Owen Sound Had Noisy Celebration on June 1st.

The birth of the new city was celebrated last night at midnight and later in a manner that will impress the fact on the minds of most of the citizens. And if the noise makes a celebration there is no doubt but that Owen Sound celebrated. Not since the signing of the armistice on November 11, 1918 has there been more noise in the old town. The racket started while Owen Sound was still a town, about two minutes before midnight, when one or two factory whistles started to make the night hideous. Other factories soon followed in the din and promptly at midnight Mr. Dugald McArthur pulled the rope on the big bell at the city hall. And that rope was pulled many times during the next half hour, adding to the din. Then the firemen came out with the big motor truck with its siren whistle working over time. It paraded around the main street, followed by half a dozen cars, and then went on a run about town, waking up the inhabitants who had managed to sleep through the din of factory whistles and fire bells.

The council was meeting as a committee to consider matters in connection with the celebration on July 1st, when the racket started but they quickly adjourned to the outside. Someone placed some calcium lights, red, green and blue on the streets and thus made a little change in the manner of celebrating, which otherwise was about all noise.

There were only a few who knew that there woul be any celebration and most of these were in front of the municipal buildings when things opened up. Some of them mounted the fire truck and enjoyed the wild ride about town. The truck load of noise speeded around town through many of the residential streets and many amusing sights were seen. There were bare-headed people thrusting their heads out in the cool night air, there were some with the good old-fashioned night caps and some even came to the door in their night attire. On 12th St., West, some one, a man or woman, squntted down on the porch to hide their bare shins.

Ald. W. T. Harris entertained some of the members of the council while the new city was still only a few minutes old. It was to bad that to-day was not appointed as the day for the celebration as conditions are so ideal for that purpose. The Toronto had a despatch from Owen Sound last week stating that the celebration was to be to-day, and Mr. Mel. Thompson, of the Orillia News-Letter and formerly manager of the Griffin Theatre here, came over to help celebrate. He will be back for July 1ts. But the celebration should lack nothing by the delay of a month.—Owen Sound Sun-Times.

"NEAR" CHICKEN

Many a bon vivant who finds poulet en casserole or some other manifestation of chicken on the table d'hote menue of an expenseve but accomplished little restaurant has wonderd how it can be done at the price, says a correspondent. The explanation in some cases is the existence of that useful little animal, the guinea pig. Beyond the unnatural history detail that if you pull their tails their eyes drop out, which one learns in youth, and an impression that they are useful to vivisectionists, few people know much about guinea pigs. But they are even more prolific than rabbits and their flesh is quite palatable. Compared with fowls, they are remarkably cheap. Cunningly cooked and served, they make an excellent substitute for the bird.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS IN CHINA

A paternal government in the province of Hupeh, China, is endeavouring by official action to bring the women to order and reason in the matter of clothes. "Women and girls are not permitted to wear extraordinary clothes," runs the official order which the police have been instructed to enforce. "The women's dresses, which were generally adopted by the Chinese gentle sex previous to the first revolution in 1911, are better suited to young women because they are not too short or too narrow and they should be used again." The official order gives further particulars of the abuses which it alleges have taken place by which, in the matter of clothes, it is not possible to distinguish the Chinese women of "respectable and good families from those who are not." But the significance of this solicitude on the part of the military governor of Hupeh is found in the part of the order which states that the importance of bearing and clothes is to be recognized, "in view of the fact that women are playing an important part in modern politics in western countries, and there is sufficient reason to believe that this awakening of the gentle sex will soon be extended to the Far East."

THE MOLE'S APPETITE

Incredible stories are told of the mole's appetite, and in order to see if there was anything in them (writes an English correspondent) I tried an experiment. My mole—a matronly lady—weighed three and a half ounces. Each item of food that she was given was carefully weighed, and here is her record between 9 a.m. and noon:—One frog, three slugs, twenty-four earthworms, a piece of raw mutton, and a bit of cheese, a total of just over four ounces. Some delay followed as my stock of weighed food was exhausted. Probably by the time I had replenished it she thought it was time for a fresh meal, for she went at it again with no visible damage to her appetite, and before three o'clock she had got through another three ounces, mostly earthworms this time. That was twice her own weight in food in six hours. After this display I gave up the attempt to measure her maximum capacity.

SOLD WOOL ENOUGH FOR 50 SUITS, BUT GOT THE PRICE OF ONLY ONE.

Roy Shaw, of Hickman, Ky., a well-known farmer living near Hickman, took 200 pounds of wool to Hickman the other day, which he sold for 30 cents a pound, or for $60. Then he purchased a suit of clothes for his son, and found that the money he received for the wool was just enough to pay for the suit. He says there are about four pounds of wool in a suit of clothes, and on that basis the wool he sold will make fifty suits, which, if sold at $60 a suit, would bring the seller $3,000. Allowing one-half for labor and other materials going into the suit, somebody will get a profit of $1,500 on a $60 investment, he figures.

PILES Do not suffer another day with Itching, Bleeding, or Protruding Piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and afford lasting benefit. 60c. a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. HILLSBURG

A deputation of the citizens last Wednesday, May 26th, held a conference with Hon. E. C. Drury and his cabinet as to the completion of the electric lighting contract for the village. The local Trustees, Messrs. Gordon, Barbour and Davis, Reeve Milloy and Deputy-Reeve Tarswell, of Erin township, Rev. F. C. Harper, Alex. Parry, R. D. Nodwell, Chas. McMurchy, E. C. Nodwell, Wm. Hall, Fred McMillan, and others composed the delegation. Reeve Milloy, Rev. F. C. Harper, and Manager Deagle acted as spokesmen. The construction work has been delayed by the regulation of the Provincial Highways Commission that all poles placed on a Provincial Highway are removable at the Commission's order. When the facts were placed before the Cabinet, Hon. Mr. Drury stated that the Government were persuaded of the value of the lighting contract to the village and that there was nothing to prevent the continuation of the construction of the line at once. It may therefore be possible to have the electric light in Hillsburg before the autumn.

The song service in St. Andrew's Church last Sunday evening, May 30th, was much appreciated by the audience that crowded the church to the very doors. The congregational singing of dear old hymns was given in hearty spirit and brought much benefit to all. The choir sang three numbers with duets by Miss Pearl McLachlan and Miss Gladys Nodwell, and by Miss McLachlan and Mr. Harley Ennis. Baritone solos were given by Rev. F. C. Harper and H. Ennis, and the popular St. Andrew's Male Quartette (Messrs. Beatty, Ennis, Harper and McKay), contributed "Beautiful Star of Hope" in good tune and harmony. Many visitors were present from neighboring places, and all ask for another of St. Andrew's song services in the near future.

The members of the Masonic Craft are arranging for a church service on June 20th next, at 3 p.m., in St. Andrew's Church, Hillsburg, under the auspices of Wellington Lodge A. F. & A. M., of Erin, when R. W. Bro. Rev. F. C. Harper will conduct the service. The latter is the Past Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of A. F. & A. M. of Canada, and is regarded as an authority on Masonic subjects. It is expected that there will be representatives from all the Masonic Lodges in the district present on that occasion.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in St. Andrew's Church on Sunday, June 13th, at the morning service. The Preparatory service will be held on Friday, June 11th, at 8 p.m., when new members will be received.

Vancouver, Canada

Another of the most respected old-timers passed away at Hillsburg on Saturday last, May 29th, with the death of Mrs. Ann Wheeler Bessey, widow of the late Hiram Bessey, at the good age of 82 years. Mrs. Bessey had been ill for several years which weakened her to such an extent that she finally passed away quietly and without pain early Saturday morning. Many friends came to say farewell before her decease. The funeral on Monday, May 31st, was very largely attended from far and near. The services were held at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church with which the deceased had been long identified, Rev. F. C. Harper, the minister of the church, presided and gave an address in good spirit on the "Passing of Our Honored Dead," and Rev. J. D. Stephens, of the Disciple Church, assisted. The pallbearers were six grand sons,—Wesley, Will, and Alex. Bessey, Geo. Binnie, Harry Bessey and Frank Freeman. The late Hiram Bessey predeceased his wife by nearly twenty years, and there are left now one brother, Geo. Wheeler, and five daughters, Mrs. F. Binnie, of Erin township, Misses Elizabeth and Susie, at home, Mrs. Jas. McCaulay, of Hamilton, Mrs. L. Freeman, of Toronto. Interment took place at Huxley's Cemetery, on the 7th line.

Wont you take the time right now and let us show you our charming new WALL PAPERS.

We take particular satisfaction in saying that our papers are strictly up-to-date—the last word in class. Styles and fashions change in Papers just as they do in dress—that is why we want you to see them—to note how different—how artistic—how exceptionally fine they are this year, and yet, so reasonable in cost that you can have your house done over from top to bottom at comparatively little advance over "before the war" prices.

Our time is yours—our knowledge of decorative requirements is at your disposal. We await your pleasure,

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of the late John Haddock, who departed this life on May 29th, 1919.

One year has passed since that sad day,
When the one we loved was called away;
God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts he liveth still.

Forget him, no! We never will,
We loved him then and love him still;
He was the best that God could send,
A loving father, a faithful friend.

Your wife and loving children
Would love to see you there;
For now there's none to occupy
Poor father's vacant chair.

His memory is as dear to-day,
As at the hour he passed away;
When days are dark and friends are few,
Dear father, how we long for you.

A bitter grief, a shock severe
To part from those we love so dear;
Loving children true and kind,
Beautiful memories left behind.

But still we miss our father dear
For he was loved by all;
We miss his kind and loving voice,
For he was good to all.

We think of you in silence,
And your sweet name we oft recall;
But there is nothing left to answer,
But your photo on the wall.

Dear is the place where he is laid,
Sweet is the memory that never shall fade;
Flowers will wither, leaves fade and die,
Some have forgotten, never will we.

'Tis hard we know to sorrow not,
For grief will have its way;
But then there's hope to meet again,
On the resurrection day.

Then let your sorrows cease to flow,
Since God has called him home;
But let your hearts in every woe,
Still say, "Thy Will Be Done."

LONELY WIFE AND CHILDREN.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of my dear father, John Betteson, who passed away on Dec. 11th, 1919.

In health and strength you left your home,
Not thinking death so near,
It pleased the Lord to let you go,
And on His right appear.

The shock was great, the loss severe,
I little thought the end so near,
You were a father, true and kind,
Your equal here is hard to find.

No loved ones stood around you
To bid a last farewell;
No word of comfort could you leave
To those you loved so well.

Oft I think of you dear father,
And my heart is sad with pain,
All this world would seem a heaven
Could I hear your voice again.

Oh dear father, how I miss you,
And my grief cannot be told;
But with joy I do remember,
You are safe within the fold.

The silent grief that is in my soul,
No human eye can trace;
For there a broken heart lies hid,
Behind my smiling face.

Time is kind and will soften our sorrow,
For the life that has heard the "Well done,"
And I'll carry the cross all the braver
For the joy of the crown he has won.

Not now, but in the coming years,
It may be in a better land,
I'll read the meaning of my tears,
Some time, some day, I'll understand.

Farewell, father, thou did'st leave me,
Peaceful be thy silent rest,
Thou art only gone before me,
Thou will meet me with the blest.

His sorrowing daughter,
MRS. GEO. WESTLAKE.

BUSINESS GIRLS AND TEACHERS

Often Suffer a Complete Breakdown.

Thousands of earnest, intelligent young women who earn their livelihood away from home, in the school room, in public offices and in large business establishments, are silent suffering victims of over-taxed nerves and deficiency of strength. Weak, breathless and nervous, they work against time, with never a rest when headaches and backaches make every hour seem like a day. Little wonder their cheeks lose the glow of health and grow pale and thin; their eyes are dull and shrunken and beauty slowly but surely fades. Business women and girls, because of their work and worry, look older than their years. What they need is the frequent help of a true, strengthening remedy to carry them through the day. Dr. Williams Pink Pills are like actual food to the starved nerves and tired brain of the business girl. By making rich, red blood they supply just the kind of help girls need to preserve their health and energy, and their good looks. Dr. Williams Pink Pills bring bright eyes, rosy cheeks, high spirits and thus make the day's duties lighter.

Miss Mary A. Hunt says: "Many people think of the life of a school teacher as one of comparative ease, with short hours and holidays plentiful. But the reverse is the case. When one has to stand day after day, year in and year out, with the worries great and small, from handling children, it begins to tell upon even the strongest, and especially upon the nerves. I had been teaching about five years and was then located at Springfield, Ont., when I found I was far from having the vitality I started out with. Before my term was out I had a complete nervous breakdown. I tried doctor's medicine and it helped, but only for a while. I then tried osteopathic treatment but with no better results. I suffered from loss of appetite, slept poorly, was nervous and troubled with severe headaches. Holidays came and I tried a change of schools, but got into a harder place where I had over fifty pupils under my care. There were days when it seemed impossible for me to carry on my work. At this stage my sister, who had also been a teacher, strongly advised me to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills. I took the advice, and by the time I had finished my second box I felt that the pills were helping me. I was on my ninth box when I decided there was no necessity for continuing the treatment, as I had never felt better, and had gained twelve pounds in weight. Dr. Williams Pink Pills, with plenty of fresh air, worked wonders in my case and I should advise the use of them to any other run down teacher."

You can get Dr. Williams Pink from any dealer in medicine, or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

EPISODE 6

Dick and Bella are buried in the shack. Wiggins insists on Bella marrying him, but she refuses. The gang leaves a guard and rides away. Dick, by a clever ruse, overpowers the guard and subdues him. A second guard, sent to relieve the first, is also captured and both of them are trussed and gagged and placed in the buried shack. Dick places Bella in the care of the rancher's wife and heads for camp. The gang learn of his escape. Dick evades the guards and goes to his own shack, but is discovered. The guard shadows him and sees him crawl underneath the cabin occupied by Wiggins and Bullhead. Dick does this in order to overhear the plans of the two rascals. His presence is revealed by a guard to Wiggins and Bullhead. They capture Dick, and with the aid of bloodhounds find Bella. She and Dick are both tied in the same shack. They escape, secure a lumber wagon and drive out of the camp. They are discovered and an exciting and dangerous race takes place along a ravine. Bullhead shoots the lines out of Dick's hands and the team runs away. In an effort to stop them, Dick dariingly makes his way out on the wagon tongue. Just as he manages to turn the team, the wagon is swung over the precipice. Bella slides off and down into the valley below. Dick is dragged away by the team.

JOY AND GLADNESS FOR THE CHILDREN

Every child—whether it be poor or rich is entitled to joy and gladness. Health is the birthright of all and there is absolutely no doubt that the healthy baby is a happy baby. It is the baby's nature to be happy—not cross. Only the sickly baby is cross. The well child is a joy to the home—it is a laughing, gurgling, happy little piece of humanity which drives dull care from the household. The sickly baby is the opposite—he is cross and peevish; cries a great deal and is a source of constant worry to the mother. But mothers there is no need of your little ones being sickly. Regulate the baby's bowels and sweeten his stomach with a gentle but thorough laxative and baby will soon be well and happy again. Thousands of mothers have proved this through their use of Baby's Own Tabets—there is a smile in every dose of the Tablets. Give them to your baby and make him happy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THANK YOU!

We were astonished some little time ago at reading that the management of a certain chain of stores extending all over the continent had issued instructions to its clerks that whenever a customer purchased an article in one of their stores the clerk who took the order was to thank the customer for that order. It was only a little thing, a very little thing, and yet this firm decided that it would mean pleased customers and greater business. And as we thought it over our mind recalled some illustrations which emphasized the value of this action. We remembered stores which we had mentally blacklisted simply because the clerk had no time to be civil, where we have been made to feel that it was a great condescension for him (or her) even to wait upon us, and our ideas as to the kind of goods we wanted were brushed aside without any ceremony as not worthy of a moment's attention. And we remembered how we had left that store with a firm determination never to enter it again. And as we contrasted that clerk's behaviour with that of the courteous clerk who was so patient, so good-natured, and so anxious to please that we return again and again, just because we were treated so well, we said, "assuredly courtesy pays." It has an actual value in dollars and cents. And we did not wonder so much that an enterprising firm decided to have its employeess learn how to say "Thank You."

ESSAY CONTEST FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN—A PRIZE CONTEST FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Great interest is being aroused by the prize contest being run by the Shoe Manufacturers' Association of Canada, who are offering one hundred prizes for the best one hundred papers received on the subject of "Why You Should Buy Canadian Made Shoes."

Ten prizes of $2.00 each will be given to the ten best papers received from each of the nine Provinces of Canada. In addition, ten prizes of $2.00 each will be given to those children writing in French.

In all, 100 children are going to get a prize of $2.00 each. Contest is open to all children 16 years of age and younger. Do not write more than 500 words. Use only one side of the paper. Put your name and address plainly at the top of each sheet. Papers must bear parents' certification that child is of proper age and has written the paper without assistance. Papers containing the best arguments on "Why You Should Buy Made in Canada Shoes" will be given the prizes. The advertisements being run in this and other newspapers by the Shoe Manufacturers' Association of Canada will give information on which these papers can be based, but what the shoe manufacturers want to get are the original thoughts and arguments of young Canada on the advantages of building up the industries of Canada by buying Canadian-made goods. Contest closes June 31, 1920. Papers should be addressed, "Editor, School Children's Contest, 1007 Lumsden Building, Toronto."

FROM MISSOURI

A Missouri woman advertises: For Sale—Husband, as good as new. Has never done any work. Slightly shiftless. Kind and gentle, and any woman can drive him. Sound in wind and limb. Reason for selling, owner is leaving the city and must unload at once. Or will exchange for a late model typewriter or a couple of good hens. A bargain for some one who needs this sort of husband."

Lowe's

PAINT—It's Like Bread; there is as much in the making as from what it is made

Take two women—your wife and your neighbor's, for example. They both use the same flour and yeast. Both bake bread in the same kind of oven for the same length of time.

Your wife's bread invariably turns out best. Why is it? It's in the making—her way of making it.

It's exactly the same with paint. The list of materials from which it is made is only half the story—hardly that.

Painters and home owners have learned that the difference in its making is one of the big things that makes Lowe Brothers High Standard the dependable paint it is.

This also has much to do with its lastingness. It is one of the main reasons for its splendid covering qualities—for its economical spreading properties.

We recommend this good paint to you because we know it will give you satisfactory service.

Loyalty Basis of All Civilization

EVERY CITIZEN OWES MORAL AND LEGAL OBLIGATION TO HIS GOVERNMENT.

SAME IN COMMUNITY LIFE

PEOPLE HAVE DUTY TO THEIR HOME TOWN WHICH IS NO LESS BINDING BECAUSE IT IS NOT A FIXED BY-LAW.

(Copyright.)

Loyalty is the foundation upon which the whole structure of civilization rests. Loyalty to one's country, loyalty to one's state, loyalty to one's city, loyalty to one's business associates, loyalty to one's friends. Loyalty is essential to the ordinary progress of the world. Without it the world must be chaos.

There would be no stable government in the world if not for the loyalty of the people to their government. There would be no successful business enterprise on the face of the globe were it not for the loyalty of the men and women who are connected with it. No church could exist for a month were it not for the loyalty of its members. The sacredness of the home would be a myth were it not for the loyalty of the members of the family group.

The loyalty of a people to its government is based partly upon sentiment and partly upon the recognition of an obligation that a people owes to its government. A people that has the benefit of good government owes a duty to that government. Those who do not recognize this duty and perform it voluntarily are compelled by law to do so. The man or woman who is protected by the government in the pursuit of life and happiness, must contribute in money and service toward the support of the government. The man or woman who, under the protection of his government which preserves law and order, is able to accumulate property, must pay taxes on that property to help maintain the government which has protected him or her. In time of war the government has the right to call upon its citizens to take up arms in its defense.

LOYALTY MORAL OBLIGATION.

In governmental affairs these things are regulated by law, and the man who receives the benefit of orderly government is required to fulfil the obligation which that entails, but in the ordinary affairs of life, loyalty is a moral rather than a legal obligation. There are laws which prevent a man from stealing from his employer or his business associates, but there is no law that requires him to be loyal to them. The success of a business institution, however, depends more upon the loyalty of its employees than upon the laws which prevent them from stealing its money. Likewise the stability of a government depends more upon the loyalty of its people than upon the laws which compel them to fulfill their obligation to the government.

It is equally true that the prosperity and growth of every individual community is dependent upon the loyalty of the people who live in it. Every citizen owes an obligation to his community, and the obligation is a moral as well as a legal one. The good citizen pays his taxes cheerfully and willingly. He serves upon the juries which administer the laws of the community. He fulfils every legal obligation that is imposed upon him by the government, but there is a moral obligation which is of still greater importance to the community. This moral obligation consists in doing everything that is in his power to promote the prosperity and happiness of his community. The man who is enabled to make his living in any community is under a moral obligation to spend his money in such a way as to help his community.

PROSPERITY WORTH PROTECTING.

Anything worth having is worth protecting, and if the prosperity of a community is worth anything to the people living in it it is worth protecting. If the chance for a man to earn a good living, to live well, to give his children a good education, is worth anything, it is worth protecting.

There is just one way to protect the prosperity of a community, and that is to keep the community from being drained of its cash—working capital. The only way to do that is for the people of the community to keep their money at home. Every time the citizen of a community sends money away from home to a mail order house instead of spending it in his home stores he is disloyal to his community. It is disloyalty to the merchants only indirectly. It is disloyalty to the community of which the merchants are only a small but a very important part.

This is the moral obligation that every citizen owes to his community, just as the payment of taxes and the loyal support of his government are his legal obligations. Disloyalty of a large body of citizens spells disaster to any government and disloyalty of any large part of the people to their community is followed inevitably by the downfall of the community. Self-interest, if nothing else, should convince every citizen of the advisability of fulfilling his moral obligation to his community.

CALENDAR CURIOSITIES

January always begins on the same day of the week as October, and the same is true of April and July, September and December. Again, February, March and November also begin on the same day of the week. This, however, is only true of normal years of 365 days. A century can never begin on Wednesday, Friday or Saturday. Furthermore, the ordinary year ends on the same day of the week as that on which it begins.

Bolton Public Library will be closed up owing to the indifference of the public who patronize it.

DON'T BE DYSPEPTIC.
The dyspeptic has thought only of the stomach when the real source of trouble is in the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills thoroughly cleanse and purify the digestive and excretory system and in this way put the organs of digestion into splendid working condition. A little patient urging on of these organs when sluggish will restore the habit of healthful digestion.

The recent campaign in Owen Sound for the Salvation Army resulted in netting $2,400.

Constipation Generates Poisons

When Constipation comes, what happens? The Colons get clogged with waste material, which is extremely poisonous, the blood circulation comes in sufficiently close contact with the waste to take up these Poisons by absorption and to distribute them throughout the body. The result is—the Liver becomes Sluggish, you become dull and heavy, Biliousness asserts itself, then you have Headache, Kidney and Bladder Trouble, Indigestion, Appendicitis, and more evils besides.

Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills are highly recommended for Constipation and its Evil Results

They are purely vegetable, do not Gripe, Purge or Irritate, and bring relief by producing a healthy condition of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels.

No matter what medicine you are taking for a laxative it might be just as well to change off to Hacking's. The combination of Cascara, Peppermint, Mayapple and the other Vegetable Drugs contained in these pills will produce results to be unequalled by any others. They work beautiful in Digestive Disorders, for Gas on the Stomach, for Spasmodic Pains in the Stomach and Bowels, and for Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

Buy a few boxes from your dealer to-day, but be absolutely sure you get Hacking's.

"IT HAS SIMPLY TRANSFORMED ME"

Amedee Grenon Says Change Tanlac Brought Is Almost Unbelievable.

"The radical change which Tanlac has brought in me is almost unbelievable. It has simply transformed me from a sick man into a healthy one in a remarkably short time," was the statement made by Amedee Grenon, who resides at 1287 Catherine's East, Montreal, a few days ago. Mr. Grenon is a pressman with the well-known firm of Debarats Printing Co., Ltd., and his endorsement should convince the most skeptical that Tanlac is indeed a powerful reconstructive medicine.

"For a whole year I suffered from lumbago and indigestion," he added. "The pains in my back at the height of my belt were so fierce that they bent me in two and made me walk like an old man. I could not remain either standing or sitting for more than about two minutes together, the pain was so terrible. Only when lying down on my side could I get any relief and I often went whole nights without sleep. I used endless belladonna plasters but they seemed to have no effect whatever, and then, too, I had indigestion so bad that after meals I used to feel as though I had swallowed a big stone and the gas would form in my stomach so as to nearly suffocate me. I would be constipated and frequently I had such severe headaches that I would have to quit work and go to bed.

"It was the statements of other people which led me to give Tanlac a trial, and the relief came to me after I had taken only a bottle. First of all the lumbago pain in my back disappeared entirely and I have not been troubled with it since. My appetite became excellent and indeed surprising and I now have no difficulty at all to digest my food. I am no longer constipated and have been free from the terrible headaches that used to afflict me. I have only taken two bottles of the medicine but I find that I have already gained ten pounds in weight. I would not be without it for worlds, and every day when getting ready to go to work, I never forget to put in my dinner-pail my dose of Tanlac."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

A. NEEDED SERMON

The preacher announced that next Sunday his subject would be Liars, and that he would be very glad if, during the intervening week, they would read the seventeenth chapter of Romans for themselves. The next Sunday the preacher commenced by reminding his readers of the request he had made, and asked all those who had read the seventeenth chapter of Romans to stand up. To his astonishment half the congregation stood up. "Thank you very much," said the preacher, "now it is to you I want to speak to-day, because there is no seventeenth chapter of Romans."

ORANGEVILLE, JUNE 17, 1920.

CASE ADJOURNED

Judge Wants More Evidence in Suit of Legate vs. East Luther.

The case of Legate vs. the Municipality of East Luther, which was tried in the County Court before Judge Fisher on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, was adjourned until 10 a.m. on Monday next, June 21st, to give an opportunity to call further evidence. The Court wishes particularly to get the evidence of Mr. S. C. McKee, who was a member of the Township Council when the present 9th line bridge was constructed. Mr. McKee has been doing U. F. O. missionary work in the neighborhood of Montreal, but it is expected that he will be in attendance next Monday.

Geo. T. Legate, the plaintiff in the action, is the owner of part of lot 27, con. 9, East Luther. The Grand River flows through his farm and then across the road allowance between cons. 8 and 9. When he became the owner of the property in 1890 a wooden bridge spanned the river on the road allowance. When the present bridge was built in 1909 the plaintiff asserts that he asked the council of the municipality to have it constructed at a point about 20 feet south of the old bridge with a span of sufficient width to carry off the surplus water during the spring freshets, but he states that the council failed to comply with his request and built the bridge on the old site and in such a manner that the abutments held the ice and snow and caused the water to overflow and damage his farm. To compensate him for the injury he has suffered he is asking for $350 damages and a mandamus to compel the municipality to remove the obstructions, which cause the flooding.

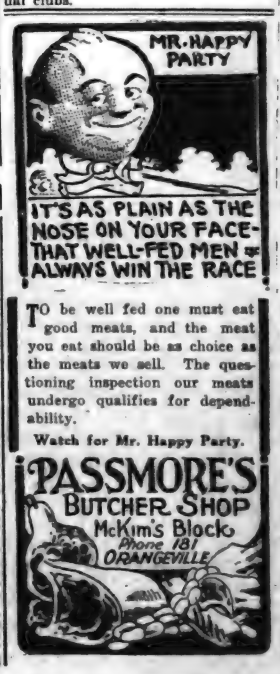
The defence denies that the plaintiff has suffered any damage by reason of flooding from the river and asserts that even if he had sustained the damage of which he complains, he was consulted regarding the bridge, which was constructed only after the plans had received his approval. The defence further maintains that if any injury was sustained it was caused by the act of God, namely extraordinary floods in the spring of 1918, caused by great quantities of snow and ice accumulating during the winter.

Witnesses called by Mr. C. R. McKeown for the plaintiff were Mr. Legate, the plaintiff, Arthur, Herbert and Wilfrid McDougall, Mr. Galbraith, David and P. J. Cunningham, Jas. Mournahan, Geo. R. Oscar and Harold Legate and Mr. Bowman, a civil engineer.

The defence witnesses were Isaac Traynor, A. C. McDonald, Thos. Sime, Wm. Linklater, Thos. Richardson, Edward Townsend, Thos Townsend, H. H. Hilborn, Albert Reilly, Wm. Baxendale, Reeve Alex. Ward and R. F. West. Mr. A. A. Hughson has charge of the case for the municipality.

DUFFERINS ARE INDIGNANT

The officers and players of the Dufferin Lacrosse Club are righteously indignant over the treatment handed out to Stevens, who signed up to play centre field for the greenshirts this season. A week ago Friday night the O. A. L. A. executive suspended Stevens for a year, largely at the instigation of the Mimico club, which was hot after Stevens and was very much put out when the speedy fielder decided to throw in his lot with the Dufferins. Stevens is living and working in Orangeville and has every right to play with the locals. The Dufferins assert that the action of the O. A. L. A. was entirely unconstitutional and there is talk of taking legal proceedings to secure the reinstatement of Stevens. It is only fair to certain members of the Executive to add that a strong minority of its members expressed entire disapproval of the high-handed and unwarranted action of the majority. It is unfortunate that the governing body of an Association of such importance as the O. A. L. A. should allow its decisions to be influenced by the rivalries and ambitions of individual clubs.



UTTERLY HELPLESS FROM ST. VITUS DANCE

The Sufferer Restored to Health Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

St. Vitus dance is a disease of the nerves brought on by a morbid condition of the blood. It is a common disease with children, and attacks girls more frequently than boys. Irritability is frequently one of the first signs noted. The child frets, it is quarrelsome, and does not sleep well. The jerky movements that characterize the disease come a little later. The patient becomes pale, languid and often constipated. The limbs and sometimes the whole body jerks spasmodically, and in severe cases the power of speech is affected. Such a child should not be allowed to study, but should be kept quiet, given a nutritious diet, remain out of doors as much as possible, and above all things be given a course of Dr. Williams Pink Pills to build up the blood and restore the shattered nerves. Without this treatment the trouble may become chronic and the patient a life-long sufferer. The value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills in cases of this kind is shown by the following statement by Mr. Frank J. Scriven, Acton, Ont., who says: "In January, 1917, when I resided at Milton, Ont., my daughter Gertrude, then aged fourteen, had a bad attack of rheumatic fever, which left as its after effects, a severe attack of St. Vitus dance. For weeks she was confined to her bed under the doctor's care. She was entirely helpless, being unable to even hold a spoon to feed herself. For a time she lost the power of speech almost entirely, and only with great difficulty made herself understood. The twitching of her muscles was so bad it was painful to see her. After a long time and taking a lot of medicine, she seemed to improve. But she did not seem to get along as she ought to. In November, 1917, we removed to Acton, and in January, 1918, she was again confined to her bed with St. Vitus dance. She was again in a terrible state and quite helpless. She was under a doctor's care, and while there was an improvement, she was still very nervous, did not look well and was always tired. In May, 1918, we decided to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills, and see what they would do for her. She took them regularly according to directions, and after taking several boxes there was a decided improvement. After a further use of the pills she is now as healthy a girl as you would wish to see. She is fat, with a fine, healthy color and is strong and lively. The neighbors to whom she is well known remark on the wonderful change in her appearance since taking Dr. Williams Pink Pills. Both her mother and myself are convinced that the pills have done her a world of good as she is now far healthier than we at one time thought she ever would be."

For all trouble due to poor blood and weak nerves there is no other medicine can equal Dr. Williams Pink Pills. You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Dancing and Music

The emotional side of the majority of people cannot be satisfied by Free Libraries, Gymnasiums, Playgrounds, etc. The love of moving the healthy body to the rhythm of music in some form of dancing is an inbred peculiarity of the average man and woman; with liquor and indecent music, however, dances may do more harm than bacteria. It is pathetic to see in our large towns and cities young men and women rush to some dance hall to satisfy a desire for amusement.

People who have used up their strength in Dancing, Late Hours, Rich Foods or have, perhaps looked too long upon the Wine when it was Red and have let Old John Barleycorn sap their vitality will find a Boon in the use of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy. It will dispel "that tired feeling," take away that feeling of depression and nervousness that comes from lowered vitality and brings back the healthy rich, red color to the cheeks. It will make your beauty sleep more satisfying so that you will awake in the mornings full of life and hope and more able to carry on with the day's work. The "habits that hurt" can more easily be overcome if you will use Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy to strengthen the Nerves, to add power to the Heart and to revive and stimulate the circulation of the Blood. Buy them from your dealer. 50c a box. 6 for $2.50.

A LODGE'S CONDOLENCE

At the last meeting of Rich Hill L. O. L. No. 1099, Amaranth, the Secretary was instructed to forward the following resolution of condolence to Mrs. Wm. Trimble, of Alton:

Mrs. Wm. Trimble and Family,
Alton, Ont.

Dear Friends:—

The brethren of L. O. L. No. 1099, Rich Hill, wish to tender you their sincere sympathy in the great loss you have sustained in the death of our departed brother. We, as a Lodge, feel that we have lost one of our circle, who always proved himself to be a credit to the Orange Order—one who always performed faithfully any duty assigned to him and who attended the meetings of our Lodge regularly until he moved from this neighborhood. Mr. Trimble was respected by every member of our Lodge as a loyal, peaceable, God-fearing man, who was always ready and willing to do a kindness to anyone in trouble or less favored than himself. We pray that the Great Comforter will cheer your lonely hours and that when life's duties have all been performed, He will reunite your family circle in the Beautiful Home in Heaven.

"Do you ever feel down-hearted and discouraged,
Do you ever think your work is all in vain,
Do the burdens thrust upon you make you tremble,
Do you fear that you will ne'er the victory gain?
Have faith in God, the sun will shine,
Tho' dark the clouds may be to-day,
His heart hath planned your way and mine,
Have faith in God, have faith always."

Signed on behalf of L. O. L. 1099, Rich Hill,

ISAAC SPROULE, W. M.
WILLIAM FARNELL, Sec.

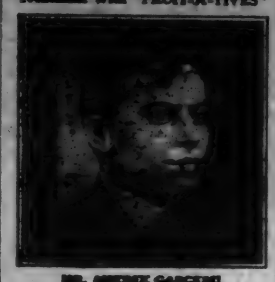
ANOTHER VICTIM OF RHEUMATISM

Entirely Well After Six Weeks' Treatment With "FRUIT-A-TIVES"



MRS. AMEDEE GARCEAU

22 Hinkney St., Ottawa, Ont.

"I was for many years a victim of that terrible disease, Rheumatism. In 1918, I was laid up for four months with Rheumatism in the joints of the knees, hips and shoulders and was prevented from following my work, that of Electrician.

I tried many remedies and was under the care of a physician; but nothing did me any good. Then I began to take 'Fruit-a-tives' and in a week I was easier, and in six weeks I was as well I went to work again.

I look upon this fruit medicine, 'Fruit-a-tives', as simply marvellous in the case of Rheumatism, and strongly advise everyone suffering with Rheumatism to give 'Fruit-a-tives' a trial."

LANKA TEA

ANNOUNCEMENT

LANKA TEA RETAILS AT 75c PER POUND

Owing to unfortunate clerical errors a number of advertisements recently appeared in which the retail price was given as 70c per pound.

We hasten to set our dealers and our patrons right on this point.

In the present condition of the tea-growing industry it is impossible to retail as high a grade as LANKA TEA at 70c and still leave a fair margin of profit for the dealer and the importer.

BUT YOU CAN'T MATCH LANKA AT ANY PRICE

Its supreme quality, its superb flavor, its smooth body, fragrant aroma and clear, sparkling color, are all attributes peculiar to LANKA.

It is the finest tea that can be produced—British grown in the famous hill gardens of Ceylon. It is blended with consummate skill and care.

You will like Lanka. You will drink nothing else after your first cup.

Ask for LANKA. Insist on LANKA. Look for the striking LANKA package at your grocer's. LANKA costs 75c per pound—no more than you pay for any good tea.

8,000,000 SMILERS IN ENGLAND

Severe, unsmiling faces are becoming more and more unpopular in the British Isles. The brotherhood of joy bringers known as the Ancient Order of Smilers organized in England during the early days of the war now boasts of nearly 8,000,000 registered coe, Earl Hague, General Allenby and General Pershing. The aim of this society is to spread the spirit of cheerfulness by preventing its members from looking glum. "K. O. S.—Keep on Smiling"—is the motto of the brotherhood and among exhortations in the rules are: Do your best by example and precept to convert gloomy persons. Note that our benefits, like the waves of the sea, roll on for ever. Business men members. Among the members are President Wilson, Lloyd George, M. Poincare, M. Clemenceau, Lord Gelli- who ride up London every day have "formed "travelling colonies of good cheer." These jolly commuters display placards in their compartment windows, which read: "Smile! Only those who are cheerful travel in this compartment. If you cannot smile you will be out of place." This has been very effective. All cheerful spirits are drawn to the compartment, while those wedded to gloom pass on and enter another carriage.

A GRUESOME FIND

An extraordinary story comes from Shanghai (China) of a find by some railway men at Harbin. A box car addressed to Colonel Bulikoff, who is the Russian representative at Hailar, was opened and found to contain apparently bags of flour and firewood. Underneath these were found eight caskets, each one duly labeled, six bearing the names of grand dukes and duchesses and the other two the name of a priest and a valet of one of the grand dukes. To make sure there was no ruse one casket was opened and a body revealed. In addition to the names of the dead there was also written who had killed them and where. The question is being asked who had forwarded these bodies and for what reason and where they were ultimately destined to be sent. In these days when railwaymen expect to find hidden away gold, jewels and other precious metals, to be confronted with caskets containing murdered persons is indeed a gruesome and unwelcome find.

DO YOU BELIEVE IT?

War stories are very prevalent just now, but one of the best is provided by a young army veteran in Bradford, England, who has pretty well circumnavigated the globe on two or three occasions. Among other places where he has seen service was with Kitchener in the Soudan, and he tells a very interesting story of what is probably the most novel musical "instrument" that has yet been invented. At the battle of Omdurman, the native women followed up their troops, carrying sacks of stones for slings, babies on their backs, and other impediments. When the natives' attack was turned to a rout, and they faced about for the retreat, our Britishers were astonished to find the field covered with babies who had been thrown away in the flight. Our local humorist, finding that there was a great variety of musical tones displayed in their wails, picked out a suitable eight, set them up on a plank, and, by a little encouraging, obtained a complete octave, from which, by gentle punching, he got a variety of music.

MAGICIANS OF THE BRAIN

The brain contains 500,000,000 cells, roughly speakng, each having a consciousness of its own. They are the genii of the mind, humbly waiting to do its bidding; guardians of the vast stores of ideas that you —more often than not without realizing it—have gathered along life's highway. Are you one of the feckless kind who have "no idea," or are you in the ranks of the sensible, who summon the spirits of the intellect to their aid? How is this done? Nothing more simple. Get the problem fairly and squarely into your head, and then forget it! The little genii of the brain refused to be coerced. Humour them, however, and there is no limit to what they can, and will, do for you. You have to make a decision. Turn the problem round and round in your head till you are giddy, you will get no nearer the solution. Put it away from you. Don't force your thoughts; leave them alone, and behold, suddenly, when you least expect it, the idea you have been searching for will jump into your mind, to be instantly recognized as the one that you wanted.

LARGEST DOORS ON EARTH

The doors in question are those at the west entranct of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, Eng., and the reason why they are not noticed more than they are is that, except in the hot summer weater, they are nearly always closed. There may be larger doors, but not all in one piece like these. Each of the two leaves is of solid oake, they stand about 30 feet high, and their weight is enormous. They are built without a nail, the various cross-pieces and panels being held together by means of bronze bolts, woth bosses at each side. The doors are nearly as old as the cathedral itself, and have upon them the initials of the carpenter who made them. The hinges are, of course, immensely massive, the main pairs at top and bottom being deeply sunk into the solid Portland stone of which the great structure is built. These doors are only opened on State occasions, such as a visit by the King or the Lord Mayor. On one occassion when a gale from the west was blowing up Ludgate Hill, it took a squad of twenty sturdy policemen to force the great leaves back into place againft the pressure of the wind.

CURE FOR SEASICKNESS

Sault Ste. Marie Physician Makes an Important Discovery.

Major A. E. Lemon, surgeon of the 125th Infantry, known and beloved as "Doc" by hundreds in this part of the woods, has come back from France with great honors, including the Croix de Guerre, D. S. C., and a few others, but he is destined to go down in history as one of the greatest benefactors of mankind, and not entirely because of his valorous exploits on the bloody fields of France either.

Major Lemon is certain that he has invented an absolute cure for seasickness. The cure is simple and effective and it has been tried out and proved good. It consists of the insertion in the ears of antiseptic gauze—but it works.

News and editorial mention in scores of eastern papers have showered publicity and praise upon the Soo surgeon since the announcement of his discovery was made several weeks ago. He sent the details to the war department upon arrival here. It was wired to France and tried out on several transports coming across, and worked. On his own trip from France the Major tried it on 200 soldiers and nurses. It cured them all, including himself. Seven took out the treatment because of the fact that it induced a slight earache. They then became sick again, replaced it and were well. The Soo major met a sailor from the Cap Finisterre, a French vessle, just before leaving the coast for Detroit one other day. This sailor said it had been tried out with complete success on his vessel. It is understood that Major Lemon has protected his invention at the patent office with notice that he will apply for patent rights as soon as he is out of army service. In the meantime he has turned it over to the army and navy, Red Cross, etc., for what use they can make of it.

Following is an article which appeared under big headlines in the New York Evening Journal the other day:—

Major A. E. Lemon, surgeon of the 125th Infantry, says he has discovered a means of eliminating seasickness, the medium being so common an agent as medicated gauze. If the Surgeon-General of the Army will adopt his suggestion there need be no more seasickness among the home-coming troops, Major Lemon asserts that no man, woman or child need longer delay an ocean voyage because of the fear of being seasick.

Major Lemon, who comes from Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and who was decorated with the Croix de Guerre, with gold star, for bravery in action, returned to the United States recently aboard the Great Northern. In common with nearly every person aboard the ship he was taken seasick the second day out.

Major Lemon could obtain little relief and decided to try the gauze treatment. Taking two-inch squares of the material he made packing of them and with the aid of a surgical instrument pressed it into his ears until it was almost in contact with the drum. Within a short time he says the nausea had entirely disappeared and he was able to go about on deck feeling no further ill effects from the rolling and tossing of the ship.

The experiment was so successful that he was moved to sympathy in the case of an elderly nurse, whose condition, because of seasickness was pitiable. There was a quick change for the better when he used the treatment upon her, but she complained a couple of hours later of an earache. The gauze was removed and the seasickness returned.

The nurse preferring the earache to the seasickness, permitted Major Lemon to treat her again. This time she had no earache and was not again troubled with seasickness during the remainder of the trip.

"Many of the soldiers and some of the crew were similarly treated on the trip over," said Major Lemon, in speaking of the cure, "and, although some complained of a headache for a time they found this soon disappeared."—Evening News, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

M'DONALD—MADILL.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Downey, Bolton, on Wednesday afternoon, June 9th, at 3 o'clock, when their sister, Miss Mabel M. Madill, of Shelburne, was united in marriage to Mr. Adrian Macdonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Macdonald, of Shelburne.

Rev. E. W. McBrien, pastor of the Bolton Methodist Church, performed the ceremony.

The bride proceeded to a canopy of ferns and blossoms on the lawn, on the arm of her brother-in-law, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mrs. McBrien. She was attired in ivory georgette and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and white sweet peas. The bride's nephew, little Donald Downey, in a white Buster Brown suit, was ring bearer and carried the ring concealed in a large American Beauty rose. Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald left on a trip down the St. Lawrence River, after which they will reside at "Orchard Valley Farm," Shelburne.

The bride wore a tailored travelling suit of navy blue serge with henna braid hat.

CLIMIE—BRETT

A very pretty and interesting wedding took place on Wednesday evening, May 26th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Brett, 10954-81st avenue, when their daughter, Mary Edna, became the bride of Mr. Geo. Climie, salesman-director of Fread's Chcolates, Ltd. The Rev. C. Carruathers, M. A., rector of Holy Trinity church, was the officiating clergyman, and the ceremony was performed in the presence of a number of friends. The rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of pink and white carnations and flowering plants, and the marriage was solemnised in a green bower formed of plants artistically massed and banked.

The bride entered leaning on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Ethel Brownridge. She made a lovely and charming picture in an artistic dress of white silk crepe-de-chene, embroidered in seed pearls and silk, and finished with real point lace, and she carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations. Miss Louie Brett, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore a pretty frock of pink crepe-de-chene, embroidered in pink silk, and her bouquet was of pink carnations. The dainty flower-girl, little Edna Miller Allen, was also dressed in pink crepe-de-chene, and carried a basket decorated with pink ribbons and filled with pink sweet peas. Mr. Donovan Fread supported the groom.

Mrs. Brett, mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of blue taffeta, embroidered in pastel shades, with an overdress of georgette crepe.

After the ceremony, a number of guests were entertained, and a delicious supper was served in the dining-room, where the tables looked extremely pretty with a tastefully decorated scheme, pink and white carnations, and silver candelabra. The big handsome, four-tier, wedding cake, the gift of the bridegroom's nephew, stood in the centre of the bride's table. Among the guests were the Rev. C. and Mrs. Carruthers, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Crawford, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Kaufman, Mr. and Mrs. Fread, Miss Lenore Fread, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey, Miss Lottie Dempsey, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Allen, Mrs. George Allen, of Clive, Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Perry, Miss Hazel Cole, Miss Edna Cole, Miss Ethel Brownridge, Miss Margaret Munshaw and Mr. E. F. Watherston.

Toasts were proposed by the Rev. C. Carruthers, Mr. E. F. Watherston, Dr. Kaufmann and Mr. Perry, and the groom suitably replied. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Climie left for Banff, where the honeymoon will be spent, and where they will stay at the C. P. R. Hotel. The bride's going away suit was of green silk, embroidered in black, and with the coat opening over a mauve silk point lace. With this costume was worn a large white hat.

The wedding presents are very numerous and handsome, as both young people are well-known and popular, and have the good wishes of a large circle of friends. The groom's gift to the bride was a saphire ring. To the bridesmaid he presented a ruby and pearl pendant; to the little flower girl, a gold signet ring; to the pianist, a handsome pearl pin; and to the best man, a pearl tie pin.

After their return from Banff, Mr. and Mrs. Climie will be at home to their friends at 10424-86th avenue.

MIXED FARMING IN WESTERN CANADA

—In Central Alberta and Saskatchewan are rich park lands—open prairie ready for the plow, interspersed with trees, which afford excellent shelter for stock. Mixed grain growing, dairing and livestock raising are being carried on successfully. The country is ideal for mixed farming. The Canadian Pacific Railway is offering a large area of these fertile lands in the neighborhood of Lloydminster and Battleford. These rich districts will become the home of thousands of prosperous farmers. On similar land George Wheeler grows the world's prize wheat. Near Lloydminster the world's prize oats have been grown and butter of the highest quality is made. A man can soon become independent on a farm here.

These lands can be bought now at prices averaging about $18. You pay down 10 per cent. If land is purchased under settlement conditions, no further payment of principal until end of fourth year, then sixteen annual payments. Interest is six per cent.

Irrigated lands in Southern Alberta $60 an acre upwards. Same terms. Write for illustrated booklet.

EPISODE 7

Bella falls in the lake. Dick jumps from the wagon and dives into the lake and swims to Bella, just as Bullhead and his gang appear on the scene. As Dick reaches Bella a motorboat, towing a log raft and manned by lumbermen from the camp, comes into view. The crew start to rescue them. Bullhead signals the crew to capture Bella and kill Dick. Two of the crew are thrown into the water. Dick takes the launch and heads downstream toward the sawmill. Bullhead and the gang ride to intercept them. Dick forces the engineer of the lumber train to start just in time to avoid Bullhead. The gang pursue them and Bullhead and two others board the moving train. Dick uncouples the cars from the engine and the gang is left behind. The engine is stopped by a huge tree across the track. Dick and Bella take refuge in a storehouse at the foot of a cliff. Going to the top of the cliff the gang drop boulders on the roof. They make their escape on a trolley cable from the house to the valley below. They drop into a lumber flume where the wire crosses it. Bullhead makes a break in the flume. Not until they are on top of the break do the daring couple realize their danger and they are rushing toward it to be killed or crushed by the fall and the logs.

MISSIONARY KILLED

Rev. A. R. Hoare Shot by Demented Youth—Victim of Alaska Tragedy Has Friends Here.

Two homes in Southern California to-day are filled with grief and anxiety because of brief news received from Alaska yesterday that Rev. A. R. Hoare, an Episcopal Missionary at Point Hope, 175 miles north of Nome, was shot and killed on April 27 by James Maguire, Jr., 18 years old, his assistant. Both have resided here and the families of both are in this city and Pasadena.

Radio messages were received yesterday by W. T. Lopp, Pacific Coast chief of the U. S. Bureau of Education, Alaska Division, from the wireless station at Noorvik, telling of the killing and of the arrest of the boy by his father, James H. Maguire, Sr., Superintendent of the Northwest Division of the Bureau of Education, with headquarters at Kotzebue, Alaska.

Last February Mr. Hoare and Mr. Maguire, Sr., leaving the son in charge of the Point Hope Mission, "mushed" 200 miles to Point Barrow with dogs and reindeer. Returning two months later, Mr. Maguire stopped a few miles from Point Hope to inspect a reindeer station. The missionary proceeded to the mission. When Mr. Maguire arrived there two hours later he found Mr. Hoare dead and young Maguire holding a revolver. Mr. Maguire placed his son under arrest and is now taking him to the Federal Marshall at Candle. The boy is believed to be demented.

Mr. Hoare has been engaged in missionary work twenty years. His widow and a daughter, Margaret, and a younger daughter live in Pasadena, and were prostrated with grief last night when they heard of the tragedy. Mrs. James H. Maguire lives in Los Angeles but could not be located last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Maguire and their son came to Los Angeles January 24, 1917, from Cape Prince of Wales, the farthest north point of North America. They brought with them Flora Tanganck, an Esquimo girl. They spent the winter here, living at 1315 West Forty-first Place. The son spent several years at Kotzebue, and there became acquainted with Mr. Hoare.

About two years ago Mr. Hoare brought his family to Pasadena, because the climate of the north was too severe for his wife. Early last year the missionary came to Pasadena to visit his family and while in Los Angeles met young Maguire. The missionary asked the boy to go north with him as his assistant and he consented. Both left on the revenue cutter Bear when she made her first cruise into the Artic from Seattle last May.

More details of the tragedy are expected as soon as mail arrives from the north. It is probably that Mr. Maguire will bring the body of his friend to California for burial.—Los Angeles, Cal., Times, May 11th.

Mrs. Hoare, the wife of the slain missionary, is a sister of Mrs. Albin Lemon, of the 3rd line, east, Caledon. Mrs. Robert Limebear, of Guelph, is another sister. Mr. Hoare went to Alaska from England some years ago and his future wife went as Deaconess at the same time. They were married about 6 months afterwards and Mrs. Hoare remained in Alaska until the climate told so severely on her health, she was forced to leave. She and her two little daughters have since lived in California. Mr. Hoare was made Archdeacon of the Diocese some years ago.

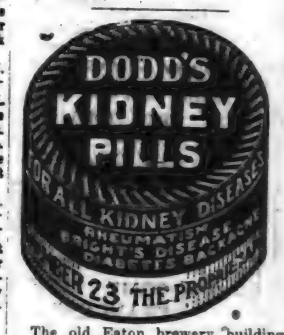
AN $8,000 FIRE

Stewart Tate, of Grand Valley, A Heavy Loser by Destruction of Machine Shop.

About one o'clock Tuesday morning Alf. Graham noticed a fire burning fiercely in the rear of Stewart Tate's machine shop, gave the alarm, and soon had a big crowd gathered. From the first it was seen that the place was doomed, there being a lot of oils and readily combustible matter to feed the flames. The village squirt gun was run down to the river, but it absolutely refused to push the water more than a few feet from the nozzle Efforts were redoubled to make a bucket brigade more effective in saving the telephone poles and adjoining buildings, and with considerable success. In about an hour the roof fell in, and shortly after the walls collapsed, absolutely destroying every bit of machinery in the place. Next morning it lay a tangled broken mass in the ruins. Once again nature's best fire protection—a drizzling rain—saved other buildings from taking fire from flying embers, while the comparative absence of wind further reduced the possibility of the fire spreading.

There is considerable mystery as to the origin of the blaze. The shop has been closed for a month owing to Mr. Tate's illness, though he had a fire in the forge for a few minutes on Saturday night; and while is the shop for an hour on Monday afternoon had no fire of any kind. Mr. Tate's loss is around $8,000, and represents the result of a life's work, and on which he had no insurance. Besides the machinery in an unusually complete machine shop for a place of this size, there were motor tires, tubes and accessories of over $1,200 value just placed in stock a few days previously.

The loss is a very serious one to Mr. Tate personally, and also to the district which derived untold convenience from the services done in the shop. Mr. Tate's future plans are naturally quite undecided yet, and it is quite possible he will not rebuild owing to his indifferent health.—Star and Vidette.



The old Eaton brewery building in Owen Sound is being torn down.

The site of Milton's new High School building has not yet been selected, although the Board has several sites in view.

Much Sickness Due to Lack of Work

The healthy body produces more energy than it needs to keep the Heart, Lungs and Bowels working. This surplus energy must be spent in mental or physical work. On the other hand, people who work too hard use their reserve strength and wear out the system.

People who are inclined to Nervousness, Constipation, or have any of the Troubles of the Heart, Liver, Nerves, Kidneys, Stomach or Bowels can greatly improve the condition of their health if they so desire.

If you work too hard, take more rest. If you work too little, take more exercise, you will need medicine to correct the troubles caused by your indiscretions and to assist nature to restore health. Then take

Hacking's
Heart and Nerve Remedy
and if you require a laxative take
Hacking's
Kidney and Liver Pills

These two preparations will work wonders and we will guarantee beneficial results because we know they will do so.

Mr. Wilson E. Eagleson, of Bay Field, writes as follows: "I have much pleasure in addressing you in regards to Hacking's wonderful Heart and Nerve Remedy. I have used quite a few boxes and I must say they have done me a world of good. Please send me 5 more boxes of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and 2 boxes of Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills."

If you too want to regain your lost health, then go to your nearest Drug Store and ask for Hacking's.

Buyer Protected by Advertising

MANUFACTURERS MUST MAINTAIN QUALITY OF GOODS BEARING HIS NAME.

HIS REPUTATION AT STAKE

MAN WHO BUYS STANDARD BRANDS FROM LOCAL MERCHANTS KNOWS THAT HE IS GETTING FULL VALUE FOR HIS MONEY

(Copyright.)

Time was when advertising did not occupy the place in the world of trade that it does to-day. It has not been so very many years ago that the people were suspicious of advertising. They were inclined to believe that the merchant was trying to "fool" them with his advertising, that he exaggerated the value of the merchandise he advertised and took that method of trying to get them to buy goods that he could not sell by the old established methods of merchandising.

Those days are gone. The public now realizes that it is the greatest beneficiary of advertising.

Advertising has done more in a decade to establish certain standards in merchandise than could have been accomplished in a hundred years by any other agency. The manufacturer who a few years ago merely made and sold clothes, now makes and sells the Blank brand of clothes. The man who formerly just made hats now makes Blank's hats. And so it is with everything that one buys to-day. The manufacturer, by his advertising, has built up a business around a trade name and, if he is to continue in business, he must protect that trade name by maintaining such a high standard of quality that people, when they buy his products will know just what they are getting. The consumer, when he goes into a store to-day, does not buy merchandise blindly, with the HOPE that it will prove to be worth the money. He buys standard goods that bear the trade mark of the manufacturer and are backed by the reputation, not only of the merchant who sells them, but the manufacturer who makes them. This has been brought about by advertising.

NO REPUTATION TO PROTECT.

All this applies to the retail merchants as a class but it does not apply to the mail order houses. The man or woman who buys goods from a catalogue house is not protected by the manufacturer of the goods for the reason that most manufacturers who sell goods to the mail order houses do not place their names upon the goods and therefore have no reputation to protect.

The great majority of articles noted and illustrated in the mail order catalogues are included in what is known among manufacturers as "stencil" stuff. These articles bear the name of the mail order house which sells them instead of that of the manufacturer who makes them. It can readily be understood that any manufacturing concern which turns out goods that do not bear its name or trade mark is likely to be a very unreliable institution. It is not building up any reputation on the quality of its goods for its products have nothing to distinguish them from the products of any other concern. With no reputation to sustain and no chance of creating a general demand for its goods the only concern of a manufacturing institution of this kind is to make stuff as cheaply as possible in order to obtain the largest possible profit on its products.

SAME PRICE WORLD OVER.

These facts are chiefly responsible for the generally prevailing idea that the home merchants do not sell goods as cheaply as the mail order house. They do sell the same quality of goods that the mail order house sells as cheaply as the mail order house sells it, but they cannot the standard guaranteed products of responsible manufacturers at the same price at which the mail order house sells its nameless, unbranded merchandise. Standard goods bearing a registered trade-mark sell for the same price the world over and the manufacturer's guarantee stands back of them when they are sold in the smallest village in the country just the same as when they are sold in the stores of the largest cities.

This is what the national advertising of the manufacturers has done for the consumers of the country. It has enabled them to go into their home stores and buy merchandise which they know from past experience or from the reputation and guarantee of the manufacturer will give them satisfaction. They are not buying blindly and hopefully when they buy from the merchants in their home towns. They are buying with the knowledge that they are getting their money's worth. When they buy advertised brands they are getting double protection, that which is afforded by the responsibility of the retail merchant and that which is given by the reputation and guarantee of the manufacturer. When they buy the unknown brands of goods that are offered by the mail order houses they are getting neither kind of protection.

QUEBEC WOMAN HAD SUFFERED 18 YEARS

Tanlac Gave Me Health And Strength And Joy, Says Mrs. Maddison.

"I was so run down that I was thinking of quitting work," said Mrs. Edward Maddison, who is superintendent of the girls' department of the Rock City Tobacco Co's factory in Quebec, when seen by the Tanlac representative at her home, 71 Smith St., Quebec, recently.

"For eighteen years I have suffered from nervous indigestion with all its distressing accompaniments of excessive gas, dizziness and bad headaches, but lately it had got very much worse. I was eating scarcely enough to keep body and soul together and got very thin. Neuralgic pains drove me almost to distraction and the rheumatism in my arms was so severe that I could hardly use them. My sleep was very disturbed and broken and in the mornings I felt tired and weary. I began to see that if I did not soon find a remedy for my condition I would collapse. I must have tried nearly every medicine that the druggists sell but they never helped me one particle.

"I had read in the papers about how people had derived great benefit from Tanlac so I thought I would put it to the test. I do indeed congratulate myself on doing so because it has helped me wonderfully. I have now taken four bottles of the medicine and this is what it has done for me. My appetite is splendid and I not only enjoy my food but find that I can digest it without difficulty. I no longer have dizzy spells when at my work and the neuralgia and rheumatism have completely disappeared. I sleep soundly and rise in the mornings feeling refreshed. The color has come back into my cheeks and my complexion is much improved. I have gained a great deal in weight and truly I feel altogether better both in body and in spirits. I give you these facts gladly, for Tanlac has given me health and strength and joy at a time when I was a much discouraged woman by my bad state of health."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

THE LATE G. B. RYAN

G. B. Ryan, who for the past 35 years has been one of the leading dry goods merchants of Guelph, died early Saturday morning, June 12th, in a hospital in New York, following a serious operation. He had been in failing health for some time past, and went to New York on Monday to consult a leading specialist. The operation was performed on Wednesday, and word was received on Friday that there were hopes of his recovery, but he took a turn for the worse the same evening. Mr. Ryan was born near Georgetown, was educated and received his mercantile training there. He first entered the dry goods business for himself at Orangeville, going later to Barrie. Going to Guelph in 1886, he purchased the business of the late John Hogg, and conducted it there ever since. In 1888, with his brother, J. C. Ryan, he established a dry goods business at Owen Sound, and in 1898 opened a store at Berlin, now Kitchener, which was subsequently disposed of. He was a public-spirited citizen in every respect, serving the city as Alderman, President of the Water Commission and Treasurer of the Guelph Radial Railway. He was a Director of the Wellington Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Waterloo. He was a Liberal and a Methodist. He leaves his wife and four children. Harold and Norma N., at Guelph; Mrs. W. S. Middlebro, of Owen Sound, and Mrs. Henderson, of Toronto. His widow is a sister of Mrs. J. R. Lathwell, of Orangeville.

WHERE WILL IT END?

Put one hundred men on an island where fish is a staple article of sustenance. Twenty-five of the men catch fish. Twenty-five others clean the fish. Twenty-five cook the fish. Twenty-five hunt fruit and vegetables. The entire company eats what thus is gathered and prepared.

So long as everybody works there is plenty. All hands are happy.

Ten of the allotted fish catchers stop catching fish.

Ten more dry and hide part of the fish they catch.

Five continue to catch fish, but work only part of the day at it.

Fewer fish go into the community kitchen.

But the same number of men insist upon having the same amount of fish to eat as they had before.

The fifty men who formerly cleaned and cooked the fish have less to do owing to the undersupply of fish. But they continue to demand food.

Gradually greater burdens are laid upon the fruit and vegetable hunters. These insist upon a larger share of fish in return for their larger efforts in gathering fruits and vegetables. It is denied them, and soon twenty of the twenty-ifive quit gathering fruit and vegetables.

But the entire one hundred men continue to insist upon their right to eat.

The daily food supply gradually shrinks. The man with two fish demands three bananas in exchange for one of them. The man with two bananas refuses to part with one for fewer than three fish.

Finally the ten men at work quit in disgust. Everybody continues to eat. The hidden fish are brought to light and consumed. Comes a day when there is no food of any kind. Everybody on the island blames everybody else.

What would seem to be the solution? Exactly. We thought you would guess it.

For we repeat that you can't eat, buy, sell, steal, give away, hoard, wear ,use, play with or gamble with WHAT ISN'T.—Exchange.

TIRED AND DISCOURAGED

Mrs. Warren Randles, Rothesay, Kings County, N. B., writes: "I have three small children and had to stay in the house all winter. So when the spring came I was all run down doing all my work and looking after the children. Felt all tired out, and looked on the gloomy side all the time. I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and the results were most satisfactory. I feel fine now, and am recommending it to my friends."

A very sad drowning occurred at Inglis Falls, near Owen Sound, when a young married man, Mr. Alfred Frost, lost his life in the Sydenham river while bathing. He was alone and as he could not swim, had depended on "floaters" to keep him up, but these were either too light or became displaced and when he got out beyond his depth he was helpless.

The barn of Mr. J. Forgrave, in Garafraxa, was struck by lightning unknown to Mr. Forgrave and on the following day, about noon, after smouldering about twelve hours, fire broke out in a large beam in the barn after it had about burned through. All were absent from the place except the old gentleman and lady and they put up a ladder and managed to put out the fire. Much praise is due this action from an old couple who are both past the three score and ten years.

ACTION DISMISSED

The trial of the action of Legate vs. East Luther was concluded on Monday. After hearing the argument of counsel, Judge Fisher dismissed the case, taking the position that as the municipality had engaged a competent engineer when constructing the bridge complained of by the plaintiff and had followed his advice and specifications it was not chargeable with any negligence under the statute. The costs of the suit were divided, costs of the first two days of the trial being assessed against the plaintiff and those of the third day against the defendants.

COUNTY COUNCIL NOTES

The County Council met on Friday morning with the expectation of concluding its June sitting about noon Friday. Unexpected business of a contentious nature developed during the sitting, causing a rather lengthy debate, and as a consequence it was nearly six o'clock Friday evening, when the final adjournment was reached.

A communication was received from the County of Peel stating that the Warden of that County and Messrs. Milner and Orr had been appointed a Committee to confer with Committees from the Counties of Dufferin and Halton regarding an arrangement, whereby only one gaol will be maintained for the three counties. The Council appointed Warden Jeffers, County Clerk Reid and Mr. Hill, one of the Mulmur representatives, to confer with the Peel and Halton Committees and report at the November meeting.

J. R. Layton, a Shelburne barrister, had a communication before the Council claiming $125 damages for a mare, which Dr. McKelvie, a Shelburne veterinary, lost on the 3rd line of Melancthon last February.

Mrs. Edith M. Gate, of Amaranth, wrote the Council thanking the members for their generous gift toward the support of her three children, born last autumn. Mrs. Gate is the wife of a returned soldier.

Col. J. A. V. Preston submitted a report on behalf of the Committee appointed to confer with the Ottawa War Department with the object of securing, if possible, some captured German guns as trophies of the war. The Committee reported that it had been successful in securing three 77 m. field guns and that these were now at the C. P. R. station in Orangeville awaiting the disposition of the Council. Council subsequently decided to have one of the trophies placed on the Court House grounds in Orangeville. The others will go to Shelburne and Grand Valley and will be mounted at points designated by the Reeves of the two municipalities. The guns remain the property of the Government, which makes certain stipulations providing for their care.

D. W. Wideman made application for a refund of $175, stating that he had paid $200 for a county license, which he subsequently found he could not use. The Finance Committee recommended that the Council make the refund.

Joseph Carney, Manasseh Ferns and John Carney asked the Council to designate certain roads in East Garafraxa as a part of the County Roads system.

Rev. W. M Morris and Rev. J. R. Bell addressed the Council on educational matters, particularly on the subject of financial aid for the Educational Association, which will shortly be organized in this County. They pointed out that these Associations were being formed in every Inspectorate in the Province and would be linked up by a Provincial Association. The Education Committee recommended an appropriation not exceeding $200 to further the work outlined by the two gentlemen. In Committee of the Whole, Council afterwards amended the report by cutting the amount of the grant down to $100.

Mr. James Brown, of Terra Cotta, addressed the Council regarding a road which he alleges runs through his farm in East Luther cutting about seven acres off the front of his property. Mr. Brown had a plan, which showed the proper place for the road allowance as determined by a Government surveyor in 1912. In the face of this survey the municipality of East Luther, Mr. Brown stated, persists in running the road across his property. The matter was referred to the Good Roads Committee, although members of the Council inclined to the opinion that the question was between Mr. Brown and the East Luther Council.

Council passed a by-law guaranteeing $12,000 debentures of the municipality of Orangeville.

The equalized assessment of the County stands at $9,901,794. The figures for the different municipalities are: —

Amaranth	$1,581,775
East Garafraxa	1,184,576
East Luther	965,025
Melancthon	1,868,600
Mulmur	1,538,170
Mono	1,593,448
Orangeville	700,100
Shelburne	300,100
Grand Valley	175,000

A proposal to boost the assessment of all municipalities ten per cent. met with vigorous opposition and was eventually dropped. Instead the Council will have a new valuation made. It is now ten or twelve years since the last valuation.

The special Committee on County Boundary Line Bridges reported in favor of the construction of a new concrete bridge over the Noisy River on the Melancthon-Nottawasaga boundary. A concrete bridge was also recommended over the Credit River on the Orangeville-Caledon townline. The stream to the west of the main branch of the Credit will be diverted for a distance of 200 feet, thereby avoiding the need of a second bridge. The Committee reported in favor of new abutments and other repairs and improvements to a number of bridges on the boundaries.

The Standing Committee on Legislation reported favorably on the proposal to widen sleighs and cutters. The Committee also recommended that the Government be asked to extend the close season for deer in Dufferin County for another three years.

The Finance Committee reported in favor of the following grants:—Children's Aid Society, $300; Dufferin Women's Institute, $25; Dufferin Teachers' Institute, $50. On account of the continued illness of Governor Bowles the Committee recommended that the salary of Mr. G. A. Leighton, Turnkey at the County Gaol, be increased from $500 to $700. Mr. Leighton's salary as caretaker of the County Buildings was also increased from $200 to $400.

On May 21st last Amaranth had overdrawn its proportionate share of the County Good Roads fund by $810.57, East Garafraxa by $1,132.-46, East Luther by $979.78, Orangeville by $2,799.25, Shelburne by $1,324.05, Peel County by $920.16 and Grey County by $288.74. The municipalities with balances to their credit are Melancthon, $1,217.64, Mono, $1,876.18, Mulmur, $360.72, and Grand Valley, $208.80.

The salary of Mr. W. E. Leeson, Caretaker of the Registry Office, was increased to $10 a month.

A by-law was passed designating the following additional roads as part of the County Good Roads system:—

East Garafraxa—The road between the 12th and 13th cons. from the Gravel road north to the road between lots 15 and 16.

Amaranth—20 Sideroad from the Mono-Amaranth townline to the road between the 2nd and 3rd cons.

Mono—20 Sideroad from the west townline to the Prince of Wales Road.

East Luther—Road between the 8th and 9th cons. from the road between lots 24 and 25 to the road between lots 30 and 31.

Melancthon—Road between lots 260 and 261 from the road between the 2nd and 3rd cons. of the Toronto and Sydenham Road to the Melancthon-Proton townline.

The road along the westerly limit of the 4th con., old survey, from the road between lots 260 and 261 to the road between lots 25 and 26, old survey.

The road between lots 25 and 26, old survey, from the road allowance along the westerly limit of 4th con., old survey, to the road allowance between the 1st and 2nd cons., old survey.

Mulmur—The road between the 5th and 6th cons. from 10 to 25 sideroad.

East Luther—East Luther and East Garafraxa townline from the 12th line, East Garafraxa, to the townline between East and West Garafraxa and the townline between East Luther and West Garafraxa to the townline between East and West Luther.

The Council will hold its autumn meeting in the Court House here commencing on Tuesday, Nov. 16th.

HEALTHY CHILDREN ARE HAPPY CHILDREN

The well child is always a happy child—it is a baby's nature to be happy and contented. Mothers, if your little ones are cross and peevish and cry a great deal they are not well—they are in need of medicine—something that will set their bowels and stomach in order, for nine-tenths of all childhood ailments arise from a disordered state of the bowels and stomach. Such a medicine is Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, and thus drive out constipation, colic, indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make the baby healthy and happy. Concerning them, Mrs. Albert Hamel, Pierreville, Que., writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine I know of for little ones. They relieved my little girl from constipation when nothing else would and I can strongly recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

New Life For Old Tires

THE final thousand or two thousand miles of service you get from your tires can often be made the cheapest of all by timely attention.

The tire which blows out or otherwise fails before it should is too common.

Long, hard service and accidents often cause inside breaks, which, if neglected, result in blowouts.

In most cases the timely use of a Goodyear Reliner would have saved the tire for a thousand or more extra miles.

With a Goodyear Reliner for a very small cost, you can add three new layers of strong fabric to the inside of the tire. This reinforces and strengthens it, and prevents fabric breaks from becoming blowouts.

This Reliner is easily applied with a little cement. Half an hour of your time is sufficient.

If you prefer, your repairman will apply it for you for a small service charge.

Any Goodyear Service Station and most tire repairmen can supply you.

DUFFERIN MASONIC LODGE

THE LATE ROBT. COOPER

It is with a great deal of regret that we chronicle the death of Mr. Robt. Cooper, a well-known West Mono farmer. The sad occurrence took place at his residence, lot 3, 2nd line, west, on Friday last following a long and severe illness from what seemed to be a form of blood poisoning. Mr. Cooper was first taken seriously ill early last January, the affection which caused his death starting with a sore foot. He had been bedfast and under the care of a doctor almost continuously since that time. Deceased, who was 58 years and 6 months of age, was born at Marsville in East Garafraxa and lived in that township until about seven years ago, when he bought and moved to the farm on which he died. He was a hard-working man and a successful farmer, who had just arrived at the stage, where he felt that he could afford to take things somewhat easier. As a neighbor there was none better and his loss will be keenly felt by the people in the community, of which he was a useful and respected member. He was a devoted husband and a kind and indulgent parent, whose memory will be tenderly cherished by the members of his family circle. He is survived by a widow, two sons and six daughters who have the sympathy of the whole neighborhood in their grievous affliction. The family are Lester and Jessie, of Caledon, Mrs. Morton Rintoul, of Amaranth, Miss Lexxie, teaching school in East Garafraxa, Hugh, Annie, Helen and Alice at home. There was a very large attendance of neighbors and friends of the family at the funeral, which was held to Greenwood cemetery on Sunday afternoon. Rev. E. R. Young, the family pastor, held an impressive service in the bereaved home and later officiated at the grave. The pallbearers were Thos. W. Reid, Amaranth, Thos. and Harry Reid and Wm. Bowes, Shelburne, Isaac Reid and J. B. Walker. The floral tributes included a Gates Ajar design from the wife and family, a wreath from the Mono College Women's Institute and sprays from Mr. and Mrs. Morton Rintoul, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Kearns, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Reid and Mr. and Mrs W. S. Bowes, Shelburne, and Mr and Mrs. R. Yates, Detroit.

SUING CITY OF TORONTO

Mr. C. R. McKeown was in Toronto on Wednesday and Thursday last acting for William Delaney, of Orangeville, the plaintiff, in the trial of a suit against the City of Toronto, for $10,000 damages for the death of his son, Albert Delaney, who died in Grace Hospital from injuries sustained in an auto accident on Dundas St. The plaintiff contends that the accident was caused by a hole in the roadway. The case was tried before Mr. Justice Orde in the Non-Jury Assize Court. Judgment was reserved.

CONSERVATIVES CONVENE

DUFFERIN COUNTY ASSOCIATION HELD ANNUAL MEETING LAST FRIDAY.

Dr. Edwards, M. P. For Frontenac, Was the Chief Speaker.

"The Liberal Conservative party of the County of Dufferin in annual meeting assembled wish to express our gratitude for the returning health, which enabled Sir Robert Borden to again assume the leadership of the Government at Ottawa, and our hope is that he may long be spared to give his country that unselfish service, which has heretofore made him the leading statesman of our time.

"We feel that the formation of a Union Government at a time of war was in the greatest interest of our Empire and that its work as a War Government assisted greatly in the successful prosecution of the war, and for this we would desire to express our appreciation Now that the war is over and the questions of our trade and other policies are getting uppermost we would recommend that the Conservative party in our Dominion become thoroughly organized on the policy that under the late Sir John A. Macdonald and others has made our country so important a part of the British Empire.

"In the Province of Ontario a more thorough organization may be looked for after October of this year, when at the Convention to be held in Toronto a permanent leader will be selected and a definite policy adopted; and we would recommend that our Country should be fully represented thereat, and a policy adopted that will be in the best interest of every class in our Province."

The above is the text of the report submitted by the Committee on Resolutions appointed at the annual meeting of the Liberal-Conservative Association of the County of Dufferin in Shelburne last Friday afternoon. The report, which was adopted without discussion, was presented by Mr. C. R. McKeown, one of the members of the Committee. Harry White, of Shelburne, and John Reburn, of Mulmur, were the other members of the Committee.

There were perhaps 150 people in the hall, when President John Bryan, of Laurel, called the meeting to order shortly after 2 o'clock. Late arrivals swelled the gathering to between 200 and 250 persons. There were about ten ladies in the audience. Mr. R. E. Mortimer, of Honeywood, Secretary of the Association, read the minutes of several former meetings of the Association and its Executive. These were regularly adopted, as was the Treasurer's report showing receipts of $16.50 and an expenditure of $23.01. Last January's officers were reelected with the exception of the Melancthon Vice-President. Mr. Sam. McComb, of Melancthon Station, was selected to take the place of Mr. Joshua Reid, who has moved out of the municipality. The officers are: —

Hon.-President, Harry White, Shelburne; President, John Bryan, Laurel; Vice-President, Dr. G. H. Campbell, Orangeville; Sec.-Treas., R. E. Mortimer, Honeywood; Vice-Presidents for Municipalities—Melancthon, Sam. McComb, Melancthon St.; Mulmur, Paul Gallaugher, Mansfield; Mono, Thos. Lindsay, Camilla; Amaranth, Herb Hughes, Laurel; East Garafraxa, Presley Donaldson, Waldemar; East Luther, John Lovell, Colbeck; Orangeville, J. E. Thompson; Shelburne, R. A. Riky; Grand Valley, T. C. Hamilton.

After the close of the business meeting the audience was addressed by C. R. McKeown, John Reburn, John Best, M. P., S. L. Squires, who represented Hon. G. S. Henry, the acting leader of the Conservative Opposition in Ontario, and Dr. Edwards, Conservative M. P. for Frontenac. Dr. Edwards being the principal speaker.

Mr. McKeown reminded the audience that, although defeated in the last Provincial election, the Conservative party had polled more votes than the successful U. F. O. Government. So far as the Conservative party was concerned the Drury Government had been largely given a free hand. Mr. McKeown invited his hearers to compare the administration of any or all of the Departments of Government under the present Government with their administration under the late Government and averred that in no instance would it be found that there had been any great change for the better. Personally he did not think the present Government was any improvement whatever on the old. It was surely rather peculiar that with so many farmer supporters elected to the House Premier Drury had considered it necessary to go outside the House and select a candidate, who had been defeated in his own constituency, for the position of Minister of Agriculture. Mr. McKeown argued that as the policies of the U. F. O. and Labor organizations are diametrically opposed they must inevitably clash.

John Reburn expressed his thanks for the support accorded him at the election last autumn and briefly outlined the plans for the proposed reorganization of the Conservative party in Ontario.

John Best praised the work of the Union Government at Ottawa, referred in terms of the heartiest appreciation to the loyalty and the patriotism shown during the critical period of the late war and maintained that the policy of moderate and judicious protection of home industries supported by the Conservative party under the leadership of Sir John A. Macdonald and his successors in the party leadership had contributed very materially to the present day prosperity of the people of Canada. Mr. Best commented on the significance of the fact that while the air was filled with rumors of graft and corruption in connection with the conduct of the war, there was a difference of only $2.80 in the accounts between Canada and France, when they were finally adjusted only a few days ago, despite the fact that they extended over a period of many years and amounted to many millions of dollars. An Opposition member had asked to have the vouchers brought down. Mr. Best said the Government had acceded to the request and caused a general laugh by adding that the vouchers asked for weighed 219 tons. The member for Dufferin paid his respects to Hon. Mr. Crerar, stating that the former Minister had drawn a salary of $10,000 a year from the farmers and a further sum of $9,500 a year for his services as Cabinet Minister. Although now out of the Cabinet the Western Farmers had increased Mr. Crerar's salary to $15,000 a year. Mr. Best vigorously defended the politicians from the charge of being dishonest, expressing the opinion that the average politician is just as honest as the average citizen. He believed in the farmers organizing to further their own interests and to improve farm conditions, but did not believe in any class of people organizing to run the country.

Dr. Edwards, who proved an able and convincing speaker, stated at the outset of an excellent address that he represented a purely agricultural constituency and consequently always felt at home amongst the farmers. The member for Frontenac was glad to be present on the invitation of Mr. Best and spoke of the member for Dufferin as a useful and valued member of the Commons—a member who was absolutely honest and absolutely sincere in his opinions and who was always listened to with close attention in the House, because of the fluent and forcible manner in which he expressed his views. As a rule the member of Parliament was just as good as the people who send him to Parliament—that is he was generally a good, average sort of fellow. Dr. Edwards declared that when Sir Robert Borden went away in search of health he was just as much a casualty of the war, as any soldier who had suffered in the trenches. It was the Liberal Conservatives of Canada, who were the backbone and the forefront of the great war effort that was made in Canada. The speaker declared that the Conservative party had done more to refute the tariff than had the Liberals despite the oft-repeated assertion that the former was the party of high protection. From 1878 to 1894 the Conservatives reduced the duties on agricultural implements from 35 to 20 per cent. The Liberals had professed to reduce the duty on self-binders, but while they reduced the percentage of duty they actually increased the amount of duty paid by increasing the valuation of the implement for duty purposes from $75 to $100. Dr. Edwards quoted at some length from a report prepared by Hon. Mackenzie King, the present leader of the Opposition, showing the lowest, the highest and the average prices of some 231 articles during the period of 1839 to 1909. The speaker quoted the prices of butter, cheese, eggs, milk, potatoes, hogs, sheep, cattle and many other farm products and then made the statement that in every case, with a single exception the lowest price was reached at a time when a Liberal Administration was in power at Ottawa. The Liberals idea of reciprocity with the United States was to take the duty off everything the farmer had to sell and keep the duty on everything that he was obliged to buy. Dr. Edwards deprecated the decrease in our rural population, but pointed out that this was a condition that was not confined to Canada. Even in free trade England statistics showed that ever since 1846 there had been a steady movement from the farms into the cities. If conditions on the farms in Canada were as bad as sometimes painted, why do Canadian farmers not go to England or the United States. One seldom heard of a Canadian farmer picking up and going to either of these countries but we all know that many English and United States farmers come to Canada to better their fortunes. Dr. Edwards quoted figures from the United States census returns to show that the States bordering on Canada have more farm stock, produce more grain, wool and potatoes than the farmers of Canada produce and with this as a basis argued that free trade with the United States could not work out to the benefit of the Canadian agriculturist. The natural market for Canadian farm products was wherever there is a scarcity of farm products. In every single article which the Canadian farmer raises and has to sell, with the single exception of cheese, the United States has a greater surplus than Canada to dispose of. Dr. Edwards declared that he need not care a fig for the manufacturers, because he had no manufacturers in his constituency, but he was a protectionist from conviction so far as the farmers of Canada were concerned. He believed that if protection were abolished it would absolutely ruin the farming industry in Canada. In half of the States of the United States there was practically no winter. In the State of Oklahoma for instance there were about the same number of farms and about the same number of cattle as in the Province of Ontario, but the farmers of Ontario had $200,000,000 more invested in farm buildings than the farmers of Oklahoma. The Canadian farmer had a right to protection against adverse climatic conditions, against the cheap negro labor of the southern States and against the half caste labor of the Argentine republic. Dr. Edwards declared that the Drury Government was not a representative Government and averred that Ontario never had a Government that had done as much for the farmers in a practical way as the Hearst Government. The speaker paid his respects to Hon. Mr. Crerar and the Western Grain Growers in vigorous fashion. He said among other things that the sworn evidence of Mr. Rice Jones, one of the head officers, showed that the Western Grain Growers Company had made over 42 per cent. profit on the capital invested and that the New York Export Company, a subsidiary concern, had made a profit of 550 per cent. on its capital. How were these immense profits made? Simply by selling the farmers' grain and selling to the farmers machinery, silos, fence posts and other manufactured goods that they needed on their farms. Dr. Edwards' conclusion was that they were farmers who farm the farms and other farmers who farm the farmers. Canada, said the speaker in his concluding remarks, was in a sounder position financially than any other country that had entered the war, not even excepting the United States, which did not go in until 1917. He appealed to Canadians at home to play their part as citizens as the Canadian boys played theirs, when they were used as the spearhead to drive the Huns back to the place where they belong. If our citizens will only do this then all would be well in Canada in the years to come.

CALEDON.

The recent rains have greatly helped the crops in this district, and everything but hay promises to be above the average.

Mr. R. J. Galbraith, who has been manager of Clearbrook Trout Farm for the past year, has resigned the position and will move back to his farm near Shelburne. Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith and family made many friends while in Caledon and we are sorry to lose them from our community.

Mr. Geo. Hillyard is, we are sorry to state, very seriously ill at present.

Miss Ruby Laughlin, of the Elmvale High School staff, is enjoying the holidays at her parental home here.

Quite a number of our Junior Farmers attended the County Picnic at Erin on Friday last and report a splendid time.

Mr. W. J. Warnock is busy building a potato house and will be prepared to handle the spuds at all times in the future.

One day while lying in bed, I read about "Fruit-a-tives" the great fruit medicine; and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it.

The first box helped me, and I took the tablets regularly until every trace of the Rheumatism left me."

MELVILLE

Mrs. T. C. Bullock paid a visit to Toronto last week-end to meet her brother, Mr. Vernon Wood, and his wife on their arrival from England. Mr. Wood, like his brother-in-law, is a veteran of the Great War, and Melville offers him and Mrs. Wood a hearty welcome to Canada and hopes they will prosper in every way in their new home.

MONO MILLS PRES. CHURCH

The Sixtieth Anniversary of the Mono Mills Presbyterian Church will be observed next Sunday, June 27th, when Re-opening Services will be conducted by Rev. Capt. Thos. Dodds, of Cheltenham, at 11 a.m and 7 p.m. The Garden Party, which has been postponed, will be held at Mr. Robt. Arlow's on July 7th.

The Farmers' Sun says: "The paper, ink and other mechanical charges mounting and wages being repeatedly advanced, the day of cheap printing seems to be rapidly passing. Many country weeklies have raised their subscription rates from $1 to $1.50 and from $1.50 to $2, and this latter price is being readily accepted by readers as a logical outcome of the trend of the times. A religious paper of one of the strong Protestant sects has recently notified the church that if it is not prepared to stand behind and finance the paper, it will have to give up the struggle. Another Protestant church confesses that it loses $20,000 a year on its publications, in spite of a $2 subscription price for the church paper. The cost of printing is becoming a serious matter.

EDNA RAINE DEAD

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Raine, of Churchville, have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends and neighbors in the trying bereavement they were called upon to sustain in the death of their little daughter, Edna, a bright child of four years and four months. The little darling passed away about three o'clock on Tuesday morning, June 1st, from heart trouble. The funeral, which was held from the home of the child's parents to Churchville cemetery on Wednesday afternoon following her death, was largely attended by the sorrowing friends and neighbors. The little casket was literally covered with flowers, bearing mute testimony to the worth of the child and the sorrow that her demise had occasioned. Amongst these tributes was a wreath from the heartbroken parents, a wreath from the Raine uncles and aunts, a wreath from cousin Harold Hamilton, and sprays, Grandma and Sophia Trimble, the little Raine cousins, Mr. and Mrs. James Trimble and family, little Martha, Mary and John Trimble, Reta Marchment and Ada Archer, Churchville, Mr. and Mrs. Heath, Brampton, and the Churchville Ladies' Aid. The pallbearers were six young Churchville girls. The services were conducted at the house and grave by Rev. R. Halbert, of Huttonville, assisted by Rev. E. A. Lunau, of Streetsville. Mr. and Mrs. Raine have the sympathy of all in their great sorrow.

Safely, safely gathered in,
No more sorrow, no more sin;
No more childish griefs or fears,
No more sadness, no more tears;
For the life so young and fair,
Now hath passed from earthly care;
God Himself the soul will keep,
Giving His beloved sleep.

Safely, safely gathered in,
Free from sorrow, free from sin;
Passed beyond all grief and pain,
Death for thee is truest gain;
For our loss we must not weep,
Nor our loved one long to keep
From the home of rest and peace,
Where all sin and sorrow cease.

Safely, safely gathered in,
No more sorrow, no more sin;
God has saved from weary strife,
In its dawn, this fresh young life,
Which awaits us now above,
Resting in the Saviour's love;
Jesus grant that we may meet,
There adoring at Thy feet.

HIGH STANDARD PAINTS

These paints of proven performance show their quality by their looks, life and wear. Results have proved their certain economy.

HIGH STANDARD saves money now and next time.

It saves money "now" because a gallon covers more surface than a gallon of cheaper paint. You will need fewer gallons of HIGH STANDARD. It spreads easier enabling your painter to do a better job in less time.

It saves money "next time" because HIGH STANDARD is a long-wearing paint. You don't need to paint so often. And when after years of service it has gradually worn away, it leaves a good surface for repainting. This means saving of time and material.

IVERACH'S COME BACK

MANITOBA MAN PRESSED TO TELLING POINTERS FOR COUNCILLOR MORTON TO PONDER ON.

Argues That Rural Conditions and Rural Education Must Be Made Better.

Isabella, Man. May 31, 1920.
To the Editor of The Banner,
Orangeville, Ont.

Dear Sir:—

Someone has been kind enough to send me a copy of your issue of May 20th, containing a letter by Councillor Jas. A. Morton in which he purports to discuss some of the arguments I advanced in favour of Consolidated Schools while in your Province last April. Now, I want to give Mr. Morton credit for quoting correctly what I said, in regard to the position of the English speaking race in Canada, but some of his statements, his questions, and his arguments are worthy of a little attention. In the first place he asks why I did not tell those I was speaking to, about the Consolidated School they already had, or have in Ontario. Well, the answer to Mr. Morton's question is very simple. I knew little or nothing about it, and I am not in the habit of talking from the platform about things I know nothing of, besides if I did know, I'm not sure that I would be justified in taking up the time of my hearers, on whose patience I realized I often trespassed, discussing one partial failure in Ontario, when I had over a hundred successful schools in Manitoba to talk about. I would also like to tell Mr. Morton in passing, that I am not a professional orator, and my time was worth very much more to me just at that season of the year, had I been otherwise engaged. I can honestly say, with the apostle of whom Mr. Morton professes to know something, that these hands have ministered to my wants. Does Mr. Morton serve in the Council for what he can get out of it?

Mr. Morton asks me another question, from which class did Christ select his followers, the educated or the ignorant? He says "was it not untutored and unlearned fisherman." Because a man may be a fisherman or a farmer, it does not follow that he should be ignorant and unlearned. It is just this conception of things that some of us who are giving a good deal of our time and thought to this matter, are trying to correct. Then after all is Mr. Morton correct in assuming that the men selected by Christ were untutored and unlearned. Let us see. It is true the writer of the Acts of the Apostles says, some people perceiving that Peter and John were unlearned, and ignorant men. Perhaps they simply discovered that at that time they were not professional orators. But if we just take Peter's address, his references to the history of his own nation, and his repeated quotations from the Psalms, and the Prophets, and then his three epistles, he must have been far from being untutored and unlearned, as we understand that term. As to his companion John, we do not need to read very far into the Fourth Gospel, or his three epistles, until we find that the writer possesses a very rich fund of knowledge as well as common sense. Then what about the writer of the Third Gospel. Some of us out here in the West have been led to believe that he was educated for a doctor, and he leaves us the Third Gospel as well as the Book of Acts. Still another who was selected was Paul, who was educated for a lawyer, and few men were ever better able to plead a case, and he leaves us thirteen or fourteen letters that for literary style, as well as sound reasoning, are still unexcelled. Considerably more than half of those selected by the Master have been able to leave written records that still remain with us as our standards, and some of these have been scholars of the first rank, instead of being untutored and unlearned, as Mr. Morton would have us believe.

Then he tells us that the Farmers' Parliament of Ontario is composed of just such men as Christ would choose. Well, Mr. Editor, it is to the credit of that Parliament, that at least five out of the eight members of the cabinet are graduates of Colleges and Universities, and so are the leaders of both sections of the opposition. I'm afraid Mr. Morton will have to find some other arguments for perpetuating a grade five or six education on rural Ontario. He says my scheme would easily double his present taxes. This is the basis of his whole argument, and it is a pity he can't find some scripture to defend his attitude with here. He also says it would be hard on renters. Perhaps if this system was in vogue in Ontario, there might be fewer renters. If conditions in rural life and rural education were better, the owners might think the old farm might be a good place to move back on to again. And as to the man who is struggling with a mortgage, we might also have fewer of them, because men with enough capital to pay for a farm might think the country a good place to live, to raise and educate a family in. Too many men who are struggling with mortgages are now expecting to pay off too large a share of that mortgage with the products of the unpaid labour of their wives and children, and our young people are not going to stand for it as the evidence of the trek to the cities would go to show, and the worst feature of it is they go with their meagre rural school education, and soon become the victims of the Bolsevik agitator.

He also calls my attention to the case of the Germans. Surely Mr. Morton ought to know by this time, that had it not been for our highly educated British and French, and Canadian heroes, he would be doing the goose step in Ontario to-day, to a tune played by a German band. Had it not been for our University men, experts in mathematics, in chemistry, engineering, etc., our boys of ordinary education could only have marched up to be slaughtered by the German guns. Volunteers for the flying corps could only be accepted when they had something equal to three years high school education. Yes, Canada is rapidly coming to the time when she is going to demand a higher standard of education in those she elects to fill her public offices. The school trustee and the councillor, who has to sign his name with a cross, will soon be a thing of the past. The nations who have spent most on education in the past are those who are now the bankers of the world. It pays in dollars and cents, if we care to make that the basis of our measurement.

Yours truly,
WM. IVERACH.

The marriage took place very quietly in Toronto on Wednesday, June 2nd, of Miss Reta Cameron, elder daughter of Mrs. Geo. Cameron, formerly of Shelburne, to Robt. T. McCormick also formerly of Shelburne.

The engagement is announced of Annie E., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Clokey, Whitfield, to Melville Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Little, of Rosemont. The marriage will take place the latter part of June.

Jas. Lyons, of Lucknow, recently clipped sixteen pounds of wool from a year-old lamb, a performance which has received considerable attention in the country and city press. However, this record fades into insignificance along side of that made by Mr. Wm. BARBER—M'CLELLAND

A very happy event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McClelland, of Shelburne, on Wednesday, June 9th, when their eldest daughter, Reeta Mae, was united in marriage to Lewellyn Elgin Barber, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Barber, of Honeywood. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. Thornley, of Shelburne, in the presence of about forty guests. Promptly at two o'clock, the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, took her place under an arch of evergreens to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Florence Barber, sister of the groom. The bride looked charming in a gown of white silk overdraped with white georgette trimmed with pearls. She wore the customary bridal veil trimmed with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of pink and white carnations. Little Annie McClelland, sister of the bride, acted as ring-bearer and flower girl, who wore pale blue crepe-de-chene. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl crescent brooch, to the pianiste a twin pearl ring, and to the flower girl a pearl pendant. During the signing of the register Miss Adella Coe, of Honeywood, cousin of the groom, sang "Just a Wearying for You." After the usual congratulations the happy couple led the way to the dining-room where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The young couple were the recipients of many valuable and useful presents, showing the high esteem in which they were held. Mr. and Mrs. Barber left on the evening train for Toronto and other points midst showers of confetti, the bride travelling in a suit of jade blue silk with taupe hat and white maribou. On their return they will reside on "Pine Tree Farm," Honeywood.

MRS. GEORGE REILLY

In the death of Mrs. Geo. Reilly, Sr., at the home of her son, Councillor Albert Reilly, East Luther, on Tuesday morning, this section loses one of its early settlers. Her maiden name was Martha Parker, and she was born at Hog's Hollow, now a part of Toronto, her father being a warm personal friend of William Lyon McKenzie. The family then moved to Pickering, and then to Erin, where she met and married George Reilly. In 1894 they came to Luther, retiring to the village some twenty years ago, and where Mr. Reilly died some years later. Since then Mrs. Reilly made her home with her son. For a number of years her health has been very poor, suffering greatly, but throughout she evidenced that grace which bespeaks of happier ages beyond. She leaves the following children: John and William in Amaranth, Albert, George and Norman in East Luther; Andrew and Mrs. John Gulley, of Inisfree; Edward, of Statler; James, of Sault Ste Marie; and Mrs. Laughlin Sinclair, of Waldemar. The funeral takes place to-day to the Union Cemetery, the services being in charge of Rev. R. W. Stavenson, of the Church of Christ, of which she was a devoted member.

JENKINS—CRAWFORD

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford, "Maple Lane" Farm, Sleswick, Ont., was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, June 16th, when their elder daughter, Mary Alberta May, became the bride of Mr. Herbert D. Jenkins, of Erin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jenkins, of Mono. An assemblage of seventy guests witnessed the interesting ceremony, which took place outdoors on the spacious lawn, the bridal couple taking their places under an arch of evergreens, prettily decorated with pink and white. Rev. Alfred Laycock, of Mono Mills, pronounced the words which united the young couple in the holy bonds of wedlock. The bride, who was given away by her father, was sweet and winsome in a gown of white embroidered silk and embroidered veil with wreath of lillies of the valley. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and lillies of the valley. Her little sister, Myrtle, was a dainty maid of honor, dressed in white silk, and carried the wedding ring in a basket of sweet peas. Mrs. Laycock, wife of the officiating clergyman, played Mendelssohn's wedding march prior to the marriage. After receiving the good wishes and congratulations of the guests at the conclusion of the ceremony, the newly wedded couple led the way to the dining room, which was neatly decorated in pink and white. Here a sumptuous wedding repast was served followed by a number of toasts honored in happy speeches of a felicitous character. The young couple, who are both widely knows and highly thought of, were the recipients of a large number of handsome and expensive wedding gifts. The groom's gift to the bride was a valuable gold necklace set with pearls, to the maid of honor a gold bracelet and to the pianiste a silver bonbon dish. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins motored to Mono Road, where they took the train for Toronto and other Ontario points, the bride travelling in a suit of pailette silk and white picture hat. They were liberally showered with rice, confetti and good wishes by the friends who had assembled at the depot to see them off on their honeymoon trip. Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins will make their home on the groom's farm near Hillsburg where they will start out in life followed by the good wishes of a large circle of friends.

Among the guests at the wedding were friends from Toronto, Brantford, Hillsburg and other points.

M'DONALD—GLASSFORD

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. J. J. Glassford, Caledon, Ont., on Wednesday, June 16th, when her youngest daughter, Susie E., became the bride of Mr. George. A. McDonald, eldest son of Mrs. G. McDonald, of Mono Mills, the Rev. Jenkins Burkholder, Caledon, officiating. The bride, who was unattended, entered the drawing room on the arm of her brother to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march and took her place before a bank of roses and ferns. She was gowned in cream satin and georgette crepe, trimmed with seed pearls and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Here only ornament was a pearl and aquamarine pendant, the gift of the groom. During the signing of the register, Miss Bertha Atkinson sang, "O Promise Me." The groom's gift to the soloist was a pearl pin. The bridal party then led the way to the dining room, which was tastefully decorated with Killarney roses, and where a dainty luncheon was served. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, which show the high esteem in which the young couple are held. The best wishes of their many friends go with them to their new home at Mono Mills.

On Monday evening previous to the wedding, the young people of the community gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Glassford and presented the bride-to-be with a miscellaneous shower. A very pleasant evening was spent in music, contests and other games.

PALE AND WEAK WIVES AND MOTHERS

Can Regain Health and Strength Through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Many women who had a good color in their girlhood grow pale and colorless when they become wives and mothers. When the fading color in the cheeks and lips is accompanied by a loss of brightness in the eyes and an increasing heaviness in the step, the cause will be found in the state of the blood.

Many causes contribute to the condition of the blood known as anaemia. Overwork in the home, a lack of outdoor exercise, insufficient rest and sleep, improper diet—these are a few of them. The important thing is to restore the blood to normal, to build it up so that the color will return to cheeks and lips, brightness to the eyes and lightness to the step. Dr. Williams Pink Pills are the great blood builder and nerve strengthener. They begin with the very first dose, and through a fair use make new blood that carries strength and health to every part of the body. The appetite increases, digestion becomes more perfect and energy and ambition return. The case of Mrs. Wm. McNish, Abbott Street, Brockville, proves the value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills in cases of this kind. Mrs. McNish says: "I was quite young when I married, and in raising my family I became all run down and a nervous wreck. I became so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without sitting down to get my breath. I slept poorly and at times my nerves would twitch so that I could not keep still, and I was in constant misery. I tried many medicines but they did not help me; Indeed my condition was growing worse, until one day a friend told me that she had been in a somewhat similar condition and had been cured by Dr. Williams Pink Pills, so I decided to try this medicine. After the use of a couple of boxes I felt they were helping me. My appetite was better and I slept better. By the time I had used half a dozen boxes I felt like a new woman, my health had fully returned and I could do my housework with ease. In view of what Dr. Williams Pink Pills have done for me I cannot recommend them too highly."

The best time to begin taking Dr. Williams Pink Pills is the moment you feel the least bit out of sorts. The sooner you do so the sooner you will regain your old time energy. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CLOKEY—PICKERING

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, June 9th, at 3 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Pickering, Second Ave., Shelburne, when Mr. Pickering's elder daughter, Mary Sarah, was united in marriage to James Hamilton Clokey, of Whitfield. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. W. Wallace. The bride, who wore a pretty white dress and carried a bouquet of ophelia roses, was given away by her father. The groom's gift to the bride was a cabinet of silver. The happy couple left on the evening train to spend a few days out of town.

KING—FRENCH

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at 4 o'clock on Monday afternoon, June 21st, at the home of the bride's mother, when Marjorie Louise, daughter of Mrs. Louise French, 317 Aberdeen Ave., was united in marriage to Mr. C. Walter King, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. King, of Toronto. Rev. Dr. W. H. Dougall officiated. The house was artistically decorated for the occasion with orange blossoms and palms, which banked the large fire place in the reception hall and in the drawing room. The mantels looked beautiful with masses of hydranges bloom and orange blossoms. The pretty bride, who was given away by her uncle, looked very charming in her handsome French gown, which had tunic of seed pearls, bouffant tulle effect on the skirt, train of net and satin, with tulle veil and orange blossoms. She carried a large shower bouquet of white roses. She was attended by Miss Grace Kirkpatrick, in a pretty shot pink taffeta dress, very full and having two tone streamers of yellow and pink hanging from back. Her pink georgette hat was trimmed with ostrich, and she carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses. Miss Edith Masson played the wedding march. The best man was Wilson King, of this city, cousin of the groom. Mrs. French, the bride's mother, wore a handsome gown of midnight blue with jade trimmings and a corsage of American Beauty roses. The groom's gift to the bride was white fox furs; to the bridesmaid and organist, gold bar pins with pearls, and to the best man, gold cuff links. A wedding supper was enjoyed after the ceremony by about 70 guests. Out of town friends were present from Toronto and Montreal.—The Hamilton Herald.

In the course of his address Mr. Young said that by taking her place in the League of Nations Canada was assuming new responsibilities, which must be carried out by the Canadian people if they are to hold up their heads as a Nation among the Nations of the world. A solo by Miss Gladys Ewing was much appreciated.

Next Monday evening, June 28th, the meeting will be in charge of the Missionary Committee. An interesting program is being arranged. All are welcome. Come and bring your friends.

The little nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Blatchford, Owen Sound, had a narrow escape from death on a recent Sunday afternoon. She was coming out of Harison Park with Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Maidment and their children in Mr. Maidment's car, when a bullet from a 22 rifle in the hands of Gordon Barber penetrated her right cheek and broke off two of her teeth. Had the bullet gone a few inches higher the child would have been killed.

Mr. and Mrs. King Cooper of Acton announce the engagement of their daughter, Olive Myrtle, to Mr. Wm Condie Scrogie, of Stratford, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Scrogie, of Seaforth Place, Sterling, Scotland and Eva Winnifred to Herbert Ralph Swackhammer, of Kitchener, son of Mr. H. A. Swackhammer, of Acton. The marriages will take place in June.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The tenth annual Convention of the Dufferin Women's Institute was held in Shelburne on Tuesday, June 15th. Seventeen branches were represented out of twenty-one in the district. Splendid reports were given from all. The morning session was entirely devoted to business. The following officers were elected by ballot for the ensuing year:—

Pres.—Mrs. S. Banks, Shelburne.
Vice.-Pres.—Mrs. Menary, Bowling Green.
Sec.Treas.—Miss E. H. Besley, Shelburne.
Auditors—Mrs. W. W. Wallace, Shelburne, Mrs. Clubbe, Shelburne.
Representative on the Provincial Federation Board—Miss E. H. Besley, Shelburne.

The afternoon session was opened at 2. p m., the President, Mrs. Blakley, in the chair. "All people that on earth do dwell" was sung as the opening hymn. Mrs. S. Banks gave the address of welcome. She spoke of the wonderful work of the Institute, reaching from East to West, and especially of its work in foreign settlements. Mrs. Warnock, of Marsville, replied in a very able way. During the session reports were read from nearly all the 21 branches, and these showed that a splendid community work is being done by the Institutes. Miss W. Matthews, of Shelburne, rendered a solo, in her usual able way. A Reading, "In the Old Days, " by Miss Lorna Cruikshank, of Whittington, was most interesting. A splendid paper entitled "The Value of Good Literature in Our Lives," was read by Mrs. Hawkins, Corbetton. Miss Emery, the Department Speaker, spoke of her experiences over seas, especially in hospital work in Malta, among the eye patients. She also told of the odd customs in Malta, and of her return trip to England, across Italy and France. Her whole address was very interesting. Miss Rayfield, of Camilla, recited. Miss Baird, of Shelburne, gave a splendid violin solo. Mrs. L. C. Fallis of Shelburne, gave a vocal solo which was very much enjoyed. The Convention closed by singing the National Anthem.

Power of Dollar is Easily Shown

KEEP ONE MOVING AND SEE WHAT IT WILL DO FOR YOUR COMMUNITY.

PAYS MULTITUDE OF DEBTS

WHEN IT IS SENT OUT OF TOWN, HOWEVER, TO PAY FOR WHAT CAN BE BOUGHT AT HOME, IT IS GONE FOREVER.

(Copyright.)

It is a rather wonderful thing when you stop to think about it, what one lone dollar will do, if it is kept at work. This has been illustrated in a striking manner on several occasions by means of a very simple experiment. If you want to see just how important a role a silver dollar or a dollar bill plays in the life of a community here is the way to do it. Just attach a tag to the dollar and turn it loose, with the request that every person who receives the dollar make a note on the tag as to how he received it. The result will be an eye-opner.

Here is the way it works: Smith, the lumber dealer, who first possesses the dollar, buys some groceries from Brown and pays for them with the dollar. About that time Jones, the plumber, who has done some work for Brown, sends his collector around and Brown pays the bill with this dollar. Jones owes Green, the printer, a small advertising bill, so he sends this dollar with possibly some others, to Green to pay his bill. Green had just put the dollar in his cash drawer when in comes Black, the milkman, to whom Green owes a dollar for milk delivered at his house. Green takes the dollar out of his cash drawer and pays Black. For some time Black has owed White, the carpenter, for some work done on his dairy house, so now he takes the dollar that Green has paid him and pays up what he owes White. White still owes for some lumber that he bought from Smith, the lumber dealer, so he takes the dollar and squares his account with Smith. Smith now has his dollar back, Brown has been able to pay his plumbing bill, Jones has squared up with the printer, and so on, all around the circle.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE HAPPENED.

Now suppose that Smith, instead of buying his groceries from Brown, had purchased them from a mail order house in a far distant city and sent his dollar to pay for them. Brown would not have had that dollar to pay Jones, the plumber; Jones could not have paid his printing bill; the printer would have had to stand off the milk man; White, the carpenter, would not have got the money for the work he had done for the milkman and Smith would not have got the money which White owed him for lumber.

This is all so simple that it requires no student of economics or professor of mathematics to figure it out. Anyone can see that when Smith sends that dollar to Chicago or some other city where the mail order houses flourish, that dollar is gone so far as Smith and Jones and Green and the rest of the people in Smith's town are concerned. That dollar will never come back to pay any bills in Smith's town. And the thing that stands out most striking, but is most often overlooked, is that Smith, the man who first spendis the dollar, is hurt just as much when he sends that dollar out of town as is the home grocer from whom he might have bought his groceries.

Now just multiply this one dollar by a hundred or a thousand or ten thousand. One dollar may not seem to make much difference in the average town, but a thousand dollars or even a hundred dollars does make a difference. Just as one dollar will pay a dozen or a hundred small bills, a hundred or a thousand dollars will pay a dozen or a hundred big bills. When Brown, the Grocery man, owes a thousand dollars and can't pay it, he is headed for the bankruptcy courts. When Jones, the plumber, can't collect the money which is due him from Brown, or maybe a dozen Browns, he is headed in the same direction as Brown. And so it goes all around the circle until it hits Smith or a dozen Smiths who have sent their money out of town to add to the fortunes of the mail order men.

BUYER ONE WHO IS HURT.

Thus it will be seen that this buy-at-home proposition is really a selfish one with the man who buys the goods. He is not hurting the home merchant when he sends his money out of town, any more than he is hurting himself.

Every sensible man knows that his livelihood depends upon whether business in his town is good or not. If business is not good, he cannot make a good living for himself and his family, no matter how hard he may work, and business cannot be good if the business men in the town are not making money. This is a plain business proposition for every man and woman in the community. By spending their money at home they are helping the home merchant only incidentally. They are buttering their own bread. When they send their money to the mail order house they are not only hurting the home merchant incidentally but—a thing more important to them—they are likely to be taking the bread out of the mouths of their own children.

DONKIN—ALLEN

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, Proton, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, June 9th, when their eldest daughter, Addie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. William H. Donkin, of Riverview.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Rural Dean Blackwell, of Dundalk. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a dainty gown of white satin trimmed with gold beads, wearing the conventional veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white carnations, and wore the groom's gift, a gold wrist watch.

Little Miss Kathleen Vail, cousin of the bride, was a dainty flower girl in white trimmed with pink, carrying a basket of pink carnations.

The bridal party entered a beautifully arranged arch of evergreens and flowers, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Margaret Donkin, cousin of the groom.

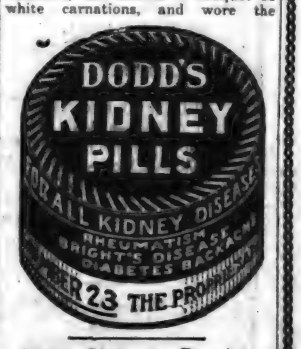
The groom's gift to the organist was a cameo brooch and to the flower girl, a gold locket and chain.

After the ceremony and congratulations, about ninety guests partook of a choice wedding repast served under the apple trees. Short addresses were given by the Rev. Rural Dean Blackwell and the Rev. G. W. Rose, of Corbetton.

The young couple were the recipients of many useful and beautiful presents, which showed the high esteem in which they are held, among them being cheques from the parents of the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Donkin left on the evening train, amid showers of confetti and good wishes and to the strains of music by Dundalk Citizens' Band, for Toronto, St. Catharines and other points. The bride travelled in a suit of navy blue serge and a Leghorn hat. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm near Riverview.

Friends were present from Shelburne, Orangeville, Mono, Mansfield, and other places.—Dundalk Herald.



Much Sickness Due to Lack of Work

The healthy body produces more energy than it needs to keep the Heart, Lungs and Bowels working. This surplus energy must be spent in mental or physical work. On the other hand, people who work too hard use their reserve strength and wear out the system.

People who are inclined to Nervousness, Constipation, or have any of the Troubles of the Heart, Liver, Nerves, Kidneys, Stomach or Bowels can greatly improve the condition of their health if they so desire.

If you work too hard, take more rest, if you work too little, take more exercise, you will need medicine to correct the troubles caused by your indiscretions and to assist nature to restore health. Then take

Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy
and if you require a laxative take
Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills

These two preparations will work wonders and we will guarantee beneficial results because we know they will do so.

Mr. Wilson E. Eagleson, of Bay field, writes as follows: "I have much pleasure in addressing you in regards to Hacking's wonderful Heart and Nerve Remedy. I have used quite a few boxes and I must say they have done me a world of good. Please send me 5 more boxes of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and 2 boxes of Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills."

If you too want to regain your lost health, then go to your nearest Drug Store and ask for Hacking's.

HAS THROWN CARE ASIDE, HE SAYS

Toronto Man Had To Give Up His Work Because Of Rheumatism In Legs and Hips.

"Yes, sir, I have thrown my cane away and I am now as active as ever and it's all because of the good Tanlac did me," said John Nichols, retired farmer and timberman, living at 634 Rhodes Ave., Toronto, Ont., a few days ago.

"Three years ago rheumatism got the best of me and I gave up all work and came here to Toronto to live and see if I could find something that would restore my health but my search was in vain until I got hold of Tanlac. All my joints were stiff and they pained me so bad I could hardly get around at all and when I was able to walk I could not make it without my cane. The rheumatism was worst in my left leg and hip and at times the pains in my hip and knee were so severe they nearly doubled me up. It was agony for me to try to sit down and get up out of my chair. In fact I was so badly crippled up I was almost helpless. My stomach got out of order and my appetite left me and when I did eat a little something I had to pay for it with suffering. My strength left me and I began to lose in weight and I felt weak and good-for-nothing all the time.

"I heard so many people right here in Toronto praising Tanlac and so many people were making statements about it that I decided to give it a trial. My apetite came right back and in a short time I could eat anything I wanted without suffering any bad effects and my lost weight and strength returned. By the time I had finished my third bottle I threw my cane away, couldn't tell I ever had rheumatism in my life and was feeling as spry as a boy. That was nearly three years ago and I have enjoyed the very best of health from then until just a short time ago. My appetite got a little weak and my stomach didn't seem just right and knowing well that I could depend on Tanlac to set me right I have come here to-day to get another bottle. Tanlac has proved one of the greatest blessings of my life and I give it all the credit for the fine health I have enjoyed for the past three years."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and

The frequency of the discovery of illicit stills recalls the story of a negro who was apprehended in Kentucky for making whisky. When he appeared in court the judge asked his name. COUNTY FINANCES

Dufferin Meeting Heavy Expenditures Without Creating Debenture Debt.

When submitting his statement of the current assets and liabilities of the County of Dufferin to the County Council last week, County Treasurer C. R. Wheelock commented on the pleasing fact that notwithstanding the expenditure of $28,198.90 on County boundary bridges last year, the rate struck to meet the current expenditure had been sufficient to cover all expenditure for the twelve months and leaves a cash balance of $716.26 to carry forward.

"The expenditure on County Roads and machinery in 1919," the statement continued, "amounted to $39,596.81, and your honorable body is to be congratulated on the careful financing through which we have been able to meet these large sums without creating a debenture debt.

"As set forth in the annual statement my estimates for ordinary expenditure for the year 1920-21 amount to $38,600, and after deducting the cash balance carried forward and the estimated revenue amounting in all to $12,666.26, there is a balance of $25,933.74. Add to this the proposed expenditure on boundary bridges, say about $3,500, making a total of $29,433.74 to be levied for general expenditure, which would require a rate of 3 mills.

"For County road purposes a rate of 4 mills (which has been suggested) would raise $40,000. To this we may add the commuted statute labor and the government subsidy, which would make the total amount available for expenditure about $60,000.

"The above 3 mills for general expenditure and 4 mills for County Roads would cover all the usual expenditure and would make the total County rate 7 mills, which is the same rate as in 1917, 1¾ mills less than in 1918 and 2-10 mills less than last year; but in addition to the above and in accordance with the resolution adopted at the January session of your Council a levy of 1 mill is to be made for a Soldiers' Memorial Fund."

ORANGEVILLE, JULY 1, 1920

Grafters will soon learn to be wary in their attempts to bribe U.F.O. leaders and legislators. The declarations of Messrs. Burnaby, Taylor, Micks and other U.F.O. representative men indicate the kind of influences that Canadian legislators have to fight against. It also indicates the importance of selecting Parliamentary candidates, whose honesty is a safeguard against the activities of the lobbyist who will not hesitate to use a money bribe to accomplish his ends. The public representative who can be bought is the worst kind of representative any constituency or any people can have.

The Old Clothes League is the name of the latest organization formed in Toronto to combat the high cost of living. Some of us should find it an easy matter to qualify for membership. We do not know just how the League intends to go about the job of reducing the cost of clothing, but it is plain that its members are expected to wear some sort of button indicative of their membership. We hardly see the necessity for the button. Old clothes usually do their own advertising, and as a rule the wearer does not need any button to proclaim the sobering fact that he has been obliged to take another turn out of last season's cast-offs. Anyway here's our best wishes for the success of the League.

It is a matter of regret that the Government at Ottawa did not accept Opposition Leader Mckenzie King's proposal to have it clearly set forth that paid election advertisements, reading matter, editorial comment, etc., appearing in newspapers and magazines is paid matter, and therefore not necessarily an expression of the opinion of the newspaper or magazine in which they appear. Hon. Mr. King would also make it compulsory to publish the name and address of the party or parties, who undertake to pay for the publication of any of this class of articles. The proposal is designed to check the activity of what the Opposition Leader referred to as the "big interests," and would tend to prevent them from contributing for the publication of articles, which appear under the guise of bona fide news or editorial matter. If it is clearly set forth that articles of this class are being paid for the reader is placed on his guard and is not apt to accept the opinions advanced as readily as he would probably do if he supposed they represented the views of the newspaper itself. If we are to have regulation along this line it should not be confined to election advertising, but should cover advertisements relating to mining propositions, the organization of stock companies etc. Many a reader has been sadly mislead because he supposed some paid article boosting a certain mining stock, or setting forth in alluring terms the prospects of some industrial concern, was straight news matter, when it was really straight advertising disguised as news matter.

The proposed tax on proprietary medicines is not likely to prove an unmixed blessing. As a matter of fact the resultant evils will probably far outweigh any gain to the national exchequer in the form of increased revenue. Any tax that is going to increase the cost of the remedies that are necessary to relieve the sufferings of the sick should be regarded with suspiciou and subjected to the most searching scrutiny. It is said that the proposed tax will double the cost of hospital supplies and drive off the market many standard remedies that have come to be considered a necessary part of the family medicine chest. For instance it is estimated that the new tax will increase the cost of Friar's Balsam 79 per cent., tincture of iodine 104 per cent., and elixirs and fluid extracts 100 per cent. The cost of doctor's prescriptions will be increased from 50 to 100 per cent. and simple family remedies, that are usually carried in the homes, particularly in the rural districts for emergency purposes ,will cost 60c and $1.00 instead of the present prices of 30c and 50c. Sickness in the home is too frequently a seriously expensiv matter, and our legislators should hesitate before taking any step or imposing any tax that will add to the burdens of homes that have the misfortune to be visited by illness. It should be borne in mind that all the standard proprietary remedies on the market to-day are the prescriptions of physicians and specialists of recognized standing. As such they have their place as medicines of value—the more valuable because they are usually sold at moderate prices. If additional taxation in absolutely necessary, it would surely be more reasonable to tax the well man for the food he eats when he is working and earning wages than to tax the sick man for the medicines he needs when he is unable to work and his wages are stopped.

A BIG EVENT

The presentation of the greatest of all Reel Pictures, "Silver Threads Among The Gold," on July 14th and 15th, matinee and night show, will be a big event at the popular Gem Theatre. There will also be an unusually good vaudeville act by Morrison and Clifton, who will appear in their own comedy sketch. You should hear John Morrison, the golden voiced tenor, sing "Silver Threads."

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Impressive Farewell Services Conducted by Rev. E. R. Young.

Last Sunday morning Rev. E. R. Young pointed out that the Church of God is at the back of all the Brotherhood Societies and philanthropic organizations which exist in the world to-day. Although people may hold up the work of these and say that because they exist the church has no place in modern civilization yet the answer to these theories remains, namely, "Go ahead, we are backing you." The work done by the Church cannot be done by any other organization because its work has always been and will always be the same; for God, the Captain of our salvation, is just the same, yesterday, to-day and forever. Times may change, circumstances under which we live will not always remain the same and it is on account of this fact that we find so many societies and organizations existing at the present time. The learned men of the earth may throw up their hands and say that a certain thing is impossible, yet all things are possible to God. That which surprises men does not surprise Him for all power is His from everlasting to everlasting. The work of earthly societies changes with the times, but the work of God's Church remains the same under all conditions and in every circumstance.

At Sunday School, Dr. Price, in a short address, thanked Mr. and Mrs. Young and the boys, Allan and Egerton, for the faithful way in which they had attended and helped that organization during the past four years.

In the evening Mr. Young preached his farewell sermon to a congregation of upwards of five hundred people. The keynote of the sermon was "Remember" and for the lesson a portion of the first chapter of Second Peter was read. It was a fitting farewell message to a people with whom the speaker had lived and worked for four years. Mr. Young came when the world was at war and everything looked dark, yet while here he has seen peace again established and the marvellous light of God's love take the place of darkness. He has incessantly preached Jesus Christ to the people and although the full harvest of his work has not yet been reaped, his has certainly been a successful pastorate. A man's work lives after him and it is impossible to appreciate to the full the value of a minister while he is yet here. It is not until after he has gone away that his true worth can in any way be reckoned. It is for those who stay to remember the inspiration given by those who go. Mr. Young has lived the true victorious life, the life in which self is hidden behind God. Peter said, "I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them." Such is also true of Mr. Young, for he has constantly reminded his people of the truly great things of life and the amazing love of God, and as he says good-bye after four years of labour in this place his only regret is that he has not seen more accept Jesus Christ as their personal Saviour.

Next Sunday, Rev. H. L. Partridge, the newly-appointed pastor, will preach at both services. A special open session of the Sunday School to welcome him has been arranged, to which all are cordially invited.

On Monday evening the Epworth League meeting was taken by the Missionary Committee. Miss Gladys Ewing read a letter from Rev. J. M .Shaver, of Fort William, in which he told the life story of a Russian boy who attended his school. A much appreciated piano duet was rendered by Misses Muriel Torrie and Dorothy Wright. Miss Alberta Kearns occupied the chair for the evening. During the evening the President read and presented the following address:

Orangeville, June 28, 1920.

Rev. and Mrs. E. Ryerson Young, and family:

Dear Friends:

It is with deep regret that we, the League, learn of your departure from our midst to labor for the Master elsewhere. We cannot realize the great work you have done while here, nor can we fully appreciate the value you have been to this Society, but we ask you to accept this address as a slight token of our gratitude.

No task has been too great, no task too small, for you to perform if it would benefit us. During the past four years, owing to unavoidable circumstances, this League has passed through very dark times, but you have always stood by us and have helped us through every difficulty and it is largely due to your untiring efforts in our behalf that this Society enjoys its present day prosperity.

While you have been with us we have learned to know and to love you and we are sorry that we are to be deprived of the opportunity of knowing you and loving you better, yet wherever your future field of service lies our prayers will follow you and our interest will be in you. It is our earnest hope that God may continue to grant you health and strength and Divine guidance so that you will be enabled to continue your work in the sacred calling which is yours. May the example set by you and many others whose lives are dedicated to the service of Jesus Christ inspire us and help us to continue to "look up and lift up, for Christ and the Church," and after we have passed through this Vale of Tears may we form one happy family when the Day hath broken and the shadows have fled away.

Signed on behalf of the Orangeville Epworth League.

Next Monday evening "The Lonely Life" will be the topic under consideration and will be taken by Mr. Elmer Still. There will be Roll Call, collection and reception of new members.

TO SAFEGUARD YOUR DIGESTION

The Blood Should Constantly be Kept Rich and Pure.

If you suffer from any form of indigestion, your diet should be carefully chosen. Over-eating is always harmful, but at the same time one must take enough food to supply the needs of the blood. It must be remembered that the blood has to carry nourishment to every part of the body, find fuel for energy and defence against its enemies, as well as the requisite juices for digestion. Hence, when the blood becomes weak and fails to do its work, indigestion arises; also when indigestion begins the blood still further suffers. Therefore, to safeguard your digestion the blood should be kept rich and red, and this can best be done by taking a course of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. These pills are a blood-building, nerve-restoring tonic and through their use your digestive system will respond naturally, your appetite will improve and your food will do you good. The value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills in cases of stomach trouble is shown by the experience of Mrs. J. H. Alexander, Barriefield, Ont., who says: "Some years ago I was in a terribly broken down condition. I had indigestion of a severe nature, and sharp pains of agony all through me. My stomach was so weak that it was difficult to retain food, and often after eating I would have vomiting spells. I was under medical treatment, but as I did not improve, my nerves were in a terrible condition and I was always in much misery. One day I read of a woman who had been cured of similar trouble through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills, and I decided to try them. The result can be summed up by saying that after using the pills for some weeks I was completely cured, could eat a hearty meal and was again enjoying life. If I feel run down at any time I take Dr .Williams Pink Pills and always get benefit from them."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

COUNTY EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION

The Provincial Trustees Association is carrying on a campaign to organize Educational Associations in every County or Inspectorate of the Province. There will be a meeting in the Town Hall, Shelburne, on Wednesday, July 7th, at 2 o'clock, for the County of Dufferin to which all the citizens are invited. Mr. T. K. Slack, M. P. P., Mr. C. V. Jeffers, Warden of the County, Rev. W. M. Morris, Sec. Treas. of Ontario Trustees Association, and Mrs. A. C. Courtice, of Toronto, are to speak.

Mrs. Courtice has been appointed organizing Secretary of the Ontario Federation of Home School Associations. It is the purpose of this Association to encourage greater cooperation between the home and the school in the education of the children. Mrs. A. C. Courtice was the only Canadian visiter to the recent National Congress of Mothers and Parent Teacher Associations held in the Assembly Hall of the New State Capitol at Madison, Wisconsin. The Toronto delegate represented the Ontario Federation of Home and School Associations, in which, as well as in the Toronto Home and School Council, the American educational workers showed a great interest. Mrs. Courtice was cordially received in all the educational circles, as well as in the Congress itself, and visited schools in Madison and in Gary, and was not only able to bring home valuable information from the United States National Congress, but also to leave there a new understanding and appreciation of the place Toronto and Ontario hold in progressive education and legislation. Amongst other reforms she is working out a plan for teaching cookery and housewifery similar to that pioneered by some of the women of the Toronto School Board. The girls are to be taught cookery in small groups, while other groups are taking part in laundry work, dining room, bedroom and kitchen work.

Mrs. Courtice is to speak at the meeting to be held in the Town Hall, Shelburne, on Wednesday, July 7th. As the education of children is of the greatest concern it is expected the citizens of the County will attend in large numbers.

HAVE OBLIGATION PRINTED

The Orange Sentinel publishes an important resolution passed by L.O. L. No. 330, Laurel, and forwarded to the Grand Master for consideration at the next meeting of the Grand Lodge. It reads as follows:—

"Whereas, the wefare of the Orange Order has suffered because of misunderstanding of its real objects and principles by the public, and from unsuitable persons being initiated who did not realize the nature of the Association they were joining because no general declaration (no matter how well it may be worded) can set forth the aims of the Order so definitely as the obligation does; and,

"Whereas, it is claimed that there is nothing secret about the Order except the means whereby Orangemen may know each other as such; and,

"Whereas, it is said that the obligation was formerly published in the constitution, and there is no apparent reason why it should not be published;

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the members of this L.O.L. No. 330 request that the Grand Lodge of British America earnestly consider the wisdom of taking action towards having the Orange obligation published in the printed constitution of the Loyal Orange Association of British America."

JAMES A. CAMERON

We keenly regret the duty this week of reporting the death of James A. Cameron, one of Caledon's best knowff and most highly respected residents. The sad event occurred at his late home lot 17, 3rd line, west, Caledon, on Saturday, June 19th, when he passed peacefully away after two weeks illness from measles followed by pneumonia. During his illness he had the constant care of his devoted wife, and two trained nurses, with Dr. H. Gear, of Erin, and Dr. Elliott, specialist, of Toronto, in attendance, but unfortunately all their efforts proved unavailing to save the life of the beloved husband and father. Deceased was one of Nature's noblemen and in his removal the community in which his life was spent has suffered a distinct loss. Kindly, sympathetic and the soul of honor, he occupied a very high place in the esteem and affections of those who knew him best. He was a devoted father and husband, and as such his loss will be very keenly felt by the members of his family circle.

Mr. Cameron was born on July 25th, 1865, and was the youngest son of the late Duncan Cameron, one of the early residents of the west side of Caledon. Deceased is survived by his wife, two sons, Elgin Lloyd and James Bruce, and one daughter, Marion Kathleen, to whom heartfelt sympathy is extended in their great loss. Mr. Duncan A. Cameron, of Alton, Mrs. Jas. Long, of Erin, Mrs. H. Lemon, of Camilla, and Mrs. K. Littlejohn, of Orangeville, are the surviving brothers and sisters. The late Mr. Cameron was a member of the Baptist church, also a member of the Church Board and a liberal supporter of every fund.

There was a large attendance of sorrowing neighbors and friends at the funeral, which was held to Alton Cemetery on Monday afternoon following his death. A former pastor, Rev. L. Thomas, of Toronto, assisted by Rev. W. N. Carr, of Alton, held an impressive service in the bereaved home and afterwards officiated at the grave. The late Mr. Cameron was a member of the C.O.C.F. and Oddfellows Orders. The members of the latter Order motored to the cemetery in advance of the hearse and took charge of the service at the grave. The pallbearers were Wm. Dorrington, J. Erskine, Geo. McClellan, S. Cannawin, I. Bradley, Geo. Cameron, Willis Coulter and Harold Cameron, all members of the I.O.O.F. The floral offerings, mute evidences of love and sympathy, were beautiful and included pillows from the family and the I.O.O.F., wreath from Mr. and Mrs. A. Beamish, "Gates Ajar," Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Cameron, spray of lillies from Belfountain Baptist church, spray from Miss Hilda Bailey. The sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends is extended to the mourners, and in a special sense to Mrs. Cameron in her loneliness.

Among the friends and relatives who attended the funeral were Rev. L. Thomas, Mr. Everton McNichol, Mrs. R. J. McNichol, Miss E. Shirra, Toronto, Mr. Arthur Moore, Islington, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Beamish, Cooksville.

MRS. JOHN WITTER

An old and well-known resident of Orangeville entered into rest last week in the person of Mrs. Eleanor Witter, widow of the late John Witter, who passed away in Lord Dufferin Hospital on Thursday afternoon. Deceased, who was a daughter of the late James Kelly, one of the early residents of this town, was born in Ireland, but came to Canada when only seven years of age with her parents, who settled in Orangeville a short time afterwards. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. E. G. Bingham, Zina St., and Mrs. G. E. Reynolds, of Beeton. The late Mrs. Rooney, wife of Dr. R. W. Rooney, of Orangeville, was also a daughter. Miss Jennie and Mr. Jos. J. Kelly, Owen Sound, Mrs. A. M. Tyson, Wiarton, and Mr. W. J. Kelly, Toronto, are the surviving brothers and sisters. The funeral, which was private, was held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bingham to the Forest Lawn cemetery on Saturday afternoon. Revs. Capt. Stewart and H. F. Battersby, the latter from Caledon East, conducted the services. The pallbearers were Messrs. Thos. Wright, R. H. Robinson, B. McGuire, E. C. Clark, J. H. Hughes and J. B. Adamson.

MRS. ALEX. M'DONALD

In the death of Mary Walker, beloved wife of Mr. Alex McDonald, of Erin, a woman of generous disposition and upright character has passed from our midst. The late Mrs. McDonald was born on lot 26, 10th line, Erin township, being the third daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Walker. In her girlhood days she united with Burns' Presbyterian Church, Erin, and was a lifelong and consistent member of that congregation. Twenty-nine years ago she became the bride of Alex. McDonald and for the last twenty-two years had lived in Erin Village. She was of a quiet and retiring nature but a true friend and a good neighbor, always ready and willing to help in any good work. For the last eight years she had suffered from a malady which eventually proved fatal. The last weeks of her life here on earth were full of suffering, which she bore with true Christian courage and cheerfulness. There are left to mourn her loss, her husband, one brother, Andrew Walker, on the homestead, Miss Walker, Erin township, and Mrs. John McLaren, of Erin village.

Interment took place in Erin cemetery on Saturday afternoon, June 19th, her pastor, Rev. John Lindsay, officiating at the services. Messrs. Robt. Barbour, Ephraim Barbour, Robt. Houston, Wm. Houston, H. Lacey and R. McDonald were the pallbearers. Beautiful floral offerings bore mute tribute to the love and esteem in which the departed woman was held. These included a wreath from the husband, brother and sisters, sprays from the brother-in-law and nephew, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Scott and a wreath from the W. C. T. U. Out of town friends from Toronto, Weston, Caledon, Alton, Orangeville, Grand Valley, North Erin, Orton, Hillsburg, and Acton attended the funeral. The bereaved husband and friends have the heartfelt sympathy of the community.

Mr. Samuel Clayburn, formerly of Mono Mills, died at the home of Mr. John McElwain, near Ballycroy, on Tuesday, June 22nd, at the age of 52 years. Deceased is survived by a widow, who was a daughter of the late James Patterson, of Albion. Mr. and Mrs. Clayburn moved to Toronto over twenty years ago and the former had been in the service of the G. T. R. for the last twenty years. His death followed quite a lengthy period of poor health. The funeral was held to the Union Cemetery at Caledon East on Thursday afternoon and was quite largely attended by oldtime friends and neighbors in the Mono Mills district. Revs. A. C. McCollum and J. A. Matheson were the officiating clergymen and Messrs John and Robt. McElwain, E. D. Strowger, Oswald Potter, Jas. McCartney, Toronto, Chas. James, Toronto, were the pallbearers. No death in recent years has occasioned more sorrow than that of Miss Mamie Nesbitt, of Caledon, who passed away in a Toronto hospital last Friday following an operation for an internal malady The young lady had been in fairly good health until shortly before she left for Toronto and the news of her demise came as a great shock to her many Caledon friends. Deceased, who was 28 years of age, was a daughter of Mrs. and the late J. J. Nesbitt, Centre Road, south of Caledon village. The funeral on Monday afternoon was one of the largest ever held in Caledon. Interment took place in the Forest Lawn cemetery. An extended notice will appear in next week's Banner..

NURSES GRADUATION

Miss Mary Jackson, of Cardwell, was one of the six young ladies who formed the graduating class of the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Fergus last week. The graduating exercises were held in Melville Presbyterian church on Friday night. A large audience was present and a fine musical program was provided. During the evening the Florence Nightingale oath was administered to the Class by Dr. A. Groves, the Medical Superintendent who addressed the Class and also gave a number of interesting facts about the hospital, its history and work. We join the many Orangeville friends of Miss Jackson in extending hearty congratulations upon her success.

COMPARING RATES

Small Town Shabbily Treated by Provincial Power Commission.

A comparison of rates paid for Hydro current in Barrie and those paid in Alliston are very interesting, in view of the fact that both towns get their electricity from the same source of supply and under the same administration, namely, the Hydro Electric Power Commission of Ontario, the greatest public ownership organization in the world. The reason given by the H.E.P.C. for the vast disparity between the two rates is that Alliston does not use as much current as Barrie, that Alliston is not situated as close to the source of supply as Barrie is. In other words the H.E.P.C. believes in penalizing a town for being small and bonusing the larger ones. The small town is singled out for strangulation by means of a prohibitive lighting and power rate.

In Barrie consumers pay for domestic lighting 2 cents per hour for the first 100 killowatt hours and 1 cent per hour for all over 100 hours each month.

In Alliston the new rate is 6 cents for the first 100 k. w. hours and 3 cents per k. w. hour for all current over 100 hours each month.

For commercial lighting Barrie pays 4 cents per k. w. hour for the first 30 hours, 2 cents for the next 70 hours and 1 cent for each additional hour over 100 each month.

In Alliston the new commercial rate is 12 cents for the first 30 k. w. hours, 6 cents for the next 70 hours and 1.2 cents for all over 100 k.w. hours every month.

For power from the H.E.P.C. the town of Barrie has had its price reduced from $36 per horse power to $30 per horse power.

Alliston is having imposed on it a raise for power from $45 per horse power to $50 and this town is using considerably more current than when Hydro was installed.

9 TO 3

Dufferins Beat Bradford in the Opening Lacrosse Match of the Season.

A large crowd saw The Dufferins defeat the strong Bradford team by the decisive score of 9 to 3 in the opening championship lacrosse match of the season on the Idylwyld grounds on Wednesday afternoon of last week. While the visitors had a large contingent of lusty lunged supporters, the sympathies of the great majority of the spectators were with the home team and they were naturally delighted with the result and also with the impressive showing made by the green-shirts. Both teams were rather shy on condition and as a consequence the players found the pace quite trying and some of them tired badly. With conditioning the Dufferins have undoubtedly one of the strongest teams that has ever worn the Orangeville colors and they should be right there with the goods when it comes to the final play-off for the intermediate pennant.

It was ideal lacrosse weather on Wednesday afternoon, both teams were out to win and the crowd was treated to a fine exhibition of the national game. Blain, of Brampton, and Mitchell, of Toronto, handled the game in admirable manner and kept both teams playing clean lacrosse. The score of 9 to 3 is hardly indicative of the character of the game, which was fairly even and quite keenly contested. The visitors did a lot of clever fielding, but their home had its troubles when it tried to penetrate the strong Dufferin defence, which performed in real championship manner. Bradford threw a scare into the locals right at the outset, when they gathered in the ball on the face-off, made a dash down the field and tallied the first counter in thirty seconds. Matters looked better when the Dufferins came back with three tallies before the end of the quarter. The green-shirts took two more in the second period and each team placed a single tally to its credit in the third quarter. In the last playing interval Duffering bulged the net three times and Bradford came back with another counter shortly before the game ended.

Harry Firth, who was in the flags for the locals, handled himself like a veteran and looks like a first-class goal tender. In Cushing, Cranston, Densmore and Scott the Dufferins have a stonewall defence and Stevenson seems better than ever at centre. Ewing, Zinn, Gordon, Bert and Blythe Brown make a fast aggressive home and should keep any defence on the move. Cunnie Golden and Bill Henderson, two juniors, were given a chance during the game and demonstrated that they are quite good enough to catch places on the team. Jimmy Armstrong managed the team with his wonted skill and good judgment. The line-up of the two teams was:—

Bradford—Goal, Coombs; Point, McKintry; cp., Webb; first defence, Church, second defence, Collings; centre, Armstrong; second home, Herman; first home, Sutherland; outside home, Reeves; inside home, Robinson. Spares—Egan and Herman.

Orangeville—Goal, Firth; point, Cushing; cover-point, Densmore; first defence, Scott; second defence, Cranston; centre, Stevenson; 2nd. home, Ewing; first home, Gordon, outside home, Brown; inside home, Brown. Spares—Golden Henderson and Zinn.

CARDWELL

The Garden Party, held on the grounds of Mr. Arthur Reid, Prince of Wales Road, on Friday evening, was a decided success, notwithstanding the fact that there were two other garden parties in progress within a distance of a few miles. Mr. Walter Edwards, of Toronto, a humorous entertainer, was the star attraction and acquitted himself very creditably indeed. He was assisted by Miss Ruth Shaw and Mrs. Russell Morrow in piano and vocal music, Mr. Russell Morrow and Mr. C. B. Robinson in cornet numbers, Miss Bernice Leighton, soloist, and Misses Browne and Bracken in piano duets. Orangeville Citizens Band furnished several excellent selections and added much to the success of the evening. Mr. S. L. Squires, of Toronto, was the chief speaker, his theme being the subject of Good Roads. Warden C. V. Jeffers occupied the chair and discharged his duties in a very pleasing manner. The ladies of the congregation are to be highly complimented upon the manner in which they maintained their oldtime reputation for serving a bountiful supper. The proceeds of the evening were $260.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The local Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire spent a very pleasant social evening at the home of Mrs. M. J. Leighton, First Ave., on Tuesday night. The excellent music provided for the delectation of the guests was a real treat. A presentation of the emblem of the Order to the hostess was graciously accepted. The proceeds of the evening, amounting to $6.00, were donated to the Hospital linen fund. Mrs. Leighton's removal to Toronto is a decided loss to the I. O. D. E.

We have the pleasure this week of acknowledging a gift of $5.00 from Miss Emily McLean, of Detroit, toward the Hospital linen fund.

Mr. Truman Kellie presented the Hospital with a supply of delicious mushrooms the other day.

A donation of $5.00 from Mrs. E. A. Robinson, West Broadway, to the Hospital linen fund, is gratefully acknowledged.

The new roof will soon be completed on the Hospital.

FRANK DENTON'S DEATH

NOTED TORONTO LAWYER PASSED AWAY LAST WEEK.

Was Born in 1859 and Made a King's Counsel in 1890.

Frank Denton, K. C., a prominent lawyer of Toronto, died last Thursday morning at his home 42 Admiral Road. Mr. Denton was a leading member of the Ontario Bar, and was held in the highest esteem by brother-lawyers and Judges alike. Judge Denton, one of the County of York Judges, is a brother. He was senior partner of the law firm of Denton, Macdonald & Denton.

Mr. Denton was born at Richmond Hill in 1859, and was at the beginning of his career English master at Cobourg Collegiate Institute. In 1886 he was called to the Bar, and in 1899 was appointed a King's Counsel.

He always took an active interest in public affairs, and was for several years Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Collegiate Institutes of Toronto. For some time he served on the Executive of the Ontario Bar Association. Mr. Denton was an active Liberal, and at the time of his death was Vice-President of the York County Liberal Association.

He was an active member of Central Methodist Church, a member of the Masonic Order and of the Rosedale Golf Club.

He is survived by his wife and five children, Frank, Jr., George and Miss Laura, all practising law in their father's firm; Miss Joy, a well-known musician, and Miss Rosalind, at home.

"A man of integrity, geniality and generosity," was the way Arthur A. Macdonald described the senior member of his firm to The Toronto Globe. "He was a very able lawyer, with the faculty of judging human nature. He had many close friends on the bench and other lawyers all liked and respected him."

Gordon Waldron said: "Mr. Denton had many friends in the legal profession, and will be gratefully remembered by many young men whom he guided in the beginning of their career. Apart from his virtue as a lawyer he was admirable as the head of a large family, to whom he was devoted."

Mr. H. Hartley Dewart, K. C., M. P. P.: "In the unexpected death of Mr. Frank Denton, K. C., the Bar of the Province of Ontario has lost not only a strorge legal advocate and a conscientious lawyer, but a man of high principle and character, who had deservedly attained, the high position that he worthily occupied in the confidence of his clients, of the public and of the judiciary. He was a loyal friend and a fair antagonist both in law and in politics. We need men of his class, and I trust that in the present generation there will be many more who will uphold the same principles of honor, justice and righteousness in public and private life of which Mr. Frank Denton was such an outstanding exponent."

Impressive tribute was paid to the worth of the deceased by the large number of friends at the funeral service at his late residence on Saturday afternoon. Rev. G. C. Workman, assisted by Rev. Dr. Cotton, conducted the service. Rev. Dr. Workman referred to the late Mr. Denton as a man of marked ability, of keen observation and quick discernment, with a fine sense of humor, and a deep insight into human nature, and he laid stress in his tribute to Mr. Denton as a sympathetic and tender man in his assistance of others.

The pallbearers were John I. Grover, Arthur A. Macdonald, Wilfrid Denton, Arthur Dymond, Gordon N. Kennedy and Norman Keyes. Among those attending the funeral were Mr. Justice Maclaren; Dr. N. W. Hoyles, President of the Ontario Law School; Geo. M. Lee, Osgoode Hall; Prof. J. C. Robertson, of Victoria College; F. A. Moure, of the University of Toronto; Prof. E. M. MELANCTHON.

Mr. Michael Grenasage paid a flying visit to Everett friends on Thursday.

Mr. Callaghan, of Toronto, but formerly of this place, is renewing acquaintances here.

Mr. S. Sawden, of Toronto, who has been up here improving his farm for the past month, has returned to the city.

Considerable hay is being loaded and shipped from this station these days.

Everyone went to Dundalk last Thursday to greet the Premier of Ontario, Hon. Mr. Drury and Mrs. Drury. The distinguished guests motored from Barrie to Dundalk and then down to Toronto.

The old Toronto and Sydenham road, known as the Gravel Road, has been chosen by the Drury Government as one of the Provincial highways. It will connect Orangeville and Owen Sound, and should be put in repair right away as it is at the present time in very bad shape. Motor traffic is very heavy on this road and we frequently hear complaints from those who have occasion to travel between the county seats of Dufferin and Grey counties.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentry, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly to banish them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PRIMROSE

As it is now some time since I have seen this burg represented in your valuable paper, I thought that a few items about my travels might prove of interest.

I was lucky enough to land in the thriving village of Shelburne in time for the large Conservative meeting a week ago Friday and enjoyed the discourses of the different speakers very much indeed. Upon leaving the hall I fell in with my old friend, Sam Hicks. As I was desirous of renewing old acquaintances at Primrose and surrounding vicinity, Sam said that I might accompany him that far. Upon arriving at Primrose we received a hearty invitation from James Dean to dine with him. There I made the acquaintanceship of Jack Patterson, of Orangeville. After enjoying the kind hospitality of our congenial host I strolled over to D. A. Scott's and there I met a number of old acquaintances in the persons of James Dodds, Robert Phoenix, Will Laidlaw, Douglas Bell, and a host of other friends, among them Elmer Horner and Norman Lindsay. Elmer and Norman informed me that they were thinking of learning to be telephone operators. I accepted the invitation extended to me by Douglas and accompanied him home. Upon enquiring for Angus I learned that he had gone to Dave Harper's. After spending Saturday around the Cor- I called on Lyttle Thompson. As he seemed pleased to see me I decided to remain with him over night. Lyttle has got the cage ready now and all he needs is the bird. On Sunday afternoon I thought I would pay a flying visit to Roy Wilson, and who should I meet upon my arrival there but Perry Lindsay. As Roy was making preparations to spend the evening at Fred Buchanan's I took advantage of the opportunity to accompany him as far as John Elgie's. There I met Russell McCabe and Will Foster. As I wanted to reach Camilla sometime Sunday night I thought it best to keep jogging on and as Herb Elgie was also going to Buchanan's we walked down together. We hadn't gone far when we met Bob Little. Bob says: —

"Man may live without poetry, music or art,
He may live without conscience and without heart.
He may live without friends, he may live without books,
But civilized man cannot live without cooks."

Just as we got to Fred's gate Frank Turner drove along and when he learned of my desire to reach Camilla he said I could go that far with him, if I didn't mind waiting a while. As Fred and I had a very enjoyable chat together about bygone days the time passed swiftly enough.

BUCHANAN-STEWART

A very pretty wedding took place at "Pleasant View Farm," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kidney, 7th line, Tossorontio, on Wednesday afternoon, June 23rd, when W. Leonard H. Buchanan, of Shelburne, was united in marriage to Miss Mileta A. C. Stewart, daughter of Mr. Fletcher Stewart, of Connor. About thirty-five guests, the immediate friends of the young couple, were present to witness the ceremony and [illegible] the happy couple bon voyage [illegible] the ocean of life. Rev. Dr. Harper, of Alliston, tied the nuptial knot and Miss L. Lennox, of Orangeville, played the wedding march, while little Miss Bertha Curtis, a niece of the bride, performed the duties of flower girl. After the wedding luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan left by motor on their wedding trip to Toronto. On their return they will reside at their home near Shelburne. The Banner joins the numerous friends of the happy couple in extending its sincere good wishes.

WOOD-FRANK

The home of Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Frank, Second Ave., Shelburne, was the scene of a quiet, but pretty wedding on Saturday, June 19th, at 3 p. m., when their daughter, Mary Enid (Billie), was married to C. J. Wood, L. D. S., of Blyth, formerly of Shelburne. Rev. W. H. Hartley, Rector of St. Paul's church, officiated. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked sweet in her navy blue travelling suit and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. The wedding march was played by Miss Ida Frank, of Toronto, cousin of the bride, and at the close of the ceremony, Miss Bessie Lewis, of Orangeville, sang "Until" in beautiful voice. After a very delightful buffet lunch the bridal party left on the 2.27 p.m. train for Toronto amid a shower of rice, confetti, streamers and good wishes from a crowd of friends who gathered to see them off. Dr. and Mrs. Wood will take up housekeeping at once, in Blyth, and the best wishes of the bride's many friends in Orangeville go with them to their new home.

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING CO.

Fully one hundred shareholders attended the annual meeting of the Orangeville Co-operative Marketing Co. in the auditorium of the Public Library on Monday afternoon. Reports were submitted covering the operations of the Company for the last eight months and showed that about $350,000 of business had been transacted in that time. Manager Maura McNaughton submitted details of the business showing the number of head of livestock, the number of bushels of grain and potatoes sold, the prices realized and the profits made, if the term profits can be applied to the business of a co-operative company. Judging by the smiles with which the countenances of the shareholders were wreathed after the close of the meeting, the reports and proceedings of the afternoon must have been of a very satisfactory character. Such we are informed by one of the officers was in fact the case. Mr. H. W. Duke withdrew from the Board of Directors and was succeeded by Mr. Geo. Woods. Otherwise the old officers and directors were re-elected as follows.

President—H. Hayward.
Secretary—W. P. Dodds.
Directors — Jas. White, G. L. Dodds, W. E. Island, W. H. Gillespie, Nelson Black, Geo. Woods, J. B. Walker and J. A. Marshall.

Dancing and Music

emotional side of the major- people cannot be satisfied by Libraries, Gymnasiums, Play- ounds, etc. The love of moving the healthy body to the rhythm of music in some form of dancing is an in- born peculiarity of the average man and woman; with liquor and indec- ent music, however, dances may do more harm than bacteria. It is path- etic to see in our large towns and cities young men and women rush to some dance hall to satisfy a desire for amusement.

People who have used up their strength in Dancing, Late Hours, Rich Foods or Brave, perhaps looked too long upon the Wine when it was Red and have let Old John Barley- corn sap their vitality will find a Boon in the use of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy. It will dispel "that tired feeling." take away that feeling of depression and nervousness that comes from lowered vitality and brings back the healthy rich, red color to the cheeks. It will make your beauty sleep more satisfying so that you will awake in the mornings full of life and hope and more able to carry on with the day's work. The "habits that hurt" can more easily be overcome if you will use Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy to strengthen the Nerves, to add power to the Heart and to re- vive and stimulate the circulation of the Blood. LIGHTNING DANGERS

Though electric storms reach their highest frequency during the heat of the summer, they often occur in the spring and fire losses caused by lightning are by no means unknown in April and May.

Lightning rods have proved an al- most absolute protection. Only in very rare instances have they been known to fail, even in these cases, the failure was probably due to de- fect in installation or to deteriora- tion.

Examine your lightning rod in- stallations for broken insulators, for bends in the cable which allow con- tact with the framework, or for cor- rosion where it enters the earth. The latter is an important point. The electricity is carried into the ground by means of the cable but, if it cor- rodes, and the ground connection is thereby broken, a fire is very liable to result. See to it that the cable is sound and is deep enough in the ground to always be in damp earth.

When building wire fences it is advisable to use ground wires about every five rods. Lightning is attract- ed by wire fencing and as, during a storm, animals will congregate near fences, many of them are killed by contact with the wire. These ground wires may be about No. 9 gauge wire, given one turn around each strand of the fence and carried into the earth beside the fencepost.

Consolidation is the only known method of providing a true country school with home high school privileges for farm children.

It is at the door of the farm houses, and is more available on account of transportation facilities than the present one-teacher school.

It is the only way of insuring an en- rollment large enough to provide the social and cultural contact with companionable associates necessary to the best developement of every child.

It is the only method where it is possible to make a division of labor by graded classes whereby teachers may have sufficient time to do good work and choose grades or special subjects for which they are best fitted.

A very interesting time was cele- brated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Bailey, Violet Hill, on Wednes- day afternoon, June 16th, when their daughter, Vera Mae, and Jas. Howard Smith, shoe merchant on Bloor St., Toronto, were married. The officiat- ing clergyman was Rev. J. A. Black, of Hornings Mills. There were about 65 guests present.

British Archaeologists Intend to Investigate The Ancient Sumerians

AN American archaeologist whose work has probably been more severely criticised than any other by some of his fellow scientists has received an honor at the hands of Oxford Uni- versity that should go far toward vindication, representing, as it does, a recognition of his scholarship by Dr. A. H. Sayce, one of the leading authorities in this science. Dr. Ste- phen Herbert Langdon has just been elected to succeed Dr. Sayce as pro- fessor of Assyriology at Oxford. Un- til recently Dr. Langdon was cura- tor of the Babylonian section of the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Langdon is a native of Michi- gan, and has achieved distinction in his chosen field at an age when most men are unknown. He was born in May, 1876, at Monroe, Mich., and studied at the University of Michi- gan, Union Theological Seminary and Columbia University. He was Fellow in Semitics at the latter institution in 1903 and 1904, International Fel- low of Columbia to France, 1904 to 1906, and is the author of a small library of volumes on Babylonia. In recent years he has been devoting virtually all his time to the study of the language and customs of the an- cient Sumerians, who had achieved a remarkably high degree of culture in Babylonia long before the Semitic influence was known.

It is in this field that Dr. Langdon has made his greatest discoveries and met the bitterest criticism. Shortly after his appointment as curator of the University of Pennsylvania Mu- seum in 1916, he made public the translation of a tablet containing a Sumerian version of Paradise, the Flood and the Fall of Man. The hero of the flood, Tagtug, has been iden- tified by Dr. Langdon as the original of the Biblical Noah. The account differs from the Hebraic version chiefly in that Noah is named as the eater of the forbidden fruit, and not Adam. He has also published several volumes of Sumerian liturgical texts from the tablets obtained by the University Museum in its expedi- tions to Nippur—the Calneh of the Bible—prior to 1906.

Prof. Langdon's appointment is understood by his friends to herald the announcement of a still greater honor, this time at the hands of the British Government. It is expected that the work of archæological ex- ploration to be resumed in the Near East will be under his direction. Plans have been made for a survey of every field known to have been the home of ancient peoples, and for the first time in the history of arch- æology its leaders will be enabled to make explorations on a systematic scale, without danger of interruption from the Turks or from wild native tribes.

Even in the more widely known sites such as Babylon, Lagash and Nippur, archæologists have hardly done more than scratch the surface so far. More than eight years was spent in excavating at Nippur and about 50,000 tablets were obtained half being retained by the Turkish Government, but much still remains to be done at this site. The opinion has been expressed by archæologists who have studied the ruins that the most valuable records of the past de- posited in the temple at Nippur are still to be found, and this is true also of many other cities.

In the early days of archæological expeditions the explorers were forced to seek something startling and to find it in as short a time as possible. As a result nearly every expedition spent time on the Ziggurats, or stage towers, which were a part of every ancient Babylonian temple. It was the building of one of these edifices that led to the Biblical story of the tower of Babel. As a general rule the temple proper was situated along- side the Ziggurat. "In the temple the kings who rule over cities and some- times over the whole region then set- tled, placed their records of con- quests, inscribed on vases and tab- lets. Here, also, they stored the tro- phies taken from other monarchs.

When all of these regions are opened to exploration it may be pos- sible for science to determine with great accuracy the period of the world's first civilization. At present there are many differences of opinion on this point, but nearly all arch- æologists admit that man has been civilized for at least 7,000 years; that is to say, he had become more than a mere hunter at least 5,000 years before Christ, had learned how to build cities, and had started the development of writing, music, sculp- ture and the other arts. Some leaders in the field are inclined to believe that systematic exploration will trace the history of early peoples back to a point from 10,000 to 14,000 years before Christ. One of the strongest reasons for this belief lies in the chronological lists found in many sites, in which early Babylonian his- torians attempted to record the reigns of various kings.

Dr. Langdon expressed the opinion some years ago that the world's first library of cuneiform writing on clay tablets would be found at Ur of the Chaldees, mentioned in the Scrip- tures as the ancestral home of the prophet Abraham. A little work has been done at this site, but the great storehouses have not even been touched. Archæologists also are par- ticularly interested in various sites to the south, toward the head of the Persian Gulf, such as Lagash, now known as Telloh, and Umma, the modern name of which is Jokha. Undoubtedly systematic exploration will reveal many new wonders of a people—the Sumerians—whose exist- ence was doubted less than fifty years ago by some of the world's leading archæologists.

Damascus, recently taken by the British, is the oldest existing city.

THE REASON WHY

Why does a lamp give a better light with a chimney on.

When a lamp is burning without a chimney it generally smokes. That is because the oil which is coming up through the wick is being only partially burned. The carbon, which is about one-half of what the oil con- tains, is not burned at all, and goes off into the air in little black specks with the gases which are thrown off. The reason the carbon is not burned when the chimney is off is that there is not sufficient oxygen from the air combining with it, as it is separated from the oil in the partial combus- tion that is going on. To make the carbon in the oil burn you must mix it with plenty of oxygen at a cer- tain temperature, and this can only be done by forcing sufficient oxygen through the flame to bring the heat of the flame to the point where the carbon will combine with it and burn. When you put the chimney on the lamp you create a draft which forces more oxygen through the flame, brings the heat up to the pro- per temperature and enables the car- bon to combine with it and burn. When you take the chimney off again the heat goes down, when the draft is shut off and the lamp smokes again.

The chimney also protects the flame of the lamp from drafts from the sides and above, and helps to make a brighter light, because a steady light is brighter than the flickering one.

The draft created by the chimney also forces the gases produced by the burning oil up and away from the flame. Some of these gases have a tendency to put out a light or a fire.

Does light weigh anything?

To get at the answer to this ques- tion we must go back to the defini- ether and contains no particles of tion of light. light is a wave in the matter. It, therefore, does not weigh anything at all.

When men had studied light thor- oughly, however, they came to the conclusion that it must have the pow- er of pressure, which, from the stand- point of results, would amout to the same thing as having weight. They reasoned that if you made a perfect balance and let sunlight shine down on one of the sides of the balance, that side should go down under the pressure of light. In their first ex- periments along this line men failed to show that under such conditions the side of the balance on which the light did go down, but by continuous experments it was proved finally that the light did exert sufficient pressure to cause the scales to go down, and in effect this is the same as having weight; but this has been found to be a common property of rays of various kinds, including heat, and we therefore, do not speak of this quality as weight, but as the power of radiating pressure.

Of his Sire, Baron's Pride, nothing need be said, as it is well known that he was the best Clydesdale Sire that ever lived. BARON HAMLET'S Dam, Banks' Daisy, was sired by Hamlet (4438). Gr. Dam—Fanny of Bombi (3104), by Sir Colin (5188), by Samson (741).

BARON HAMLET is a dark dapple bay horse with a nice white stripe on face, off fore, and hind legs white. He is heavily built and low set, short backed, with a beautiful head and neck and massive bone and muscle.

BARON HAMLET is a prize winner wherever shown, having won second at To- ronto and Chicago in 1906 as a two-year old. He is a full brother to the noted show mare, White Heather, winner of first at Haddington and third at the H. & A. S. Show at Stirling, as a yearling. In 1907 she was second at Edinburgh, 1st at Ber- wick, and third at the H. & A. S. Show at Inverness; and in 1902 she was first at Carlyle, and the H. & A. S. Show at Aberdeen.

BARON HAMLET is also a full brother to the well know horse, Watchwood, win- ner of first at Castle-Douglas and Kilmar- nock as a two-year-old, and 1st at the Highland at Edinburgh as a three-year-old.

BARON HAMLET is also a half brother to Baron of Buchlyvie, who was sold at Ayr, Scotland, on December 14th, 1911, for Forty Six Thousand Dollars at public auction.

BARON HAMLET proved himself a sure foal getter in 1919. Parties having Registered, or good grade mares, should not fail to see this horse before breeding their mares.

W. J. TRATHEN,
Owner and Manager.

BARON HAMLET was inspected on the 29th day of October, 1912, when he was Passed and Approved, Form 1. He has also been Enrolled for the year 1920 in Form 1, in accordance with Chap. 67, Stat- utes of Ontario, 2 George V.

FORCED TO DRESS AS A MAN

With her blonde hair closely crop- ped and attired in male clothing, Mrs. Ivy Nasur, twenty-one-year-old moth- er of a five-year- boy, of Columbus, Ohio, defended herself before the magistrate against a charge of mas- querading. She declared it was neces- sary for her to pose as a male in order to get any work. She told the police her husband lived in Detroit, and that she left him taking her child along with her. She found difficulty, she said, in obtaining work as a woman, so she was forced to attire herself as a man. An entry in a diary found on the young woman said: I have travelled now 736 miles in twelve days in man's clothes, with only ten cents in my pocket." Under date of February 26 she wrote: "I worked as a bell boy at Statler Hotel, Buffalo." The young woman also said she also worked as a waiter in a cir- cus.

Eastern Canada Extends Hearty Welcome to Visiting Members of United States National Editorial Association.

Toronto, June 21st, 1920.

With the annual convention concluded in Boston this year, some 130 members of the National Editorial Association commenced at Yarmouth, N.S., a tour of Eastern Canada via the Canadian National-Grand Trunk Railways.

They have visited the Land of Evangeline, Halifax, the mines and steel works at the Sydneys, the Bras d'Or lakes in Cape Breton, the industrial centres of New Glasgow and Stellarton, Truro, Amherst, Sackville, Prince Edward Island (the million acre farm), historic Quebec, and St. Anne de Beaupre, the big power plants and industries at Island Mere and Shawinigan, and are today in Montreal.

This week they will conclude their 7,20 tour by visiting Ottawa, the Gold and Silver Camps at Porcupine, the pulp and paper industries at Iroquois Falls, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Hamilton, winding the trip at Windsor. Altogether, some 3,690 miles will have been travelled in what has been termed "The Million Dollar Special," one of the finest all-steel car trains that has ever been assembled on this continent, consisting of six standard sleeping cars, two dining cars, tourist and baggage car. The new steel sleepers are of the very best type and construction, with all modern devices that make for pleasure and comfort in travel. The dining cars are manned by a specially-selected staff, and the excellence of the cuisine has been frequently commented upon by the American newspaper writers. Every possible arrangement for the safety and comfort of the editors while en route is being carried out by an efficient staff of the Canadian National Railways which has been specially assigned to the various cities.

As one of the party has expressed it, "We are travelling in a palace, through country of marvelous scenic beauty, and of wealth blest with a wealth of natural resources which cannot help but impress us profoundly. We shall leave Canada with the happiest recollections of her progressive spirit and hospitable people."

The party, which represents some 34 States of the Union, have been officially welcomed by the Lieutenant-Governors of Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Quebec, and have been the guests of each of the cities visited, while numerous special social functions have been arranged for their entertainment. While in Toronto, his Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will hold a reception at Government House.

When, at the suggestion of Mr. D. B. Hanna, the President of the Canadian National Railways, Mr. C. A. Hayes, vice-president, went to the Maritime Provinces last winter to arrange a programme of entertainment for the American Editorial Association during their proposed visit, he said: "I regard the visit of these editors as of very considerable importance to the country—important commercially and also politically—and I should like to feel that everything were done that could be done to give them a favorable impression of the country and of us. Last year the same party of people toured the Canadian Northwest, and the articles they afterwards contributed to their papers proved a great commercial advantage to the section of the country which they covered, and perhaps what is still more important, they expressed impressions of the Canadian character which were all to our advantage." That Mr. Hayes was sincerely convinced of what he said is demonstrated by the fact that he, in company with Mr. H. H. Melanson, Passenger Traffic Manager, made the "preparations" tour of the provinces himself.

Altogether, the tour has been of exceptional educational value, and should be one more step in fostering the spirit of amity between the two adjoining countries where peace has reigned for the last hundred years.

CROP AVERAGE LESS

On a basis of acreage Canada's production this year will be largely below last year. In only two cases is there an increase shown over last year, for the entire Dominion. This increase is found in fall wheat, which is 10 p.c. larger in acreage; and oats, 2 p.c., while mixed grains are on a par with 1919.

In the list of Provinces, Ontario seems to have provided the greatest of these surpluses, having sown fall wheat and oats in much larger quantity than a year ago. Minor increases have taken place in connection with certain crops in other Provinces, but the total acreage under cultivation in the entire Dominion is over two million less than last year.

DEVELOPMENT OF AIR SERVICE

A weekly air service from London to America, and an hourly service from London to Paris are expected soon to be in operation. Before the war, the most important passenger-carrying airship service was between Berlin and Friedrichshafen, a route which has now been extended north to reach Stockholm, Sweden, as a terminal. Passengers crossing from Denmark to Germany by water are met on the dock at Warnemunde by airship, which takes them to Berlin in one hour—just one-fifth of the time required to reach the same destination by rail. This route is rivalled by the Airco service between London and Paris and similar lines between Brussels, Paris and London. As much as 779¾ pounds of freight and twenty passengers have been carried between London and Paris in an "off" week of fog, wind, rain and snow, which necessitated the airplanes' turning back from the Channel several times after having started from Hounslow fully laden. On the London-Brussels line during the same period, ten passengers and 2,969 pounds of freight were carried, the latter including, among other things, ladies' dress forms, crepe de chene tea gowns, boudoir caps, feathers and furs. An aerial passenger and postal service has been established between Geneva, Lausanne, Berne and Zurich, Switzerland, and English lines are to be opened shortly between London and the Hague, with still others contemplated between London and India, London and Australia, and Cairo and Cape Town. The last three routes, when completed, will bring London within four or five—instead of twenty-one—days from India and 120 flying hours from Australia; while Cape Town, formerly seven weeks' distant from Cairo, can be reached in one week.

COMING EVENTS

The members of the Bowling Green Women's Institute will hold their annual Garden Party on the old Menary Homestead at Bowling Green on Friday night, July 9th. T. K. Slack, M. L. A. for Dufferin, will preside and a splendid program will be provided by Duncan Cowan, the Shelburne Citizens Band and other talent. Refreshments served on the grounds. Admission, 35c and 20c.

FAREWELL PRESENTATION

Methodist Adult Bible Class Express Their Esteem For Their Teacher, Mrs. E. R. Young.

On Wednesday evening, the 23rd inst., the men and women connected with the Adult Bible Class of the Methodist Sabbath School met in the School Room to do honor to Mrs. E. R. Young, the retiring teacher of the Class. A lunch that was neither stinted in quantity nor lacking in quality was provided by the lady members for over fifty persons. Mr. James Wise generously donated all the ice cream that could be used. The President of the Class, Mr. J. W. Glover, read the subjoined address of farewell and a Purse was presented to Mrs. Young through Mrs. K. Pattullo. Apleasant hour was afterwards spent in speeches, recitations and readings. The address read as follows:—

Mrs. E. R. Young,
Methodist Parsonage,
Orangeville.

Dear Madame:—

According to the itinerant system of the Methodist ministry another period of work for yourself and Mr. Young is about completed. The planting and the watering, the sowing and the reaping of the eternal truth have called for the most ardent prayers and the strongest efforts of the minister in charge, and we believe that you were always ready to take full share in any undertaking aiming at the upbuilding, or promotion of the Master's Kingdom. Since the inception of the "Win One" Bible Class over three years ago, you have been its faithful, capable and acceptable teacher. The Class has grown from a membership of a dozen to one of over fifty. For an Adult Class, in the prime of life, with more or less set ways and extensive knowledge, the interest has been remarkably well sustained. Your ability as Teacher depends not alone on your knowledge of the Scripture truths studied, but also on clearness of presentation, and also on the engaging manner which has always accompanied your teaching. The Class most deeply regrets the severance of the relation between them and you and as an expression of their obligation to you and their good wishes for your future happiness and usefulness, they present you with this Purse, believing that you will value the motives prompting the action rather than the gift itself.

We hope, yes pray, that the future years may have in them for Mr. Young and yourself unmeasured and unnumbered blessings—Blessings of giving and receiving—until "Heaven's morning breaks and earth's vain shadows flee."

Signed on behalf of the Class,
J. W. Glover, President.
Miss Harriet Holmes, Sec.

W. A. Currie, proprietor of the Lakeview Hotel at Port Credit, appeared before Police Magistrate Robt. Crawford, of Brampton, and pleaded guilty to selling liquor to a Brampton "joy party." It was his second offence and he was fined $100 and costs.

Elora boasts possibly the oldest Orangeman in the district, Mr. James Bryans, who has been for 60 years a member of the Order. Though not quite as active as of yore, Mr. Bryans is still able to get around in good style, and hopes to celebrate "The Twelfth" this year in Toronto.

The store of Mr. Joseph Blumenthal, Brampton, was entered by thieves who stole considerable clothing and gents furnishings, just how much is not known. The cash register was tapped for $75, most of the sum being U. S. money that Blumenthal was saving for a holiday trip to New York.

Walter Lehrbass has laid two informations against J. M. Deagle, of Cataract, for assault and shows a badly chewed hand as evidence of the alleged assault. Lehrbass has also charged his wife, Selina Lehrbass, with the theft of $1,700 which was deposited in a bank to their joint account. P. M. Crawford, of Brampton, heard the charges on Monday.

While catching some of his horses Mr. P. S. Putherbough, of Bentinick, near Aberdeen, was run over in the field and though badly bruised about the face, he is able to be around. The horses had all congregated around him, and he was in the act of placing the halter on one of them when a crash of thunder scared them. In the scramble Mr. Putherbough, was knocked down and it is thought one of the horses stepped on his face.

Harry (Sport) Murton, a former Fergus lacrosse player, and his Russian Countess bride arrived home recently. Harry saw real service and plenty of it, going over in 1914 as a private and finally graduating into the flying service, where he served in France and under the famous ace, Col. Collinshaw, in Russia. They were still fighting the Bolsheviki when about every other Canadian was home and pretty well squared away in civil life. Sport saw all kinds and to miss nothing spent a more or less pleasant time in a German prison camp. He was lucky enough never to have been wounded.

PICKED FOR BISLEY TEAM

Mrs. Wm. Clowes has received word from England that her brother, Seaman Gunner A. T. Tremlett, of H. M. S. Ajax, has been chosen to shoot in the Bisley matches next month. To be selected to shoot at Bisley is a high honor and there was only one other person beside Seaman Tremlett picked from the British Navy. Gunner Tremlett had the distinction on a former occasion of being picked to shoot for the championship of the Navy. In the final test he came within five seconds of defeating the champion with the big guns. Gunner Tremlett saw much fighting during the recent war. He was at the Dardanelles, went through the Jutland battle and was with the Grand Fleet in the North Sea when the German ships were handed over to the British Navy. Mrs. Clowes has another brother who was at the front for three and a half years and won the D. C. M. Through the Mons battle, Hill 60 and many other actions. Corporal Wm. Tremlett had many narrow escapes. His uniform was penetrated by shrapnel in five different places at one time and yet he came through without injury to himself. Another younger brother, not eighteen when he enlisted, served in the Naval Air Force and also had the good fortune to come through safely.

HOUSE DESTROYED

Mr. R. J. McCutcheon, lot 21, 5th line, east, Mono, had the misfortune to have his dwelling house destroyed by fire early on Monday morning. The fire started from a coal oil stove, which was in use in the back kitchen for the purpose of preparing the family breakfast. Mr. McCutcheon lighted the stove shortly after he got up and then went out to do some chores leaving it burning. It is thought that it may have been turned too high. Neighbors who noticed the blaze were quickly on the scene and with their help Mr. McCutcheon managed to save part of the furniture in the front part of the house. The house was a good-sized structure and the loss will be heavy. We have not learned what insurance Mr. McCutcheon carried but understand that it will not nearly cover the loss. Fortunately Mr. McCutcheon has another house on lot 19, 5th line, east, which he owns. The neighbors moved the family and whatever household effects were saved to this place before returning home after helping to fight the fire. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. McCutcheon and family in their unfortunate loss.

Rev. Dr. Dickie, eleven years pastor of Chatham Presbyterian Church, has accepted a call to Edmonton.

MIXED FARMING IN WESTERN CANADA

—In Central Alberta and Saskatchewan are rich park lands—open prairie ready for the plow, interspersed with trees, which afford excellent shelter for stock. Here grain growing, dairing and livestock raising are being carried on successfully. The country is ideal for mixed farming. The Canadian Pacific Railway is offering a large area of these fertile lands in the neighborhood of Lloydminster and Battleford. These rich districts will become the home of thousands of prosperous farmers. On similar land Seager Wheeler grows the world's prize wheat. Near Lloydminster the world's prize oats have been grown and butter of the highest quality is made. A man can soon become independent on a farm here.

These lands can be bought now at prices averaging about $18. You pay down 10 per cent. If land is purchased under settlement conditions, no further payment of principal until end of fourth year, then sixteen annual payments. Interest is six per cent.

Irrigated lands in Southern Alberta $50 an acre upwards. Same terms. Write for illustrated booklet.

EPISODE 9

Dick, Long Tom and the detective manage to escape from the sinking automobile. Just then a launch containing fishermen hoves in sight. Dick signals the men aboard the launch, who hurry to the side of the trio struggling in the water. During this time Bella, on board the steamer, has freed herself and with a rope lowers herself to the water and is saved by Dick. The villians take to boats and leave the ship. Dick takes Bella to the hotel and gets in touch with the detective. Tom and the detective are captured by the gang. Bullhead also captures Bella and heads back to the camp in a stolen auto. Dick discovers Tom and the detective and releases them. They follow Bullhead and Bella. Dick and his gang board an express train and get ahead of Bullhead. They stop him with a wire cable. Dick rescues Bella but Bullhead gets away. Dick pursues him in an auto. The gang place a large charge of dynamite in a huge tree. Just as Dick and Bella pass the tree an explosion takes place, blowing down the tree on top of the car.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

J. M. Deagle, President of the Cataract Electric Co., and a former employee named Walter Lehrbass, are the principals in a nasty mix-up, which will probably be ventilated before P. M. Crawford in Brampton Police Court next Monday. Lehrbass has laid two informations against Deagle, one charging him with assault in which the complainant avers that the Orangeville man chewed up one of his hands. Lehrbass also charges his wife, Selina Lehrbass, with the theft of $1700, which was deposited in an Orangeville bank in a joint account. It appears that Lehrbass and his wife have not been pulling very well and that Deagle has been playing the part of friend and counsellor to the wife. It is alleged that Mrs. Lehrbass came to town one morning recently accompanied by Deagle and drew the money already referred to out of the bank. It is also said that the money was then turned over to Mrs. Deagle for safe-keeping. At any rate Chief Herkes, of Brampton, visited town on Saturday armed with a warrant for the arrest of the Deagles. He found the house locked and was obliged to break open the door before he was able to effect the arrest. The hearing was to have taken place on Monday, but was adjourned for one week at the request of Deagle, who stated that he had been unable to secure a lawyer. The case against Mrs. Deagle, who is charged with receiving the money taken from the bank, was also adjourned until next Monday.

Admission, 35 cents; children, 15 cents; autos admitted to the grounds withotu extra charge.

RECOVERED HIS CATTLE

Monday morning's mail brought The Banner a letter from Mr. W. A. Forth, Chief of Police in Georgetown, authorizing the insertion of an advertisement regarding ten head of yearling cattle in the possession of H. C. Clarke, a Georgetown drover, and believed by Mr. Clarke and Chief Forth to have been stolen. Early Monday afternoon Mr. Ben Cook, jr., Centre Road, Caledon, called at the sanctum and asked the editor to insert an advertisement for ten head of cattle, which had strayed from his farm about June 16th. We called Mr. Cook's attention to the Georgetown advertisement and he was so impressed by the manner in which the description of the stolen cattle corresponded with that of the cattle he had lost that he went home, got into his car and set out for Georgetown. When he arrived he found the cattle were his alright and learned that they had been driven to Georgetown by a young man who gave the name of Erskine. The supposed owner sold the bunch to Clarke for $480 and received a cheque from the drover for that amount. Finding that Erskine was making strenuous efforts to sell the horse upon which he had ridden into town, Clarke concluded that there was something wrong and phoned to the bank stopping payment of his cheque. He also communicated with Chief Forth. When Erskine went to the bank and learned that he could not cash the cheque he made a fine show of indignation and vowed he would make it hot for Clarke. Before the Chief got to him he disappeared and it was subsequently learned that he had bought a railway ticket for Kitchener. Mr. Cook was accompanied to Georgetown by a friend, Mr. John Porterfield, who brought the car home and sent another party back with a buggy to meet Cook, who started for home with the cattle about eight o'clock Monday night. He was on the road all night but had his herd safely home in good time on Tuesday morning. Mr. Cook speaks very highly of the honesty of Mr. Clarke, the Georgetown drover, and also of Chief Forth, whose prompt action in sending a description of the stolen cattle to The Banner and other outside newspapers led to their recovery. The cattle were last seen near Tiny Montgomery's in East Garafraxa and it is surmised that the thief drove them from that neighborhood. They reached Georgetown and were offered for sale there on Wednesday of last week.

EIGHT MILLS

County Rate Is Higher This Year

At last week's meeting the County Council fixed the County Rate at 8 mills on the dollar. This is 4-5 mill higher than last year's rate. The difference is caused by the special levy of one mill for the Soldiers' Memorial Fund. The rate is made up of a levy of three mills to cover the general expenditure of the County, a further levy of four mills for County roads and the one mill levy for the memorial fund just referred to. The levy on the local municipalities is as follows:—

	General Expenditure	County Roads	Memorial Fund
Amaranth	$4,745.32	$6,327.10	$1,581.78
East Garafraxa	3,553.73	4,738.30	1,184.58
East Luther	2,895.07	3,860.10	965.02
Melancthon	5,605.80	7,474.40	1,868.60
Mulmur	4,599.51	6,132.68	1,533.17
Mono	4,780.35	6,373.79	1,593.45
Orangeville	2,100.30	2,800.40	700.10
Shelburne	900.30	1,200.40	300.10

ARE YOU DISCOURAGED?

Remember this:—

When Abraham Lincoln was a young man he ran for the Legislature in Illinois, and was badly swamped.

He next entered business, failed, and spent seventeen years of his life paying up the debts of a worthless partner.

He was in love with a beautiful woman to whom he became engaged—then she died.

Later he married a woman who was a constant burden on him.

He then tried to get an appointment to the United States Land Office, but failed.

He became candidate for the United States Senate, and was badly defeated.

In 1856 he became candidate for the Vice-Presidency and was again defeated.

One failure after another—bad failures—great setbacks. In the face of all this he eventually became one of the country's greatest men, if not the greatest.

When you think of a series of setbacks like these, doesn't it make you feel kind of small to become discouraged, just because you think you are having a hard time in life?—Praetorian Guard.

A FATAL ACCIDENT

TWO YOUNG MEN HURLED INTO ETERNITY.

Arthur Enterprise-News Gives Details of Deplorable Tragedy at Level Crossing Near Guelph—One of Victims Formerly Student At Orangeville Business College.

A gloom was cast over the entire community on Saturday last, by the news of a deplorable level crossing fatality at Guelph, in which James Tindale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tindale, and his companion, Blair Foote, of Elora, were suddenly dashed from the full enjoyment of youthful health and vigor at its best, into complete unconsciousness in which condition they succumbed a few hours later. The accident occurred about 8.30 on Friday evening and the word reached town about an hour later, and was telephoned to Mr. Tindale, who was attending the Orange garden party. Mr. and Mrs. Tindale proceeded to Guelph, arriving at the General Hospital at 12.45 about fifteen minutes after their son had breathed his last. Jim, as he was familiarly known, was one of the many boys of Arthur, who are making good in business life. He graduated from the Arthur Public School and after being employed for a year or so around Arthur, attended the Orangeville Business College, where he graduated with honors and later joined the office of the Beattie Bros., Fergus, where he was employed at the time of his death. He had worked up to a splendid position and had the confidence of his employer and the esteem of his associates. He is survived by his parents, three brothers and one sister.

His remains were brought from Guelph to the home of his parents on Saturday afternoon, and the funeral took place on Monday afternoon to Belsyde Cemetery, Fergus. The service at the house was conducted by Rev. A. E Springer, assisted by Rev. W. G. Richardson and Rev. Mr. Harnwell, of Fergus. The pallbearers were three of the deceased's associates on the office staff of Beattie Bros. and three of the Fergus Baseball team. The esteem in which the deceasd was held was evidenced by the large floral offering from sorrowing friends which comprised ten wreaths and several sprays and bouquets. The funeral was under the auspices of the Orange Lodge of Fergus, which was joined by the Arthur Lodge.

The funeral of Blair Foote was held to the Elora Cemetery on the same afternoon in sufficient time before the Arthur funeral reached Belsyde to allow for a large number of Fergus friends of both young men to be present at the burial of both. Beattie Bros. closed their factory for the afternoon and the crowd which gathered around the grave was one of, if not, the largest ever seen in Belsyde cemetery.

The Enterprise-News voices the feelings of the town as a whole in extending to Mr. and Mrs. Tindale sincere sympathy in their sore bereavement.

The story of the accident as told by a Guelph daily of Saturday is as follows:—

The four young people left Fergus about 7.40 in the evening to come to Guelph, where they expected to attend one of the local theatres. The car was owned and driven by young Foote, who resided in Elora, and was a powerful Overland car. The roads were fairly good and the evening a pleasant one and the car sped over the highway at a rapid rate of speed, and it was not long before Guelph loomed up before them. As they were coming along the stretch of good road between the Guelph Cemetery and the railway crossing, the car was travelling very fast, according to spectators, but the driver apparently heard or saw C. P. R. passenger train No. 639, Toronto to Goderich, coming up the grade and he made an attempt to get over the tracks before the train arrived. Barney Gibson, signalman at the crosing, saw the car coming at a fast rate of speed and he ran out and signalled them to stop. The driver put on the brakes, the car skidded a considerable distance, but it was too late as the engine of the train hit the auto squarely in the centre on the crossing. The impact was tremendous and several spectators who were near at hand were horrified when they saw what had taken place.

The automobile with its human load was hurled a distance of about forty feet up the right of way. It went right over the small fence which protects the railway from the highway and landed on one side. When the spectators ran to the assistance of the injured ones they found both of the young men in an unconscious condition, one lying close to the fence and the other near the upturned car, while one of the young ladies, Miss Milne, was also lying a short distance from the car. Miss Lovell, however marvellous it may seem, being able to extricate herself from the wreck. Both Foote and Tindale and Miss Milne were in an unconscious condition and it was seen at once that the young men were very seriously injured. The train was brought to a standstill as quickly as possible and backed up to the scene of the accident and first aid was rendered to the injured, while in the meantime a call had been sent in for the city ambulance. The train was in charge of Conductor Bennett, of Goderich; the engineer was John Austin and the fireman was Charles Nicholson.

The ambulance was not long in getting to the scene of the accident and gentle hands assisted in carrying the wounded ones to it and in a very few minutes they were hurried away to the hospital. Miss Lovell was conscious at first but she fainted more from the shock than anything else, and Miss Milne came to long enough to say that her back was injured. She became unconscious again but recovered again and it was found that her injuries were not of a serious nature, although she sustained a few bruises.

The two young men were at once taken to the operating room, where Dr. Howitt and Dr. F. Stuart were awaiting them and everything possible was done for them. It was found on examination that young Foote's neck was broken and he was otherwise injured about the head, while at the back of Tindale's head there was a deep gash, a portion of the skull having been driven right into the brain. The skull was also split open several inches in length. The physicians operated on both of the injured men but they had no hopes of saving their lives. They were taken from the operating room shortly before eleven o'clock and while every human agency was employed to save their lives they passed away within a very few minutes of each other about twelve-thirty o'clock this morning.

Blair Foote, one of the young men who died as the result of the accident, was [illegible] years of age and the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Foote, of Elora. He enlisted for overseas service with the Third Wellington Battalion and went overseas with that unit. He was transferred to the 48th Highlanders of Toronto and served with them for over two years in France. On his return home early last year he resumed his studies at the Elora High School taking a special course provided for returned soldiers and hoped to matriculate this year. He was a popular young man well liked by his fellow students and the manner of his death has caused widespread regret throughout the village of Elora. He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his parents, three brothers, David and Robert, of Elora, and Albert, of Windsor, and two sisters, Margaret and Dorothy, of Elora.

As soon as the death of the two young men was announced the matter was reported to Acting County Crown Attorney Nicol Jeffery, who instructed Coroner Dr. T. H. Orton to hold an inquest and to enquire into all the circumstances surrounding the tragic death of these two young men. The inquest was convened at 11 o'clock Saturday morning at Tovell's undertaking parlors, Quebec Street. After being duly sworn in, the jury viewed the bodies of the victims of the accident after which they proceeded in motor cars to the scene of the disaster, where they thoroughly examined the damaged car and were shown exactly where the accident happened. An adjournment was then made until Tuesday evening, June 22, at the police court.—Arthur Enterprise-News.

CALEDON PUBLIC LIBRARY

The following sketch of Caledon Public Library is from the pen of Dr. J. T. Thomas, its Sec.-Treasurer:—

In the year 1883 the Caledon Public Library was instituted. Since that time until the present it has had a varied history of successes and reverses. For several years the Library was stored in the Township Hall, and was taken care of almost altogether by the late William Rutledge. In 1913 a new Board of Management, under the leadership of Rev. Jenkins Burkholder, took charge of the Library. He was ably assisted by Misses L. Rutledge, M. Scarland, Cardwell Stubbs, K. Sutton and L. A. Pilcher, and Messrs. H. Hillyard, E. E. Stubbs, Dr. W. F. R. Stubbs, W. J. Atkinson and Dr. Thomas.

The financial condition of the Library was always at the heart of the several members of the Board, and to-day we are glad to report that the Library is in a prosperous condition. In 1915 the Library was catalogued according to the Dewey Decimal System by Miss Patricia Spereman, assisted by Librarians Miss Winnie Vogan and Miss Olga Dodds. At present we have over 300 volumes in the Library, and many new up-to-date ones. In 1914 it was thought expedient to remove the Library from the Township Hall to the premises now occupied by the Library. Accordingly, a three year lease of these premises was secured and on its expiration in 1917 the building was purchased as a permanent home for the Library. The Library Board have now succeeded in paying off all the indebtedness against this building. The Library is in a thriving condition and is doing an excellent service in the community. Residents of Caledon and visitors to Caledon are cordially invited to visit our Library. We assure you that we appreciate your visits and your kind encouragements.

OLD FRIENDS

We just shake hands at meeting
With many that come nigh,
We nod the head in greeting
To many that go by.
But we welcome through the gateway
Our few old friends and true;
Then our hearts leap up and straightway
There's open house for you,
Old Friends,
Wide-open house for you.

The surface will be sparkling,
Let but a sunbeam shine,
But in the deep lies darkling
The true life of the wine.
The froth is for the many,
The wine is for the few;
Unseen, untouched for any,
We keep the best for you,
Old friends,
The very best for you.

"The many" cannot know us,
They only pace the strand
Where at our worst we mow us,
The waters thick with sand;
But out beyond the leaping
Dim surge "'tis clear and blue,"
And there old friends we're keeping
A waiting calm for you
Old friends,
A sacred calm for you.

LEARN THIS BY HEART

In the shade of the old apple tree
Where the snow and the rain blow so free,
Is no place to store
The binder and mower
And implements there that you see;
For the rust and the rain you'll agree,
Are worse than hard usage would be;
And the paint that they wore
Is a shade, nothing more—
Just the shade of the old apple tree.

Much Sickness Due to Lack of Work

The healthy body produces more energy than it needs to keep the Heart, Lungs and Bowels working. This surplus energy must be spent in mental or physical work. On the other hand, people who work too hard use their reserve strength and wear out the system.

People who are inclined to nervousness, Constipation, or have any of the Troubles of the Heart, Liver, Nerves, Kidneys, Stomach or Bowels can greatly improve the condition of their health if they so desire.

If you work too hard, take more rest. If you work too little, take more exercise, you will need medicine to correct the troubles caused by your indiscretions and to assist nature to restore health. Then take

Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy

and if you require a laxative take

Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills

These two preparations will work wonders and we will guarantee beneficial results because we know they will do so.

Mr. Wilson E. Eagleson, of Bayfield, writes as follows: "I have much pleasure in addressing you in regards to Hacking's wonderful Heart and Nerve Remedy. I have used quite a few boxes and I must say they have done me a world of good. Please send me 5 more boxes of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and 2 boxes of Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills."

If you too want to regain your lost health, then go to your nearest Drug Store and ask for Hacking's.

DID NOT THINK IT WAS POSSIBLE

Miss Parent Couldn't Believe Medicine Could Do What Tanlac Did For Her.

"For four months before taking Tanlac I was almost an absolute wreck, but now I am well and strong again," said Miss Marie Parent, of 1367 Notre Dame street, East, Montreal, when seen by the Tanlac representative at her home recently.

"For a long while I have suffered from indigestion. After eating I had the sensation of a big lump in the pit of my stomach and I would be seized with such spells of nervous coughing that I could not retain my food and would almost suffocate. I had spells of dizziness when my eyesight became so affected that I seemed to be standing in a cloud of smoke. My circulation was very poor and whenever I went out in the cold my fingers would become numbed and as white and cold as marble. I finally lost all desire for food and became as weak as a girl can possibly be. I had to sit or lie down most of the day and was almost afraid to cross the room by myself for fear I would fall. My joints used to get so stiff that I was afraid I should lose the use of them altogether. At night when I did have a chance for a little rest my sleep was disturbed by the most dreadful nightmares.

"It was father who read in the papers the remarkable way Tanlac was helping people and one day he brought a bottle for me. I never would have believed it possible for a medicine to do what Tanlac has done for me. Why very soon I had a surprisingly big appetite and could eat meals that I never thought I should ever touch. I soon found that I could digest my food perfectly. I no longer suffered from the cold when going out and my sleep at night is as restful as a child's. I never thought I should be so strong as I am to-day, and instead of having to be waited on I am able to work like my other sisters. I can now take my share of attending to the younger ones. Many of my relatives and friends have tried Tanlac and are all enthusiastic about it. No one who has not used it can have an idea what a remarkable medicine it is."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

One morning recently Mr. Tom Fisher, of Rock Mills, near Flesherton, woke up and discovered a tent pitched in his yard. On investigation he discovered that the tent contained Mr. Wm. English and sister, Mrs. Wm. Clark, of Parma, Idaho. They had started in a car and rode 2200 miles to the Sault, camping on the way, where they put the runabout aboard the boat and came to Collingwood, then motored up from there. Arriving in the middle of the night they pitched tent for the last time and gave the relatives a genuine surprise in the morning.

IRELAND— THE SCANDAL OF THE EMPIRE

Ireland continues the distress and the scandal of the Empire; yet the Empire of to-day is certainly not responsible for either of these calamities. A section of the Irish population is in a mental condition which makes them blind to facts, and sometimes, alas, color blind as to the moral quality of their own performances. The case seems to be one needing soothing medical treatment rather than political remedies. Perhaps the most expressive proof of Irish wrong-headedness is supplied by a series of resolutions adopted at a meeting of the Irish Roman Catholic hierarchy at Maynooth under the chairmanship of Cardinal Logue. In the case of Ireland these dignitaries declared "the acknowledged right of civilised nations to choose their own government had been denied." There was "an iron rule of oppression as cruel and unjust as it was ill advised and out of date." And the result they declared, had been "violent collision and retaliations between exasperated sections of the people and the forces of oppression." The Archbishop of Cashel, it may be added, sent a check for 50 pounds to the Irish Republic Loan in America, and solemnly bestowed his blessing on Mr. De Valera, who claims to be the president of the Irish "Republic."

The members of the Irish Roman Catholic hierarchy, of course, only repeat the phrases of the Sinn Fein gramophones. Perhaps the best reply to this nonsense is supplied by the London Spectator. "One would think from this statement," it says, "that people in Ireland had no votes —that Ireland was governed as Austria used to govern Lombardy. Yet, as a matter of fact, Ireland has a larger proportion of representatives than the rest of the United Kingdom. She has as free a form of local self-government as that existing in any part of the world, and we are at this moment trying to coax her to accept a Constitution which will give the South and West of Ireland greater and more sovereign power than those held by the States of the American Union."

The only thing that is held from the majority in the South of Ireland is the right undoubtedly they crave, of oppressing the people of the Northeast Ulster, destroying their industries, and depriving them of their greatly prized status as citizens of the United Kingdom and the British Empire. But it is an outrage to deny to one set of people the right of oppressing another set of people."

—Life.

James H. Hall, East Garafraxa, is going around with the aid of a pair of crutches. Reason—a big stick of timber in a barn being taken down by W. B. McGowan, fell and pinned his right leg to the floor. The limb is terribly bruised and so painful that Mr. Hall gets practically no rest.

Brampton property owners voted on a by-law to raise the sum of $7276 by debentures for the purchase of a fire truck and other fire appliances for the purpose of fire protection for the town. Only a very light vote was polled and the bylaw was carried by a majority of 80. There were 118 votes for and 39 against.

Straight talk on Cream Separators by

J. E. SMITH & Co.

Orangeville, Ont. Canada.

USERS of De Laval Cream Separators have carried away every first prize awarded at conventions of the National Creamery Buttermakers' Association since their first meeting in 1892. The record is unbroken!

The reason is that De Laval bowl design, together with low speed, enables the delivery of butter-fat globules unbroken and in their natural condition—thus insuring better butter.

Because of its close skimming the De Laval produces more cream, which means more butter.

Thus the user of a De Laval Separator gets both more and better butter.

FARMERS' SUN ADVICE

Buy at home and build up your own town, is the advice of the Farmer's Sun which says: A dollar spent out of town is a dollar lost to that town. It goes to build up some other town, being deposited there and kept there. The money spent with mail order firms detracts from the natural progress of your own town. Be fair to the home manufacturers, contractors and merchants. They have invested their capital here with reasonable expectation of patronage and fair profit. Many of them put every cent they make back into their business, adding to stock or improving the premises. Repeatedly it has been demonstrated that you can buy to advantage at home. There is also this fact to consider—and it is important—if goods are not right you can always go back to the home merchant or dealer for exchange or adjustment; whereas you have to keep the out of town "junk" that you have thought was a bargain. The big mail order catalogues may look pretty and all, but their best use is first aid in relieving the fuel situation. Keep all the money you can circulating in your own locality and when money gets scarce there will be much more available to you than there would be if you sent your money away from your town or locality.

In the action of the Canadian paper making companies we have a beautiful example of gratitude for the favours bestowed in such generous fashion by our Governments. After getting huge grants of free pulp wood tracts from the government, the makers quietly get together, arrange a rapidly increasing cost of paper, that results in immense profits. Then those patriotic paper makers, who insisted there should be no trade with the States on a previous occasion, now dispose of 85 per cent. of their output across the border, and callously state the other 15 per cent. used by Canadian publishers is of so little concern to them, that they are indifferent whether or not Canadians have newspapers of their own. In fact the West will be without papers unless the government intervenes and protects the public and the newspaper men, in providing for the supply of the local market, before permitting export. The situation for Canada's pulp reserves is really alarming. United States extravagant use of paper has about used up all the pulp products in their own country and now they want to as rapidly deplete ours. A striking example of the quantity used may be inferred when some Sunday American issues use what all Canada requires for a year. Is it not time for Canada to protect its natural resources for Canadians first?

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS IN PEEL

Some months ago the Public School Inspector and a representative of the Department of Education made a survey of the northern half of this county for Consolidated Schools. Through the committee on consolidation in this district it has been decided that a vote on the question would be taken in the various sections interested during the week beginning July 5th. Meetings of the ratepayers for the purpose of voting have been called in the various sections. S. S. No. 4 and S. S. No. 8, of Chinguacousy, on Monday afternoon, S. S. No. 3 and S. S. No. 7, of Chinguacousy, on Tuesday, and S. S. No. 5, of Caledon, on Wednesday. All meetings are called to meet at 2 p. m in the respective school houses.

ORANGEVILLE'S TOURNAMENT

Programmes will be distributed this week for the Orangeville Lawn Bowling Club's Annual Tournament to be held on Tuesday, July 20th, and the following days. As usual there will be three events, so that competing rinks will have three chances to annex some of the handsome prizes that the Club is putting up for competition. These include such desirable articles as silver teapots, sherbet glasses, Pyrex pie plates, silver vases, silver casseroles, and silver flower baskets. The Orangeville Tourney has come to be one of the big bowling events in this part of the province and there is every reason to look for another record entry list this year.

CALEDON GARDEN PARTY

Knox Presbyterian Church will hold its thirty-second Annual Garden Party on Mr. Thos. Smith's grounds in Caledon Village, on Monday evening, July 12th. The committee in charge of the program has secured a remarkably strong combination of artists in the Ionic Male Quartette and Mr. Duncan R. Cowan, the widely known entertainer. The personnel of the Ionic Male Quartette, which has appeared at many public gatherings, is: Chas. Stanley, baritone; Arthur W. Lynde, 1st tenor; Arthur Cuthbert, 2nd tenor, and Wm. H. Moore, bass. The Quartette appears in costume and will give a varied program. The Alton orchestra has also been secured for the evening and will help to round out an unusually fine program. Several well-stocked refreshment booths will cater to the wishes of all. The ladies will serve tastily prepared lunches a la carte for 15c, 20c and 25c. Admission, Adults, 40c; Children under 12, 15c.

DOMINION DAY

ORANGEVILLE CELEBRATION A HUGE SUCCESS.

Large Crowd, Fair Weather and An Excellent Program.

Orangeville's Dominion Day Celebration attracted an immense crowd to town for the holiday. The visitors began to arrive early in the day, and by the time the big morning parade got moving Broadway was thronged with interested spectators. Both sides of the business part of the street as far west as the Post Office were closely lined with autos, each carrying its full complement of holiday makers. The parade itself was quite an imposing spectacle. No Orangeville parade would seem quite complete without "Jim" Patterson in the role of master of ceremonies, and consequently no one was surprised to see our genial townsman riding at the head of the procession. Behind him came the splendid band of the Collingwood Kilties, thirty strong. The Highlanders won the hearts of all beholders by their fine music and marching and drew frequent rounds of applause along the route of march. Following the Highlanders came a long line of school children with Principal Firth of the Orangeville Public School at their head. These were followed by the Orangeville Citizens Band under the leadership of Bandmaster Morrow, the High and Public School Cadets, the Orangeville Boy Scouts in charge of Scoutmaster Capt. Stewart, several gaily decorated floats and a long procession of autos, most of them bright with flags, bunting and other gaily colored decorations. A few clowns, a car or two of ancient vintage and antique design and the three captured German field guns recently loaned to the County of Dufferin by the Ottawa War Department added spice and variety of an unusual order to the parade. As the big guns lumbered along, each drawn by a team of splendid horses, they recalled memories of the stern and trying years of the great war, and by contrast emphasized the happier and more peaceful conditions under which the Canadian people were celebrating the fifty-third anniversary of the birth of the great Confederation of Provinces that now extends across the North American continent from the Atlantic to the sun-kissed Pacific and from the North Pole half way down to the Equator.

The afternoon sports were held on the Exhibition grounds and brought together a concourse of between 5,000 and 6,000 people, the great majority of whom journeyed to town and also to the grounds by auto. The array of cars on the grounds was the largest ever seen in Orangeville. Nearly every make and model sold in Ontario was in evidence. During the early part of the afternoon interest centred in a rattling good baseball game between the Moose Nine from West Toronto, champions of the West York League last year, and a nine picked from the North Wellington League. The North Wellington boys were nearly all Erin players, so that it was practically an Erin team that faced the West Toronto champions. The city team started off like easy winners, garnering no less than four of their five runs in the opening innings. Matthews, the clever Erin twirler, was noticeably nervous and ill at ease at the outset and as a result the hard hitting Moose batted his offerings all over the lot. The Erin boy, who is one of the finest twirlers in these parts, was himself for the rest of the game and had the opposing batters completely at his mercy the greater part of the time. The Moose did not score again until the fifth innings, when they notched a single run. In the remaining two innings they were held scoreless. Erin did not manage to get a man around the circuit until the fourth innings, when they tallied twice. They got another pair of counters in the fifth, were blanked in the sixth and went into their half of the seventh a run behind their opponents. With the first batter out Bush connected with the sphere for a safe hit, Horton also hit safely and both batters managed to score before the side was retired. Both teams played clean, clever ball and the match was well worth seeing. The Moose players were a gentlemanly lot of fellows, took their defeat in good part and were the first to congratulate the winners on their victory. Erin has a clever ball team and the boys have good reason to feel elated over their win against such a formidable team as the Moose. The players and score by innings were as follows:—

Erin—Nelson, 1b; Woods, ss; Stokes, 3b; Matthews, p; H. Matthews, lf; W. Bush, 2b; Horton, c; Bush, rf; McLachlan, cf.

Moose—McFarlane, 3b; Phillips, cf; Gilson, 2b; Roberts, lf; Kirkwood, 1b; Hanna, ss; Lowden, c; Smyth, rf; Fraser, p.

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	R.	H.	E.
Moose	4	0	0	0	1	0	0	5	7	2
Erin	0	0	0	2	2	0	2	6	5	4

The baseball game was called at the end of the seventh inning to allow the lacrosse match to get under way. The Dufferins and the Maitlands, one of Toronto's senior teams, were the contenders. The Toronto team was expected to give the Dufferins a real game, but they fell down badly, proving very easy picking for the green-shirts. Dufferins ran in five goals in the first quarter, another five in the second period and when time was called had run up a score of 17 goals to 0 for their opponents. In justice to the Toronto lads we should explain that there were only 4 of the regular seniors on the team, the rest [illegible] the players being from the ranks [illegible] the intermediates. Although ho[illegible]ly outclassed the visitors put [illegible] fast, plucky game. The exhibiti[illegible]as much more interesting from th[illegible]ctators standpoint than the sc[illegible]ould indicate. The Dufferins pl[illegible]n real championship form and showed that they have a strong team this season. The regulars were all on hand except Bert Brown, who was playing at the Guelph bowling tourney. Dr. Zinn, a former Hanover player, and Gordon, the war veteran, who was refused reinstatement last season, were both on the home and impressed the fans with their speed and skill. Bill Stevens, the speedy centre fielder, was also in the game part of the time and showed his class by his speed, clever stick-handling and heady playing.

There were attractions aplenty in addition to the lacrosse and baseball. Just before the commencement of the lacrosse game a number of foot races were pulled off on the home stretch of the race course. Most of these were well contested, the 100 yds. open, the 100 yds for veterans and the 220 yds events being particularly good. Jimmie Dawson, the speedy Orangeville sprinter, was regarded as the likely winner in the two 100 yds. events, but the best he could do was second in the open and third in the Veterans race. He was outfooted by members of the Moose baseball team, but both races were real ones and the winners had little to spare.

The performance by Lature Bros., comedy acrobats, and the Oswin Sisters, national dancers and singers, in front of the Grand Stand attracted a large crowd and provided some good entertainment. The Oswin Sisters are clever artists and their costume singing and dancing were really good. Collingwood Kilties Band and the Orangeville Citizens Band provided a fine musical program, giving lovers of band music an opportunity to enjoy this form of outdoor entertainment to their hearts content. The afternoon passed off without any untoward incident to mar the general enjoyment. Weather conditions approached the ideal, a hazy sky and a light breeze combining to temper the rays of the sun. One noticeable and pleasing feature of the celebration was the large number of kiddies who were on the grounds. That the youngsters enjoyed the day to the full goes without saying. The Celebration Committee took the right step when it decided to admit all little folk without charge.

The evening celebration took the form of a garden party and band concert on the Agricultural Grounds, the program being followed by a dance in the main hall. Another large crowd was present and listened with delight to a fine concert by the Kilties Band under the leadership of Bandmaster Dixon. The Oswin Sisters and the Lature Bros. contributed a number of enjoyable features. The days proceeds amounted to nearly $2,000. The Celebration was under the joint auspices of the G. W. V. A. and the Dufferin Lacrosse Club. The two organizations will have a tidy balance left after meting all expenses.

CELEBRATION NOTES

The refreshment booths did a roaring trade.

Th work of the Erin battery was nearly perfect after the opening innings. Matthews pitched fine ball and Horton's catching was clever.

The Daughters of the Empire had a bevy of active and alert tag girls at work early in the day. They gathered in $180 for the hospital fund.

A foul ball struck the Moose catcher on the knee near the close of the baseball game. The blow was a painful one and compelled the player to retir.

The morning trains were crowded, particularly the trains from the south, which brought a large number of Toronto people to the town for the day.

The Daughters of the Empire float was one of the conspicuous features of the parade and carried off first prize. The float was mounted on an auto truck, which was driven by Master Gordon Smith.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid did a splendid business in their refreshment booth. There was a continuous demand for ice cream, fruit and drinks. The ladies garnered nearly $300 from their enterprise.

The gate receipts were considerably larger than last year's gate, but the total receipts last year were large, the reason being that the Celebration Committee controlled the refreshment booths a year ago.

The afternoon gate amounted to $1,430. At this all children were admitted free. The evening gate receipts were about $360. The grand stand and sale of booth privileges brought the total receipts for the day up to $1,927.12.

A couple of local War Veterans helped furnish amusement and an opportunity to try one's luck by running a "housie" game. Those who tried their fortunes had no reason to complain, for unlike most games of chance one of the outsiders always won.

The young people put both vim and zest into the dancing. The day's sport had not spoiled their appetite for more fun. Good music was provided by Henderson, of Bolton, on the violin, Clarence McConnell on the traps and Miss Vera Hogg as accompanist.

The winners of the parade prizes were:—

Best decorated float, auto—1st, Daughters of the Empire; 2nd, E. C. Daniels.

Best horse drawn float—1st, Girl Guides; 2nd, Thos. A. White's children.

Best comic outfit—1st, R H. Flint; 2nd, Dr. Campbell's children.

Best comic boy in parade—Walter Robinson and Walter Horley.

Best dressed girl in parade—Miss Ina Porter.

Special Prize—Girl Guides.

Miss Nora Campbell, daughter of Dr. G. H. Campbell, and her little cousin, Miss Georgia Campbell, daughter of Mr. W. A. Campbell, of Detroit, drove a very attractive pony outfit. The two girlies captured one of the prizes for the best pony outfit in the parade.

JUNIOR LACROSSE

Weston and the Junior Dufferins will figure as the principals in a Junior Championship Lacrosse Match, on Idylwyld Park, Orangeville, next Saturday afternoon. Weston proved too strong for the green-shirts in the game at Weston last Thursday, but the Orangeville boys are hoping to get revenge in Saturday's game. Both teams play fast lacrosse, and will give a real exhibition of the national game. Our citizens should encourage the juniors by turning out to the match. Admission, Adults, 25c; Children, 15 cents.

BARN BURNED

Mr. Geo. Torrance had the misfortune to have a bank barn, 40x86, situated on Lot 28, 1st line, east, Caledon, completely destroyed by fire on the afternoon of June 10th. Mr. Torrance was in town at the monthly fair when the fire took place. As no person had been about the building for a couple of days previously, the cause of the blaze is a mystery. The first intimation the neighbors had that the building was on fire came when the flames burst through the roof. A new hay loader, 150 bushels of oats and other contents were destroyed with the building. Strenuous work on the part of the neighbors who hurriedly gathered succeeded in saving the stone building adjoining the main barn. Mr. Torrance did not carry a large insurance on the building, and as a consequence stands to lose a considerable sum.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

A very successful meeting of the above Society was held in the Methodist Church last Monday evening. The topic for the evening was the Lonely Life, upon which Mr. E. Still gave an interesting address pointing out that Christ at times lived a very lonely life and that many of the Master's followers are also required to spend much time alone. Some of our great authors have written their masterpieces while alone in prison. For example we have John Bunyan. But we do not have to be secluded from our fellow-men to live a lonely life. We may be in the midst of a crowd and yet be lonely, due to the fact that we are strangers in a strange land. It is the duty of all Leaguers to help others overcome this feeling when they come to our town and try to make them feel that they have come among friends. Miss Ruth Coulter gave a much appreciated reading, which added greatly to the program. Mr. C. McConnell occupied the chair.

There will be no meeting next Monday night on account of the Celebration.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A BIG EVENT

The presentation of the greatest of all Reel Pictures, "Silver Threads Among The Gold," on July 14th and 15th, matinee and night show, will be a big event at the popular Gem Theatre. There will also be an unusually good vaudeville act by Morrison and Clifton, who will appear in their own comedy sketch. You should hear John Morrison, the golden voiced tenor, sing "Silver Threads."

The usual crush at the ticket booth was avoided by arming a number of members of the Committee with tickets and stationing them at intervals along the drive between 4th Avenue and the grounds. In this way the crowd was handled expeditiously and without aggravating delays.

NEW METHODIST MINISTER

Rev. H. L. Partridge, the new pastor of the Orangeville Methodist Church, took both services last Sabbath and created an excellent impression in his opening sermons, which were heard by large and appreciative congregations. Mr. Partridge and family moved to town last week and are just getting comfortably settled in the Parsonage on First Ave. We extend them a hearty welcome to Orangeville and trust that Mr. Partridge's pastorate may be successful and fruitful of much good.

THE MAPLES.

The rain interfered with, but did not spoil the success of the Women's Institute garden party at The Maples on Friday night. A large crowd gathered, when the weather flaired up shortly before nightfall, and the advertised program was proceded with. Before it was completed rain again began to fall quite heavily, making it necessary to bring the entertainment to a close somewhat earlier than had been planned. Rev. W. M. Morris occupied the chair and a delightful program was provided by Joe Williams, the well-known English comedian, Cecil Menary, whose humorous songs made quite a hit, Miss Goodall, of Belwood, a talented soloist, and T. K. Slack, M. L. A., who spoke briefly toward the close of the program. Williams gave four or five numbers and was given an exceedingly appreciative hearing. His selections displayed good judgment and showed that he possessed real ability as an entertainer. He will be welcome at The Maples at any time. Misses Browne, Orangeville, and Simpson, The Maples, were the accompanists.

Rev. G. W. Lynd,

Dear Mr. Lynd:

We, the members of Relessey Methodist church and Epworth League, have come this evening to try and express in a small measure our gratitude to you for the deep spiritual interest and never tiring zeal you have kept up amongst us for the past three years as pastor and leader. We will ever look back upon the three years just past with fond remembrance of the pleasant meetings and spiritual influence you have conducted among us. We deeply regret that you are leaving our midst, but we realize, that which is our loss is another's gain. We ask you to kindly accept this sum of money, not for its material value, but as a small token of our love and godwill, and as an expression of our appreciation of your services. We assure you that you and Mrs. Lynd and children have our earnest prayers and sincere wishes for your future prosperity in your new field of labor for the Master.

Signed on behalf of the Relessey Epworth League.

LAUREL

On Wednesday evening, June 30th, Rev. Prof. E. A. Wicher, D. D., of San Francisco Theological Seminary, lectured in the Presbyterian Church here on the closing campaign of General Allenby in Palestine. It is now more than twenty years since Dr. Wicher preached his first sermon in the church in which he lectured. He is still remembered from his student days by both Presbyterians and Methodists and a large congregation was present to hear his excellent address. The distinguished visitor spent the day and evening very pleasantly renewing old acquaintances here. Dr. Wicher has been for fifteen years Robert Dollard Professor of New Testament Interpretation in one of the great Theological Colleges of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. Our visitor was the fraternal delegate of the General Assembly of his Church to the Canadian General Assembly and is preaching in Deer Park and St. Andrew's Churches in Toronto before leaving Ontario. He was a Chaplain in the United States Army in France and was sent from there to Egypt and Palestine to lecture to the American troops there.

THE DEAGLE CASES

The preliminary hearing of the Lehrbass vs. Deagle charges took place before Magistrates Crawford and Jackson in the Brampton Police Court on Monday. On the charge of assault occassioning bodily harm J. M. Deagle was committed to stand his trial at the General Sessions of the Peace in Brampton on December 14th. Defendant was granted bail, being bound over for $1,000 to appear for trial. The charge preferred against Mrs. Deagle of receiving about $1,700 knowing the money to have been stolen was dismissed, there being no evidence to show that Mrs. Deagle had the missing money or had been guilty of any wrongdoing. In view of the lack of evidence against Mrs. Deagle her arrest looks like a high-handed proceeding. A woman should not be subjected to an indignity of this sort unless there is evidence that she has been guilty of some serious offence. Mr. A. A. Hughson acted for the defence.

The director, Pierce Kingsley, also has written the story. The scenario shifts from country to city scenes and these have been selected in localities of real picturesqueness and interest. HOW TO OVERCOME NERVOUS TROUBLES

A Returned Soldier Tells How He Regained Health and Strength.

Nervous troubles of all kinds, particularly nervous debility, work a remarkable transformation in the patient. The change is both physical and mental. The sufferer loses weight and strength, and frequently becomes irritable and fault finding. Troubles that were once thrown off without any difficulty assume exaggerated proportions. Other symptoms of this nervous condition are poor appetite, headaches, exhaustion after little effort, and frequently distress after meals.

The cause of this debility is generally starved nerves. The blood, which gives the nervous system its food and power to work efficiently, has become thin and weak and until the blood regains its tone and strength there can be no improvement in the condition of the nerves. In cases of this kind Dr. Williams Pink Pills will be found the very best medicine. They make rich, red blood which feeds and strengthens the starved nerves, and in this way restores the sufferer to full health and strength. Proof of this is found in the case of Mr. Fred Sander, London Ont., who says: "While on service with the Imperial forces in Africa I completely lost my health through continual hardship and shock. I was sent back to the base hospital suffering, so the doctor said, from nervous debility. After spending some time in the hospital I was invalided back to England as unfit for further service. After spending a long time in Netley Hospital, I was given my discharge, but was still a weak and nervous wreck, absolutely unfit for work. I had neither the strength nor ambition to do anything. In London, I doctored for three or four months with a civilian doctor, who finally advised a change of climate. I was terribly nervous, suffered from sleeplessness, smothering and sinking spells, and pains in the heart; my hands and feet were always cold and clammy. At this time I decided to come to Canada, and shortly after reaching this country was advised to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills. After I had taken the pills for some weeks I found myself improving. I continued taking the pills for several months with the result that they fully restored my health. My nerves are now as steady as a rock; my appetite the best, and my eyes and skin, which had turned yellowish, are clear and healthy looking. I feel like a new man in every way, and fit for anything. I have since recommended the pills to several friends, and know of several cases where they were beneficial in the influenza epidemic. I am of the opinion that should any of my returned soldier comrades use Dr. Williams Pink Pills for shell shock, they would be a great help to them."

You can get Dr. Williams Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

On the eve of the departure of Rev. E. R. Young and family for their new field of labor, members of the W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Henderson and presented Mrs. Young, who has been President of the Union here for several years, with a piece of silverware as a slight token of their appreciation of her loyal and devoted service in the work of the Society. Mrs. Chas. King and Mrs. B. McGuire made the presentation. Mrs. King expressed the regret felt by all the members at the loss they are sustaining through the removal of a very efficient leader. After thanking the ladies for this proof of their esteem Mrs. Young advised that no time should be lost in filling the vacancy. It is hoped that a President will be appointed soon and that when the Union next meets, which will not be until September, there will be a strong rally of the forces interested in the temperance cause. All interested in this great cause are welcome at the meetings of the Union.

An Invitation to Talking-Machine Manufacturers

"We are informed that the representatives of one or more talking-machine manufacturers have stated, on several occasions, that they are able to distinguish between a singer's voice, or instrumentalist's performance, and the New Edison's RE-CREATION of such voice or performance."

"We hereby invite responsible representatives of any reputable talking-machine manufacturer to permit themselves to be blindfolded, and to listen to such a comparison, in the presence of judges of their own choosing, indicating to the judges when they think they are listening to the artist, and when to the New Edison. There is only one condition attached, and that is—that the representatives of the talking-machine company, and the judges selected by them, shall sign a written statement, setting forth, in full detail, the results of the test."

"The test will be made with an Official Laboratory Model, taken from stock, such as can be bought in any Edison dealer's store."

(signed)
THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc.

We have it in our store—the Official Laboratory Model specified in the challenge.

Read the "Invitation to Talking-Machine Manufacturers." It's printed here, just as the Edison Laboratories sent it out.

The NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph with a Soul"

The Official Laboratory Model has proved its Realism in 4000 Comparison Tests, made before 3,500,000 people all over the United States and Canada. For instance, in Los Angeles recently, an audience of 1,500 people was unable to tell the difference between the living voice of Miss Marie Morrisey, world-famous contralto, and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison.

There's a way for you to test the wonderful Realism claimed for the Official Laboratory Model in this sweeping challenge. We give Mr. Edison's Realism Test. Come in and let us give it to you.

The price of the new Edison has advanced less than 15% since August 1, 1914. Mr. Edison has absorbed the bulk of the increased cost of material, skilled labor, and taxes. He is determined to keep the New Edison within the reach of everyone. But conditions may force a price-advance. Buy your New Edison now! Our Budget Plan makes it easy. It is system applied to spending. Ask about it.

Constipation Cured By Christian Science

Seventy five people out of one hundred can be cured by Christian Science methods, which proves the great power of the Mind over the Digestive Apparatus and the frequency of Nervousness as a cause of Constipation.

When these methods fail Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills are recommended. They are purely vegetable and do not Gripe or Irritate; many people have found them excellent for Headache, Dizziness, Bad Breath, Coated Tongue, Loss of Appetite, Indigestion, Gas on the Stomach, and many other evils that are due to Constipation.

Where there is Extreme Nervousness and you are "all run down" and "tire easily" it would be just as well to take Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy along with these Pills. This combination goes well together and restores the good health of your younger days. The Heart action becomes normal, the Nerves take on new Life, Power and Vigor and the "human machine" becomes full of "pep" and vitality.

If you are tired of sickness and have lost the Power, Ability and Nerve Force to do your daily work and your Nerves are all Shattered just give these two Remedies a trial and we will positively guarantee beneficial results. Go to your dealer to-day and ask for Hacking's, and do not take any other kind for If you do you will be fooled right at the start and you will not get the results that we guarantee. Hacking's Limited Listowel.

A VERY SAD DEATH

The tragically sudden death of Mrs. John McFadzean on Thursday evening last created a wide wave of sorrow and sympathy for the distracted husband and his little family. While Mrs. McFadzean had been in rather poor health for some time, she had improved so much of late as to add encouragement and hope, and had completed arrangements to start on a trip to the West this week. On Thursday she managed the ordinary household duties, baked bread, and just after supper, suddenly collapsed from heart failure and before a doctor arrived the vital spark had fled. Her death is a striking example of ing what a Higher influence may de may plan for to-morrow, not knowthe uncertainty of life. To-day we ree. The blow is an unusually hard one for the husband, between whom and his wife the tenderest and sympathet confidences existed, and more so because of the death of the only daughter of the home, last fall. Mrs. McFadzean's maiden name was Susan Ann Mann, second daughter of the late John Mann, of East Garafraxa, and she possessed many traits of character and womanly virtues, that endeared her not only to those of her home, but to her friends and casual acquaintances. Kindly considerate of others, devoted to her own home, she filled in many ways the difficult role of wife, mother and wise counsellor to the young people. The funeral service took place on Sunday afternoon, the interment taking place in Greenwood Cemetery on Tuesday, members of the family connection not being able to get here earlier. The sympathy and sorrow of the community goes out to the family in their new trouble and great bereavement.—Star & Vidette.

WOULD TRY IT.

An Alabama darky, who prided himself on being able to play any tune on the banjo after he had heard it once, perched himself on the side of a hill one Sunday morning and began to pick the strings in a workmanlike manner. It chanced that the minister came along.

Going up to Moses, de demanded harshly, "Moses, do you know the Ten Commandments?"

Moses scratched his chin for a moment and then in an equally harsh voice, said:

"Parson, yo' don't think yo' kin beat me, do yo'? Jest yo whistle the first three or four bars, and I'll have a try at it."

MEAN EMPLOYER.

"Enery," observed Bill 'Awkins, "I 'ear as yer got a job."

"Yes,' answered the sad 'Enery, "I 'ave got a job."

"Yer don't appear very 'appy about it, do yer??" asked Bill. "Ain't yer foreman a decent cove, then?"

"Oh! 'E's a mean, low-minded feller!" cried the outraged 'Enery. "'E's a dirty dorg, 'e is. Got 'Un like notions as 'ow gents like me should be treated. F'r instance, would yer believe it, 'e actually took the legs off the wheel-barrers so as a cove can't sit down an' rest? Oh, 'e's a mean dorg!"

SANDY'S DISCOVERY.

One of Sir Thomas Lipton's favorite stories concerns an old Scotchman, who went to a horse race for the first time and was induced to stake a sixpence in the third race on a forty to one shot. By some miracle this horse won, and when the bookmaker handed the old man his winnings he could hardly believe his eyes.

"Dae ye mean to tell me I get all this for ma sixpence?" he exclaimed.

"You do," replied the bookmaker.

"Ma conscience," muttered the Scotchman, "Tell me, mon, how long has this thing been goin on?"

DO FIGURES LIE?

An Irishman was working for a Dutchman, and wanted a raise in wages. Said the Dutchman:

"Pat, if you are worth it, I will give it to you; but listen, Pat, You know there are 365 days in the year?"

"Yes," said Pat.

"Now, you sleep eight hours each day, that equals 122 days you sleep. Figures don't lie, Pat. Take that off 365 days and you have left only 243 days."

"Yes," said Pat.

"Now, Pat, you have eight hours for meditation and devotion. That is equal to 122 days. Now take that off 243 days and you have 121 days left. Then there are 52 Sundays in the year. You must take that off, for you don't work on Sundays, so that leaves you 69 days.

"You know you always take 14 days vacation each year."

"Yes," said Pat.

"That leaves 55 days. Now, Pat, there are 52 Saturday half-holidays in the year. You know you don't work on Saturday afternoons?

"That makes 26 days. Now take that off and it leaves 29 days. Now, Pat you had about two hours for meals each day?"

"Yes," said Pat.

"That equals 28 days. Now, you must take that off. That leaves one day, and figures don't lie, Pat!"

"Now, Pat, you know I always let you off every St. Patrick's Day. Now, Pat, I want to ask you do you think you are worth a raise?"

Said Pat: "What on earth have I been doing all this time?"

STEER BY THE STAR

A very interesting and suggestive story is being told of a Christian sea captain who was ill at sea. A great storm fell upon the sea. A great feeble strength of the sick captain was not able to hold the wheel. When he relinquished the wheel to the mate he told him solemnly to "steer by the star" and he would safely reach the shore. He meant a heavenly star, but he had in his word also an advice for the youth so that his soul might safely reach its heavenly port. The young man steered by the star, and he did bring his ship in safety to the haven; but more, he determined to steer his soul by the Star of Bethlehem, and so he assured of perfect safety when life's storms were upon the sea.

It was good advice the old sailor gave the youth, and it is good advice for all of us. There are stormy days. We need a fixed star to guide our ship safely over the restless, heaving seas. Steer by the Star of Bethlehem! He will guide us safely into port, and no storm can dim the lustre of His shining.—Selected.

GRAINGER—BUTCHER

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Butcher, Melancthon, on Wednesday afternoon, June 23rd, at 2 o'clock, when their daughter, Cora, became the bride of Mr. Joe. Grainger, of Honeywood. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Black, of Horning's Mills, under an arch of evergreens decorated with snowballs. The bride, who was unattended, wore a simple gown of white georgette and crepe-de-chene, and was given away by her father. The wedding music was played by Miss Maude Smith. After congratulations and luncheon the happy couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes on a motor trip to Toronto, Woodstock and Oakville. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful silver service and to the pianiste an ivory manicure set. About eighty guests were present for the wedding, those from a distance being: Dr. Butcher, Mr. John Butcher, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Grainger, Creemore; Mr. Lewis Haynes, St. Catharines; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hudd, Mrs. Meade Cruikshank, Orangeville; Mr. Abe Grainger, Miss Kate Farnell, and Mrs. Hare, Toronto.—Economist.

TRUTHS BY "BILLY" SUNDAY.

In doing God's work we must follow God's order, not our own.

Christianity does not consist of a certificate of church membership.

God's plan of salvation is by the shed blood of Jesus Christ, and you can't change it.

The man that magnifies God's Word in his preaching is the man that God will honor.

A revival is the normal condition of the Church. The lack of a revival is abnormal.

If the saloon is not a good place for a boy, it is not a good place for that boy's father.

Knockers do not advance the Kingdom of God. You can't saw wood with a hammer.

If you and I do not do the work God has given us to do, He will not send the angels to do it.

Cut out Pentecost, Paul, Peter and John from history, and civilization would not have enough left for a rummage sale.

Don't look for the easy thing to do for the Lord. He will not bless the doing of what is easy, if you refuse to do what He wants you to do because it is hard.

There are two ways of becoming rich: either by adding to your wealth so that you can buy all you want, or by reducing your wants so that your wealth will meet them.

Eggs are not the only things that are given added life and power by being brooded over. If we want to enlarge and multiply everything unpleasant in that which has offended us, brooding over it will do it.

THE POPE WITH THE SINN FEIN

It ought to be manifest now to everyone who cares to consider the matter that the Pope has deliberately taken the side of the Sinn Feiners against the British Government. There was a demonstration in favour of the Irish rebels in connection with the "beatification" of Oliver Plunkett, which must have received papal approval, as otherwise it could not have been held. But that was not all. Reports have come of the parting addresses which the Pope gave to Cardinal Logue and others, and they contain neither censure nor regret for the state of affairs in Ireland. On the contrary, they seem to have expressed nothing but praise for the people of that "most faithful island." Moreover, the Pope also uttered the hope that the advocacy and intercession of the "blessed Oliver," now "raised to glory," would be effectual in gaining such help from above would secure for Ireland what "she legitimately longs for," and that in plain language was intended to signify the triumph of Sinn Fein. But the triumph of Sinn Fein would mean the defeat of Great Britain and the practical downfall of her Empire. It would signify the loss of that for which millions of the lives of her noblest sons have been freely sacrificed. Surely our statesmen cannot be blind to the realities of the situation, and yet they continue to treat our arch-enemy as a friend and persist in maintaining a Romish envoy at the Vatican in violation of the constitution and fundamental interests of this realm. Christian patriots ought never to cease their efforts for the recall of this mischievous mission.—The English Churchman.

GETTING ROUND PA.

"I am awfully sorry papa," said Bobby, "to think how much trouble I give mamma."

"She hasn't complained, has she?"

"No, she's very patient. But she often sends me to the shops for things, and they are a good way off and I know she gets cross waiting when she's in a hurry."

"Not often, I fancy."

"Oh, she's nearly always in a hurry. She gets everything all ready for the baking, and finds at the last moment she has not any yeast, or something, and then she's in an awful fright, and I can't run a long distance, you know, and—I feel awfully sorry for poor mamma."

"Humph! Well, what can we do about it?"

"I was thinking, papa, that perhaps you might get me a bicycle."

If You Have High Blood Pressure You Must Be Careful

When the Blood Pressure is much above normal there is always the danger of rupture of a blood vessel, most frequently in the Brain and producing a stroke, or in the Kidneys, producing Bright's Disease. One should guard against over-exertion or excitement and take to dissolve the Uric Acid deposits that form in the Veins and Arteries, making them hard and brittle. This remedy is a wonder; it builds up the entire system by Purifying the Blood. Strengthening the Heart and by producing a normal and healthy condition of the Nerves.

Mrs. Wm. Morley, of Palmerston, used quite a number of boxes of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and they benefitted her so much and she was so pleased with them that she recommends them to all her friends who have this trouble or who are all run down and Nervous. She says "you must be sure to get Hacking's."

Constipation is one of the aggravating causes of High Blood Pressure and it is advisable to use Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills to drive out the Poisons that generate in the system. These two preparations go well together and you should buy a few boxes from your dealer to-day. Hacking's Limited, Listowel, Ont.

A STRONG TONIC.

"Is this tonic intoxicating?"

"A customer drank a bottle yesterday, replied the truthful druggist—"only one bottle mind you—then jumped into his fliver, drove madly to the top of Red Mountain and shouted 'Glory halleluiah' so loudly he could be heard the length and breadth of Jones valley."

"I'll take two bottles."

BUT HE MADE THE ENDS MEET.

He had been tramping for hours and not once had he passed a place where he could refresh himself. At last as the sun was sinking he arrived at an old inn. When the waiter brought his order, he looked at it and then at the waiter, remarking: "Is this the best you can do in the way of sausage?"

"Why? Isn't it good?" said the surprised waiter.

"Good?" repeated the hungry tourist. "Oh, yes, it looks good, but the ends don't suit me."

"The ends?" said the waiter, further perplexed. "What's the matter with them?"

"Not far enough apart," was the reply. The waiter had no more to say.

OUT OF FOCUS.

"How did you come to be lying there in the gutter?" demanded the policeman severely.

"It's alright," replied the inebriated one. "I jus' happened to walk between two lamp-posts and leaned against the wrong one."

A CANADIAN NATIONAL SONG

The words and music of this song are by Isabel Scott Jackson, wife of Rev. H. W. Jackson, of the Baptist Church of Almonte. The song has become well known. It has been sung by a choir of one thousand voices in Massey Hall, Toronto, with the Grenadier Guards band as the orchestra. The words are appropriate for Dominion Day.

Domfnion that lies from sea to sea,
Wonderful, beautiful, vast and free.
Heroes the people that hold thee must be,
God bless thee, God mould thee, His Nation to be.
Canada, Canada.

Daughter of Britain, so fair, so strong,
Refuge where weak ones may outgrow the wrong
Strangers adopted as sons ere long live,
To every man justice may Canada give.
Canada, Canada.

May brotherhood bind us from shore to shore,
And neighborly kindness grow more and more.
May shams disappear and Reality stand,
For righteousnous sake in our glorious land.
Canada, Canada.

Lakes and great rivers reflect the clear sky,
Steeples of cedar and pine point on high.
Pitiless prairies pour forth golden grain,
And wailing winds bring us new life in their train.
Canada, Canada.

O'er mountain and canon, o'er plateau and plain
Ocean to Ocean we hail thee again.
Canada! Canada! glorious, free,
God bless thee, God mould thee Nation to be.
Canada, Canada.

RANEY INTERPRETS LAWS ON LIQUOR

Onus of Proof on Defendant if Liquor Found in Private House.

The amendment to section 58 of the Ontario Temperance Act, which came into force on June 4 last is called to the attention of Ontario police magistrates in a letter written to them by Attorney-General Raney last week. The attorney-general interprets sections 85 and 88 with regard to the court procedure where liquor has been found in a private dwelling house and quotes section 97 with regard to second and third offences under the act.

The letter to the police magistrates, a copy of which was handed to the press, reads as follows:—

"Dear Sir: In view of the gross violations of the Ontario Temperance Act which are being constantly reported from certain parts of the province, I desire to call the attention of magistrates generally to the amendment to section 58 of the Ontario Temperance Act which came into force on the 4th of June last, whereby the maximum penalty for a first offence for the having of liquor in possession otherwise than in a private dwelling house, and for the other offences covered by section 58, was increased from $1000 to $2000, with imprisonment to be added in the discretion of the convicting magistrate. The amending section reads as follows:

"58 (2) Notwithstanding anything contained in subsection 1 of this section a minimum penalty of $100 and costs may be imposed for an offence under clause 2 of subsection 1 of section 41 of the said act, and in addition thereto imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months and the maximum penalty for any other offence under section 40 or 41, shall be $2,000 and costs, and in addition thereto imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months for the first offence; the imprisonment in both cases being in the discretion of the convicting magistrate, and subject thereto the provisions of the said section 58 are confirmed.

"Another matter to which I think I ought to refer is the general impression which I find exists that upon it being made to appear to the court that the place where the liquor has been found is a private dwelling house a complete defence has been made out. This is not necessarily so. In a case, for instance, of a charge for keeping liquor for sale, where the liquor has been found in the private house of the defendant, the burden of proof that the liquor was not kept for sale is, by sections 85 and 88, cast upon the defendant, and unless he discharges that burden to the satisfaction of the magistrate, he may and ought to be convicted. It is for the magistrate to decide in each case the amount of credance to be given to evidence which is submitted to him to establish that the liquor was being kept for legitimate purposes.

"A third point which I desire to mention is a representation which is made to me that in cases of second and third offences charges are sometimes laid as for a first offence. The inspector who, knowing of a previous offence, lays the information as for a first offence is himself guilty of an offence (see section 97) and a magistrate who knowingly tries a case under such information is a party to the offence.

"In the event of such a charge being laid before you and the fact of a previous conviction coming to your knowledge, it will be your duty to require the information to be amended so as to make it conform to the facts. If in any particular case there are in your view reasons for mitigation of the penalty, that will be a matter for representation by you, after you have imposed the penalty, to the lieutenant-governor-in-council.

"In order that you may have the new statute before you I enclose a copy of the bill as it passed its third reading and received the royal assent."

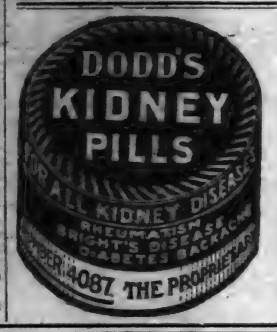
SECOND THOUGHTS

Father was standing before the fire and lecturing his son and heir on the necessity for thinking twice before speaking once.

"Father!" exclaimed the boy, in the middle of it.

The "old man" held up a warning finger. "Think again before you speak, and then I will answer you."

The boy pondered for fully 5 minutes, and then said: "Father, I have thought twice, and now I am quite convinced that your coat-tails are on fire."



FATHER WAS SAFE

"Two men got into a fight in front of the bank to-day," said a man at the family table, "and I tell you it looked pretty bad for one of them. The big one seized a huge stick and brandished it. I felt that he was going to knock the other's brains out, and I jumped in between them."

The family had listened with rapt attention, and as he paused in his narrative the young heir, whose respect for his father's bravery is immeasureable, proudly remarked:

"He couldn't knock any brains out of you, could he father?"

LUNDY–GILES

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Giles, Caledon, was the scene of a quiet but very pretty wedding at 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, June 29th, when their daughter, Viola Louise, was united in marriage to D. J. Lundy, also of Caledon. Rev. Mr. Lockhart, pastor of St. Andrew's church, Caledon, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in a dress of white silk and georgette trimmed with pearls, and carried a bouquet of carnations and sweet peas. After a delightful wedding luncheon, the bridal couple left by motor for Hamilton and other points. The bride travelled in a suit of navy blue serge and black hat. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Lundy will reside on the groom's farm, first line, west, Caledon. The young couple, who are both held in high esteem, were the recipients of a large number of beautiful wedding gifts.

BERNEY–RICHMOND

"Spruce Lodge," the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Richmond, Rockside, Ont., was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, June 23rd, when their daughter, Beatrice, was united in marriage to Harold K. Berney, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Berney, of Caledon East. Rev. Mr. Waddell, of Cheltenham, conducted the ceremony on the lawn under an arch of evergreens and syringa. The bride, who was given away by her father, was unattended, and wore a pretty suit of navy serge and dainty blouse of maize georgette with her lace hat, and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. Miss Irene Fry, of Kurtzville, Ont., played the wedding music and Miss Nellie Richmond, sister of the bride, sang during the signing of the register. Following the wedding a reception was held, when the newly married couple were showered with confetti. The happy pair left on a motor trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, and on their return will likely make their home in Caledon East.

BELL–MORRIS

A pretty wedding took place at Bonar Church, Toronto, on Wednesday, June 30, when Dolly, youngest daughter of the late George and Mrs. Morris, of Alton, became the bride of Ross G. Bell, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Bell, of Belleville. Dr. A. McGillivray officiated. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. Wesley Lane, and wore her travelling suit of navy serge with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. Miss Gertrude Goderham, of Toronto, acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Wilson Bell as best man. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace, to the bridesmaid a cameo brooch and to the best man a gold vestogram. After the wedding the happy couple left on a trip to Alton, Belleville and other points. They will reside at 397 St. Clarens Ave., Toronto.

MISS MAMIE NESBITT

We sorrow in regarding the death of Miss Mamie Nesbitt, daughter of the late J. J. Nesbitt and Mrs. Nesbitt, of Caledon, on the 25th day of June.

At the age of 28 she closed her eyes to sleep till God shall waken His sleeping ones. Then this long night of weeping shall give place to the morning of joy.

She had suffered quietly and unobservedly, save to the dear ones at home, for a number of years. Her death was a complete surprise even to the attending physicians. Her family doctor assured her in good faith that the operation was a minor one. Her lifeless form arrived on the C. P. R. from Toronto Saturday morning. The remainder of the day and all Sunday saw well nigh a continuous stream, of loved ones, friends and neighbors, who came to weep with those who wept. Two years ago her father died, and now sorrow's wounds have been opened afresh to a weeping mother and two brothers.

She was a devoted member of the Methodist church and League, of which she was also organist.

Her ability was appreciated by the community at large. She was lady director of the Caledon Agricultural Society; past President of the Women's Institute; a member of the Swastika Club; also an active member of the Caledon Dramatic Club, at many of whose public entertainments she very deservedly received much praise. Her sympathetic nature responded with fervor to the work of the Red Cross during the war.

Captain J. F. G. Morris, her pastor, assisted by Mr. Burkholder, pastor of the Presbyterian church, conducted the funeral service at the home. Over a hundred autos and vehicles formed the funeral cortege. Messrs. Wm. and Elgin Faulkner, Samuel and Fraser Warnock, Ernest Stuckey and Homer Hillyard were the pallbearers.

Among the floral offerings were the following: sprays from Miss Johnston, Miss Hullwort, Louise Laughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Rait, Misses Mabel and Ethel Wanless, Duncan Wanless, Misses Alma and Lillian Faulkner, Uncle Robert Nesbitt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cruikshank, Mrs. Johnston and Frank, Mr. and Mrs. R. Nunn, Irene Gibson, Mrs. Elizabeth Clarke and family, Misses Mary and Jessie and Robert McFarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Cowley and family; wreaths from the family, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas, James and Homer Hillyard, R. J. and Alf Galbraith; "Niece" from Jas., John and Wm. Warnock, Board of Managers Caledon Agricultural Sotiety, Harold Stuckey, Mr. and Mrs. R. Johnston, Women's Institute, Angus and Mary McLeod, Swastika Club; "Gates Ajar" design from the Methodist Church and League.

Mr. Burkholder called attention at the funeral service to his being in the city just before the operation and calling upon Miss Nesbitt at the hospital. At her request he read to her the 90th Psalm, "Lord Thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations." Well, the Father will not forget his sleeping child. "I shall be satisfied when I awake in Thy likeness." Meanwhile her resting place is in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Orangeville, in the family plot, till the time of the resurrection when the earth shall cast out her dead like the dew of the morning and

God's kind hand shall wipe the tears
From every weeping eye,
And pains and groans and griefs and fears
And death itself shall die.

There the child shall find her mother,
There the mother find her child,
There dear families shall be gathered
That were scattered on the wild.

Till then, farewell! "With us who wait, O Lord abide, abide with us."

ARLOW–LYNESS

The marriage of Miss Libbie Lyness, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lyness, to Mr. Harry Arlow, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Arlow, all of Mono Mills, was quietly solemnized by the Rev. J. D. Morrow at his residence, Harbord St., Toronto, at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, June 16th. The bride wore a navy blue broadcloth suit with white hat to match and was attended by her friend, Miss Myrtle Wythe, who was dressed in a sand tricolette suit and black hat. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Percy Arlow. After the ceremony a dainty wedding repast was served at the home of friends of the bride, after which the young couple left on a short motor trip. Their numerous friends join in extending hearty congratulations and good wishes.

MOTION DISMISSED

Order dismissing motion, with costs in cause to plaintiffs, but that defendants through liquidators be at liberty with the approval of the master in chambers to pledge the assets that were of the company as security for costs of litigation and the townships to remove any obstacles on their part to the company doing so. HYDRO RATES INCREASED

The Orangeville Hydro Commission has been notified by the Provincial Commission of an advance to $55.00 per h. p. in the charge for power supplied to the town of Orangeville. The Commission recommends the adoption of a new schedule of rates to consumers on account of the increase in the rate. The text of the communication is as follows:

Dr. G. H. Campbell,
Secty. Hydro Commission,
Orangeville, Ont.

Dear Sir:—

I am instructed by the Commission to advise you that after investigating the operating conditions of your system during the past year, it has been decided that your municipality will be billed for power at the rate of $55.00 per h. p. per year commencing January 1st, 1920, and also that beginning June 1st, 1920, your commission shall adopt the following schedule of rates for consumers supplied from your system:—

Domestic Lighting—No change except that minimum net monthly bill shall be $1.00.

Commercial Lighting—No change except that minimum net monthly bill shall be $1.00.

Power—No change.

Street Lighting—250 watt lamps, $30.00 per year; 100 watt lamps, $24.00 per year.

Yours truly,
W. W. POPE,
Secretary.

Our readers will notice that the only change in the rates for domestic and commercial lighting is in the minimum monthly charge, which is now fixed at $1.00. This means that all users must now pay at least $1.00 a month for their lighting. The chief increase is in the charge for street lighting, which will now cost the municipality a considerably larger sum than heretofore.

We understand that the increase in the charge for the power supplied by the Provincial Commission is due to the fact that Orangeville has not been using the amount of power that the municipality contracted to take. That it has not been able to use the amount of power called for by the contract has been due to the fact that quite a number of our citizens are still using the Deagle light and power. They have apparently failed to realize the fact that the Hydro is the property of the people and as such is entitled to the support of all light and power users in the municipality. As matters now stand the shortage will have to be made up by the municipality in higher charges for its street lighting. Other municipalities no larger that Orangeville are making a big success of the Hydro, because everybody is using the Hydro. If we are determined to maintain two lighting systems our citizens can count upon having to pay for the luxury.

FORD TURNED TURTLE

Mr. Morrow, the foreman with the C. P. The car turned turtle into the ditch and he had to be released from under the car. He was fortunate to escape with only his hand and leg slightly hurt. Another occupant was thrown out but escaped unhurt. One of the wheels of the car was thrown a considerable distance.—Peel Banner & Times.

Dick, Bella, Long Tom and the detective narrowly escape being crushed to death by the tree. Bullhead and the gang return to camp. By a clever ruse the gang capture Dick, Bella and Long Tom in a mine shaft. Dick and Tom are left in the shaft and two of the gang stand guard. Bella and the detective are taken back to the camp. Bella is tied and locked in one of the rooms of Bullhead's house. Dick and Tom escape from the mine when the guards go away. They head for the camp and find the detective in a tank of water. Dick makes his way to Bullhead's house and finds it guarded. He climbs a tree whose limbs overhang the cabin. When the gang leave to get breakfast at the cook shack, Dick drops to the roof quietly and tears away the shingles, and gets into the shack. He releases Bella and they try to escape by a rear window but find it guarded outside by a vicious dog. They decide to chance it by the front door. Just as they are about to leave the gang comes to the shack and Dick captures them one at a time as they enter. But the gang manage to get out and capture Dick and Bella again.

FRIENDSHIP

Friendship, is an elastic word, rather. It may be stretched to almost any length, and it can be contracted until it is unbelievably short and small. Like any rubber band, friendship can, of course, be stretched too far—stretched to the breaking point. But it's very hard to stretch the best sort of friendship so far.

I once knew of two boys who treasured between them the unbreakable sort of friendship. It began when they were little tots, just out of kindergarten, and went on through the years—through grammar school and high school and college. They had differences of opinion, very often; they had more than one squabble, more than one lapse of intimacy. But, even during those squabbles and lapses, they were always ready to champion each other against the whole of the outside world; always ready to fight for each other and to face punishment for each other.

The war came when they had been out of college for two years. It was quite a matter of course that they both enlisted in the same regiment and went to France upon the same transport. The war was an adventure to them—a quest, almost—and it was natural that they should seek the adventure, go upon the quest, together.

They came out of the strife quite miraculously unscathed. They had fought through the blood and powder mist of the Vesle; they had known the horror of the Argonne. They came back stronger comrades than ever—buddies.

Together, with their discharge chevrons red upon their sleeves they sought work. And they found it, strangely, in the same office—a branch of a great business. And they worked quite happily under the same chief—just as they had worked in the army under the same captain.

Everything would have gone quite smoothly, as it had always gone, if their chief had not fallen ill a year after their return. Everything would have adjusted itself if their chief had recovered from his illness. But he didn't.

His death left the two friends in charge of their branch of the great business—each a logical successor to a bigger job. Neither one was better qualified to hold it than the other one. And both of them wanted it desperately—wanted it because every real man with a man's pride wants to make good in his work.

For the first time a feeling of distrust began to grow between the two friends. For the first time they began to work furiously, each at his own task—to avoid confidences. For the first time their eyes failed to meet when they glanced at each other.

And then the presedent of the great business sent for them one morning. He did not send for them at the same time. He called one into his private office, and then, as that one left, he called in the other one.

When the second man came out of the private office he found the first man waiting for him. As he closed the door behind him, gently, their eyes met and the friendship that they had known, the memory of danger places that they had fought through together, was in the look that passed between them. And then the first one spoke.

"Old chap," he said, and his tone was a shade husky, for he had really wanted the job, "congratulations! You got the place, didn't you?"

The second man shook his head.

"No," he said simply, "I didn't."

The first man was startled out of his self-possession. He spoke before he thought.

"But," he stammered. "I recommended you for the place!"

The second man smiled, and one, seeing his smile, could not help feeling that friendship might, after all, be the most beautiful thing in the world.

"I know that you did," he said gently. "That's one of the reasons why I just handed in my resignation. The place belongs to you!"

Friendship may be the most elastic thing in the world. Some people do not realize the fact, but it can. It can be made to stretch past ambition, and around pride, and over personal vanities. It can be made to lighten the darkest pathway, to smooth out the roughest road. It can change almost unchangeable circumstances—it can break almost unbreakable troubles. It can be, after all, one of the most beautiful things in the world.

LUDEC WAS FORCED TO LIVE ON MILK

Could Eat Nothing Solid For Months —Tanlac Again Proves Merit.

"Tanlac has done for me in just a few days what I have been trying for five years to get other medicines to do," said Eugene Ludec, 1351 Logan Street, Montreal, Canada, an employee of the Columbus Rubber Co., Ltd., Montreal.

"For the past five years I had been in a badly run down, weakened condition. My appetite was very poor, and while I never dared to eat meat or any other solid food, but confined myself strictly to a milk diet, I suffered terribly from indigestion. After every meal I would bloat up with gas, my heart would palpitate dreadfully and I had awful cramps in the pit of my stomach. I suffered nearly always with severe headaches, which at times was so bad I could scarcely see, my eyes pained me so bad. I was so extremely restless at night I do not believe I ever slept more than two hours any night. My complexion was pale and sallow, my tongue was always coated and if I got the least bit hot I would break out all over with a rash.

"I had tried many different medicines but nothing ever did me any good until I began taking Tanlac. It seemed to be made especially for my case and I commenced to improve almost at once and gained five pounds by the time I had finished the first bottle. I have only taken two bottles so far, but even now I can eat all the meat or anything else I want without having the least sign of gas, palpitation or cramps and I have such a big appetite my meat and grocery bill has more than doubled. I sleep fine every night and have not had a headache since I started taking Tanlac. My complexion has cleared up to a good healthy color, my tongue is no longer coated and I never have a sign of rash. In fact, I am enjoying perfect health. I don't think there is another medicine that will compare with Tanlac and I am glad to have the opportunity to recommend it."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

Value in a cream separator depends upon the amount and the quality of service to be got out of it.

Because it lasts fifteen to twenty years, the De Laval is the most economical cream separator to buy. Considering its cleaner skimming, easier running, greater capacity and less cost for repairs, the price of the "cheapest" machine on the market is exorbitant in comparison.

EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION

Proceedings at Organization Meeting in Shelburne Last week

Probably one hundred people, a number of whom were ladies, attended the meeting held in the Shelburne Town Hall on Wednesday afternoon of last week for the purpose of organizing an Educational Association for the County of Dufferin. Mr. J. A. Marshall, ex-Reeve of Mono, acted as chairman and P. S. Inspector Liddy performed the duties of Secretary. The meting was called by Rev. W. M. Morris, Secretary of the Trustees Department of the Ontario Educational Association, who started proceedings by explaining the object of the meeting and the aims of the Educational Association that it was proposed to organize.

In his address Mr. Morris stated that the greatest handicap to educational progress in Ontario is the indifference on the part of the people toward school affairs. We had been in the habit of believing that our educational system is far in advance of any other in the world, whereas the most meagre survey of the present conditions discloses the fact that we are not achieving the results that might be attained. In the matter of school attendance there are three schools in Dufferin with an average attendance of five scholars each, two with an average of six, three with seven, two with eight, three with nine, ten with ten, and sixty with an average of sixteen or under. This is not an unusual situation, but a fair example of conditions all over Ontario. It is a question whether under these conditions the children of the county and Province are getting the best training for the duties of citizenship. Only ten per cent of the pupils pass the Entrance examination, and yet we maintain High Schools for the benefit of this very small minority of the children. Do the other ninety per cent. receive a training in literature that forms a a desire for and the habit of good reading, with the ability to read and discuss national problems in an intelligent manner. Should not High School advantages be brought within the reach of every child, and thus avoid the necessity of the children leaving home in their early years. Should the child of the country not have equal opportunity with the child of the town and city.

The Trustees' Association of Ontario, Mr. Morris explained, had undertaken to organize educational associations in every county or inspectorate of the province for the purpose of giving the people of any community opportunity to come together to discuss educational affairs. The idea was to let the people come together in conference on educational matters, to find their own solutions for problems that may arise, to make suggestions to the Government looking to the betterment of our educational system. Mr. Morris was sure that the Minister of Education would wecome any suggestions regarding any phase of public school affairs.

Mr. Campbell, Inspector of Public Schools in West York, spoke at some length on the subject of consolidated schools. This he said, was a question on which each person must do his own thinking and form his own opinions. It was a matter in which the people must move voluntarily. There must be no coercion. Mr. Campbell discussed the origin and growth of the consolidated school system and presented the arguments for and against this class of schools. He also outlined the requirements for these schools, and explained the Government grants, stating in the latter connection that the present Government had gone beyond expectations.

Mrs. A. C. Courtice, of the Toronto Board of Education, spoke on Home and School Clubs. Short addresses were given by John Best, M. P., T. K. Slack, M. L. A., and others. On motion of Rev. J. A. Black and Mr. Oliver Sproule, the meeting decided to organize an Educational Association for the County of Dufferin. Officers were subsequently elected as follows:—

Hon. Presidents—Inspector Liddy, John Best, M. P., T. K. Slack, M. L. A., and Warden Jeffers.

President—G R. McWhirter.

Secy.-Treas.—A. D. McKitrick.

Vice-Presidents — Orangeville, Mrs. W. H. Sproule; Shelburne, Mrs. J. A. Mills; Grand Valley, W. A. Wansborough; Mono, J. A. Marshall; Amaranth, Mrs. John Scott; Melancthon, James McCue; Mulmur, Geo. Best; East Garafraxa, M. McCormick; East Luther, Mrs. Lorenzo Crewson.

GARDEN PARTY AT HOCKLEY

St. James' Church, Hockley, will hold a big Garden Party on Friday evening, July 30th. John Kelly, of Toronto, the famous ventriloquist, and the popular Campbell orchestra, of Inglewood, have been secured for the evening. There will also be an excellent program of music and recitations by local talent and speeches by John Best, M. P., T. K. Slack, M. L. A., R. J. Evans, M. L. A., and the local clergymen. There is also a possibility that Premier Drury will be present and speak. Ice cream, fruit and other refreshments served at tent on the grounds. Admission, 40 cents; children, 25 cents.

BORN.

HAYWARD—At Terra Cotta, on Friday, July 2nd, 1920, to Mr. and Mrs. H. Hayward, a daughter.

WILLIAM E. YOUNG

The heartfelt sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Young, of Erin, in the loss of their son, William Earl, a fine young man of twenty years. Deceased was apparently in the full enjoyment of good health until a few months ago, when he commenced to fail and it was discovered that he had been stricken with a form of diabetes, which defied the best efforts of the attending physicians. The young man was highly thought of in his home neighborhood and his untimely demise has caused a feeling of deep gloom. Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, Wallace R. and Thos. D., and three sisters, Pearl, Hazel and Rose, all at home. There was a large attendance of sorrowing neighbors and friends at the funeral, which was held from the family residence, lot 26, 10th line, Erin, to Huxley Cemetery near Hillsburg, on Monday afternoon. Rev. Capt. F. C. Harper, of Hillsburg, was the officiating minister.

MRS. ISAIAH SHERMAN

The death has occurred of Margaret Jane Lockhart, wife of Mr. Isaiah Sherman, 279 St. John's Road, West Toronto. Deceased was a daughter of the late Matthew Lockhart, of Hockley, formerly of Stanton. There are left to mourn her loss her husband, three sons, John, of Vancouver, and Bert and Mervin, of West Toronto, and five daughters, Mrs. John Lamont, Rainey River, Mrs. W. J. Hunter, Toronto, Misses Maud, Vera and Hazel at home. Mrs. Andrew Ewing, Mono, Mrs. R. J. Moffatt, Hockley, and Mr. J. A. Lockhart, of Buffalo, are the surviving sisters and brother. The funeral which took place from her late residence, 279 St. John's Road, to Prospect Cemetery, on Friday, July 2nd, was largely attended. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. R. H. Bell, pastor of High Park Methodist church. A number of beautiful floral tributes bore testimony to the esteem and sorrow of the friends of the departed woman.

THE LATE ROBT. CURRY

In the death of Mr. Robert Curry, which occurred at his home, lot 10, 2nd line, on Thursday last the township of Amaranth has lost a useful and a public-spirited citizen. The end came after a painful illness of ten weeks' duration borne with cheerfulness, patience and true Christian fortitude. The late Mr. Curry was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Curry, early setlers of Amaranth, and was born 61 years ago on the farm across the corner from the place on which he died. Of a family of ten the only one to survive him is a sister, Mrs. Wilson Duke, of Toronto. A brother, Mrs. James Curry, a wealthy Toronto broker, passed away about two years ago.

Deceased was an active man, whose energy found outlet in various church, social and public activities. A member of the Presbyterian church he was an elder in Laurel Presbyterian church for a quarter of a century and Superintendent of the Sunday School for fourteen years. He served in the Amaranth Council for several terms and enjoyed the confidence of the ratepayers because of his honesty and sound judgment. He was a staunch member of the Orange Order, and had filled at one time and another the offices of Primary Lodge Master, District Master and County Master of Dufferin. He was also a charter member of Laurel Black Preceptory. As a neighbor deceased was kindly, obliging and honorable and because of these qualities was held in the highest respect. His lifetime was spent in Amaranth except for four years residence in Orangeville. While living here his wife, who was the only daughter of the late James Marshall, of Mono, died about four years ago. Besides the sister already mentioned, Mr. Curry is survived by a son and daughter, Mr. W. M. Curry, on the homestead in Amaranth, and Miss Birdie Curry, of Toronto. These have the sympathy of the community in the loss of a parent toward whom they entertained the truest filial affection.

There was an unusually large attendance at the funeral, which was held by motor to Greenwood Cemetery on Saturday afternoon. Revs. W. M. Morris, of Orangeville, and J. A. Reddon, of Laurel, conducted the services. Deceased was buried with Orange honors, a large number of the Orangeville and Laurel brethren being present in full regalia. The burial service of the Order was read over the open grave by Rev. W. M. Morris, W. M., of Aaron L. O. L. No. 427, Orangeville, and W. Bro. J. A Hughes, of Laurel, County Master of Dufferin. The pallbearers, all brother Orangemen, were John Bryan, S. Cruikshank and Herb Hughes, of L. O. L. No. 330, and E. H. Sproule, J. E. Smith and A. D. McKitrick, of L O. L. No. 427. There were many beautiful floral tributes, including a pillow from the family; cross, Laurel Black Preceptory; wreaths, L O. L. No. 427, Orangeville, J. Ross Curry, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Hicks, Pickering; Sprays, Mr. and Mrs. A. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Cruikshank, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Brown, Mrs. Robt. and Wm. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Grosskurth, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hughes; Mr. E. Sawtell, Montreal, and Rev. and Mrs. J. MacCrimmon, Milton.

MRS. JOHN DUDGEON

The death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robt. Fife, of Laurel, about nine o'clock on Monday night, July 12th, of Mrs. Rebecca Dudgeon, widow of the late John Dudgeon, of Amaranth. Deceased, who was 65 years and 4 months of age, passed away after three months' illness from an anaemic condition following a severe attack of the flu. Mrs. Dudgeon was born in Amaranth, being a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Irwin, of that township. She survived her husband by some 22 years and is herself survived by one son, Irwin Dudgeon, on the homestead, and two daughters, Mrs. Fife and Miss Jennie Dudgeon, of Laurel. Samuel Irwin, Battle Creek, Mich., John Irwin, in Dakota, Mrs. Fetterly, Swastika, and Mrs. Ferguson, Toronto, are the brothers and sisters still living. The late Mrs. Dudgeon was highly respected as a neighbor and her demise will be sincerely regretted by a large circle of friends. She was a member of Laurel Presbyterian Church. There was a large attendance of friends at the funeral to Greenwood Cemetery yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. A. Reddon, of Laurel, was the officiating minister.

JAMES MORTON

The death of James A. Morton, a member of the Mono Township Council for a number of years past, took place at his late residence, lot 11, con. 4, east, Mono, on Wednesday of last week. Deceased, who was 70 years of age, had been in very poor health since early last spring and his death was not unexpected. He suffered a severe breavement early last January through the death of his wife and grief over the loss of his partner in life's joys and trials undoubtedly contributed to hasten his own end. The late Mr. Morton was a native of the County of Peel, but had lived and farmed near Glencross for upwards of thirty years. He is survived by three sons, James, of Toronto, and Fred and Russell, of Mono. Deceased took a keen interest in public affairs and as a member of the Mono Council gave freely of his time and energy to the affairs of that municipality. He was a frequent contributor to the columns of the local press and when overtaken by his last illness was in the midst of a newspaper debate on the merits of consolidated schools. Although the weather was unfavorable there was quite a large attendance of friends and neighbors at the funeral, which was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Friday afternoon. Rev. Wm. Coutts, of Camilla, conducted the services and Reeve Moffatt and Councillor McNaughton, of the Mono Council, ex-Reeve J. A. Marshall, Township Clerk W. A. Henry, James Morton, one of the sons, and Mr. F. C. Island, of Orangeville, were the pallbearers.

Orangeville lost another well-known citizen last week in the person of Mr. Sam. C. Mossop, who passed away at his home on John St. late on Saturday evening after a short illness. Deceased was born in the Township of Toronto Gore 65 years ago, but came to Orangeville 38 years ago and has been in the service of the C. P. R. continuously since that time. He had been bridge foreman for a number of years. He is survived by his wife, Miss Ellen Matthews prior to marriage, and a family of three sons and two daughters. The latter are Mrs. T. J. Lackey, of Kingston, Harry and Jarvis, of Toronto, Mrs. Kenneth Matthews, of Orangeville, and Gordon at home. Mrs. David Pate, of Dundalk, Mrs. Amanda Rossall, of Rouleau, Sask., Mr. Wm. Mossop, of Regina, and Mr. Thos. Mossop, of Toronto, are the surviving brothers and sisters. Miss Mabel Gilmore, of Dundalk is a half sister and Mr. Harry Gilmore, of Orangeville, a half brother. Deceased was highly respected as a neighbor and also as an industrious, law-respecting citizen and his sudden demise has created general sympathy for the bereaved wife and family. There was a large attendance at the funeral, which was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. H. L. Partridge and Rev. W. M. Morris conducted the services at the house and grave. Deceased was a staunch member of L. O. L. No. 427 and was buried with the honors of his Order, Rev. W. M. Morris, W. M. of the Lodge, reading the burial service of the Society at the grave. The pallbearers, who were all members of the Bridge and Building department of the C. P. R., were Messrs. Allen Wilson, H. Ross, D. Wanless, Hiram Stinson, J. Gartley and J. M. Snell. A large number of beautiful floral tributes bore impressive testimony to the sorrow which the death had occasioned. These included a pillow from the family, wreaths from the brothers and sisters, C. While in East Garafraxa he took an active part in municipal and political matters, being a member of the council and a leading factor in the Liberal interests. For a number of years he has been greatly handicapped by failing eyesight the result of an accident, and was unable to read the newspapers, which to him proved a great trial. Shoe Manufacturers Advertising Campaign Temporarily Postponed

The Shoe Manufacturers' Association of Canada have found it necessary to postpone their advertising campaign on behalf of Made in Canada footwear for a month or so, due to the fact that their advertising literature has met with delay in printing, which delay, in turn, is due to the paper shortage under which Canada and the world at large is suffering. Details of this advertising are nearing completion, however, and advertisements will appear in this paper shortly.

SERVICE FOR ORANGEMEN

Rev. Samuel Lundie, of Grand Valley Addressed Local Lodges in St. Andrew's Church Sunday Morning.

Members of the two town Orange Lodges and a number of visiting brethren from neighboring Lodges attended divine service in St. Andrew's Church on Sunday morning. The brethren gathered at L. O. L. No. 427 Hall to the number of one hundred and marched to the church headed by the Orangeville Citizens' Band. The large auditorium of the church was filled to its full capacity. The brethren were addressed by Rev. Samuel Lundie, pastor of Knox Presbyterian Church, Grand Valley, who delivered an eloquent sermon from the text "The glorious liberty of the Church of God," Romans 8:21.

Life without liberty, said Mr. Lundie, by way of introduction would be a dreary waste and an unbearable burden. It was liberty that gave this life its lustre and its joy. The one glorious word, liberty, comprehended a free people, in a free country, enjoying freedom of thought, freedom of action and freedom of religion. The glorious liberty of the children of God was freedom through faith in the crucified Christ. If we do not have that freedom in our souls then the struggles of our forefathers to give us Protestant religion and a free Bible were all in vain.

Mr. Lundie, speaking with a first hand knowledge of conditions in Ireland, for he lived and was educated in that unhappy land, stated that the root trouble of Ireland is an absolute hatred of Protestantism and an absolute hatred of British rule. The speaker narrated some of the events leading up to the revolution which placed William of Orange on the throne of Great Britain, emphasizing particularly the terrible cruelties practiced on the Protestants of Ireland during the rebellion of 1641. He then drew a graphic word picture of the City of Derry and incidents in connection with the memorable siege of the Maiden City. It was to the successful defence of Derry that we owed our Protestantism, the open Bible and the free institutions that we enjoy today. The speaker said there were kings who were bad for their own age, but good for the ages to come. James was one of this class. By his tyranny and abuse of the kindly prerogatives he stirred up discontent and the widespread dissatisfaction that prepared the British people for the Revolution and assured the success of William of Orange, when he landed at Torbay at the head of his army. James believed in the divine right of Kings to rule any way they liked and while professing to be a Protestant was secretly determined to restore the Roman Catholic church to the grandeur, which it had enjoyed in England, Ireland and Scotland prior to reformation.

At the close of a glowing account of the successful defence and relief of Derry Mr. Lundie reminded his hearers that they could not take any credit for the heroism of their forefathers. They were right in remembering these great deeds with pride and thankfulness, but it was their part to maintain with equal courage the glorious rights and liberties won at such a cost. The struggles of the days of Derry and The Boyne gave Protestants the open Bible and saved them from a cunning priesthood. It was the duty of Protestants and members of the Orange Order to maintain those great privileges, to be big-hearted, broad and charitable and to cultivate a spirit of toleration toward those who saw and thought differently from them on religious matters.

THE HEARST PUBLICATIONS

Sir:—

Most of your readers know that these publications consist of a number of United States newspapers and magazines, owned or controlled by the nortorious William Randolph Hearst, an implacable enemy of everything British, whose supreme object in life is to bring about war between Great Britain and the United States, and thus destroy the British Empire; but few are familiar with their names. Hearst has been credited with having caused the Spanish-American War, and not only are his aims anti-Canadian and anti-British, but his business and newspaper methods are such as are not recognized by reputable journalists. Some of his periodicals in themselves are apparently harmless, but they all help to provide the sinews of war for the most diabolical newspaper campaign in the history of journalism. It is therefore important that every self-respecting Canadian should know the names of these journals and refuse to buy them or patronize them in any way.

Here is the list, as recently published by "Saturday Night." Paste it in your hat.

Daily and Sunday Newspapers—The New York American, The New York Evening Journal, The New York Deutsches Journal, The Chicago American, The Chicago Examiner, The San Francisco Examiner, The Los Angeles Examiner, The Boston American, The Boston Advertiser, The Atlanta Georgian.

Magazines—Cosmopolitan Magazine, Hearst's Magazine, Good Housekeeping, Harper's Bazaar, American Motor Magazine, American Motor Boating Magazine.

Hearst is also supposed to be a silent partner in "The Washington Times."

Yours truly,
J. A. V. PRESTON.

CANADA'S FUTURE

VITAL MATTERS INVOLVED IN DECISION OF CANADIAN ELECTORATE.

A Quebec Man States His Viewpoint on Questions of National Policy.

To the Editor:

Sir,—At the next general election, we shall have to choose a course for the future. That choice involves both external relations and the means by which we expect to pay our way. No more vital matters have ever depended on the result of any election. The more the voter informs himself and casts aside prejudices, the more likely he is to help in arriving at a sound and workable policy.

External circumstances and the play upon them of interests remote from ours have hitherto decided our destiny without our knowledge. The American Civil War, South African War and the World War are cases in point.

Most wars are made possible by some underlying condition so important that hostile interests prefer to stake everything rather than make concessions to opponents.

The Southern States exported cotton and were not manufacturing. The North was largely manufacturing and cheap freight carriers were not yet known. Cotton was the exportable cash crop that paid interest or debt and put the whole Union in funds in Europe for most purposes.

The South could live with free trade in Europe. It had a choice between that and free trade within the Union. The North had no such choice. With its vast system of unobstructed internal trade, there was no future before the North comparable with that promised by the Union. This promise time made good and incidentally showed that the South would have done better not to have elected for secession. At the time, however, the South thought it could separate without disadvantage and the North knew it could not let the South go. Except for this underlying circumstance, the war could not have happened, and the passions, politics, literature, eloquence and military glory of that epoch are best understood when it is borne in mind.

It was the Civil War and the way it ended that brought about Confederation. The end found France with an army in Mexico trying to set up an Empire under the auspices of Napoleon III. and Great Britain had one in Canada. There were in American minds grievances against both. The French in Mexico were a menace and a violation of the Monroe Doctrine. Against the English were claims for ships sunk by the Alabama and for enormous indirect damages for interference with trade. General Grant was at the head of 950,000 well equipped and victorious soldiers. Napoleon III. withdrew from Mexico and Great Britain largely withdrew from Canada her troops and stores, retaining the naval stations.

Some disposal had to be made of Canada. She was exposed to be the scene of battle if the Alabama claims were not settled and the indirect claims amounted to a sum impossible to pay except as tribute to a conqueror.

It was believed at Washington that Great Britain would withdraw all troops and stores and arrange for a plebiscite throughout Canada as to union with the States. Sir Edward Thornton, the British Ambassador, was the source of the belief. The plebiscite and the union would be a payment in full of Alabama claims.

Meantime Canada was Federated and was to undertake her own defence.

An alternative plan was based on General Grant's humanity and common sense. It involved throwing overboard the indirect claims and payment of the direct only. The indirect damages were ruled out of court at the Geneva Arbitration by the adroit and friendly action of the American representative. Canada remained in a state of suspended animation politically until her future was decided as it then was by the liberty of action which President Grant allowed to the representative of the United States on the Arbitration Commission at Geneva in 1872.

Not contemplating any foreign wars and recognizing both the power and the good will of the United States, Sir John Macdonald did not at any time spend upon troops or armament more than a nominal sum. His emphatic refusal of men or money to the Soudan Campaign and Cartwright's saying "Canada owes nothing to Great Britain except a good deal of Christian forgiveness" can best be understood in the light of what had happened. Canada's existence and her being the battlefield in a natural test of her making both hang in the balance and were decided by the action of others. She had no decisive word as to her destiny.

The Boer War arose out of a private and money making ambition. Going north from Cape Town along the high lands which stretch to the Soudan were Cape Colony, the Boer Republics and Rhodesia, the latter being a private speculation with a charter, stock and bonds and the temptations and difficulties incident to that kind of an enterprise. The Boer Republics were the seat of great mining companies that wished for forced native labor in the mines. The Rhodesian Company would be benefitted or at all events better advertised by being on a trunk line railway. Hence the Cape to Cairo cry and the Jamieson Raid. The mining interests and the Rhodesian Company fell out just as the raid started because the former wished to preserve and dominate the Boer Republics and thus make their own labour conditions a thing they were not likely to be able to do if the Republics became Colonies.

These intrigues and the interests behind them were wholly remote from Canada and we were ignorant of them except through highly coloured abuse of the Boers and their Governments furnished gratuitously to our press by the propaganda of their adversaries. The raid, however, led to the South African War which mattered enormously to us. That war did what Jamieson failed to do and what the mining interests were averse to doing. It wiped out the Boer Republics. It did not produce a Cape to Cairo Railway nor enforced labor for mines. As is often the case, the conquerors stepped into the troubles of the conquered and could not find any new solution. Kruger beaten and dead had his judgment vindicated by events. The Dutch majority had to be recognized as predominant. No forced labor was available for the mines. The railway, after twenty years, is yet to come. From beginning to end of this war, Canada's part was to furnish troops, not to consider the policy that led to it nor the conduct of it nor the final solution.

The world war is recent. In the diplomacy that led up to it, Canada had no part. Without full details it is known that the situation was brought about in which if Russia went to war, France had to go in. If France went in, England had to go in, and so had Canada. Of military and political conditions in Russia, we know nothing. Sir Edward Grey admits he did not know of the agreement between France and Russia, but only what passed between France and Great Britain. Canada did not even know that, but France and Russia knew both ends. The action of the Russian War Office in disobeying the Czar's order to stop mobilizing precipitated the German declaration of war. The moral responsibility is not here the question. The point is that for years it lay in the power of anyone who could gain the ear of the Russian autocrat to dispose of Canada's future and the lives of thousands of her citizens.

Sir John Macdonald as is well known, desired to call Canada a Kingdom, not a Dominion. It was not a mere fancy as to names. He foresaw many risks and would have made provision against them. As a Kingdom, Canada would have ranked with other Kingdoms. It would have conducted its own foreign affairs. Its subjects would not have been Canadians in Canada and British subjects outside, but Canadian subjects within or without. Last but not least, no one serving her could have been in doubt that his sole duty was to her. It would not have been possible as it is now for an able and conscientious public servant to feel that it is his duty to place the Empire first and Canada second.

No words are strong enough to impress upon the voter the importance of making up his mind as to our status as a nation and being represented by someone who thinks as he does. The situation created by the Peace Treaty is an artificial one, giving weight to some factors, ignoring others. France insisting on her position in Europe with a diminished population and relying partly on negro troops may not receive the sympathy she did as the victim of 1870. The seventy-five millions of German-speaking people even if split up over several states are still the most important commercial group on the continent. For centuries they held back the Slav from Europe. Now large Slav states have been created in Central Europe, whose racial affiliations are with Russia. The bending off of German enterprise from the west and from over the sea must result in a change of the role hitherto played by the Germans and they may cultivate these new Slav States and Russia as well.

We can only see dimly what is emerging from the Peace Treaty and only the high spots through the fog, but enough to see a very unstable and doubtful future.

We have in the Cairo to Calabar Railway project the same possibilities for trouble as went with the Cape to Cairo cry. Here are independent states on the route just as were the Boer Republics. The only difference this time is that it is oil and not gold mines.

The Poles are making the first use of their liberty in conquering countries two hundred miles beyond the limits of Polish-speaking lands. As their country was a battle ground twice overrun, they must get the sinews of war from one or other of the great powers who so recently pledged us to peace.

The French show their disregard for the League by enforcing their own views of the Treaty with their own troops, and of public opinion by using negro troops. They show us what future they look for by introducing conscription in their negro colonies.

A turn of the wheel and we may be off again to pop up the watered stock of Land or Oil Companies in Persia to save the Poles from their own folly or to put down French Militarism in Central Africa. A little social recognition among prominent and pliable people, a little suppression of truth and expansion of falsehood in the news, the bait of large gains spread before profiteers and a slight imperialistic bias at Ottawa would be enough. A timed outburst in a subsidized press appealing to our compassion showing us moral obliquity in the intended enemy and lending the fighting capacity of our young men would fire the mine.

We should never forget that the appeal pretended to have been made from Johannesburg to save the women and children there, an appeal with which our press wrung the country's soul with horrible memories of the Indian Mutiny was signed in Cape Town a month beforehand, the date being left blank so that Dr. Jamieson could fill it in to correspond with the starting of the raid.

No oil fields or gold mines in any country have ever produced two billions of dollars in five years or supported half a million of troops. If the people who can do these things are too simple to suspect false pleas, too inert to wish to understand foreign events and at the same time susceptible to flattery and social influences, they may expect to be exploited. Most Canadians say "never mind," but to be safe, some one abroad something different from a desk in the office of a British Ambassador, we need to get our information at the source and to weigh it ourselves, knowing how it was come by.

Any political party can afford to make Native and direct control of our Foreign Affairs" a plank in its platform. All candidates should pledge themselves to it.

Stock Judging Competition

A few weeks ago the Caledon Junior Farmers challenged the Cheltenham Branch to a friendly Stock Judging Competition between teams of three from each Association. This contest was held on Friday, July 2nd, when stock was judged as follows:

Holsteins—At the farm of R. Jenkins, Inglewood.

Jerseys—At Mr. Cluff's, Caledon.

Shorthorns—At Geo. Laughlin's, Caledon.

Splendid classes were available and the boys had a real workout. When the totals were made the result was as follows:

Caledon, 858 points.

Cheltenham, 885 points.

It is expected that the Caledon Juniors will come down to subdue the Cheltenham lads on their own grounds.—Peel Banner.

MAY SCRAP STEEL PLANT

Rumor to Effect That Collingwood Steel Plant Will be Torn Down.

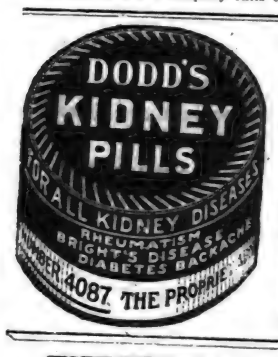
A rumor is current in Collingwood to the effect that the Kennedy Steel Plant now said to be owned by the Baldwin corporation is to be scrapped. The Bulletin in referring to the matter reported that workmen were being hired there probably with that end in view. Letters to the company's office in Toronto remained unanswered. The Collingwood Council has taken the matter under consideration and finds that there is a clause in the agreement when the town voted a bonus of $115,000 to the company in 1900 to the effect that the company must operate for 20 years from July 1, 1904, and for every year that the company fails to operate, the company was to pay $2,000 per year and taxes for the years the plant was not in operation. This would amount to $28,000 and taxes T.hat some action will be taken by Collingwood is almost a certainty. The plant is a valuable one and was successfully operated for a number of years by the Wm. Kennedy and Sons, of Owen Sound, in the manufacture of steel for munitions of war. It was then incorporated with the Western Steel Corporation in Toronto, who were reported to have sold to the Baldwin interests a few weeks ago.

The Hunter Bridge and Boiler Co. were awarded the contract for the new cement arch bridge to be erected at Wingham. The job is worth $27,000.

Following the appointment of Dr. J. B. Reynolds, M. A., as president of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, a new scale of salaries has been set for the college staff, which will be retroactive to last November, and should place it on a better basis. The range will be as follows: Fellows, $750; demonstrators, $1,400; lecturers, $2,000; assistant professors; $2,500; professors, $3,000.

—100 acres, Mono, west. Good land, good barn, $4,300. A. E. Annis.

As the Hood is 860 feet long and displaces 45,000 tons, there is plenty of room aboard her for all these things. The introduction of them is in keeping with the modern trend for making Jack as cosy as possible whilst at sea. It must be remembered that his ship is the sailor's home. He has to live in her practically day and night for three years at a stretch, and must make the best of whatever conditions he finds aboard.



J. BULL'S NEW BATTLESHIP

Quite apart from any considerations of her size and fighting strength—though both are unprecedented—the entry into the fleet of H.M.S. Hood, our six and a half million pounds warship is an epochal event for sailors. To them it brings a domestic revolution; one of the greatest the navy has ever experienced, says Answers.

As compared with the crews of other vessels, the lucky tars who are drafted to the Hood will live in luxury and eat from the table of Dives. No "schooner on a rock" or "figgy duff" concoctions prepared by the unskilled hands of a "cook o' th' mess" will test their digestions up to breaking strain. The culinary department of the Hood speaks the last word in up-to-date equipment. In fact, it is superior in its arrangements to that of many of London's great "food palaces."

From her kitchen fourteen hundred meals can be served in ten minutes, all smoking hot and without the necessity for hands touching them. No coal will be used aboard the Hood for any purpose. Even the ranges in her kitchens and the ovens in her bakeries are oil fired. In the kitchens or "galleys" as sailors call them, are three huge ranges each capable of cooking for some five hundred men at the one time. Her bakeries can turn out 1,400 pounds of bread daily, this being made not by hand, but by an electrically operated dough-mixing machine.

Electricity, in fact, does most of the work of the ship's commissariat. It runs the bacon slicers, the sausage making machines, the mechanical potato-peelers, the "fish and chips" makers and the many other automatic appliances with which the "galleys" are fitted. For home-made sausages, fish and chips and many other delicacies of a like kind, much beloved by sailors, but hitherto unobtainable at sea, are to be included in the bill-of-fare.

The old practice was for each mess to have whatever it fancied for dinner, the dishes being prepared by one of the men acting as "cook of the mess" for the day, and taken by him to the galley. But in the Hood's routine the time-honored call of "cooks to the galley" will have no place. The whole crew are to be supplied from a central restaurant, wherein a staff of fourteen trained cooks will be employed.

And instead of a great variety of dishes, prepared to suit individual tastes, there will be one general menu for the whole crew at each meal. In order to ensure each man getting his proper share, all portions will be weighed, and when dinner is served the food will go from the kitchens to the mess decks by means of lifts, so that it reaches the men "all hot and tasty." After each meal all plates, dishes, knives, forks, etc., will be collected and sent to the mechanical scullery, where electrically driven washing-up machines will cleanse them and pack them away in racks in readiness for the next time they are needed.

If You Have High Blood Pressure You Must Be Careful

When the Blood Pressure is much above normal there is always the danger of rupture of a blood vessel, most frequently in the Brain and producing a stroke, or in the Kidneys, producing Bright's Disease. One should guard against over-exertion or excitement and take to dissolve the Uric Acid deposits that form in the Veins and Arteries, making them hard and brittle. This remedy is a wonder; it builds up the entire system by Purifying the Blood. Strengthening the Heart and by producing a normal and healthy condition of the Nerves.

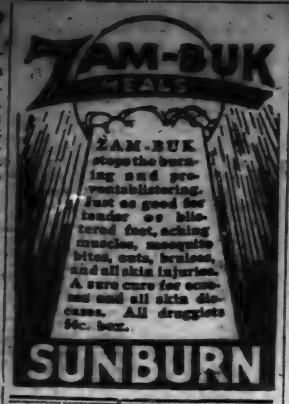
Mrs. Wm. Morley, of Palmerston, used quite a number of boxes of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and they benefitted her so much and she was so pleased with them that she recommends them to all her friends who have this trouble or who are all run down and Nervous. She says "you must be sure to get Hacking's."

Constipation is one of the aggravating causes of High Blood Pressure and it is advisable to use Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills to drive out the Poisons that generate in the system. These two preparations go well together and you should buy a few boxes from your dealer to-day. Hacking's Limited, Listowel, Ont.



THE METHODS ADOPTED BY CROOKS DIFFER

Criminal Types in Cities Unknown In Hamlets.

"Servant Girl Beau" Has been Quite Successful.

Like the city police, those in country towns and small cities have their trials and problems. Crime may be everywhere pretty much the same, and what is true of crime may be true of criminals, yet there is sometimes a marked difference between those in city and country. There are city-bred crooks and country-bred crooks, and though they are all playing the same game, they play it in such a different way that one must be familiar with it before one may hope to catch them.

Running down a criminal in a hamlet often calls for a different mode of procedure than that used in a city, as more than one urban detective, who attempted it unaided, has learned to his sorrow. The country sleuth has learned the same lesson in the city, so that today when a thief hunt is on there is close urban and suburban co-operation.

Big cities develop types of criminals, which, peculiar to the city, are unknown to the small town. An experienced flat burglar, for example, confines his activities generally to that particular line of work, and would hesitate to break into a country cottage or mansion. On the contrary, the second-story man, who has specialized all his life in "porch climbing," cares little for the strange, unfamiliar flat-house game.

The country burglar, if anything, goes about his work more carefully than his city protype. After selecting a town for his operations, he devotes much time to a survey of his prospective line of work. He makes it his business to learn all he can about the life and habits of the inmates of the house which he intends to rob.

There is a type of country burglar known as "the servant girl beau," who has been quite successful. He makes the acquaintance of a maid in the house, calling upon her frequently. He thus comes to know the life and habits of the inmates. When the servants are in bed and the family is out for the evening, he breaks into the place and robs it. He then loses no time in getting out of town, fearing that suspicion will be directed toward him. Some time ago a burglar operated in Englewood, N.J., where he robbed half a dozen places. He tarried in town too long and was arrested just as he was about to leave.

Small towns are occasionally invaded by bands of yeggmen. They make a practice of breaking into stores from which they steal merchandise. Such thieves in their eagerness to get money and valuables sometimes break into local banks. Many small towns are so well policed to-day that "yeggs" prefer to let them alone.

There is a certain type of confidence man common to small cities. He comes in various disguises. He puts up at the best hotels, wears swagger clothes and poses as a banker, broker or representative of a big corporation which is looking for a suitable factory site, and is to give employment to many in the city. Such an individual appeared a few years ago in a New Jersey town. He managed to win the confidence of some of the big business men there, and obtained an option on a tract of land for a proposed metal plant.

He told the town fathers that he would have to have a large hole dug on the land to see if the soil were suitable for the type of factory his firm proposed to erect, and persuaded them to advance him several hundred dollars for shovels and picks. The day before the hole was to be dug he disappeared, leaving many unpaid bills behind him.

THOSE GOOD OLD DAYS

In announcing an increase in subscription to $2 per year, The Kincardine Review thus goes into "ancient history" in regard to relative values: "When the present publisher of The Review bought the business, a year's subscription would buy a cord of wood two feet long; now we have to give the paper for three years for a cord of wood sixteen inches long. Since then all products such as we buy directly or indirectly from hundreds of our subscribers have increased in the same ratio. The $1 we got from the farmer for the Review would buy 8 to 12 dozen eggs, from 6½ to 8 pounds of butter, 15 to 20 pounds of fresh beef or pork, 2 to 3 bushels of potatoes, 18 to 20 pounds of fowl, while now a year's subscription will only buy us a half bushel of potatoes, less than two dozen eggs, 3 or 4 pounds of beef or pork, and not two pounds of bacon. Flour was in those days only $2 to $2.25 per 100 pounds; to-day it is over $7. We could add more to this list to make the comparison complete, but these should be sufficient to show any reader that he or she is still getting the best of the deal in an exchange of commodities. A newspaper at the new price is still the cheapest article that can be purchased to-day.

Grey County has taken a new step by appointing a county police officer on a salary, who will visit all rural parts of the county and help enforce the laws—including the game laws and the laws against automobile speeding.

HARDY–LIGHTLE

The home of Mr. Alfred Lightle, of the 5th line, Erin, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday last, June 30th, when the eldest daughter, Mary Edna, was united in marriage to Mr. George Hardy. To the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Jewitt, the bride, gowned in cream charmeuse satin with georgette trimming, carrying a shower bouquet of white carnations, took her place under the arch of June flowers beside the groom, when Rev. Mr. Morris, of Alton, performed the ceremony for Rev. Mr. Jewitt, who was absent. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Miss Mabel and her brother John. The ceremony was performed on the lawn in the presence of the immediate family and personal friends. After congratulations a bounteous wedding breakfast was served in the dining room. The groom presented the bridesmaid, groomsman and organist each with handsome gifts. After the repast the happy couple left for a motor trip to Hamilton, Niagara Falls and Toronto, the bride travelling in a navy blue serge suit, with hat to match. June roses and confetti showered them with good wishes for their motor trip as well as their voyage through life. On their return they will reside on Lot 2, con. 9, Erin.

—Advocate.

By the death of Jonathan Hills on June 24th, East Luther lost one of its oldest settlers and most respected citizens. Born in Guelph in 1843, he lived in East Garafraxa until his marriage to Matilda Rutledge in 1864 when together they moved to East Luther.

In addition to these ultra-modern arrangements for feeding them, the crew of the Hood will have life made comfortable for them in other ways. There are recreation rooms, provision for cinema shows and other conveniences which, though not absolute innovations, are yet carried to greater perfection in her than any previous ship.

Constipation Cured By Christian Science

Seventy five people out of one hundred can be cured by Christian Science methods, which proves the great power of the Mind over the Digestive Apparatus and the frequency of Nervousness as a cause of Constipation.

When these methods fail Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills are recommended. They are purely vegetable and do not Gripe or Irritate; many people have found them excellent for Headache, Dizziness, Bad Breath, Coated Tongue, Loss of Appetite, Indigestion, Gas on the Stomach, and many other evils that are due to Constipation.

Where there is Extreme Nervousness and you are "all run down" and "tire easily" it would be just as well to take Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy along with these Pills. This combination goes well together and restores the good health of your younger days. The Heart action becomes normal, the Nerves take on new Life, Power and Vigor and the "human machine" becomes full of "pep" and vitality.

If you are tired of sickness and have lost the Power, Ability and Nerve Force to do your daily work and your Nerves are all Shattered just give these two Remedies a trial and we will positively guarantee beneficial results. Go to your dealer to-day and ask for Hacking's and do not take any other kind for if you do you will be fooled right at the start and you will not get the results that our guarantee. Hacking's Limited, Listowel.

Plain Facts about Milk Routes

A team of horses costs about $400, double harness $100, a wagon $75, making a total of $575. A Ford Truck costs $750 at Ford, Ont.

Government experiments have proved that the cost of feeding a horse is 8.7 cents per working hour, or 17.4 cents per team per hour. One team, if collecting milk, could not cover more than 30 miles a day. The cost for twelve hours would be $2.09, or about seven cents a mile. The cost for gas and oil for a Ford Truck is only 4½ cents a mile. The Ford Truck soon pays for itself in the reduced cost of operation.

A Ford Truck will cover at least 60 miles a day collecting milk or 250 miles on long hauls. It enables you to operate at a lower cost per mile and to cover twice as much territory as with horses.

IRWIN–TRIMBLE

At five o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, June 30th, a quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Trimble, Laurel, when their third daughter, Ruby Muriel, was united in marriage to William James Irwin, second son of Mrs. William Irwin, of Mono Rev. J. A. Reddon, pastor of Laurel Presbyterian Church, officiated. The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father. She wore a dress of white silk crepe de chene trimmed with satin. The wedding march was played by the bride's sister, Mrs. James Brown. After the ceremony the bride and groom led the way to the dining room, where a dainty repast had been prepared. The bride, who is a most estimable young lady, was the recipient of many handsome and useful gifts. The Banner unites with the many friends of the happy young couple in extending its hearty good wishes for a happy life together.

On Monday evening prior to her marriage the bride was given a shower at the home of Mr. John Woulfe, where she received a large number of useful presents.

CROZIER–MURRAY

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Tuesday evening at half past eight o'clock at Westside Parsonage when Ethel May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Murray, 1311 2nd Ave. West, became the bride of Mr. William S. Crozier, formerly of Barrie and now Owen Sound. Rev. Chas. Marshall performed the ceremony. The bride wore a suit of navy silk jersey cloth, sand and blue georgette blouse and her hat was of navy organdy with pink and gold duvetyn. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Miller were the attendants, Mrs. Miller, who is a sister of the bride, wearing a navy suit and georgette hat. After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the bride's home where supper was served at a "Blue Bird" table, the china and decorations carrying out this idea. The wedding cake occupied the centre of the table and white peonies were also used. Peonies in all shades were the decorations in the drawing room and dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Crozier left on the Manitou for a short trip and later will go to Owen Sound. Among the gifts received was some handsome linen from the firm of McKay Bros.

Corbett, to Robert Roger Preston, Phm. B., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Preston, of Toronto. The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. John Lennox, took place in the bay window of the living room, which was artistically decorated. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Randolph Corbett, looked winsome in a gown of crepe de metier and tulle veil caught with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses. Miss Aileen Corbett was her sister's bridesmaid and looked pretty in pink silk crepe and carried pink roses. Mr. Norman Barker, cousin of the groom, was best man. Mrs. J. W. Preston, of Toronto, played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Miss Hazel Melvin, B. A., sang "Until." After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served. Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Preston left for the Kawartha Lakes, the bride travelling in a navy blue suit with hat to match. On their return the newly wedded couple will reside at 131 Glenmore Road, Toronto.

Shelburne, July 7th, 1920.

In addition to the $408.50 shown in the statement the sum of $30.00 was raised by Grand Valley and remitted direct to Mr. D. A. Dunlap, the treasurer of the Ontario Referendum Committee.

The Committee favored a reorganization for the October referendum on the same plan as last year's organization and also was of the opinion that the County should accept the Ontario Referendum Committee's assessment of $500 as Dufferin's contribution toward the general expenses of the coming campaign. It was decided to hold a general meeting in the Methodist Church in Shelburne at 8 o'clock on Friday evening, July 23rd, for the purpose of organizing for the autumn referendum vote. Arrangements are being made to have the Provincial Referendum Committee send a speaker out for the meeting. It is hoped that all municipalities will be represented at this organization meeting.

EPISODE 11

The action of the eleventh episode of "Smashing Barriers" the new Vitagraph adventure serial starring William Duncan, makes a swift change near the end of the chapter from the scenes of the lumber camp and timber lands to the more tame background of the city. The action does not become any tamer, however. It is in fact faster and more thrilling than any time during the serial.

Dick, Bella and the elder Manners, whom they have rescued from the outlaw lumberjacks, go to the city to get aid and proof in running down the forgery of the deed which threatens to take Manners' timber lands from him. Bullhead and a few of his henchmen follow them. Bella and her father go to the residence of a well known clairvoyant, thinking to get some proof or clue to the parties guilty of the forgery. Bullhead has, however, bribed Haifa, the clairvoyant, who neatly traps Bella and her father by means of specially constructed chairs and a moving floor.

Dick follows after them. When the clairvoyant hears him coming he presses a button which turns a section of the floor on a pivot and Bella and her father are projected into the cellar. Dick hears their cries just as they disappear. He charges Haifa with trickery With drawn revolver he advances on the clairvoyant. Just as he steps on the floor trap, Haifa presses the button with his foot and Dick is shot through into the pit below.

11 TO 8

Orangeville Defeated Weston in Fast Game Marred at Times by Deliberate Roughness.

A large crowd saw The Dufferins defeat Weston by 11 goals to 8 in a fast and strenuous game on the Idylwyld grounds on Wednesday afternoon, July 7th. On the whole the spectators were treated to a splendid exhibition of the national game, although there was considerable deliberate roughness that the officials should have stopped. The visitors, who have a strong, heavy team, were the offenders and the principal object of their attentions was Stevens, The Dufferins speedy centre fielder. Stevens is a slightly built chap, but lightning fast and the Weston men recognizing that he was dangerous, set out to impair his usefulness by hard body checking and slashing him with their sticks at every oportunity. Stevens took the gruelling gamely and did not make any attempt to retaliate until near the end of the game when he went after Coulter, one of the worst of his tormentors, in lively fashion. The Weston man was getting about all he wanted when the other players separated the men. Spectators surged over the field and matters loked ugly for a few minutes, but fortunately the cooler heads kept control and the game proceeded to a finish without outside interference.

Weston tallied the first counter after four minutes of fast play. From then on the quarter was decidedly in favor of The Dufferins who ran in four counters before the end of the period. The second playing period was also in favor of the green-shirts, who scored thrice to the visitors' once, making the score 7 to 2 in favor of the home team at half time.

The game was much rougher in the third period and the hard checking tactics of the heavy Weston men began to show their effects on their lighter opponents. The visitors added four to their count in this quarter to three for The Dufferins. The tally in the final period was 2 for the Weston team and 1 for The Dufferins, making the final score 11 to 8 for the home team.

The players and officials were:—

Orangeville—Firth, Stevens, Gordon, J. B. Brown, Golden, Cushing, Zinn, Densmore, Scott, Booth, Cranston, Henderson, Ewing, Stevenson.

Weston—Farr, Holley, G. Dickin, Rowntree, P. Laceby, P. Dickin, G. Laceby, G. Coulter, H. Coulter, Harris, Riley, Smith and Kingdom.

Officials—J. Dundas and L. Smith, of Toronto.

HYDRO PROGRESS

Eight of Twelve Original Municipalities Cover Obligations in Eight Years.

The credit for making the great Hydro-Electric System possible belongs to twelve municipalities of Western Ontario; Toronto, London, Guelph, Stratford, St. Thomas, Woodstock, Kitchener, Hespeler, Preston, Waterloo, New Hamburg, and Ingersoll. On May 4, 1908, these "Hydro pioneers" signed a thirty-year contract with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario for the supply of electric energy. The following year the agreement was validated by the Legislature, and at the end of 1912 power was delivered to the municipalities. Although other municipalities joined after the twelve had taken action, it is the latter, who pledged their credit in embarking on an untried public enterprise, that the success of the project is mainly due.

In 1912 the combined power load of the twelve was 16,615 horse-power. In 1919 the maximum peak load had reached 90,792.7 horse-power. An official review of their financial operations to the end of 1919 contains a record of the prosperity far beyond the most sanguine expectations of those who have supported the Hydro-Electric enterprise from its inception.

An investment of $13,360,822.27 was required for the local transforming and distributing systems of the twelve municipalities, and local debentures were issued for that amount. This obligation has been reduced to $11,482,267.15, and, in addition, the municipalities have accumulated assets to set against it. Eight now have sufficient to cover their outstanding debt.

Toronto, which had by far the heaviest outlay, is in an excellent position. The plant cost $10,221,824.59. The balance of liability is now $9,436,279.32. Reserves and surplus accrued in eight years amount to $3,289,777.75. The city's actual Hydro debt has been reduced by sixty per cent. during 26 per cent. of the lifetime of the thirty-year debentures.

Taking the twelve municipalities jointly, the aggregate of reserves and surplus available is $5,550,769.72, as against an aggregate of outstanding obligations amounting to $11,432,267.15.

It should be borne in mind that the twelve municipalities have made this record in the face of the increasing cost of labor and materials, and notwithstanding frequent rate adjustments by the Provincial Commission. The reduction of power rates has ranged from $4 to $9 per horse-power over the eight-year period, lowering the cost to the twelve municipalities by $1,647,181.45. The principle of "power at cost to consumers" was carried out by a commensurate lowering of local rates. The average net cost per kilowatt hour of energy in the twelve municipalities has been reduced for domestic use, from 6.9c to 3.39c; and for commercial use from 5.13c to 2.54c.

CHILDREN MUST BE PROTECTED

The children must be safeguarded, for, if they do survive the frequent coughs and colds, it is often with the lungs so weakened that they become chronic sufferers from bronchitis or consumption, Being composed of simple ingredients of undoubted value, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is admirably suited as a treatment for children. It is pleasant to the taste. So much so that children delight to take it on this account, as well as because of the quick relief it affords them.

CAR ROBBED

Thieves Make Good Sized Haul at Alliston.

All alone in the midst of plenty was the experience of at least a couple of unknown men wearing boots of sizes about seven and nine in a Grand Trunk car Monday night. These gents were self imposed guests of the railway company and now stand in danger of an austere judge's pronouncement should they become identified and the deed fastened to them. The robbery was discovered Tuesday morning when the sectionmen noticed the freight shed door was not closed and knowing it was too early for the agent to be in his office made an investigation which disclosed that the freight shelter door had been broken open. There was nothing in the shape of domestic goods or edibles in this building, but in the bond house, a small compartment in which goods liable to custom duty are placed till cleared, was a large case of fabrics on its way from American manufacturers to Mr. Geo. Lawrence, of Creemore. This case was broken open and all its contents taken out, examined and thrown on the floor. The goods which the case contained were high class fabrics most of them in web lengths. The thieves made a thorough examination, ripping the wrappers off everything. On putting the goods back in the case they did not fill the container which looks as if considerable of the merchandise had been carried away. This will not be known definitely till Mr. Lawrence comes down with his invoice. It appeared to be something good to eat, something substantial and sustainng as well as palatable, the thieves were after and in their quest they stumbled into good luck when they forced open a sealed car standing on the siding close to the freight shed. This car contained goods for dealers in the various villages north of here. All the Alliston freight had been taken out and the car was due to be lifted Tuesday morning. A consignment of goods to H. Gilbert & Son, Mansfield, looked good to the searchers who broke open a box of cornmeal packages and a carton of canned pork and beans. Here was good food, and cheap, so a quantity sufficient for a few days was appropriated. Canned goods, confectionery and biscuits consigned to Messrs. Gilbert were also looted. From goods consigned to James McDearmid, Lisle, matches, extracts (which furnish alcohol) and tobacco were taken. After tearing open a tightly sealed tobacco caddy the thieves took only seven plugs. To W. J. Carruthers, of Avening, was consigned a box of patent medicines. A lot of this was taken, no doubt in the hope that it contained alcohol as patent medicine very often does. From the consignment to Dodd Bros., Avening, two boxes of chocolate bars were taken and a box of toilet soap consigned to Walker Bros., Creemore. A bag of salt consigned to Geo. Peacock, Everett, was emptied onto the floor of the car and the bag taken no doubt used to carry away the loot. There is no clue other than the imprints of the boots in the salt. It is asserted by numerous men who have reckoned up the weight of the goods carried away that the robbers must have had an automobile, but there is no trace of one having been anywhere near the siding on which the freight car stood. Constable Stoneham saw a couple of hard looking characters in town late Monday evening and kept an eye on them till they disappeared southward on the C. P. R. tracks. These men were seen at the C. P. R. station and aroused suspicion on the part of the agent. Nothing has been seen of these men since and it is to them credit for the robbery is given.—Alliston Herald.

How Officer Avenged Honor

Of all the abnormal events which crop up in these days of high tension none has been more extraordinary than that which happened at Cambridge a few days ago.

In the early hours of the morning, opposite the hostel of the Young Women's Christian Association in Harvey road, a highly respectable quarter of the university town, a young man was found by the police chained by his neck to a tree, himself entirely naked, tarred and feathered from head to foot.

With the broadening daylight, in the heart of the town and elsewhere, were found leaflets, all of which were in the same words, saying:—

Sub-Lieut. Desmond B. Kinahan, of the Royal Navy, son of Mrs. Kinahan, of Wing, Oakham, Rutlandshire, has been to-day, at 3.00 hours of the morning, tarred and feathered.

At his feet, on the turf, lay his uniform and underclothes, neatly folded.

What had happened was a tale of a few words. Mr. Kinahan was one of the naval officers undergoing a special course at Cambridge, and the allegations is that he had been paying attention to the wife of Lieut. Francis Thomas Wright, a Cambridge man, who has won the M.C., and who has been attached to the Intelligence Staff at Salonica.

Hearing of what was passing, Lieut. Wright came home on leave, with the result that this extraordinary punishment has come about.

Lieut. Wright's wife had been serving as a member of the Women's Royal Air Force; she had stayed at the Y.W.C.A. hostel, and that, no doubt, was the reason for chaining Lieut. Kinahan to the tree in front of it.

About the judgment passed, and the method inflicting it, no disgrace is made. Lieut. Wright's brother, who took part in the punishment, has openly stated the facts. He himself is a recently demobilised officer, with a wooden leg and a damaged arm, and he has defended himself and his brother from the charge of taking the law into their own behalf.

"Had Kinahan been a big man," he said, "my brother would have thrashed him first and shot him afterwards. But he was such a rabbit that we decided to do the other thing. He is about twenty years old. But, if a boy, he was old enough to know what he was about.

"He had plenty of warning. It is two months since I went to him and told him to keep away from my brother's wife, saying all Cambridge was talking about it. He gave me a written promise not to see her again. Even then I would have thrashed him but for my wooden leg and damaged arm, because at first he said he would not see her till my brother came home. I asked him what he meant, and he said it could be arranged then. Arranged!

"At last I had to write to my brother. He only married her in October last, and they were together less than six weeks. It might have been all right, perhaps, if he had been able to stop at home, but his leave was up and he had to go back to the East.

"When my brother came home and saw him he asked him what he meant and what he intended to do, and to everything Kinahan replied: 'I don't know.' Then my brother said, 'Have you any letters from her?' Kinahan said, 'Yes.' Give them to me at once,' said my brother, and he gave them up. 'Any photographs?' he was asked. 'Yes,' replied Kinahan, and gave them up. 'Any presents?' Kinahan gave them up, too. Then my brother warned and left him.

"We thought out the whole thing. My brother said he was not worth shooting, but he would make him talked about throughout all England.

"He wrote to his wife, offering to forgive her and take her back. She replied in a letter, 'Never, never, never!'

"People were beginning to say, 'What are you going to do?' The chains were my idea. My first intention was to turn him loose in broad daylight in the centre of Cambridge. But there was the river, and I thought if he had any pluck left he might drown himself and 'escape ridicule.

"Therefore, we decided to chain him up, and to do it at night. A gallon of tar we got from the gasworks and the feathers from a farmhouse.

"Then we asked him to come up and talk matters over. When we told him what we were going to do he made no protest at all. 'If you call out or struggle we shall tie you up and gag you,' said my brother, to which Kinahan replied, 'All right, then. I will take what is coming to me quietly.'

"Except his eyes, nose, and mouth we left nothing uncovered. We stuck feathers in his hair. Afterwards we took him by car to the tree outside the Y.W.C.A., where she had been staying.

"I think we let him off lightly. My brother and I have not the ideas of the older generation. He was lucky to escape shooting. We are prepared for any action he or the naval authorities may take."

With the aid of turpentine, ether, benzol, and other solvents, Lieut. Kinahan's friends did their best to remove the tar, after he had been delivered into his rooms at Trinity College by the police.

Subsequently Lieut. Kinahan was sent to barracks at Chatham, and Lieut Wright left Cambridge to visit a brother in the country.

WILLIAM LYON McKENZIE'S PRINTING PRESS KEPT AS RELIC

"It's a long way back to the days when William Lyon McKenzie published a paper in Little York, now Toronto. Yet there remains in excellent preservation at the present time the Washington Press upon which Mackenzie's paper was printed. Last week the editor of The Reporter had the pleasure of examining this press in the office of Mr. H. J. Pettypiece, ex-M. P. P., proprietor of The Forest Free Press. The number of the press is 2334 and it was built by R.H. Hoe & Co. During the troublesome times when Mr. Mackenzie's printing office was raided this press among other material was dumped into Toronto bay. Later it was recovered and it was taken to Western Ontario, first to Parkhill, by the late Wallace Graham. In 1879 it was taken to Forest when the Free Press was established. Mr. Pettypiece's business is long past the days of the Washington press, but he values the old relic highly on account of its historic connection. It is also exceedingly useful around a printing office. Its history was compiled by Mr. Graham and the facts verified as far as possible. The Hoe people sent the press to Toronto in 1837 and it was during the rebellion of 1838 that Mackenzie's office was wrecked. Mr. Pettypiece has been very modest about his possession of this piece of machinery around which historical events loom big. By it was William Lyon Mackenzie able to place propaganda before the people and the rebellion, which resulted in better conditions, fomented."—Kincardine Reporter.

WAS ASTONISHED AT THE CHANGE

Had Suffered For Two Years—Gains New Strength and Courage After Taking Tanlac.

"I am glad to give you this testimonial, for Tanlac has done so much for me," said Mrs. Alphonse Cloutier, of 181 Victoria street, Quebec, to a Tanlac representative, recently.

"For two years previous to taking this wonderful medicine," she continued, "I was in a very weakened state as the result of indigestion and a disordered stomach. The very least thing in the way of heavy food caused me great distress. Bitter liquid would come up into my mouth and the gas would press against my heart and lungs so as to cause palpitation and shortness of breath. I used to get awfully low spirited and at night I could not sleep. Many a time I have spent a whole night without closing an eye and the next morning I would be in a state of utter collapse. I tried many medicines without getting any relief and my weakness was getting greater every day.

"I heard Tanlac being praised by so many people that I decided to try a bottle myself. I am now finishing my second bottle and the change that has taken place in my health is really astonishing. I never would have believed it possible for two bottles of Tanlac to do so much. It has relieved me of all my stomach trouble, and I can eat anything I want without the least bit of trouble afterwards. The gas has quit forming and I am no longer troubled with heart palpitation or the shortness of breath. My sleep is now restful and unbroken and in the mornings I get up feeling fine and ready to do my housework. I have regained my energy and courage and can truthfully say that my health is better today than it ever was. My aged mother is also taking Tanlac and has derived great comfort and benefit from its use. I cannot recommened this medicine too highly, and I hope this statement will lead others who suffer as I did from general weakness and a disordered stomach to try Tanlac."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

A double drowning accident occurred at Mt. Forest the other day, the victims being Dorothy Maxwell, aged four years, and Reta Cook, aged fifteen years. While crossing a footbridge over the river, Dorothy Maxwell fell in, and Reta Cook hastened to the rescue, but the current proved too strong and overpowered her. BOY WAS ACQUITTED

Anthony Farmer, an Austrian lad, who was arrested on suspicion of having set fire to George Torrance's barn in Caledon about six weeks ago, appeared before P. M. Crawford in Brampton a week ago Saturday and was acquitted. The owes his acquittal in part to the good offices of Bob Cook, who interested himself in the case and engaged A. R. Hassard, a Toronto lawyer, to defend the boy, paying him $100 for the day's work out of his own pocket. The evidence against Farmer was purely circumstantial. The boy had been employed as a farm hand in the vicinity of the Torrance place. At Torrance's threshing last fall some of the men by way of a lark placed a buggy belonging to the boy on the roof of a shed. He was very angry and made threats that he would get even The fact that he was working with a farmer a short distance from the barn on the day of the fire was adduced as evidence that he might have started the blaze. The magistrate did not consider that the evidence warranted sending the accused up for trial and he was accordingly acquitted.

BOWLING TOURNEY

TORONTO RINKS CARRY OFF FIVE OF THE SIX SETS OF PRIZES.

Record Attendance and Splendid Weather Combine to Make Tournament a Big Success.

The popularity of the Orangeville Tournament was amply demonstrated by the large entry list for this annual event, which was pulled off on the John St. greens last week under most auspicious conditions. No less than sixty-four rinks sent in their entries and of this large number all but four were present and competed in the three matches constituting the program. The Tourney opened on Tuesday morning under almost perfect weather conditions. The weather continued fine until the finish and this added not a little to the success and enjoyment of the event. The Tournament is attracting a larger number of Toronto rinks as each year passes and last week the larger number of the outside entries came from Toronto Clubs. The home Club had twelve rinks entered and the next largest entry was from the St. Matthews Club in Toronto, which sent up eight rinks. The Rusholme Club had an entry of seven, Parkdale four, Kew Beach two, High Park two, Oaklands two, Oakwood two, West Toronto two and Ontarios, Canadas, Howard Park, Balmy Beach and Eaton Memorial one each. Other outside Clubs represented were Owen Sound four, Brampton four, Grand Valley three, Fergus two, Alliston two and Paris, Elora and Erin one each.

Three Rusholme rinks and Dr. McNichol's rink from St. Matthews' Club got through to the semi-finals in the McKeown Trophy match, the first event on the card. McTaggart defeated Dr. McNicholl in a well-played game and Clark, of Rusholme, won from his club mates skipped by Legge. In the final game Clark and his men also proved too good for the McTaggart quartette, winning by 18 to 10. Scott's rink from Parkdale, an Orangeville rink, skipped by E. G. Bingham, and Legge's Rusholme rink worked their way through to the semi-finals in the Orangeville Challenge Cup event. Bingham drew the bye and Scott won from Legge by 14 to 11. The Parkdalers won the final quite handily, defeating the Orangeville quartette by 21 to 7. The Consolation final resolved itself into a keen fight between Legge, of Rusholme, and F. G. McKay, of Oaklands. The Rusholme rink finished a couple of points in front, but the result was in doubt until the last bowl was played.

The Tournament attracted a great many spectators, a large gallery following the play every afternoon and evening. Interest in the fortunes of the better known rinks was particularly keen. The ladies served refreshments in a large marquee at the south end of the playing green and by the very thorough manner in which they attended to this part of the entertainment contributed in a very material degree to the success of the Tourney. Mayor T. S. Parkinson, Secretary of the Club, and his assistant, Mr. Trueman Kellie, ran the score sheets in approved manner and got the games off without any unnecessary delays.

The visitors proved themselves a jolly crowd and kept things humming while in town. All of course could not win, but the losers accepted the adverse fortunes of the game in good part and the whole three days sport passed off without a jar. In every respect the Tournament was one of the most successful the local Club hase ever held. The details of the three days play follow:—

MONO MILLS.

There was no service in the Presbyterian churches at Mono Mills, Mono East and Adjala on Sunday, July 25th., owing to the absence of the paster, Rev. J. A. Matheson, who is holidaying at Kaiquasbene Point, Georgian Bay, with his family. Mr. Matheson expects to be back to his pulpit for the services on Aug. 1st. and Aug. 8th.

WHITTINGTON.

A big Garden Party will be held on the Public School grounds at Whittington on Friday evening, Aug. 6th., under the auspices of the Whittington Methodist Sunday School. James Fax, the widely known and popular comedian, will be the chief entertainer and will be heard in entirely new selections. Shelburne Citizens Band will discourse sweet music during the evening and short addresses will be given by Rev. J. A. Reddon, Laurel, Rev. Wm. Coutts, Camilla, and other speakers. Chair taken at 8.30 by Rev. G. W. Lynd. Supper will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock and there will be the usual refreshment booth on the grounds. Admission, 50 cts. and 35 cts.

MONO COLLEGE.

The last monthly meeting of the Mono College Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Jas. Stinson, 2nd. line, west, on the afternoon of July 2nd. A large number of members and visitors were present. An interesting Talk on Home Influence on the Young was given by Mrs. W. H. Sproule, of Orangeville. A. Reading was contributed by Miss Lexxie Cooper and a splendid report of the recent County Convention in Shelburne was given by Mrs. F. C. Island. A piano solo was rendered by Miss Mona Shirley and a dainty lunch was then served by the hostess.

The next meeting will take the form of a picnic at the home of Mrs. Shirley, Centre Road, on Wednesday afternoon, August 11th. A hearty invitation to be present is extended to the members of the Blount Institute. Bring your baskets and enjoy the fun.

The proceeds of the recent Home Baking Sale in aid of the Lord Dufferin Hospital fund amounted to $23.69.

—Send a Dominion Express Money Order. They are payable everywhere.

WINNIPEG

All former residents of Dufferin County now living in the West and all present residents who may happen to be visiting at the hub of the Continent of North America, are cordially requested to foregather at Assiniboine Park, Winnipeg, on Saturday, August 28th, at 3 p.m. and not only observe the wheel go round, but shake hands with all who are present.

The Executive has perfected a thorough organization and everything possible will be done to ensure a good time. The Committee convenors are as follows:—

Reception, Dr. McCarten; Badges, Mrs. H. H. Gilbert (formerly Miss L. Emrick); Transportation, R. M. Neely; Sports, E. C. Graham; Grounds and Arrangements, H. W. Watson; Commissary, Mrs. J. J. Rooney; You tell 'em Committee, Mrs. J. T. Fisher. Further information may be obtained from the Secretary, S. T. Newton, telephone, Sherbrooke 631.

Dufferin Old Boys are still holding their own in the Political Field and at the election just held, Col. George Clingan, M. D., was re-elected for Virden with a good majority, and Ed. August sees to it that Dufferin in Manitoba is represented by a son of old Dufferin. Both men have proved themselves good parliamentarians and can be counted on to give a good account of themselves during the next five years.

Another Dufferin Old Boy in the person of G. H. Lawrence, formerly of Mulmur, was one of the 41 contestants for the 10 Winnipeg seats under the new proportional representation system, but did not secure quite enough votes for one of the coveted seats.

Duncan Baxter, Principal of the Transcona High School, has the honor of being the highest paid teacher outside of the City of Winnipeg in Manitoba, and probably in Western Canada. He gets $3,000 per annum. Transcona is a distinctly "Labor" town. Another honor conferred on Duncan last week was that of training up another young Canadian in the way she should go.

Miss Stella Campbell is spending the summer as a member of the Agricultural Extension Service staff in Manitoba. Her work will be in connection with the Boys' and Girls Clubs at Virden, Gladstone, Birtle, and Swan River.

—You may procure the new Presbyterian hymnals at The Banner book store.

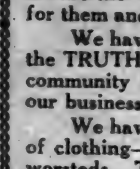
LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED, TORONTO, ONT.



HAMILTON—HACKETT

A very quiet wedding took place at the home of the bride, Toronto, when Annie M. Hackett, daughter of the late Thos. Hackett, of Hockley, was married to Robert Emmett Hamilton, son of the late Dr. Hamilton, of Athlone, Adjala. The bride, who was unattended, was dressed in cream tricolette. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. H. Bell, of High Park Avenue Methodist Church.

LAVERTY—QUINN

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Laverty, Glen Cross, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon, July 7th, when their elder daughter ,Lila Beatrice, was united in marriage to Mr. Samuel J. Quinn, of Bradford. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very pretty in charmeuse satin with georgette trimming and carried a bouquet of white carnations and sweet peas. The wedding march was played by Miss Lena Irwin, cousin of the bride. The marriage ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. W. Dudgen, of Bradford, took place in the drawing room. After the service a dainty wedding repast was served in the dining room, which was attractively decorated with roses and peonies. About forty guests, chiefly close friends of the bride and groom, sat down at the tables. Later in the day the young couple left by motor for their future home near Bradford, the bride travelling in a navy blue tricotine suit and marabou fur with hat to match. Their many friends extend congratulations and good wishes to the young couple.

CHOLERA INFANTUM

Cholera infantum is one of the fatal ailments of childhood. It is a trouble that comes on suddenly, especially during the summer months and unless prompt action is taken the little one may soon be beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets are an ideal medicine in warding off this trouble. They regulate the bowels and sweten the stomach and thus prevent the dreaded summer complaints. They are an absolutely safe medicine, being guaranteed to contain neither opiates or narcotics or other harmful drugs. They cannot possibly do harm—they always do good. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

BOWLING GREEN

Haying has started once more here, but it is rather a poor crop.

Miss Ellen Dodds has left for the city, where she has taken a position.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Howell and children and Miss Lillian Bowlen, all of Toronto, are visiting at Mr. Watson Garbutt's.

Mr. Oliver Durkin motored to Alliston on the 12th and reports a good time.

What has happened our baseball team since they played Black's Corners?

Wm. Hall has started a tire repair shop in Grand Valley. William has had a long rest and should be good for lots of work now.

A certain young fellow in our burg is very sick with loveitis since the Tarbert garden party.

Can anybody find a girl for Matt Ward, because we "can't."

We are glad to be able to report that the weather has become quite favorable, and that the farmers are all busy haying these days.

We congratulate Misses Ellen Dodds and Mae Whaley on their success in passing their Junior High School Entrance examinations.

Mr. William Hill, our repair man, is now vulcanizing tires at Grand Valley. We understand he has become quite an expert at this line of work.

Miss Ellen Dodds is spending her vacation with friends in Toronto.

Mr. John Kidd, of Inglewood, has just completed a fine fifty foot span bridge on the 8th line near Bowling Green. Mr. Kidd built another concrete bridge here some time ago, which is also a credit to him.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell and family, of Toronto, are camping at Sandy Beach on the Grand River.

We understand that Mr. Matt Ward is planning to spend his holidays on Sandy Beach.

THE CLOTHING MAN

Autumn will soon be here and you will NEED new stylish clothes to wear. Come to us for them, we are the "Style Centre" of this town. Come to us for them and the PRICE will be low.

We have built up our business by always telling the TRUTH to our customers. The confidence this community has in our store is constantly building our business bigger.

We have just put into stock about $3,000 worth of clothing—all the latest styles in fancy and blue worsteds. These lines were bought some time ago and are absolutely right in price. Remember any person who is waiting for cheaper clothing this year will be disappointed as everything points to higher prices this Fall. There is nothing that can be repeated at this Spring's prices.

The lines we succeeded in getting are all plain greys in different shades and fancy worsteds, just clearing lines from 6 to 12 suits to a line. Call and see the splendid values before buying as we know we can suit you. All sizes up to 44.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

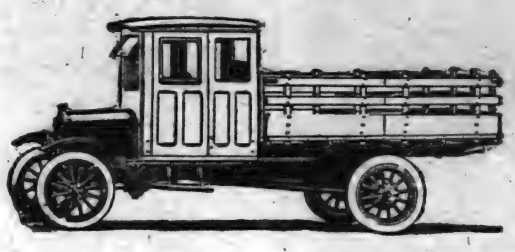
On Monday evening, July 26th, at the regular meeting of the Epworth League in the Methodist Church, Miss Vera Walker gave a splendid address on "Making the Most of the Movies." The Movies, it was pointed out, were of great value in the present age, not only as an amusement, but as a source of information. A good film teaches many things, which we should know, but which, were moving pictures not in use, we would likely never learn. They are also of great use for educational purposes and furnish the means of teaching children many things in an entertaining manner. They are here to stay and life without them would be very dull for many people. Miss Mildred Forbes sang a solo in her usual pleasing manner. Miss Eleanor McCracken performed the duties of chairman in a very acceptable manner.

Next Monday Rev. H. L. Partridge will speak on "The Heroic Life." Miss E. M. Budd will occupy the chair. A good program is being arranged, so come one, come all, and enjoy yourselves.

ORGANIST RESIGNS

Miss Dorothea Browne, A. L. C. M., organist in St. Andrew's Church for the last three and a half years, has resigned to accept an engagement as accompanist with the Williams Concert Company. The Company is leaving Toronto about the middle of August on a six months tour of Western Canada and has contracts to give a series of concerts in nearly all the larger towns right through to the Coast. Miss Browne has given excellent satisfaction as organist and her departure will be sincerely regretted by the people of St. Andrew's and also in local musical circles outside the church. Prior to her departure the choir and congregation presented Miss Browne with a valuable club bag and an address expressing their appreciation of her services and the regret so generally felt at her removal from town. Miss Browne is visiting at her home in Wiarton for a few weeks before leaving for the West.

Ford



MOTORIZING THE FARM

THE horse has been declared by Thomas Edison to be the most inefficient machine in the world. In return for the amount of food and care needed, the horse returns less in work than any other machine.

The average team of farm horses costs $400, a good set of double harness $100, a wagon without box $115, making a total of $615.

A Ford Truck costs $750 at Ford, Ont. A Fordson Tractor costs $850 at Dearborn Mich.

The initial cost of motorizing a farm is slightly greater than the cost of a horse outfit, but the lower cost of operation and upkeep of the tractor and truck and the greater amount of work done easily put the horse out of the running.

Government experiments have proved that the cost of feeding a horse is 8.7 cents per working hour.

A team of horses cannot plow more than two acres in a ten-hour day. At 8.7 cents per hour or 17.4 cents per hour for a team, the cost would be $1.74, or 87 cents an acre. A Fordson Tractor plows on an average of seven acres a day. The cost per acre averages not more than 75 cents per acre for gas and oil. The Fordson does three and a half times as much plowing in a day at a smaller cost per acre.

Suppose you are hauling produce to market or bringing out supplies. If the town is twenty miles away it will take you a whole day to make the return trip with horses. If you have a heavy load and the weather is hot it will take you two days. If it took you twelve hours, the cost at 17.4 cents an hour for your team would be $2.09. The average cost of running a Ford Truck, for gas and oil, is 4½ cents a mile or $1.80 for the forty miles. But with the Ford Truck you can make the return trip in four hours. The truck enables you to make three times as many trips and at a lower cost per trip.

But this is not all. If you motorize your farm you can get up an hour later in the morning. You have no horses to feed, groom or harness. You start work after breakfast.

When dinner is ready you stop at the end of the field, drive your tractor direct to the house, eat your dinner, and rest till it is time to go to work again.

In the afternoon your motor works just as well though the sun is hot and the flies are bad.

And at night when work is over you are through for the day,—no horses to rub down, feed or water.

You are always free to leave your farm for picnic or vacation—no worry about horses left behind to be cared for.

Every way you look at it the motor has the advantage over the horse. It means shorter hours on the farm, more work done in less time and at less cost.

JUNIOR LACROSSE

Shelburne Juveniles, who are playing a double schedule this season, stacked up against the Orangeville Juniors on Idylwyld Park on Monday afternoon. The Shelburne lads who have been winning everything in the juvenile series, demonstrated on Monday that they are just about fast enough for Junior company. True they were beaten by a score of 9 to 6, but they were not seriously outplayed at any stage of the game, and there were times when they seemed to have the edge on the speedy green-shirts. It was a pretty game to watch, fast, clean and contested in the right spirit. While there was some stiff checking, there was no deliberate fouling or roughness and the referees had an easy time of it. Brawley, the clever defence man of the local team, drew the only penalty of the game, a rest of two minutes for a trip that looked to be purely accidental. The Dufferin home started off very fast and ran in two goals in the first few minutes of play. Then the visitors tallied one and from then to the end of the quarter is was pretty nearly turn about. Both homes appeared a trifle too good for the defences and the tallies came quite often. The rest period found The Dufferins leading by 5 to 3. The visitors had rather the better of the argument in the second quarter, which finished with the score standing 6 to 5 for The Dufferins. Dufferins did the come-back act in the third period tallying twice and holding their opponents scoreless. Each team got a single counter in the final quarter, making the score 9 to 6 when time was called. The visitors are a clever, fast working team and did some pretty fielding and combination work. The home team are also deserving of every praise for the clean, clever manner in which they play the game. The two Robinsons, Charlie and Armour, Terry McKeown and Ross Walker make a fast home which combines effectively. Flint at centre has pluck and speed, is handy with the stick and with coaching will develope into a real player. "Dode" Brawley is the king-pin of the defence and his work on Monday was brilliant. Oscar Robinson, Christie McCauley and Sanderson were also much in evidence and covered the fast Shelburne home so closely that it had few chances after the opening quarter. Firth played the goal position like a veteran. The O. A. L. A. failed to send up a referee and Ernie Menary, of Toronto, and Harry Galbraith, of Shelburne, were pressed into service. The players were: —

Shelburne—goal, Claridge; point, Matthews; coverpoint, Gray; defence, Brown and McBride; centre, Smith; home, Kilpatrick and White; outside, Silk, inside, Graham. Spares, Lindsay and Fead.

Dufferins—goal, Firth; point, H. Brawley; coverpoint, N. Sanderson; defence, C. McCauley and O. Robinson; centre, W. Flint; home, R. Walker and C. Robinson; outside, T. McKeown; inside, A. Robinson. Spares, B. Hunter, G. Kearns.

A MOTHER'S TRIALS

Care of Home and Children Often Causes a Breakdown.

The woman at home, deep in household duties and the cares of motherhood, needs occasional help to keep her in good health. The demands upon a mother's health are many and severe. Her own health trials and her children's welfare exact heavy tolls, while hurried meals, broken rest and much indoor living tend to weaken her constitution. No wonder that the woman at home is often indisposed through weakness, headaches, backaches and nervousness. Too many women have grown to accept these visitations as a part of the lot of motherhood. But many and varied as her health troubles are, the cause is simple and relief at hand. When well, it is the woman's good blood that keeps her well; when ill she must make her blood rich to renew her health. The nursing mother more than any other woman in the world needs rich blood and plenty of it. There is one way to get this good blood so necessary to perfect health, and that is through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. These pills make new blood, and through their use thousands of weak, ailing wives and mothers have been made bright, cheerful and strong. If you are ailing, easily tired or depressed, it is the duty you owe yourself and your family to give Dr. Williams Pink Pills a fair trial. What this medicine has done for others it will surely do for you.

You can get Dr. Williams Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FORMER DUFFERINITE GONE

Mr. J. A. McFadden, Formerly of Mono Centre, Dead.

The ravages of the grim reaper habitually bring sorrow to bereaved homes but when the ablest are called away in their prime general grief follows. Such was the case when the news arrived that Mr. J. A. McFadden had passed from this life at his home in Darlington, near Oshawa, on Sunday, July 11th.

James Albert McFadden, second son of Richard McFadden, was born near Mono Centre thirty-six years ago. After graduating from the British-American Business College, Toronto, he purchased the general store at Mono Centre. Here his business ability revealed itself and few men were better known in the county. Having unusually high ideals of service to the community in business life, he applied those principles so effectively that success was assured. His services to the community embraced practically every commendable activity—to church and school, an enthusiast for all manly athletic activities, the presiding genius of the Mono Centre patriotic gatherings, widely known in literary and dramatic circles as an able debater, delighting to win when supporting the apparently weaker argument. As a craftsman he was a Master Mason of Harris Lodge, No. 216, Orangeville; as an Orangeman he was a Past Master of L. O. L. No. 1083, Relessey, and a Past District Master. About a year ago he affiliated with Enniskillen L. O. L. No. 141. In January, 1908, he married Miss J. Elizabeth Waller, daughter of Mr. Robert Waller, Flesherton. Of a family of nine, five children survive, the eldest ten years old, Misses Florence, Cora and Daisy, Masters George and James.

With his wife and family in sorrow are his parents, his brothers, Robert and W. E., his sister, Mrs. Wesley Rutledge, all of Mono Centre.

In March, 1919, Mr. McFadden purchased his farm in Darlington, near Oshawa, and during his short residence made everyone his friend. Strenuous activity produced cardiac neurosis last autumn. A severe attack of "flu" evidently accentuated the trouble, but Mr. McFadden's iron will kept him active until a few hours before the vital organ ceased its action. A week before his death he motored through Orangeville to Mono Centre and then on to Markdale.

The service on Wednesday afternoon at his late residence, lot 28, con. 8, Darlington, was conducted by Rev. G. T. McKenzie, Enniskillen, who referred to the sterling Christian character of his deceased steward and the marked popularity which he had acquired in a few months in Darlington. The funeral cortege proceeded to the cemetery at Hampton where a very large gathering saw the Orange Order lay their brother's body by the side of Leonard, his fifteen-months-old infant son, who died last November. The pallbearers were Messrs. H. W. Simpson and W. Donaldson, of Mono, Geo. Preston, D. Ferguson, Chalmers Sanderson and Jas. McLaughlin.

The floral tokens of remembrance were numerous. Among them were wreaths from wife and family, father and mother, brothers and sister, Mono Centre friends, L. O. L. No. 1083, Relessey, L. O. L. No. 141 Enniskillen; emblem from Harris Lodge, No. 216, A. F. and A.M., Orangeville, Ont.; sheaves from Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ormiston and from Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ormiston, Darlington.

Among the relatives and friends from a distance were: Messrs. Robert and George Waller, Flesherton, Messrs. Hamilton and R. W. E. McFadden, Markdale; Mr. and Mrs. Richard McFadden, Thos. and W.E. McFadden, Messrs. John, Lyman and Heber Waller, Samuel, William and Emerson Holmes, Geo. Aikins, H. W. Simpson, Wilbert Donaldson, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Rutledge, Ellis and Miss Effie Stinson, of Mono Centre.

MARY ELLIS SHAW

There passed away at Hamilton on the 13th inst., a former resident of Caledon and Orangeville in the person of Mary Ellis Shaw, relict of the late Robert Shaw, in his lifetime a well-known resident of this vicinity. The late Mrs. Shaw, who had been ill some time, had reached the ripe age of 83 years. Deceased was a member of one of the oldest families in Caledon, being a daughter of the late Edward Ellis, a pioneer of that township. She was born on the Ellis homestead, lot 27, 1st line, east, and was a sister of Miss Martha Ellis and Mrs. S. Darragh of this town. She was also a sister of the late Mrs. Michael Armstrong, of Caledon, who passed away about a year ago. The late Mrs. Shaw possessed a lovable and kindly nature, and was a good neighbor and a true friend who will be remembered by all who knew her. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, the funeral taking place from the home of her sister, Miss Ellis, Little York street, on Friday afternoon, July 16th, Capt. T. H. Stewart, rector of St. Mark's church, conducting services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. George Holmes, Richard Young, J. J. Ellis, G. Vanwyck, J. Vanwyck and Robert Island. Interment took place at the Forest Lawn Cemetery.

MRS. RUSSELL M'KEE

Mrs. Jennie McKee, the young wife of Russell R. McKee, a returned soldier, now farming on lot 17, 8th line, Amaranth, passed away in Lord Dufferin Hospital on Friday morning. Deceased, who was only 23 years and 3 months of age, had been in the hospital for the last three weeks. She is survived by her husband and two little children, the younger a babe of two months. Interment took place in Grand Valley cemetery on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Truax officiating. The sympathy of the community goes out to the young husband in his bereavement.

MR. GEO. HILLYARD, J. P.

At a very late hour on Thursday last the Angel of Death again passed over the Caledon community and claimed for his own an old and very highly respected citizen in the person of Mr. George Hillyard. Mr. Hillyard had the misfortune to meet with an accident six years ago, which left him an invalid for the remainder of his life. Nevertheless he enjoyed life fairly well and took a lively interest in all that was going on around him, until a short time ago, when he was stricken with heart disease. Although Dr. Thomas, the family physician, was a daily visitor at his home and everything possible was done to relieve his suffering and to renew his fast failing strength, all efforts proved unavailing and the stricken man passed peacefully away on the date already mentioned.

The late Mr. Hillyard was 74 years of age and died on the farm on which he was born, his father having secured the deed of the property from the Crown. To honest toil, economy and good judgment his success as a farmer may be attributed. The deceased was well and favorably known throughout the township, having been collector of taxes for ten years, a position which he filled with credit to himself and satisfacton to the public. He was a School Trustee and Recorder of the C. O. C. F. for twenty years.

Seldom in the history of the community has such a large crowd attended a funeral as was present at the beautiful farm home of the Hillyard family on Saturday afternoon. Rev. (Capt.) J. F. G. Morris, conducted the service and paid a glowing tribute to the earnestness, sincerity of purpose and steadfast faith of the departed man. Mr. Morris also made feeling reference to the occasions he had visited the deceased and spoke of how much he had enjoyed the Scripture reading and prayer. The pallbearers were eight of his former neighbors, Messrs. Wm. Moffatt, Wm. Faulkner, Thos. Quinn, P. Garrity, Wm. Clark, Geo. Laughlin, Jas. Warnock and John Stubbs. A number of beautiful floral tributes bore impressive testimony to the sorrow and esteem of friends of the family.

Interment took place in Caledon Cemetery, Rev. Morris, the pastor, again reading the beautiful service of the Methodist church. To the widow, the two sons, Jas. R. and Homer, the only daughter, Miss Mabel, who has been absent from home engaged in missionary work in Montreal and more recently in Northern Ontario, Mr. Jas. Hillyard, of Cataract, the only brother, and Mrs. McHugh, the only sister, the sincerest sympathy of the community is extended in the loss they have sustained of a loving and faithful husband, a kind father and brother.

He leadeth me!
I shall not take one needless step
thro' all,
In wind, or heat, or cold;
And all day long He sees the peaceful end,
Through trials manifold;
Up the far hill-side like some sweet surprise
Waiteth the quiet Fold.

LATHWELL REUNION

A very pleasant reunion of the Lathwell family was held at Eldorado Park, Brampton, on Thursday, July 15th. The reunion took the form of a Picnic. Members of the family present included Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lathwell and son, Louis, Battle Creek, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lathwell, Albion, Mich.; Mrs. (Rev.) C. C. Simpson and little daughter, Pauline, White River, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Beggs and three children, Oakville, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Braden and little son, Horace, and Miss Bertha Lathwell, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright and two children and the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lathwell, Orangeville; Mr. Rob Beggs, of Heron Bay, Ont., was also one of the party. It was a matter of regret to the family that the youngest son, Mr. Will C. Lathwell, wife and children, of Meaford, were unable to be present. A brother-in-law, Rev. C. C. Simpson, of White River, was also unable to attend. The fact that some members of the family had not met for so long as sixteen and twenty-three years, added much to the interest and happiness of the reunion. It is also a happy fact worthy of note that there has not been a break in the Lathwell family. The parents, who are now well advanced in years, and their family of five daughters and three sons are all living and in the enjoyment of fairly good health. The members of the family motored from different points to the Park, where the day was very happily spent in various forms of amusement.

—Mrs. Geo. Lane, of Fergus, mother of Mr. Finlay Lane, West Broadway, celebrated her 101st birthday a week ago Sunday. Mrs. Lane, whose maiden name was Mary Eliza Williamson, was born in the Province of Quebec on July 18th, 1819. She is still in full possession of her mental faculties.

—The rapidly increasing cost of newsprint and other materials used in our business makes it necessary that all arrears of Banner subscriptions should be paid up. We hope that subscribers who are in arrears will see to it that their subscriptions are paid without any unnecessary delay.

—Saturday night a fine collie dog owned by Town Engineer Marshall was run down by an auto driven by a young man from the country. The autoist must have forgotten he was in town for he was driving like a Jehu and on the wrong side of the roadway at that. The sequel took place in the Police Court on Monday, when the offender was fined. There is altogether too much reckless driving on Broadway on Saturday nights. A few summons would have a salutary effect.

ON TO BRADFORD

Dufferins made another step toward the District championship last Saturday, when they defeated the Woodbridge team by 8 to 3 on the latter's grounds. The game, which was witnessed by a large crowd, was fast and keenly contested, but free from roughness. The next game will be played in Bradford on Saturday. If The Dufferins win this they can then afford to lose the game in Weston the following week and still tie the Weston team for the championship of the district. Meantime interest for the present centres in the Bradford game on Saturday.

—The Camilla Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert Reid on Wednesday, August 4th, at 2.30 p.m. A good attendance of the members is requested.

EPISODE 13.

To have the road pulled out from under him while tearing along at 80 miles an hour in a racing car is the unenviable experience of William Duncan star of the Vitagraph adventure serial, "Smashing Barriers," during the thirteenth episode, which will be shown at the Gem Theatre on Monday and Tuesday evenings, Aug. 2 and 3. Duncan (Dick Daring) is rushing along on his way to a lumber camp where a gang of outlaw lumberjacks, led by Bullhead Bulger (Joe Ryan) are holding his sweetheart, Bella Manners (Edith Johnson) in captivity.

Learning that Duncan is speeding along on his way to make an attempt to rescue the girl, Bullhead, to prevent any interference with his plans, and to put Duncan out of the way, orders his gang to dig a wide and deep pit in the road. They follow his instructions and covered the hole with boughs and dirt, making a regular bear trap out of it. While Duncan speeds on toward probable death or serious injury, the villainous lumberjacks lay in wait in the underbrush by the ro... side.

Bella, overhearing their fiendish plans, is panic-stricken and in order to warn Duncan she makes a desperate attempt to escape and succeeds. She leaves the camp and makes her way to the place where the lumberjacks have dug the deadfall. Just as she is nearing the spot, Duncan comes into sight, shooting along at high speed in his racing car. He sees Bell waving, but not understanding her warning, crashes into the trap.

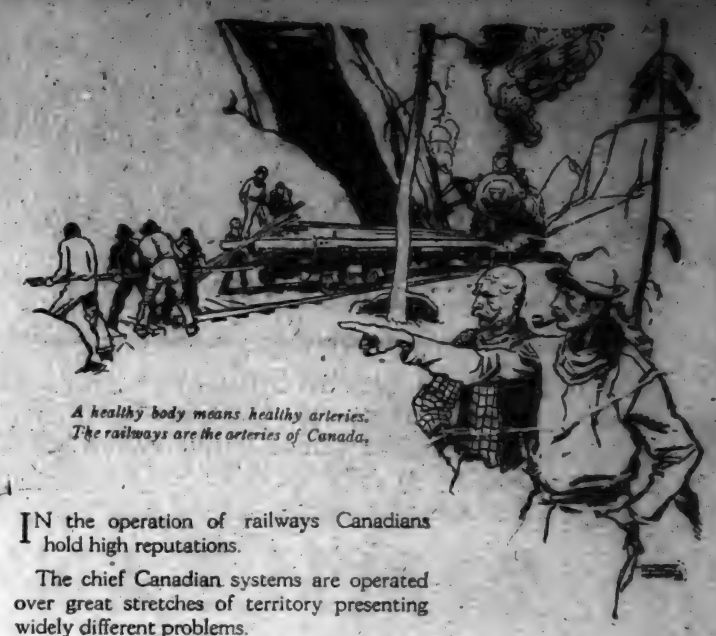
ARCHIVES OF ONTARIO TORONTO



A healthy body means healthy arteries.
The railways are the arteries of Canada.

IN the operation of railways Canadians hold high reputations.

The chief Canadian systems are operated over great stretches of territory presenting widely different problems.

Their traffic obligations fluctuate rapidly with the seasons.

Climatic conditions are sometimes difficult. Unusual foresight, skill and determination are called for.

Yet the only unfailing highways for the heavy traffic across the New World from China to France during the war—were Canadian railways.

Canada alone among the allied countries had no war-time transportation crisis. When foreign roads choked under their load, she relieved them of millions of tons. At a time when ships were the need of the hour no ship lost time in any Canadian port through failure of the railways to deliver cargoes at the docks.

To-day the Canadian producer still commands the fastest, the most dependable and the cheapest railway service in the world.

But the foresight that made this record possible could do nothing without MONEY! The skill that kept terminals uncongested had to be backed with MONEY! The determination that drove crippled engines ahead in the face of 40-below gales and mounting snow would in the long run have been useless without MONEY!

Thus to-day the alarming fall in the net revenues of the railways is a menace to railway efficiency. It injures railway credit. It dissolves the reserves needful to meet the expanding needs of a growing country. It imperils national prosperity.

Increased freight rates are imperative therefore, not merely on behalf of railways but in the interests of Canada itself!

In July 1918 the Canadian roads were threatened with a general strike. To prevent this public catastrophe they agreed to follow the American scale of wage increases. The Government of Canada meantime allowed freight rate increases intended to make up the cost of these new wage rates.

Leaving aside all question of increased cost of material, the new wages cost the railways of Canada an extra eighty million dollars for the first year alone.

The new rates yielded them an additional forty-three millions!

The annual deficit on wages alone was thirty-seven millions and is constantly growing!

continues to burden the community. And in the last analysis subscribers and advertisers, the latter particularly, are the ones that have to pay the shot, if it is paid.

It would seem that this reasoning is generally accepted to-day by experienced newspapermen and that the record of amalgamations and suspensions during recent years has been carefully noted by them. At any rate there has not been, as far as we are aware, a single newspaper, large or small, good, bad or indifferent, commence publication in Canada since before the war. A few have been talked of but their sponsors thought better of it or capital proved elusive when the hazardous nature of the business was realized.

TORTURING, ITCHING ECZEMA.

Mrs. J. B. Horth, Paspediac, Bonaventure Co., Que. writes: —"Thanks to Dr. Chase's Ointment I have been completely cured of that horrid disease, eczema. I was held as if in prison from going among other people, for I was ashamed of the raw, flaming sores. Doctors could do nothing for me, and I was almost desperate with suffering when I began to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. In one month I was completely cured and think scle.

AND SHE WAS HIS DOUGH

"Brown married his cook, didn't he?"

"Yes."

"Was it a love match?"

"Oh, yes. You see he fell in love with her salads."

THIS IS A NEW ONE

They have funny ways of doing things now. In Ottawa a woman appears to have two husbands, and now wants the first one to support her, coming to this conclusion after getting a glimpse of him for the first time in 20 years. All of which would seem to indicate that the first old boy must have been doing fairly well in the interim.—Renfrew Mercury.

Goderich has struck a rate for 1920 at 41 mills.

After missing a horse from the pasture for several days, Fred Watson, of Drummond, found her in the creek alive but unable to extricate herself.

Miss Emily M. Rutledge, Honeywood, passed her examination for interim second class certificate at the recent Provincial Normal School examinations.

Geo. McAlister, Shelburne's well-known auctioneer, has gone to visit his daughters in the West. He will also visit Kamloops, B. C., and the State of Oregon. He will be away about two months.

Jonah Allen, an old resident of Shelburne, was found dead in bed, by his wife. He had been in as good health as usual and his death was therefore entirely unexpected. Deceased, who was in his 67th year, was caretaker of Shelburne Schools and the Anglican Church. Besides his widow he is survived by one son, Edwin, of Toronto. Interment took place at Woodlawn Cemetery, Mount Forest, beside the remains of a daughter on Saturday, July 17th.

Come into our store and ask for Mr. Edison's
REALISM TEST

IT reveals to you the Supreme Realism of the New Edison, the phonograph with which Mr. Edison has challenged the talking-machine manufacturers of the world.

It shows you the charm of music's imagery. It transports you to the far-away. It makes you lose consciousness of your surroundings.

This Fascinating Test

enables you to determine, in an interesting and scientific way, whether the Realism of the New Edison gives you the same emotions as the living singer's voice—as the sound of the actual instrument—or as the performance of great bands and orchestras.

Noted Psychologists

endorse this entertaining experiment as the correct way to ascertain the New Edison's Realism.

You, too, may enjoy this experiment. We invite you to try it.

It will answer, once and for all, your questions, "Can I have the voices of living singers at my beck and call, in my own home? Can I have the great orchestras and bands of the world exactly as they sound?"

BEST TREATMENT FOR HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

—o—

When the Blood does not circulate freely through the Veins you have High Blood Pressure and this is but a Symptom of some other disease or trouble. There is usually Kidney Disease, Heart Disease, Nervous Troubles, Hardening of the Arteries or Brain Trouble.

There is always the danger of a rupture of a Blood Vessel and as the Heart, the Blood Vessels and the Kidneys are all associated with High Blood Pressure the best and most satisfactory treatment is Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills.

This treatment will reduce the Blood Pressure by removing the cause and driving out the Poisons from the system. We are firmly convinced that this treatment will reduce the blood pressure below the danger mark and thus free your mind from the constant worry of death.

People who have been ailing for years should not expect a complete cure in a few days, one should take at least six boxes of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and three boxes of the Kidney and Liver Pills. Be sure to get Hacking's. If your dealer does not have them, he will be glad to get them for you.

Mrs. Walker, formerly of Port Elgin, now living in Flint, Michigan, says: "The neighbors are perfectly astonished to see me getting along so well. I contribute my good health to the persistent use of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and gladly recommend it to all my friends."

A TESTING TIME FOR NEWSPAPERS

The Oshawa Reformer, which on April 1st raised its subscription rate to $2.50 per year and also advanced its advertising rates, says newspaper publishing has come to be recognized as one of the hazardous lines of business from the standpoint of the investor. It was thought that if the war-time period of higher prices and scarcity of help in all departments could be successfully passed through newspapers would be able to improve their position—after the war, but this hope has not been realized. On the whole, post-war conditions are far worse than those experienced during the years of war and infinitely more trying than anything even thought possible prior to the war.

Newsprint which is an important factor of cost with all newspapers, especially those of large circulation, is both difficult to obtain and high in price. It is likely to go still higher as soon as the present Government control is relaxed, and even now two of the largest paper mills are defying that control, and if they are successful others will likely follow their lead.

Other expenses of publishing have risen to a point surpassing all previous records. Ink, rollers for presses, metal for linotype machines, the machines themselves, and of course labor cost, have all gone up and up till publishers wonder if they are ever going to reach the limit.

Is it any wonder therefore that newspapers have been forced in sheer self-defence to readjust their advertising and subscription rates to try and overtake the runaway prices?

Is it surprising that during the past four or five years scores of newspapers both large and small, have been forced to either suspend publication or enter into amalgamation with their local contemporaries.

Towns, with only one newspaper, instead of being almost a rarity have become quite common and what is more, both advertisers and subscribers are, generally speaking, much better served by the one surviving newspaper than was ever possible during the two or three newspaper regime. This is notably true in Niagara Falls, Brantford, St. Thomas, Brockville, Woodstock, Aylmer, Sarnia, Port Arthur, Fort William and numerous other towns and cities where the experiment has been tried. We leave it to our readers to say whether the one-newspaper plan has given better service in Oshawa. In many other places the number of newspapers has been reduced from three to two, as in Owen Sound, Ottawa, Orangeville and Peterboro.

In Toronto one newspaper has suspended publication during the past year and this week another, The Toronto World, has made an assignment for the benefit of its creditors. Although it is continuing publication and it is hoped to reorganize the concern.

In United States the trend to fewer and better newspapers is in the same direction. Detroit has only four newspapers; in New York two of the oldest in that city recently amalgamated; several large Michigan cities with populations from thirty to sixty thousand, such as Port Huron, Flint and Grand Rapids, have only one newspaper each.

All concerned, advertisers, subscribers and the publishers themselves are coming to realize that a multiplicity of overlapping newspapers is an economic waste. In any average town or city with less than 100,000 people, there is no good reason why two newspaper plants with a dual staff of printers, two sets of reporters, two other equipments of a modern newspaper should

TORONTO COUPLE PUT IT TO TEST

Mann and Wife Praise Tanlac For the Way it Restored Them to Splendid Health.

"Both my wife and I have put Tanlac to the test and we think it is a splendid medicine and are glad of the opportunity of recommending it to others," said Edward Munn, of 122 Rose Ave., Toronto, the other day.

For three years I was in a general run-down condition feeling tired and languid all the time, and always getting up in the morning as worn out as though I had been up all night. My stomach was all out of order so that the little I did eat gave me indigestion and never seemed to give me sufficient nourishment. After a meal the gas would form and cause me great distress and keep me in misery most of the time. I was badly constipated and I had frequent dizzy spells when I attempted to stoop over I felt as though I would fall. I was always having headaches which upset me for my work and towards the last I got so weak I was fagged out all the time.

"I heard so many people tell of the wonderful results they got from taking Tanlac that I decided to give it a trial myself. I hadn't got far on the first bottle before I knew it was doing me good. My appetite improved right along, and in a short while I could eat anything I wanted without any fear of indigestion or gas. I am no longer troubled with dizzy spells or constipation, and I feel stronger and better in every way.

"When my wife saw the way Tanlac was helping me, she started taking it also, for she was in a badly run-down condition at the time. It was just as effective in her case as in mine and we are now both enjoying excellent health."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS IN ALBERTA

Being desirous of obtaining all the information possible on the subject of Consolidated Schools I wrote the Department of Education for the Province of Alberta and received a copy of the report for the year 1918. This gives a fairly complete idea of the Consolidated movement in that Province. The chief difficulty they experience is the matter of the conveyance of pupils. This is also the main objection in Ontario on account of our roads in winter. In this regard J. E. Hodgson, Supervisor of Consolidated Schools, says, "it is desirable to make the consolidation as compact as possible and not to include too much territory." You will observe there are on the average only a little over three school sections in a consolidation. This is also the conclusion reached by those interested in the movement in Manitoba and Ontario, that the most effective consolidations are those of a compact nature including three or four sections of average size.

REPORT.

Edmonton, March 16th, 1920.

Hon. Geo. P. Smith, M. P. P.,
Minister of Education,
Edmonton, Alberta.

Sir:—

I have the honor to submit for your consideration a report on the Consolidated School Districts in the Province of Alberta for the year 1919.

Consolidation, as a mode of school organization, is a comparatively recent development in the Province of Alberta. The first Consolidated District was erected in 1913, with Warner as centre. During the six year period since the inception of this movement exceptional progress has been made as is evidenced by the fact that there are now sixty-three Consolidated School districts in operation, eleven of which were erected in 1919. Two hundred and nine school districts are included in these consolidations, and the average number per consolidation is 3.3 districts. From observations the average number per consolidation is 3.3 districts. From observations made, the conclusion has been reached that the most effective consolidations are those of a compact nature, including three or four districts of average size. These permit of the operation of a graded school and offer practically no difficulties in operating a conveyance system.

The majority of the consolidations in the Province have not been in operation for a sufficient period to enable one to give a final judgment on the success of this method of school organization, but many important results have been secured which should exercise a far reaching effect on Alberta's educational development.

In fifty-two of the consolidations school buildings have been, or are being, erected which will provide from two to eight classrooms. Each of these will offer not only the course of study required for the Public school Grades, but also from two to four years of High School work. As the consolidations include, with two exceptions, only village and rural districts, it will be noted that opportunities for taking High School courses have been offered to many who would otherwise have been denied these advantages. The increase in the number of small High School centres will also tend to solve the difficulty experienced in securing teachers who are conversant with rural needs and conditions.

It has been difficult to secure teachers who have a full realization of the purpose and possibilities of consolidation, but many experienced teachers, with superior qualifications, have been attracted by this type of school with the result that a very satisfactory degree of efficiency has been attained. No difficulty has been experienced in securing qualified teachers for Consolidated Schools with two or more class rooms.

As a result of more efficient management, consolidated schools have been able to operate as yearly schools. A comparison of the consolidated schools with the rural schools immediately adjacent to them shows that on the average the consolidated schools have operated for a period of one month longer each year than the adjacent rural schools. There has also been a decided increase in the percentage of attendance, due in part, to the regular operation of conveyances, and also to the greater attractiveness of a graded school under the direction of experienced teachers.

The most remarkable result of consolidation has been the rapid increase in school enrolment. The consolidated schools which have been two years or more in operation show an average increase of fifty per cent. in the enrolment, while the records for the surrounding rural districts for the same period show an increase of only five per cent. The increase in some instances has been phenomenal. Barons Consolidated School District has increased its enrolment one hundred per cent. since 1915, Coaldale, one hundred and twenty-five per cent., while Forestburg has shown an increase of seventy-five per cent. during the past year. These increases are due not only to the fact that many of the children remain for a longer period in school, but also to the fact that parents are attracted to those districts which offer the best facilities for the education of their children.

There is evidence of increased interest in community centre activities in consolidated school districts. Each new school erected is designed and equipped with a view to making it serviceable for community purposes. Many organizations for the promotion of the literary, social and economic interests of the community have made the school their centre, and every encouragement is being given by Boards to those organizations, with a view to fostering a better community spirit.

Consideration should also be given to the cost of operating consolidated schools. Apart from the salaries of the staff, the two main expenditures are for meeting debenture payments and providing conveyance for the children attending the school. In view of the high cost of building material and labor, Boards are urged to use, where possible, existing buildings, and to bring them to a central site. The cost of conveyance is exceptionally high at present on account of the scarcity of labor and the high cost of fodder. Although the provision of conveyance and adequate school facilities has caused an increase in the tax rate in the rural parts of consolidations, of from twenty-five to one hundred per cent., it should be remembered that the conveyance of children is really less expensive when undertaken collectively than individually. Moreover, if each district in the consolidation were required to meet the expense of providing for the advanced work of the children of the district at a High School in a town or city, the total cost of education would not be less than in the consolidated school district.

While much has been accomplished in providing better school facilities, much remains to be done before the aims of consolidation will have been fully realized. During 1920 it is the aim of the Consolidation Branch to give special attention to community activities, and also to articulate the work of the school more fully with the needs of rural communities.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
(Sgd.) J. E. HODGSON,
Supervisor of Consolidated Schools.

This report is not given with the view of advocating this type of school for any particular section, but for the purpose of supplying as much information on the subject as possible. The only way to improve educational conditions in any part of the country is for the people to come together in conference and study the problems for themselves. It is possible a better solution than consolidation might be discovered.

Sincerely yours,
W. M. MORRIS.

39 MILLS

Town Council Fixed Tax Rate at Monday Night's Meeting.

At its meeting on Monday night the Town Council struck the tax rate at 39 mills on the dollar. This is 3 mills higher than last year's rate and will raise a total of $45,804.47 in taxes. Last year the total levy was about $38,000, which was raised by a 39 mill rate. The increase in the rate is attributable to the increase in the High and Public Schools estimates, a larger levy for County purposes and the fact that the Council is itself providing a considerably larger sum for controllable town expenditure. Last year the Public School requisitioned the council for $9,072.50 and the High School Board asked for $4,600.00. This year the amounts are $12,150.00 and $7,050.00 respectively, an increase of about $5,500.00 for the two schools. The amount required for County purposes last year was $5,040.72. This year it has increased to $5,600.80. The 1919 Council raised $5,675.06 for town purposes. The amount provided for in this year's levy is $9,904.80. The 39 mill rate fixed on Monday night is made up as follows:—

	Amount	Mills
Consolidated debenture principal	$ 1,046.75	.90
Consolidated debenture interest	201.55	.18
Waterworks debenture principal	2,121.40	1.81
Waterworks debenture interest	641.22	.55
Cement works debenture principal	125.79	.11

CHASED REFEREE

Angry Fans Gave Bert Booth a Lively Time at St. Catharines.

St. Catharines is still trying to live up to its ancient reputation as a rough house lacrosse town. Over 2,000 spectators attended the first O. A. L. A. game of the season on Monday and saw Niagara Falls, wearing St. Catharines uniforms and with nine Garden City players, lose to the Brampton Excelsiors by a score of 4 to 3. The game was a real lacrosse battle and had the spectators right on their toes most of the time. Referee Bert Booth, of Orangeville, almost precipitated a riot, when he refused to allow a goal scored by Niagara Falls. Booth accepted the word of the Brampton timekeeper, who declared the game over, whereas the Niagara Falls timekeeper claimed that nearly a minute of time remained to play. The referee was rather roughly handled by some of the crowd, but finally made a hasty escape from the grounds. A despatch to the dailies states that a Police Sergeant furnished safe conduct for Judge of Play, Dr. Campbell, also an Orangeville man.

VOTE POSTPONED

REFERENDUM ON IMPORTATION OF LIQUOR DEFERRED UNTIL APRIL 18, 1921.

Disappointing Decision by the Federal Cabinet.

The Union Cabinet at Ottawa has decided to postpone the voting on the referendum on the importation of liquor into Ontario from October 25th until April 18th of next year. An Ottawa despatch announces and summarizes the reasons for the disappointing decision as follows:—

On account of representations made through various organizations in Ontario the Government has decided to postpone the date for holding the referendum vote in the Province of Ontario until Monday, April 18, 1921, in order to permit of a revision of the Ontario Provincial voters' lists.

The date originally set for the taking of the vote in Ontario was October 25 next.

The present postponement has become necessary in order that the Ontario voters' lists may be thoroughly revised and brought up to date before the vote is taken.

By the legislation passed by the House of Commons on June 28 last special provision was made for the taking of the referendum vote in Ontario, as there were in that Province existing voters' lists, which had been prepared and used in the Provincial election of October, 1919. It was, therefore, provided in the Franchise Act that the Provincial- voters' lists of 1919 in the Province of Ontario should be used without revision for any vote in that Province taken before December 31, 1920. This provision applied solely to Ontario because Parliament felt that the lists in Ontario were so recent that it would be both unnecessary and unwise to go to the expense of revision.

However, it has now been pointed out that the Provincial lists in Ontario are by no means satisfactory, and that if they are used for the purpose of the referendum vote the result may be the disqualification of a large number of electors, and particularly of returned soldiers. Various organizations in Ontario have objected to the use of these lists for the referendum vote without revision.

Immediately after the passage of the act, in June last, the Dominion Alliance passed a formal resolution of protest against the use of the Ontario Provincial lists without revision, and accompanied the same with a letter from the Rev. B. H. Spence, Secretary of the Alliance. This letter is now used as one of the reasons for the postponement. The Citizens Liberty League and the Great War Veterans also asked for a postponement of the vote on the plea that the lists should first be revised.

Commenting upon the decision Dr. A. S. Grant, Vice-Chairman and Secretary of the Ontario Referendum Committee, expressed himself in the following terms:—

"This will be a gross injustice to the Ontario Referendum Committee, which, acting in good faith and on a definite understanding with the Government, has its organization already set up in every county and city in the Province, has signed contracts for advertising space in all the dailies and weeklies of the Province, and has billboard space also contracted for and the necessary posters and literature arranged, all for the date fixed, namely, October 25. If the date should be changed all this would be lost and be a waste of money. Besides, it is a great injustice to the temperance people of this Province in leaving the doors open to the flooding of the Province with liquor from outside, and prolonging the present intolerable condition of things.

"Ontario should not be treated differently from the other Provinces, which through their Legislatures have applied for the taking of the vote on the question of importation.

"If the voters' lists for Ontario have to be revised we are not offering any objection, but we think that the old lists ought to be as fair for one party as for the other, and being of such recent date might very well serve as an expression of the will of the people on the question of importation, and thus save both the Government and the people of the Province large expenditure of time and money.

"But we do demand that the Government should treat this Province as to the date on which the vote is to be taken in the same manner as the other Provinces, and have the Ontario voters' lists prepared so that the vote can be taken as formerly arranged, on October 25, 1920."

Rev. Ben H. Spence, whose letter on behalf of the Ontario Branch of the Alliance, has been referred to as furnishing one of the reasons for the postponing of the vote, has issued a statement in which he says:

"The announcement comes as a surprise. Campaign plans have been all made and everything set for October 25. It is a matter of profound regret that there should now be a postponement for practically six months, and that for this additional time gross evils should continue, and continue against the will of the people of Ontario.

"I recognize the injustice of a vote on lists over a year old. Fifty thousand young men and women come of voting age every year. These have citizen rights. That the 25,000 Canadian soldiers who have returned during the last year after fighting our battles for us should be deprived of a voting voice in home affairs would be a scandalous shame. Then there are changes and removals, and these have been many recently. Fully 100,000 Canadian citizens would have been disfranchised by the use of the old lists without revision.

"Against this injustice the alliance protested vigorously, but protested when Parliament was in session and when provision could and should have been made for a revision of the lists.

"Unfortunately, instead of granting our request, Parliament actually enacted special legislation preventing a revision of the lists in the Province of Ontario if a vote should be taken before December 31 of this year. We opposed this legislation then. The wrongness of it is clearly seen now, for it ties the hands of the Government.

"The Government, after turning down our representations of last June, should not now use them to justify delaying the vote. Nothing could be further from our purpose or more contrary to our wishes. Nor do I think the Government statement was meant to convey the impression that we sought in any way to delay the vote. We did not.

"The Government was wrong in not heeding then. The Government is not righting that wrong or meeting our wishes by perpetuating for six months longer the evil we seek to abolish."

THE RATES FOR HYDRO POWER

by J. E. Middleton

Some persons say that since the Hydro-Electric System is a Government enterprise there should be a flat rate for power in all sections of the Province. They declare that districts remote from a generating plant should not be penalized because of their geographical position. After saying that taxation is a burden shared in equal proportions according to property by all citizens, they assert that power rates should also be without discrimination.

The argument is based on a misconception. The "Hydro" is not a Government enterprise. It is a co-operative municipal enterprise under Government supervision. Each local Council is directly charged by the ratepayers to see that the public money collected for municipal purposes is properly expended. The interest of a Council is not Province-wide. In a measure it does not extend to the welfare of other Hydro municipalities, save as the common welfare affects that one community. Ratepayers of Toronto would never consent to pay a rate higher than necessary, in order to equalize with London. London, in turn, would not equalize with Sarnia. Anyone who suggests such a general adjustment of rates does not understand the basis of the Hydro system. It is municipal, not Provincial.

Even if the Provincial Government were the owner of the organization, to equalize rates would be equally wrong. Each municipality has its own advantages, due to geographical position. For instance, Sarnia has direct water-transport and low freight to the head of the Lakes. Generally the special favor one town may possess in a near-by power-supply is balanced in other communities by other advantages. In any case the highest power-rate paid by a Hydro municipality in Ontario, is greatly below the cost of steam power in that same district. No one suggests that the freight-rate on coal should be equalized for the whole Province. To equalize electric power-rates would be equally absurd.

The plan of rate-making adopted by the Hydro Electric Power Commission is not generally understood. Consider those municipalities connected to the Niagara System. All have a direct interest, proportional to the amount of power they take in the co-operative generating plant at Niagara Falls. They are responsible for the carrying charges on the capital invested, for the cost of operation maintenance and administration, and for a depreciation charge sufficient to renew the plant when the last of the bonds mature. Since the responsibility varies directly with the amount of power bought, these charges are calculated on a per-horse-power basis, and are included in the rate. So far as the generating costs are concerned all municipalities fare alike.

But high-tension transmission introduces a new factor. The capital cost of building the transmission lines is adjusted for each municipality in accordance with its distance from the generating plant. Thus, Caledonia pays, in its rate, a share of the capital and operating cost of transmission from the Falls to Hamilton, of transforming and switching in Hamilton, and of transmission from Hamilton to Caledonia. The town has no responsibility for the line to Toronto, or Guelph, or Chatham. A charge for lines in which Caledonia has no direct concern would be an unjust exaction. It could not be justified by any principle of municipal law.

Each Hydro municipality, therefore, pays in the power-rate fixed its just proportion of the generating cost and of the charges on the transmission line which serves it. Thus the Commission's work is self-sustaining, and when the bonds are redeemed the co-operative union will own the plant.

In its turn, the municipality in fixing its rate to consumers, with the approval of the Commission, considers the cost of power as delivered, the interest and sinking fund on its own transforming station and wiring, and the annual cost of maintenance and operation. So also the local system is self-sustaining, and when its debentures are all redeemed will own the plant, as an unencumbered asset.

Under such a system, which meets every requirement of modern scientific accounting, there is no possibility of equalization, even if there were need. There is no need, for despite all these charges which the consumer pays in his monthly bill, for generation, transmission and distribution, the cost of power for domestic lighting, commercial lighting and factory power is far less than he would pay for power generated by steam.

PRIMROSE

When my sojourn at Camilla was o'er,
To Primrose I thought I would go once more;
I got there in time, and lucky was I,
To attend the garden party of the W. I.

The crowd began to come at seven,
And no one left until after eleven;
The Primrose girls did play at ball,
With Camilla girls both short and tall.

The game was won by the Primrose nine,
Altho' both teams played swift and fine;
They batted well and played right honest,
Each baseball girl without a bonnet.

Perry Lindsay, first, the game did umpire,
Until the visiting team did of him tire;
Then they of course Ed. White did choose,
And Perry soon his job did lose.

Some lovers strolling round, I thought
Amongst them I noticed Harold Scott;
A fair one on each side, Harold vowed,
That two is company, three a crowd.

I, Robert Little, next did greet,
It surely was for me a treat;
Bob said, as his thoughts did wander,
"Yes, absence makes the heart grow fonder."

I next Lorne Halbert there did see;
He's still a youth both gay and free:
Of this old world he makes the most,
While of sweethearts fair he has a host.

Tom Lindsay seemed to keep out of sight.;
I feared he was captured for the night.
Some said it's just a leap year game,
You'll find him down in lover's lane.

Frank Turner, a Camilla guy,
Strolled with a maiden, dark and high,
And when the crowd dispersed for home,
I doubt if Frank went home alone.

Roy Wilson patronized the tent;
On having a good time he was bent;
'Twas ice cream cones and oranges too,
And girls he treated not a few.

When Lyttle saw the crowd all there,
And from Relessey none real fair,
Of course, of it he made the best,
'Tho to his heart his hand he pressed.

Herb Elgie was a useful boy,
To all he was a hope and joy;
And listen, girls, this I have heard,
That Herbert wants to cage a bird.

The programme ended, the anthem sung,
The gates were all wide open flung;
I waited there Jim Dodds to see,
For he had said, "You come with me."

IN MEMORIAM.

Lines in memory of Mrs. Samuel Courtney, (nee Pearl Porterfield), who departed this life December 16th, 1919.

A gentle hand, unseen by us,
Has plucked our tender bud;
By this alone our grief was blest,
It was the hand of God.

No care was lavished here in vain
Upon this plant of love;
'Tho soon removed 'twill bloom again
In sweeter form above.

Oh, gentle one, we miss her
Sweet form we loved so well;
But in our Father's better care,
We know that Pearl is well.

Thou, Father, doest all things well,
Although our hearts with sorrow swell,
There's comfort in Thy grace alone;
Help us to say Thy will be done.

The form may sleep beneath the sod,
Her spirit dwells at home with God.
He bids us trust and weep no more,
For we shall meet those gone before.

Cease our sorrow and our weeping,
Wipe away the falling tears;
She's not in the cold grave sleping,
But she lives in endless years.

Farewell! We'll meet on yon bright shore;
Our sighs and tears will then be o'er;
Farewell, again, we sadly say,
Until there dawns eternal day.

ELDER

(Intended for last week)

As it is now some time since I have noticed anything in your valuable paper from Elder, I thought I would write you a few items of my travels in that locality. I first called on Mr. William Thompson and was pleased to learn that he was improving. While there Johnnie Conn happened in and told me that the lillies were in full bloom. I next called to see Carman McKelvey, but his father informed me that he had left for William Haddock's. Willie invited me to remain for tea which I did. I then called on my friend, Emerson Holmes, who asked me if I would stay with him all night. This I agreed to do. Starting out next morning I met Mrs. Flynn, who told me she was on her way to school. Just then Earl Lewis drove out and gave me a ride as far as the 3rd line. There I met Theo. Wilson, who informed me that he had the cage, but had no bird in view. I then went on down the line as far as Jas. McCutcheon's. Here I saw a track out, which I concluded might have been caused by Lester Stinson. When I got down as far as the school I met Clinton, who seemed to be looking rather blue. I asked him his trouble and he said that he feared he would be very lonely during the holiday time. I advised him to cheer up and then proceeded on my way as I wanted to spend the remainder of the week with my friend, Archie.

ALTON.

(Intended for last week)

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Davis and children, of Thorndale, and Mrs. J. Davis and children, of Drayton, spent last week with friends in town.

Rev. J. F. Morris, pastor of the Methodist Church, is having a month's vacation. During his absence there will be union services in the Presbyterian Church.

The Orangeville Methodist League visited the Alton League on Monday evening, July 19th, when an enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

Miss Rena Murray, of Toronto, spent a few days last week with her friend, Miss Julia Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Cuthbert were in Brampton on Thursday, July 22nd attending the funeral of Mrs. Cuthbert's brother, the late Mr. Roland Brownridge.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Barber and daughter, Hope, left last Thursday on a motor trip to Sturgeon Point, where they spent a few days campnig with friends.

The Methodist Sunday School held their annual picnic to Stanley Park, Erin, on Saturday, July 24th.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and family, of Grand Valley, spent Sunday with Mrs. Robinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Martin.—Advocate.

During the severe electrical storm which passed over Arthur a week ago Friday afternoon, the office of the Enterprise-News was visited by lightning. The current ran down the pipe from the eave trough into the new cistern which had been completed only a few weeks ago. One of the sides of the cistern was blown completely out. The side which is five feet square seems to have been swung around at right angles as though it had been a door on hinges and then thrown over, its nearest corner being about a foot from the cistern.

THE RUT AND ITS DANGER

(The Christian Guardian.)

It is easy to get into a rut, but it is hard to get out of one. Things go so smoothly when we drop into that well-worn path, that we hate to leave it. It seems to require little or no exertion to fall into a rut, and many of us get into them; but it requires so much initiative and so much patience to get out of the rut and to stay out, that many of us never get out.

A farmer gets into a rut, and he abhors all manner of new things, from lightning rods to pure-bred cattle, and from good buildings to the rotation of crops. An educationist gets into a rut, and he fights to the last ditch for the classics as the means of intellectual salvation, or for manual training as the only kind of teaching worth while. A Housewife gets into a rut, and it is the self-same menu 365 days in the year. A preacher gets into a rut, and his sermons differ chiefly in the texts. And those who suffer from the state of affairs find it hard, very hard, to effect any change.

Very often we do not know that we are in any rut. We know well enough we do not like the way some of our neighbors do things, and we refuse to follow them; but that is only because we know better than they. If they were in the right we should not hesitate a minute about following them; but then we know they are not in the right. It is true we are following the path our fathers trod, but it is not because it is easy, but because it is wise and right. And so we lull ourselves to sleep with the pleasant thonght that, no matter what is wrong with the rest of the world, there is nothing wrong with us. And yet we may be hopelessly in a rut that spells retrogression rather than progress.

The rut fetters man. It prevents freedom of motion except in one ficials who are wedded to the old direction, and it prevents us ever striking into a new path. It makes us slow to fit in to new schemes, and sometimes it makes us very rebellious when we are compelled to fit in. We go where we have to go over a new road, yet we cannot help but declare our belief that it is the wrong road, and will lead to the wrong goal. This may not wholly prevent our success in new ventures, but it certainly does not help to insure that success. In political life and in business life it is often absolutely necessary, if new plans have been decided upon, to remove certain of the prominent and influential of-methods, and fill their places with other men who are prepared to give the new plan a fair trial. Not seldom has it happened that a man who has perfected a most admirable scheme, has had that scheme fail utterly and miserably simply because he did not, or could not, entrust its working to men who had faith in it. Occasionally we may find a man who is willing to give a fair trial to a scheme which he dislikes, but usually we cannot be fair to anything we dislike.

In Church matters the rut is very often much in evidence. There are prayer-meeting ruts, church service ruts, and usually it is impossible to get out of any of them without more or less struggle.

What shall we do in such cases? We do not want perpetual change in religious matters; in fact, we do not want any change merely for the sake of change, but only when it seems to be necessary in order to make the more effective appeal to our people. But when a method is plainly ineffective it is surely time for a change. The prayer-meeting, the sermon, the Sunday school, and the church service must be made to fit into our daily life. The world is moving and the church must move with it. The sermon that fitted ten years ago must be remodelled to fit today, and the methods that worked a generation ago must be changed to suit the men of this generation. George Stephenson's "Rocket" would make a poor showing on the Canadian National Railways today. We want greater power, greater speed, greater adaptability, and to secure the best we must get on the learner's seat and stay there.

NEWS NOTES

The receipts of the Anglican annual garden party at Thornbury on the evening of July 12th, amounted to the tidy sum of $1,000.

Miss Jennie McBride, who has for over three years past, been a member of the Mt. Forest Confederate staff, has gone to Brantford where she has accepted a good position as linotype operator with the Brantford Expositor.

Frank Ball, an employee of the Mt. Forest Confederate office, overbalanced from a box on which he was standing and fell heavily against a revolving pulley on the linotype machine. His forehead was deeply cut above the eye and a couple of stitches were necessary to close the gash.

One of the oldest former inhabitant of Erin Township passed away at Guelph a week ago Sunday, in the person of Margaret Reid Awrey, relict of the late Gideon Awrey, Esq., of Mimosa, and sister of Robert A. Reid, of Hillsburg. Mrs. Awrey was in her 82nd year and died as a result of a stroke on Friday last. The interment took place at the family plot in the cemetery at Mimosa, on Tuesday, July 27th.

Sweet clover records are still going up with the growthy weather. Bert Knox, Swinton Park, has some eight feet tall, but Rich. Scott, 12th con., Proton, beat him by two inches. E. H. Wale, of the 14th con., Proton, has the tallest sample yet, reaching 8 ft. 5 inches. The accumulating sweet clover in The Herald office has done away with the old inky odor so long attached to printing shops generally. Bring in the long green and we'll get another cow to feed.—Dundalk Herald.

Mr. Arthur Nurse, Lot 23, Con. 4, Erin, while working in the hay field, suffered a bad accident. He had climbed off the load to remove a limb in order to avoid it getting tangled in the hay loader, and while in the act of climbing to the load at the front of the wagon, the rack gave way and dropped onto the horses. The horses became frightened and kicked, striking the unfortunate man in the face. His nose was badly crushed, the left eye burst and his face very badly bruised.

The four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gerrie, Owen Sound, suffered a peculiar accident a week ago Sunday last when a tombstone fell on him. Mrs. Gerrie had motored up to Greenwood Cemetery, and the little lad was playing around. In some manner he pulled a tombstone which was either loose on its base or very slanted, over on himself. The tombstone was a big heavy granite one and weighed about three hundred pounds. The stone fell right on his chest and knocked the little boy unconscious. He was still unconscious when he was got out from under the tombstone, and Dr. Frizzell was called. He found that a thick coat, that the child had been wearing, had saved him from serious injury, the little boy escaping with a cut on the chin and a number of bad bruises on the chest.

A MAGIC WOODPILE

Tom felt cross. And no wonder. What boy of the second grade would not feel cross to be called a baby just because he could not run as fast as a fourthgrade boy? Tom did wish he were big and strong. Then he would thrash that Jack Hicks. Yes, he would; he'd thrash him hard! And the longer Tom thought about Jack, the crosser he felt.

Tom turned into his own yard. That woodpile stared him in the face, and seemed to talk to Tom.

"You wan't to fight, do you? Well, come on, then, and fight with me. I'm ready for you." That's what it said.

Seesaw! Seesaw! Seesaw! Back and forth over one big log Tom worked his small, sharp-toothed saw. By and by a chunk of wood dropped to the ground.

"Your're beaten," declared Tom, pausing for breath. "But I'm not through yet."

How Tom worked! He worked until he was so hungry it seemed as if he could hardly wait to reach the cooky-jar. He felt a vacant place inside of him somewhere; but his arms, though they were tired, felt strong.

"There, father will find three of his logs beaten," thought Tom, as he put his saw back in the barn. "I'll have a lunch, and then I'll be strong enough to thrash any fourthgrader, even Jack Hicks, who thinks he's so smart.

But, try as he would, Tom no longer felt like thrashing anyone. That sharp-toothed saw of his had eaten up more than half of the crossness, and Tom himself ate up the rest along with three plump molasses cookies.

Mr. Thomas Fines, on the Guelph Road, brought to the Erin Advocate office three stocks of white blossom sweet clover that measured eight ft. 6 inches long, and literally covered with blossom. Mr. Fines has twenty-three acres of this crop and it all stands on a fair average height.

AUTO ACCIDENT

Car Turned Over in Ditch.

A rather serious auto accident occurred on Sunday afternoon on the 2nd of West Luther, just east of the farm of Reeve James McQueen, in which two employees of the Bell Telephone were injured. Rumstedtler, who is foreman of a gang that has been building line near Shelburne, had some ribs broken and received some painful bruises, Martin, one of his men, had his shoulder dislocated and his collar bone fractured. Rumstedler's gang had gone down to Orangeville on Saturday evening to attend a convention of Bell Telephone employees on Monday. On Sunday, Rumstedtler, Martin and another employee by the name of Bradley, engaged a Mr. Reid of Orangeville to drive them to Arthur to visit the gang that has been at work here for the past few days. The fraternal call had been made and the auto was speeding home to Orangeville when, while passing another car, Reid in some way lost control and his auto turned over in the ditch, pinning Rumstedtler and Martin to the ground. T. McElliatrum, of West Luther, who happened along gave the injured men assistance and took them into Mr. McQueen's and Dr. Blair was telephoned for. After examining the two injured men, the doctor decided that the Lord Dufferin Hospital, Orangeville, was the best place for them and took them there in his car. Rumstedtler was put to bed where he will probably remain for a few days. After having his shoulder dressed, Martin was able to go to his room at the hotel. The car in which the men were driving was badly wrecked, one of the wheels and front axle being broken to pieces.

CAUSE OF TROUBLE IN DERRY

The underlying cause of the recent trouble in Londonderry has soon transpired. Indeed it could not be hidden. It was an intentional assault upon the Protestant inhabitants with a view to drive them out of the city and reverse the memorable history round which the most intense feeling still clings. Incidentally it showed that the driving force of Sinn Feinism is more religious than political. From postions of vantage at the Nazareth Home and St. Columb's College, both Roman institutions, the Sinn Feiners directed a continuous and deadly fire upon the houses of the Protestants and the streets adjoining them. Numbers of defenceless people were compelled to flee from those houses and the remnant who stood their ground were reduced to a state of starvation. It goes without saying that the conflict within the ancient walls has taken on much of its old severity. The cry of "No surrender" has a meaning and reality now very like that which it had in the days of James 11. and William of Orange. We are thankful for the order which has been restored by the British troops, but it must be manifest that they cannot eradicate the cause of the disorder. Nor should the double dealing of the priests be overlooked. While some of their number have joined the committee that is endeavouring to restore and maintain tranquility, others are supporting the Sinn Fein combatants and inflaming religious passion. For example, "Father" Doherty in a recent sermon appealed for the prayers of the congregation on behalf of those who had been wounded in the "heroic defence of Catholic Derry."

At a special meeting of Owen Sound Presbytery held at Meaford July 27th, Rev. S. D. Jamieson, of Thornbury, accepted a call to Wingham and Delhi in Paris Presbytery.

WHEN THE OFFICE BOY RAN THE NEWSPAPER

Dear folks: Now I know why editors go mad. I ben trying to run this paper while the editor is on his vakashun. For three (3) days and nites, I been reading questions and trying to answer them, and if I don't quit I'l be goin' around talking to myself. I'm going to answer a few more and go to the ball game—Jimmy, the office boy.

1 What is a limerneck?—J. Jones.

Limberneck in the country is a strange disease of fouls and chickens. In the city it is a disease of human persons caused by watching fouls—and chickens.

2 Do small cows give condensed milk?—Mabel B.

No, Mabel, condensed milk is made by trying to get a quart of milk into a pint bottle.

3 Please tell me how hash is made?

Hash is not made; it accumulates.

4 Is it right to feed hogs corn on the ear,—G. K.

No, put it in the trough and let them help themselves.

5 I am in love with a homely girl who works for us, but she don't seem to care for me, while a pretty girl with lots of money wants to marry me. What shall I do?—Will M.

Marry the one you love, and send me the name and address of the other one.

6 My hair is beginning to come out. What can I get to keep it in?

A sack.

7 Please tell me how to raise a nice fat hog of 500 pounds.—Z.

Get a derrick.

8 How can I tell when the water is the right temperature for bathing baby?—Young Mother.

If the baby turns red and hollers, the water is too hot, if he gets blue and shivers, it's too cold.

9 I am 40 years old, have a nice little farm, and am thinking about taking a wife. What would you advise?—Old Batch.

I would advise you to be careful whose wife you take.

10 Our red bull is chasing me around a 40-acre field. What shall I do?—Mike F.

I don't know, but don't give up, Mike, the editor will be back in a week.

PEEL EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION

At the meeting held in the Court House last Thursday afternoon an Educational Association for the County of Peel was formed with the following officers: Hon.-President, Inspector W. J. WON'T UNITE JUST NOW

S. S. N. 5, Amaranth, at a meeting last week decided to make certain repairs to their building this year, and erect a new structure next year. This decision sets at rest for the time being, a hope that the people of that section would make some arrangements with the local authorities for teaching their pupils, who number about 12. A suggestion from higher up authorities that Grand Valley should take these pupils into its school at about $100 a year, did not receive much sympathetic or practical encouragement from the local board. They had no objection to any school section coming in a pro rata basis, but were against the bonus system, or giving educational advantages to outsiders at a lower rate than what it costs. A new school, for present day requirements, will be an expensive proposition for any section, outside the ordinary running expenses, and it seems as if another effort should be made to effect some arrangement before the section spends the money necessary for a new school.—Star & Vidette.

On Wednesday evening, July 21st, Richard Mulholland Grey passed away at his home near Wareham at the age of 64 years. He was a sufferer from cancer on the neck.

Constipation Generates Poisons

When Constipation comes, what happens? The Colons get clogged with waste material, which is extremely poisonous, the blood circulation comes in sufficiently close contact with the waste to take up these Poisons by absorption and to distribute them throughout the body. The result is—the Liver becomes Sluggish, you become dull and heavy, Biliousness asserts itself, then you have Headache, Kidney and Bladder Trouble, Indigestion, Appendicitis, and more evils besides.

Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills are highly recommended for Constipation and its Evil Results

They are purely vegetable, do not Gripe, Purge or Irritate, and bring relief by producing a healthy condition of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels.

No matter what medicine you are taking for a laxative it might be just as well to change off to Hacking's. The combination of Cascara, Peppermint, Mayapple and the other Vegetable Drugs contained in these pills will produce results to be unequalled by any others. They work beautiful in Digestive Disorders, for Gas on the Stomach, for Spasmodic Pains in the Stomach and Bowels, and for Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

Buy a few boxes from your dealer to-day, but be absolutely sure you get Hacking's.

FREQUENT HEADACHES

A Sure Sign That the Blood is Watery and Impure.

People with thin blood are much more subject to headaches than full-blooded persons and the form of anaemia that afflicts growing girls is almost always accompanied by headaches, together with disturbance of the digestive organs.

Whenever you have constant or recurring headaches and pallor of the face, they show that the blood is thin and your efforts should be directed toward building up your blood. A fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this effectively, and the rich red blood made by these pills will remove the headache.

More disturbances to the health are caused by their blood than most people have any idea of. When your blood is impoverished the nerves suffer from lack of nourishment, and you may be troubled with insomnia, neuritis, neuralgia or sciatica. Muscles subject to strain are undernourished and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If your blood is thin and you begin to show symptoms of any of these disorders, try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as the blood is restored to its normal condition every symptom of the trouble will disappear. There are more people who owe their present state of good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills than to any other medicine, and most of them do not hesitate to say so.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Dufferins won Saturday Game in Bradford Quite Handily.

Nearly one hundred lacrosse enthusiasts motored to Bradford on Saturday afternoon and had the satisfaction of seeing The Dufferins trim the home team by a score of 11 to 5. The green-shirts fumbled the ball badly in the first few minutes play, but they soon found themselves and ran in four goals during the first ten minutes. Bert Brown tallied the first on a neat pass from Bill Steyans, Ewing took the second, Blythe Brown the third and brother Bert the fourth. All four goals were scored after lightning dashes, which the Bradford defence seemed powerless to stop. The Bradford home got possession of the sphere shortly after the face-off and after some pretty combination work notched the first counter for the home team. The effort proved a flash in the pan, for The Dufferins came right back with three counters in short order, Zinn, who was sticking close to the flags, doing the needful each time. The ex-Hanover star got the first on a lightning pass from Blythe Brown, the second after a run in and pass by Stevens and the last on another swift pass from one of the Browns. Once Zinn took the pass so close in that he simply tipped the ball over the Bradford goalie's shoulder into the net.

Bradford's heavy defence got down to close, hard checking in the second quarter and with what looked like a safe lead the Dufferin home did not bore in as vigorously as in the opening period. Bradford tallied after two minutes play, Harmon doing the trick with a swift, dropping shot from straight out in front. A minute later Dufferins evened for the quarter on a pretty piece of combination work in which Zinn, Stevens and Brown figured. This finished the scoring for the quarter.

Bradford supporters cheered lustily when the home team drew first blood in the third period after two and a half minutes play, but their joy was short-lived for Dufferins ran in three in succession, Bert Brown got the first in five minutes. After another five minutes Brown sent in another hot one, which Coombs stopped but was unable to clear. Zinn was in the right place and tallied in easy fashion. Bert Brown tallied the third a minute later as the result of a brilliant bit of combination play in which Earl Stevenson, who replaced Stevens at half time, and Blythe Brown both figured prominently. Scott was given a rest for accidentally checking a Bradford man across the mug and the Bradford home pressed its advantage to the limit. A swift shot struck Booth a resounding blow fairly on the pad. The ball bounded out in front and a Bradford home man scooped it into the net. This was the last tally during the quarter, which closed with honors in favor of The Dufferins, who had scored three times against twice for their opponents. Dufferins did not score in the final quarter and the home team only once, making the final tally 11 to 5 for the green-shirts. One of the Bradford men took exception to there were two or three minor accidents in the closing period necessitating a number of delays.

On the whole the game was clean, although some of the checking was decidedly vigorous. Bradford has a strong, heavy team and the defence fielders did not hesitate to "lay on" the stick whenever opportunity offered. The men lacked speed and the fast Dufferin home were usually able to outfoot their checks. The Bradford home combined well and would have been dangerous against a weaker defence. They had possession of the ball a great deal, but were seldom able to work into position to shoot effectively. Dufferins played a strong, aggresive game and judging from their work in the first quarter could have scored more goals had it been necessary. The home is lightning fast and is always dangerous as the men go right for the goal whenever they get the ball. Golden replaced Ewing in the last quarter and made a most favorable impression on the local fans despite the fact he was given a rough passage by the big Bradford defence. Bob McKinistry, in his day one of the finest defence men playing the game, figured on the Bradford defence and was by all odds the largest man on either team. McKinstry has been playing the game for twenty-five years or longer and despite his years is still a valuable defence man. He is somewhat slow of foot, but uses his head and generally gets away with the ball once he reaches it. "Dad," the Bradford crowd called him and the sobriquet was no misnomer either for he has at least one grown-up son who is trying to play the game as well as his father. Ernie Doyle and Jack Carmichael handled the game in an impartial manner. Players and officials were:—

Bradford — goal, W. Coombs; point, R. McKinstry; coverpoint, J. Webb; 1st defence, O. McKinstry; 2nd defence, L. Church; centre, W. Sutherland; 2nd home, O. Robinson; 1st home, L. Arnold; outside home, W. Reeves; inside home, C. Harmon; centre, F. Evans, T. Harmon and F. Collins.

Dufferins — goal, Bert Booth; point, J. Cushing; coverpoint, D. Densmore; 1st defence, W. Hender son; 2nd defence, R. Scott; centre, W. Stevens (Earl Stevenson); 2nd home, Blythe Brown; 1st home, W. Ewing (Golden); outside home, Bert Brown; inside home, Dr. Zinn.

Referees, E. Doyle, Newmarket, and J. Carmichael, Toronto; timekeepers, Jas. Dawson, Orangeville, and T. W. McConkey, Bradford; penalty timekeeper, Dr. Cummings, Bradford.

The win on Saturday puts The Dufferins in a much better position to win the district. Weston has won all its games except the game played in Orangeville some weeks ago. The Dufferins have won all their games and if they can win in Weston next Saturday will be district champions. If they lose Saturday's game they will be tied with Weston for the first place and a play-off will have to be arranged. Had the green-shirts lost to Bradford on Saturday it would have been necessary to win the Weston game, admittedly the toughest proposition of the series, to even tie the Weston team for the district honors.

UNION CHURCHES

Presbyterians and Methodists Drawing Closer Together.

There are approximately three hundred union churches in Canada. Annual statistics being compiled in the church offices reveal this relation betwen the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches, with many other congregations in the process of amalgamation, and districts in the west being divided, where it has been mutually aranged that only one church or the other will establish a centre, with building and minister.

An analysis of the figures and conditions show that Northern Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, British Columbia, and Alberta are the furthest advanced in organic church union consummation. The older sections of the country, particularly Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Western Ontario are only slightly affected so far. North of Toronto there are many union congregations, while in the Montreal district, or north of there in Quebec, there are four united churches.

The Methodist figures show that over 126 churches of their denomination are either co-operative, united, or at present under the charge of a Presbyterian minister. The exact figures are not yet available for the Presbyterian Church.

In many of the newer districts in the west, where they have had several denominations, each struggling for existence and creating rivalry, it has been decided to unite, and have one Protestant church. The result has been a smooth-working arrangement with an income equal to the cost. In Alberta the Presbyterian and Methodist officials have worked out a co-operative scheme whereby certain sections will be ministered to by one denomination only.

TRANSFERRED TO BELLEVILLE

Mr. Geo. Stewart, general agent for the Massey-Harris here, has been transfered from Orangeville to Belleville and will move his family and effects to that city as soon as he can secure a house. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have been excellent citizens and their departure from town will be keenly regretted by their numerous friends. Mr. Robt. Harrison, of Shelburne, who was connected with the Massey-Harris agency here a number of years ago, will succeed Mr. Stewart at this point.

BLACK KNIGHTS SERVICE

The members of Orangeville Preceptory, Royal Black Knights, will attend divine service in St. Andrew's Church at 7 o'clock next Sunday night. Rev. W. M. Morris, a Sir Knight of the Order, will address the brethren. A number of visiting members are expected from Alliston, Grand Valley, Palgrave and other neighboring Preceptories. The Sir Knights will meet at L. O. No. 635 Hall at 6.30 p.m. and parade to the church headed by Orangeville Citizens Band. The Band will take the place of the church choir for the evening and lead the service of song.

MELVILLE CROSS.

Melville Methodist Church held a successful garden party on the Melville school grounds on Friday night last. The David Bros., tenor and baritone soloists, furnished an enjoyable program. Rev. H. L. Partridge, of Orangeville, occupied the chair in an acceptable manner. The grounds were brilliantly illuminated by Delco light. The Garden Party was in every respect a most enjoyable affair and we congratulate our Methodist citizens on its succes.

DIED IN BUGGY

Body of Erin Young Man Found Under Unusual Circumstances.

David Cunningham, twenty-eight years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Cunningham, of Erin township, was found dead in a buggy in the village of Ospringe about one o'clock Monday night on the road directly in front of Mr. Gordon's store. The startling discovery was made by Mr. Gordon and Mr. Stewart, of Ospringe.

Cunningham was seen in Guelph Monday afternoon by Stanley Hudson, and again later in the evening.

At Rockwood Line he was noticed driving along the road, and those who saw him pass through Everton, in the vicinity of Ospringe, state that he was intoxicated, and that he was heard yelling like a madman at certain points along the road.

Coroner Dr. A. MacKinnon was summoned, and after examining the remains could find no trace of marks which would indicate foul play.

Deceased was employed by Thomas Fines, of Erin township, who had paid him wages amounting to $15 on Monday morning. As he had only $2 in his possession after he was found dead it is believed that he had driven to Guelph, where he secured liquor, drank to excess and died as a result.

POST OFFICE FIGURES

Postmasters were required to make a count of the mail matter handled in their offices during the first two weeks in July. The following are the figures for the Orangeville office and will serve to give our readers a pretty fair idea of the amount of mail handled by Postmaster Harshaw and his staff:—

Mail despatched from Orangeville P. O. from July 1st to July 14th:—No. of Registers, 151; No. of letters and postcards, 10,336; No. of circulars and papers, 5,776.

Mail received at Orangeville P. O. from July 1st to July 14th:—Registers, 153; letters and post cards, 11,367; circulars and papers, 2,025.

No Progeny—An eleven-year-old girl was winding up her rebuttal in a rural school debate. The subject was: Resolved that the horse is more useful than the automobile.

"And," quoth the young speaker, "if you have horses, you can raise horses. But if you raise an automobile, you have to have a jack."

Close Call—A shell had just exploded darky came tumbling in.

"What's the matter?" asked the lieutenant. "Are you hurt?"

"No sah," answered the darky. "Dat shell had ma' name an' number but thank Gawd it lost ma' address."

HAD ITS ORIGIN IN VENICE

Name "Gazette" May Be Traced From What Might Be Called the First Newspaper.

Not Rome, but Venice, holds first place in journalism history. From the latter city we get most of the nomenclature of the modern newspaper, says a writer in the Quill. Here news was publicly posted as in Rome, but to read it cost, it is said, a small coin, a gazetta. Not only in Latin countries, but even in America, Gazette has been a favorite name for a newspaper. In the case of the 13 original colonies, nine times out of ten the first newspaper in any one of them was a Gazette. Often the price paid for a newspaper has furnished the name. Examples may be found in the Cent of Philadelphia—possibly the first penny paper in America—and the Picayune of New Orleans. Skeat in his "Etymological Dictionary of the English Language" gives under the word "Gazette," "an abstract of news issued at Venice; the original coin is either (1) a magpie, from Italian "gazetta," whence it may have meant tittle-tattle; or (2) a very small coin perhaps paid for the privilege of reading the news, from Italian "gazetta," a coin less than a farthing. The reader may choose. Since the distinguished professor of Anglo-Saxon at the University of Cambridge was not quite sure about the derivation and offered a choice to his readers, it is barely possible that the two uses of the Italian "gazetta" gave the Latin news sheets their name.

OPERATION FOR APPENDICITIS.

Mrs. J. A. Ballantyne, Sturgeon Falls, Ont., writes:—"My husband was treated for appendicitis and the doctors ordered an operation. But he would not consent to an operation and began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Since doing so he has had no need of an operation or even of a doctor as the trouble has completely left him. I cannot find words to speak our gratitude for his cure.

General O'Ryan's Constellation.

It is not often that a military commander perpetrates a pun, observes Outlook. A veritable pun, however, has been imprinted on the helmets and motortrucks of the American Twenty-seventh division. A recent number of the Gas Attack shows a device in which a number of stars are so arranged as to correspond with the constellation Orion. Now, as every one knows, the gallant and efficient commander of that division is General O'Ryan. The idea is clever, and perhaps a bit humorous. Certainly General O'Ryan has proved himself a military star, and the Twenty-seventh division in its capture of Mont Kemmel and its thrust through the Hindenburg line south of Cambrai is truly entitled to be considered some constellation.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

The regular monthly Consecration meeting of the Epworth League last Monday evening was in charge of Miss E. M. Budd, who is to be congratulated on the successful meeting that was held. Rev. H. L. Partridge gave an interesting address on the "Heroic Life," the life which Christ and His followers lived and are living to-day. This is the life, which every person, who devotes his or her life to the Master's service is called upon to live. If the martyrs and Christians of old lived the Heroic Life, the missionaries, both in foreign and home fields, are to-day also living the Heroic Life. It matters not whether one is called upon to give up his life or to live for Christ. He lives the Heroic Life in either case. A reading entitled, "Hints to Leaguers in Homemade Rhyme," was read during the evening.

Next Monday night "An Evening with Magazines" will be under the direction of the Prayer Meeting Committee. This should be of special interest to all members, so that all should be on hand.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The report of the Hospital inspection is to hand. The report expresses the hope that there may be a new hospital in the very near future, as the operating room was only considered temporary and the accommodation is very inadequate. The general inspection was very satisfactory, the food being well cooked, the trays in good condition and the floors thoroughly clean.

Mr. Jas. A. Matthews gave a $12 donation on the shingles for the hospital.

The Mono College Institute gave the handsome donation of $20.00 to the linen fund. This amount was from a sale of homemade baking.

Allow this correction—A recent donation should have been credited to Mrs. Ben. Bradley.

EPISODE 14

Caught in a steel lined room, the den of a treacherous clairvoyant, doomed to a horrible death by drowning when the room begins to fill with water from secret pipes, is the fate facing the hero and heroine at the climax of the fourteenth episode of "Smashing Barriers" Dick accompanies Bella and her father to the den of Haifa, a clairvoyant, through whose aid they are trying to show up a forged deed for a lumber camp belonging to the elder Manners. Bullhead Bulger and his villainous henchmen who have forged the deed and are trying to steal the lumber camp, are hidden in the house. In league with the clairvoyant they make one desperate last attempt to put Duncan, Bella and her father out of the way.

When Dick and his friends enter the room the door closes automatically behind them and locks. They discover that they are trapped. The room is made of steel and from little holes in the walls water begins to trickle in. While they are desperately endeavouring to find a means of escape the water floods the room and rises almost to their necks. As they struggle to keep their heads above water they are suddenly horrified to see the ceiling moving slowly down upon them to force their heads under the water. How they finally escape, according to Manager Pownall, makes several interesting moments that will not be duplicated for some time.

You can make this surprising experiment in our store —

The Test of the Two Violins

Violins differ subtly in tone! Test the New Edison Realism by that fact.

We have an "Ave Maria" RE-CREATION played by Albert Spalding with his Guarnerius. This famous violin has a brilliant, singing tone. We have a second "Ave Maria" RE-CREATION played by Carl Flesch with his genuine Stradivarius. This violin has a rich, mellow tone.

Come in and compare these two RE-CREATIONS—tone for tone. If the New Edison makes clear the distinction between the singing Guarnerius and the mellow Stradivarius, you know it has perfect realism for you.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Albert Spalding himself recently took part in a test of the New Edison's Realism, at New York City. He played in direct comparison with the RE-CREATIONS of his performance by the New Edison. Mr. Henry Hadley, one of the jury of the three distinguished musicians who listened from behind a screen, said: "The RE-CREATION matched Mr. Spalding's performance tone for tone."

The New Edison is the only phonograph which has given this conclusive proof of its perfect realism. It has triumphed in 4,000 such comparison-tests.

PRICES! HALT!

Since 1914, the total price-increase in the New Edison has been less than 15%. Mr. Edison has, personally, absorbed more than one half of the increased costs of manufacture. He may not be able to do this much longer. Buy now—if you want to-day's prices. Our Budget Plan will help you. It distributes the payment over the months to come.

PRIMROSE

(Intended for last week)

As it is now over two weeks since I first came to Camilla, where I have been helping Sandy Bell work at his house, I decided I would take a trip north again and visit some friends. About 6.30 Sunday evening I espied Jackson Woods driving past at a lively gait, so I hailed him. To my great surprise he informed me he was going east instead of north, as each time he had visited Primrose he had been compelled to keep his eagle eye on his horse, as the climate in that district did not seem to agree with its color. I sympathized with Jackson, and upon looking down the road believed myself to be in luck this time, as I observed a motor coming and by the pace surmised it to be a humble Henry, which it in fact proved to be with Wallace Brett behind the steering gear, his eyes glued on the road as though in a speed contest. Having plenty of clothes on, enough to flag a train, I was able to pull him up, and he advised me he was going straight north to see the latest styles in millinery and take his weekly course at law. I climbed in and we had only gone a short distance, when we met Angus Bell, who told us that his gasoline supply was practically exhausted and that he thought he would park his car right there, walk over to the 1st line and borrow some gas from Jim Buchanan. The remainder of my journey with Wallace was uninterrupted. After parting company with him I overtook Charlie Wilson, who had been searching for his dog, which is in the habit of straying. He told me that he considered a good, cross dog quite an asset, especially on Sunday evenings. Continuing my trek I called at Billy but Harold Scott, unlike the weather, was not well regulated as he had a large field of new mown hay out, bu Harold Scott ,unlike the weather, appeared to be comfortably settled for the evening. Fortune favors the brave, so it seems, as I was lucky enough to reach Horner's in time to enjoy a good swift ride with Elmer, who gave me to understand he had left Sam Hicks to keep the "Home Fires Burning." Of course Elmer was making his devoir trip to Violet Hill and deposited me at the home of Lyttle Thompson, whose hospitality in sheltering pedestrians is beyond reproach. However, to my disappointment Lyttle was conspicuous by his absence, but I felt quite safe in surmising that he was in a remote region and might not be home until morning. I made myself comfortable for the night and although Lyttle does not claim to be a restaurateur my inner man was amply provided for. When my host put in an appearance about 9.30 Monday morning my preoccupancy did not seem to diminish his estimation of me and I received from him a hearty handshake and a cordial invitation to remain as his guest until after the garden party on Wednesday.

British Tommy Amused

By the Chinese Workers With Forces in France

AN interesting sidelight is thrown on a little known phase of army life in Flanders by a story contributed to the Manchester Guardian by an English ex-soldier signing himself F. A. V. He writes:—

"During the war a certain town in French Flanders was invaded by a horde of Chinese laborers. They wore blue quilted clothing, army boots and conical fur-lined caps. A raw wind was blowing the fine rain into their tanned faces. They all looked cold and hungry.

"Outside the town was a great assembly of bell tents, newly erected on a muddy field fenced in with barbed wire. A dozen Chinamen were shown into each tent by an English corporal and then left to do as they pleased. It was too wet and unpleasant to be in the open, so they just sat down on their haunches, forlorn and miserable.

"For a time nothing could be heard except a few brief snatches of whispered conversation. Then there was a sniff, and sniff was followed by sniff — some of them were actually weeping over their hard lot, discordant wails came from one of the tents. Voices from other tents joined in, and the sound increased in volume.

"It was vaguely mournful, although it did not seem to correspond with any definite human emotion. It varied greatly in pitch. It rose and fell, and it even had a kind of rhythm. At first we were puzzled by the weird noise, and then we realized that it must be song. We were, indeed, listening to Chinese music—music that authorities on Eastern culture have praised as subtle and beautiful, though quite unintelligible to the uninitiated. It certainly was unintelligible.

"So the poor exiles found consolation in song, and in time they got so used to their new existence that in later days they seemed to be always cheerful and animated.

"For several months our company and a Chinese labor company worked together at a woodyard and sawmill on the Belgian frontier. We called them Chinks and they called us Ingaleesha. Friendly relations were soon established, although there was on our side a small hostile element consisting of men who harbored an unreasoning prejudice against the yellow people and considered it degrading to work with a so-called 'inferior race.' Those who took this attitude lost much of the little fun and interest that relieved the dreary monotony of our own army life.

"At first the easy familiarity of the Chinks was quite startling. I happened to be leaning against a wooden shed when one of them came up to me in the usual shuffling manner. No intention of any kind was expressed on his face, and, without saying a word, he unbuttoned my tunic pocket, took out my pocketbook and examined my papers. Apparently he found nothing of interest, so put the book back again, buttoned up the pocket and shuffled off. Some time afterward another Chink approached me in the same delightfully informal way. He took my glasses off my nose and put them on his own. He seemed to find them satisfactory, and, evidently wishing to buy them, he asked me, 'Mow many flanks?' But I did not want to part with them for any number of 'flanks,' and conveyed as much to him. He looked at them for a moment, then carefully put them back on my nose, looked at them again and walked off with affected unconcern.

"The Chinks and ourselves would often collect in little groups and converse as best we could. One of the questions they invariably put was 'How many year?' meaning 'How old are you?' We would answer either in a few words of Chinese we had picked up or, more commonly, by indicating the number with our fingers.

"The Chinks seemed to attach great importance to the information supplied to them; they would discuss it among themselves in their rapid, sibilant patter, and then they would tell us their own ages in return. Another question they often asked was: 'How many mada?' meaning 'How many wives (madams) have you got?' We, of course, had either one or none at all, while they sometimes had 'thlee,' to their obvious pride and satisfaction.

"Whether consciously or unconsciously, they assumed that all men were equal, and that other men were just other men and nothing more. Thus the artificial inequality due to army conditions filled them with hostility, a hostility they often expressed with great frankness. One day we were talking to some Chinks when one of them tapped me on the chest, and said with an emphatic shake of his head, 'You gooda.' I was a private, and he meant to say that there was nothing wrong with privates. Then he laid his two fingers flat on my upper arm to indicate the two stripes of a corporal, and said: 'No gooda.' Finally he pointed to my shoulder to indicate the pip of an officer and said with solemn conviction, 'No blooda gooda—'

"Sometimes when we were working with the Chinks the spirit of rivalry manifested itself. Once we were unloading a train of short, thick wooden planks and stacking them in the yard. We carried them in on our shoulders, two at a time. Suddenly one of our men appeared with three planks on his shoulder, shouting, 'Chinese no gooda!'

"The challenge was accepted with alacrity, for a Chink appeared with four planks and shouted, 'Chinesha goodn. Ingaleesha no gooda!' He was followed by one of us with five planks on his shoulder, and it was 'Chinese no gooda!' once again. Then came a Chink with six planks, but immediately afterward a soldier came along with seven, looking very hot and uncomfortable beneath such a heavy load. We all shouted derisively, 'Chinese no gooda!' and there was a long pause, and we thought the victory was ours. But suddenly the Chinks burst into gleeful laughter and clapped their hands in mad excitement.

"We did not know what had happened until we saw a Ching staggering under a kind of pagoda which his comrades had erected on his stalwart shoulders. It was built of sixteen planks! Perspiring, breathing hard and taking short, rapid steps, his pagoda on the verge of toppling over every instant, he reached the stack and then allowed the structure to collapse amid wild shouts of 'Chineesha gooda, Ingaleesha no gooda!' It was a warm day, and none of us felt inclined to dispute the final verdict at this meeting of East and West."

English Idioms.

The why and wherefore of English idioms and old expressions, which are so familiar to us that they no longer seem strange, must be a source of some perplexity to the foreigner learning the language. For instance, how should he know that when he wishes to say someone has started an undertaking and given it up before seeing it through, he can say that the man "threw up the sponge"? The phrase had its origin in the prize-fighters' ring. In former times, when a prize-fighter was badly injured in the first round, he often declined the sponge offered to him in the second, or, in a sudden fit, threw it up in the air, thus declaring that he had had enough of it.

At one time many years ago the sleeves of all outer garments were very wide. Hence, when a person covered his face with his hand, the suspicion always arose that he was laughing at someone else's discomfiture. That is why, when we are inwardly amused at another, we say we laugh in our sleeve.

A primitive way for a man to commit suicide was to tie the end of a rope around a beam or branch of a tree and the other around his neck, standing all the time on a bucket. By kicking the bucket away he would hang himself. Hence, a slang expression for "to die" is to "kick the bucket."

It used to be customary for the godfather of an infant to present him with a silver spoon at baptism. In the case of a child born lucky or rich, the gift was anticipated at the moment of entering life and the child was then said to be born with a silver spoon in his mouth.

Children are often much interested in the fact that puppies and kittens do not open their eyes for nine days after birth. They watch them with wonder until the little fellows develop eyesight equal to the old pets of the children's acquaintance. So a sensational event or a piece of public scandal which arouses uncommon interest for a few days and then gradually subsides is called a nine days' wonder.

When a tent is being put up it is necessary to secure its rope to the ground on all sides by pegs before the work can be left, lest the whole structure, caught by the wind, should be blown down. Hence the camping phrase, "peg away," arose. Now, whenever we see someone working hard in order to finish his job immediately, we say to him, "Peg away."

In olden times, when bread was purchased in the open market instead of in shops, the women took up the selling from door to door. They received from the bakers 13 loaves for the price of 12, the thirteenth loaf constituting their profit or commission. Hence came the term, "baker's dozen."

Pickpockets from the city stole a lot of money from the crowd in Brampton on July 12th. One case of $100 is reported, another of $80, and half a dozen of smaller amounts.

FEELS FINE NOW AFTER TWO YEARS

Stomach Trouble Gone—Quebec Man Can Eat Anything Set Before Him Now.

"It just feels fine to be a well man again after two years of suffering and I'm so grateful for what Tanlac has done for me that I want to make a statement about it," said Daniel John Landry, of 312 St. Philippe St., Quebec, recently.

"I guess I've got myself to blame for my illness, because it was the excessive chewing of tobacco that caused my stomach trouble, and so brought on my other ailments too. It started with chronic indigestion. Always after my meals I would feel a hard, heavy lump, right here in the pit of my stomach, and I would bloat up with gas fit to burst. Later, I lost all desire for food, and even the dainty dishes that my wife would prepare for me, did not tempt me to eat enough to keep up my strength. I used to be badly constipated, and had such dizzy spells that many a time I have had to stop in the street and lean up against the side of a house to keep from falling over. My sleep was very disturbed and I would pass the night rolling and tossing from one side of the bed to the other. At last I got thoroughly weak and run down. My complexion was a yellowish green, and I loked like a ghost of my former self.

"But Tanlac has made a wonderful change in me. I've now got an appetite like a wolf, and eat anything that is put before me. All signs of my stomach troubles are gone, for I digest my food without difficulty and never have any sort of distress afterwards. I am no longer constipated and never have those dizzy spells now. I get sound, restful sleep every night and get up every morning feeling full of life and energy. I've got a good healthy color into my cheeks, and I tell you, I'm as well and happy as can be. Yes, sir, Tanlac has been a wonderful benefit to me, and I strongly recommend it to all who suffer as I did."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Should coal be listed as one of the precious metals?

An empty coal bin is apt to induce mournful contemplation even in this sultry August weather.

The Globe affirms that Meighen has tied the hands of the Ontario Governmen. Mean trick, isn't it?

The auto procession from Weston Saturday night was easily the largest funeral procession ever seen in these parts.

The blessings of prohibition are many and varied. A western newspaper declares that it has been the means of reducing the number of men who think they can sing.

Statistics show that in the recent war the United States lost one in every 2000 of its population, Italy one in 72, the British Empire one in 66 and France one in 28. Yet they say south of the line that the United States really won the war.

A tour through rural Ontario these early harvest days should make a smiling optimist of any person no matter how pessimistic. If good crops insure good times then Ontario is surely headed in the direction of another year of prosperity.

If the magistrates start sending the bootleggers to jail rum-running will lose much of its appeal as a highly profitable occupation. As matters stand the profits made in the nefarious business are so large that fines have no terror for this class of law-breakers.

Cultured Boston has gone wild over Ponzi and his mysterious methods of getting his clients fabulous returns for their investments. It is well to remember that this Italian banker is not the first man who has originated a "get rich quick" scheme. Different men in different places have promised and for a time paid their clients handsome returns for monies advanced them, but they and the people, who trusted them with their savings, always came to grief in the end. The wizardy of money-making has been studied too closely and by too many clever people, for any method so glowingly profitable as Ponzi's to have gone undiscovered until this late hour.

In one respect farmer representatives are setting an example that all public men could follow with profit. They are keeping in close contact with their constituents. It follows from this that they are informed regarding public opinion in the townships. They know how the farmers are talking and what they are thinking. This is as it should be. The member of Parliament who is in touch with and influenced by the opinions of his constituents should be all the more useful as a public servant. Beter that he should be in touch with the farmers back on the sidelines, than that he take his opinions on public questions from the lobbyists at the capital.

Supporters of The Dufferins were keenly disappointed over the team's defeat in Weston last Saturday. However, the boys, who have made the green and white famous in many a hard fought contest, cannot be expected to always win. We must learn to take the bitter with the sweet in lacrosse as in other activities of life. Disappointing as the defeat was it will in nowise affect the loyalty of the Orangeville followers of the game, who are just as proud of The Dufferins in adversity as in victory. The present players and a few others have right worthily upheld the honor of the green and white colors this and last seasons. They are a clean, manly bunch of boys, who play clean, clever lacrosse and conduct themselves like gentlemen on and off the field. They accepted the adverse fortunes of Saturday's gruelling contest in good spirit and will go into next Saturday's game with the determination to do their best to win out. We make the prediction too that they will again have a splendid following on hand to back them up in their endeavor to take a fall out of the Weston stalwarts.

Attorney-General Raney was talking sound common sense at Erin the other day, when he stated that so long as liquor is manufactured illicit sale will continue to a greater or less degree. If the manufacture can be stopped then the whole deadly traffic will be destroyed at its very source. Once the spring and source of supply is cut off, there will be no further pollution from the stream. Public opinion in Ontario will support Hon. Mr. Raney in his criticism of the Government at Ottawa for delaying the referendum vote until next spring. When representations were made to the Government urging that the vote should be deferred, whether on account of unrevised lists or for any other reason, the Cabinet should have consulted the Ontario Referendum Committee and the Dominion Alliance before making its decision. In ordinary fairness they should have had an opportunity to lay their views before the Cabinet, before the question of deferring the date of the vote was finally determined.

Certain U. F. O. leaders should cease their twaddle about farm conditions being worse to-day than they were twenty or twenty-five years ago. The farmer is undoubtedly hampered to-day as never before by the lack of capable farm help. There are not nearly enough people living on the farms to secure anything like the maximum of production. These are serious drawbacks. It would be foolish to speak of them otherwise. On the other hand the farming community was never so prosperous as to-day. Farmers have seldom, if ever, had such opportunities to make good money, and make it fast, as in the last three or four years. Did a farmer ever have a chance to clean up $3000 or $4000 from a few acres of clover seed twenty-five years ago? How many of the farmers of two or three decades ago could have afforded to buy and maintain autos had it been possible to procure autos at that time? The farming community is enjoying a period of genuine prosperity at the present time. U. F. O. leaders would be in a much better position to enlist sympathy and support in their efforts to solve the real problems effecting the agriculturists of this province if they woul recognize this truth instead of getting on public platforms and arguing that farmers and the farming industry are all going to the bow-wows.

That the Orangeville public does not always value what it possesses as it should seems to be exemplified in the case of the Orangeville Citizens' Band. For several years the town was obliged to get along without a band. In those days everybody bemoaned the lack of a band and citizens were wont to tell one another what a misfortune it was that a town of Orangeville's size and importance was without such an organization. Finally a band was organized and the practice of holding open air concerts once a week was revived. At first these concerts were immensely popular. Citizens would repair to Alexandra Park in hundreds on band concert nights. Then the newness and the novelty of once more having a band passed away and the attendance at the weekly concerts began to fall off. Last Friday night the writer walked down to the park and was surprised to find that the occupants of perhaps a half dozen autos, and not more than a score of other citizens, the latter including eight or ten small boys, who were more interested in the efforts of some of their number to clamber up the steel flag staff than in listening to the music, made up the whole audience at the weekly band concert. The Park is conveniently situated and yet only a couple of score of citizens thought it worth while to spend an hour or so listening to the music and encouraging the band boys by their presence. This is surely a poor way to encourage Bandmaster Morrow and the score of players, who give so much of their time to practice in order that the town may have a band fit to take its part in the programmes for garden parties, other outdoor functions and big days of various kinds. The band boys are only human. They do not enjoy playing to empty benches. Let them have the inspiration of a good sized audience every concert night. They deserve it, for Bandmaster Morrow, at no inconsiderable sacrifice of time and energy, has built up a band that is a credit to Orangeville and that Orangeville would not like to have to get along without.

"Are prices coming down?" is the theme of a thoughtful and suggestive article in the Montreal Witness. The writer points out that ther are lurid signs in some of the big American cities of a break in prices in the form of inexplicable fires where there are large stocks of goods. Some of these fires the Witness regards as suspicious, pointing out that there were fewer fires when goods were short and prices rising. For immediate realization and being well insured there is nothing like a fire. The writer does not state positivaly his opinion that there will be an early fall in prices, but contents himself with indicating some of the signs that seem to point to that conclusion. The concluding sentences of the article are so timely that we quote them for the benefit of our readers: "Cheaper commodities is another term for more valuable money. Should prices fall, the farmer, manufacturer and merchant will not get as much of it for their wares. But what they get will be more like the money they knew before the war-time inflations of currencies and credits. It will buy more whether of commodities or of labor. Easy get, easy go: but the man and the woman who spend their money needlessly to-day may have reason to repent their impatience to get rid of it."

THE 1920 TAX RATE

Naturally Orangeville ratepayers do not relish the three mill increase in the tax rate. The assessment is about $100,000 higher than it was last year. A three mill advance in the rate coming on top of this means a substantial addition to the town's tax bill. As a matter of fact this year's levy will bring about $46,000 into the town treasury, as compared with a revenue approximating $38,000 from taxes last year. There is quite naturally a disposition in some quarters to condemn the council because of the increase in the taxes. True the Council fixes the tax rate, but it should be borne in mind that it does not fully control the rate which it fixes. It has for instance no alternative except to levy a sufficient sum to provide for the debenture debt of the municipality. The 1920 Council did not incur this debt, but it has to make provision for the annual repayments of principal and interest. Again it is not responsible for the county rate, public and high school and public library expenditures or the hydro rates, which affect the price the municipality must pay for lighting its streets and public buildings. These are all determined by other public bodies and the Town Council must fix rates sufficient to provide the money needed to cover these classes of expenditure. The amounts required for the various expenditures we have enumerated are in every case considerably higher this year than last. This was to be expected and need occasion no surprise in these times of steadily increasing salaries and prices. The increase in the hydro rates two or three months ago added easily fifty per cent. to the yearly bill for lighting the streets of the town. So far as these uncontrollable expenditures go, the Council cannot be fairly charged with the responsibility for any increase they may have caused in the tax rate. The Council simply fixed and levied the necessary rates based on estimates submitted by the library and school boards and the County Clerk. It is when we come to consider the taxation for purely town purposes that the Council must accept full responsibility, for here it has full control of the spending of the money it raises. This year's Council is raising about $9,000 for town purposes. The 1919 Council raised about $5,000. The present Council is therefore providing for and presumably spending almost twice as much as the preceding Council. It is on this expenditure that this year's Council should be judged, and here again allowance must be made for the part that higher salaries, higher wages and the increased cost of material play. These are factors that the Council has to contend with in just the same manner as the individual employer. We do not mean to suggest that increased salaries, wages and prices should be taken as accounting for the whole of the $4,000 or more additional money that this year's Council is raising for town purposes. That would be an unreasonable position. The 1920 Council is undoubtedly spending more money than most of its predecessors. The expenditures may be warranted and quite justifiable, probably are, for we have heard no suggestion to the contrary, but it is on these controllable expenditures, whether large or small, and the value that the municipality gets for its money, that the Council should be judged.

THE REFERENDUM

The decision to delay the taking of the referendum on the importation of liquor into Ontario until next April is a grave disappointment to the temperance people of this Province. The Banner is satisfied that the decision to defer the vote was a serious mistake on the part of the Federal Cabinet. War time prohibition was a blessing while it lasted and practically stamped out the liquor evil everywhere except in the larger centres of population. Prohibition which allows importation from other provinces even for private use, opens the way for many abuses—abuses as serious that illicit vending of liquor has been carried on in wholesale fashion in certain parts of the Province. The people of Ontario have a real concern in the conditions that have arisen in Windsor and other border municipalities. This concern gives them the right to say whether or not they wish these conditions to continue and probably spread their polluting influence to other sections of the Province. They should have been allowed to express their opinion as to these conditions and the traffic responsible for them at the earliest opportunity. To say that the condition of the Voters' Lists precluded a fair expression of opinion next October is simply putting forward an excuse for delaying the vote. Granted that the lists would disfranchise some thousands of voters, which party would stand to lose. Assuredly the temperance people, for they have always polled a large majority of the popular vote in Ontario and as the stronger party numerically they would naturally stand to lose most from old or imperfectly revised lists. They would stand to lose, too, because the young men of the Province are growing more pronouncedly temperance in sentiment and practice as each year passes and the great majority of those who on revised lists would have the right to vote for the first time would undoubtedly mark their ballots against allowing the continued importation of strong drink. In the face of all this it was not the temperance people who asked to have the referendum delayed. They were content, even anxious, to go ahead with the fight, even under the handicap of imperfect lists. All they ask is a chance to deal a death blow to the traffic that has brought so much misery, suffering and shame to the homes of this fair Province and is still striving desperately to retain a foothold in some legalized form.

MISS MINNIE BAILEY

Miss Minnie Bailey, a daughter of Mr. John Bailey, of Whitfield, Mulmur township, passed away on Thursday last after an illness of about three weeks. Her death was caused by rheumatism, from which she had been a sufferer for fifteen years. The funeral was held from her late residence to Shelburne cemetery on Saturday afternoon. Miss Bailey was a sister of Mrs. J. E. Thompson, of Orangeville. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were both present at the funeral.

MRS. THOS. WOODHOUSE

It is with keen regret that we this week record the death of Mrs. Thos. Woodhouse, which took place at her late home in Bracebridge, on Friday, August 6th, after an illness of only seven hours duration. The cause of her sudden and altogether unexpected demise was an abscess on the brain. Deceased, whose maiden name was Harriett Ellen Dunning, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Dunning, of Amaranth. She was born and lived her girlhood on the Dunning homestead, lot 1, con. 1, Amaranth, now owned by her brother, Dr. Mark Dunning, of Mono Mills. She was married to Mr. Woodhouse about twenty-two years ago and had made her home in Bracebridge ever since her marriage. She was a member and a worker in the Methodist church and was a warm-hearted, kindly woman, deeply interested in religious and charitable work and always willing to help to the best of her ability any of her neighbors, who might happen to be ill or in distress. She is survived by her husband, one brother, Dr. Dunning, and two sisters, Mrs. T. Shannon, of New Liskeard, and Miss Dunning, of Toronto. To these the friends of the family extend their sympathy in the loss of their loved one. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, the funeral taking place from the old home on the Dunning farm to Greenwood Cemetery on Sunday afternoon. Rev. E. S. Warren, of Woodbridge, who was taking the Sunday services in the Methodist church for the pastor, Rev. H. L. Partridge, was the officiating clergyman.

There were a large number of beautiful floral offerings, mute witnesses to the esteem and affection of friends of the departed woman.

MRS. MARY FERGUSON

The death occurred at the home of her son, Mr. Peter J. Ferguson, of Caledon, on Friday, August 6th, of Mrs. Mary Ferguson, widow of the late Duncan Ferguson, of Caledon. Deceased, who was 72 years of age, passed away after a very short illness. Mrs. Ferguson, who was born in Caledon, was a daughter of the late Archie Campbell, of that township. She is survived by three sons and two daughters, Mrs. W. J. McPherson, of Orangeville, Mrs. Thos. McPherson, Mono Mills, Donald, of Cut Knife, Sask., Duncan, of Toronto, and Peter, on the homestead. The late Mrs. Ferguson was highly respected as a neighbor and her demise will be sincerely regretted by a large circle of friends. She was a staunch member of the Presbyterian Church in Caledon for many years, but recently of Orangeville. The funeral which was held from her late residence to the 4th line cemetery, on Monday, was largely attended. The service was conducted in the church by Rev. J. A. Matheson, of Mono Mills, a former pastor of the deceased. The pallbearers, who were six nephews, were Messrs. Robt Stringer, of Toronto, Archie Stewart and Dan Muir, of Flesherton, Archie Ferguson, Gilbart Vanwyck and Archie Campbell, of Caledon. A number of beautiful floral tributes bore impressive testimony of the sorrow which the death has occasioned. These included Gates Ajar from the family, wreaths from Mr. and Mrs. R. Campbell, Caledon; the Campbell family of Winnipeg; Mr. and Mrs. McAllister, of Meadowvale; sprays from Mrs. Stringer and family; Mrs. White and Miss N. Vanwyck, of Toronto; and three little grandchildren, John, Ruby and Donald McPherson, of Mono Mills. Friends from Detroit, Toronto, Hamilton, Flesherton, Meadowvale and Grand Valley, attended the funeral. The sympathy of the community is extended to the stricken family who have lost a parent toward whom they entertained the truest filial affection.

VIOLA MAY TAYLOR

The death of Miss Viola May Taylor, a former Orangeville girl, occurred at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. Taylor, 220 Crawford St., Toronto, on Wednesday, August 4th. Deceased, who was only 27 years of age, had been in poor health for three months or longer. Her illness culminated in a severe attack of the flu, which was the immediated cause of her death. Miss Taylor, who was a milliner, had lived in the city for the last four years and was in the employ of the firm of John D. Ivey, wholesale millineru. She was a member of the choir of West Presbyterian Church and also took an active interest in Sunday School and Young People's work. She is survived by her mother, three brothers, Ross, Elgin and Russell, and one sister, Mary, who have the sympathy of their Orangeville friends in their affliction. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, the funeral taking place from the C. P. R. station to the family plot in the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Friday forenoon. Rev. H. L. Partridge conducted the burial service and J. Heggie, Wm. Rolston, Ross and Elgin Taylor, Jos. Travers and Adam Widdis were the pallbearers. The floral tributes included:—Gates Ajar design from the mother, brothers and sister; spray, Young People's Bible Class, West Presbyterian Church; wreath, girls of J. D. Ivey Co.; cross, Mrs. Williamson and family; wreath, Soho St. Waterworks; sprays, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Manning, Miss Dunning, girls at Long & Cos., Mr. and Mrs. Bangmaid and family, and Miss Ethel Dale.

Bert Geir, of Grand Valley, while motoring, suddenly struck a bad piece of road, the car turning over, and has a badly injured shoulder, as a result. Prompt professional attention greatly relieved the pain.

There is no dearth of "possible" U. F. O. candidates in the coming election. It is rumoured that Mr. R. W. E. McFadden, M. A., of Glenelg, may be induced to accept nomination for Federal honors in South Grey. He is a young man of exceptional platform and executive ability and is said to be vry popular in the north part of the riding.—Dundalk Herald.

WHAT THE SURGEON SAID

A well-known surgeon was just finishing an operation on a patient when a fire started in a warehouse across the road, illuminating the entire operating room. The surgeon turned to the nurse and dryly said: "Nurse, the patient is coming to. I think you had better draw the blinds. I don't want him to think the operation hasn't been a success."

COOLEST AND WETTEST

Statistics prepared by Prof. R. H. Graham, of the Meteorlogical Department of the O. A. C., show that the past month was the coolest and wettest in the history of the department, at Guelph. Not for the past thirty-two years, since the records have been kept of weather at the college has the month of July had such a low temperature or such excessive precipitation. That this has been so will be borne out by those who love hot and dry weather. About the only thing that can be said in favor of July is that the weather was good for the crops. The following statistics supplied by Prof. Graham are striking:

Average temperature for July, 1920	62.3
Normal temperature for July for thirty-two years	68.1
Rain fall for July, 1920	4.75
Normal for past thirty-two years	2.99

These figures show that the temperature during last month was 5.8 cooler than any July during the past thirty-two years, while there was 1.76 more rain fall than at any time in the month of July during the same period.

WALDEMAR

While motoring near Shelburne a week ago Sunday Bert Gier ran into some loose gravel and had the misfortune to have an upset. He had his shoulder badly bruised and the top and windshield of the car were badly damaged.

Christ Church garden party on Mr. Geo. Gier's grounds on the night of August 3rd was a big success. A large crowd enjoyed the excellent program. The church will clean up a tidy sum for its venture.

Mr. McBride and Mr. Simpson, of Fergus, are visiting at Mr. Robert Robinson's near the village.

Cars belonging to Will Black and Harvey Forgrave collided near the Grand River bridge the other day. Fortunately they were not travelling at a high rate of speed and escaped with some minor damages.

Jas. A. Butler is nursing a sore hand these days, the result of an accident.

Our U. F. O. Club unloaded a carload of salt last week.

The grain crops are excellent in this section, and if our farmers can only get some good harvesting weather now they will reap a bountiful harvest.

THE MAPLES.

The Maples Women's Institute have joined with the community and have taken up the work of repairing and equipping the vacant church at The Maples for a Community Hall. There was a representative meeting held on Tuesday night, August 3rd, to elect a Board of Management, and discuss the matter of proceeding with the work. After a few opening remarks by the President, Mrs. J. W. Hoare, Mr. J. Scott Hunter was elected chairman, and Mr. Reginald Hoare, secretary of the meeting. The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows:—

President—Mr. Reginald Hoare.
Vice-President—Mr. I. O. Reid.
Secretary—Hazel Morrow.
Executive Committee—Mr. Malcolme McCormick, Miss Berniece Simpson, Mr. W. H. Hunter, Mrs. J. W. Hoare and Mrs. S. H. Simpson.

The next monthly meeting of The Maples Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. S. H. Simpson, on Thursday, August 19th. After the usual business there will be a picnic. The members and their families are cordially invited to come and enjoy themselves. There will be races for both children and grown-ups. A collection will be taken to help defray expenses.

HE WAS SOME SALESMAN

A furrier was selling a coat to a lady customer.

"Yes, ma'am," he said, "I guarantee this to be genuine skunk fur that will wear for years."

"But suppose I get it wet in the rain?" asked the lady, "what effect will water have on it? Won't it spoil?"

"Madam," answered the furrier, "I have only one answer. Did you ever hear of a skunk carrying an umbrella?"

No Germans Among Him.

Bemoaning the lack of strong personalities among his countrymen, Admiral Hollweg writes in the Deutsche Tageszeitung:

"This want of character among our leading men lost us the war. To begin with, the kaiser was plainly unequal to the tasks laid upon him. In his restless activity before the war he had used up whatever nerve strength he ever had. I well remember the painful impression made upon me by the meeting of the cabinet at which I was present on March 28, 1916. We had to discuss the prospects of the U-boats.

"The chancellor," Hollweg says, "sat in a general's uniform in the president's chair puffing quickly at a cigar, the picture of nervous prostration. The chief of the admiralty made a long speech, giving a most gloomy outline and blaming Von Tirpitz for all that was happening. Not a man at the table there, it was plain, was strong enough either to end or mend the war. No wonder we lost."

Deadly "Earth Torpedo."

Added to the list of interesting but tardy war inventions is a so-called "earth torpedo" of Canadian origin, described by Popular Mechanics magazine. It bores its subterranean way toward the enemy lines, and then explodes with great force. The burrowing operation is hydraulic. The nose of the torpedo is equipped with an ingenious boring nozzle, and takes with it a length of hose, which a pump in the trench supplies with water at 300-pound pressure. This part of the performance is silent. In a test, the device burrowed 200 feet and then blasted out an excavation 20 feet across.

Where Janet Excelled.

Rupert and Frank were much smitten with the two little girls who were camping in the cabin next to them. Helen was Rupert's favorite and Janet was Frank's. Unobserved I heard them discussing the merits of each sweetheart.

"Helen's the prettiest, don't you think?" asked Rupert.

"Maybe she is," conceded Frank; "but Janet's the swimmingest."—Chicago Tribune.

What would You do with it?

If you owned this Company, what would you aim to do with it?

You would want to give good service to your patrons—

To pay good wages and provide agreeable working conditions for your employees—possibly make provision also for their old age—

And to pay a fair return to investors who had put their money into the business—such a return as would attract other investors so that you would be certain to obtain necessary new money for extending the system.

This is just what we are aiming at—no more; no less! These things cannot be done on our present revenues.

That is why we are asking for a readjustment of our rates for service!

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF CANADA

A TONIC FOR THE NERVES

The Only Real Nerve Tonic is a Good Supply of Rich, Red Blood.

"If people would only attend to their blood, instead of worrying themselves ill," said an eminent nerve specialist, "we doctors would not see our consulting rooms crowded with nervous wrecks. More people suffer from worry than anything else."

The sort of thing which the specialist spoke of is the nervous run-down condition caused by overwork and the many anxieties of to-day. Sufferers find themselves tired, low-spirited and unable to keep their minds on anything. Any sudden noise hurts like a blow. They are full of groundless fears, and do not sleep well at night. Headaches and other nerve pains are part of the misery, and it all comes from starved nerves.

Doctoring the nerves with poisonous sedatives is a terrible mistake. The only real nerve tonic is a good supply of rich, red blood. Therefore to relieve nervousness and run-down health Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be taken. These pills make new, rich blood, which strengthens the nerves, improves the appetite, gives new strength and spirits, and makes hitherto despondent people bright and cheerful. If you are at all "out of sorts" you should begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NEWSPAPER SUSPENSIONS

The reduction in the number of daily newspapers by suspensions, absorptions and amalgamations, is not alone due to higher paper and other costs, but to changing conditions in the newspaper business and is likely to continue for we are entering upon most critical times for them.

The main supply of the world-wide news is now furnished by the Associated Press and several other news-gathering services. Exactly the same general, and much of the local, news appears in every daily newspaper in Canada. The same condition exists in the advertising columns. This standardization of news and advertising service is likely to go on steadily improving, and the publication of more than one good morning or evening paper in a centre is becoming very much of a wasteful duplication of effort. A good daily paper, even in the smallest centres, is well worth and should be sold for five cents, and a family should be content with one.

Rural weeklies, national weeklies and periodicals are in a different class. Their contents are entirely original. That is, they do not appear in any other publication. They are becoming increasingly more expensive to produce. The reading matter in a single issue of a leading Canadian magazine costs more than eight to ten times the whole reading contents in a leading daily paper.

The Free Press, Forest, Ontario, refers to the passing out, because of increased costs within the last few years, of eight of the fifteen newspapers published in Lambton County. This will be regretted by those who know country life in Canada. A rural and small city daily is more of a public institution than a money-making enterprise. There are few editors of rural and smaller daily papers who are not underpaid, self-sacrificing public servants. They give more to than they get from their communities, and when they are leaders, as so many are, commanding respect and confidence, their papers are a great power. The Financial Post is in cordial sympathy with the action of Parliament in continuing to—in spite of the opposition of the big city dailies for whom R. L. Richardson, M. P., spoke—to transport rural weeklies free of charge in their local districts. Another phase of good work these local papers do is to keep those who go out into the world, to the big centres and foreign parts, in touch with their old homes. For that reason we would also favor carrying copies of rural papers going to these subscribers free of postage. This is really a great national service, a good investment for the country. There are few men or women who do not hope to go back to and do something for the old home. If the world treats them well they want to share the good things with the schools, churches and institutions in their old homes. Many of them do. These generous thoughts can be best retained by keeping them constantly in touch with the doings at home. There is only one way—the local newspaper. No matter how busy we are we make time to read that, if it comes to us. At one time these papers were carried free to any subscriber in Canada or in the United States, but Dr. Coulter dropped this very soon after his advent to the Deputy Postmaster-Generalship. It was a very serious mistake. Thousands of Canadians were cut off who never since regained touch.

We submit these facts to Parliament with the suggestion that they, the M. P's, seriously consider whether—as a good business proposition—we should not permit these rural weekly and smaller dailies an unlimited free postal area. The investment will be trifling and the return to the nation very profitable.—Financial Post, July 17th.

Johnny startled his mother by asking, suddenly:

"Mama, is there hair-oil in this bottle?"

"Mercy, no, dear!" she exclaimed, "that's glue."

"Oh!" said Johnny. Then, after a short silence, "perhaps thats why I can't get my hat off."

GOOD RACING

Orangeville Turf Club Holds a Successful Meet.

After a lapse of twelve years summer racing was revived in Orangeville last week, when a successful two day meet was held under the auspices of the Orangeville Turf Club. Owing to Races elsewhere the number of outside horses was not as large as had been counted on. There were, however, a number of good ones present, and these with the addition of the local trotters ensured plenty of entries and keen contests in all events. Wednesday's crowd was not as large as had been hoped for, but any shortcoming in this respect was amply compensated for on Thursday, when a very large crowd was present and followed the fortunes of the different events with the closest interest. The results were as follows:—

The officials were: Chas. Snow, Toronto, starter; H. B. Clark, Toronto, Dr. Leadley, Cookstown, and R. Hannah, Toronto, judges; Dr. Hutchinson, Brampton, and W. A. McCullough, Toronto, timers.

An unfortunate accident marred the close of the Meet on Thursday afternoon. In the last heat of the 2.22 event some of the spectators crowded out on the tract at the head of the homestretch and Jas. Gooderham, an elderly man, whose home is at Alton, was struck and knocked unconscious by the outside wheel of Mono Hal's sulkey. The injured man was still unconscious when he was removed to Lord Dufferin Hospital nearly half an hour later. There were no bones broken and when he finally came to the doctors found that he was suffering from concussion of the brain, probably caused by the force with which his head struck against the ground when he was knocked over. He was able to go home on Friday. Mono Hal's driver was hurled to the ground head foremost, but quickly regained his feet and was able to take charge of his horse, which had been stopped a short distance past the finishing post. The driver was cut and bruised about the head and his nose bled quite freely, but he had the good fortune to escape without serious injury. Spectators in their eagerness to see have an unfortunate habit of crowding out on the track at this point. The fence should either be continued some distance north or the race officials should station an officer at the head of the stretch to keep onlookers off the course.

FATHER WANTS CHILD

Walter Woodyard, driver of Fruitlands, applied before Mr. Justice Ord last Friday, asking for the custody of his seven-year-old son, Edward, who is at present in the care of his maternal grandfather, W. H. Halfacre, a fruit farmer of Bowmanville. The child was given into the care of his grandparents by his mother a month prior to her death in September.

Mrs. Woodyard, it is claimed, expressed a desire on her deathbed that the child be not returned to his father. The grandparents allege that the father has no fixed place of abode, although he has an interest in two houses in Toronto, and that it would be dangerous to the child's health and education if he were permitted to follow him in a roving life. J. R. Roaf, who appeared for the father, said that Woodyard had married again, and held that the charges against him were not specific. Judgment was reserved.

THEY'LL BE DIFFERENT

The contract for the motor vehicle license markers for 1921 has been let by the Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works and Highways. The numbers will be hyphenated in groups of two—for instance, (19-82-73). The Canadian-born Secretary of State for New York State, Hon. Francis M. Hugo, originated this hyphenated scheme. It was found, after exhaustive test, that numbers so broken into groups of two were much more readily and accurately seen and remembered.

CHEQUE ARTISTS

Business Firms Should Look Out For This Man.

The police of Guelph, Peterboro, Lindsay, and other places are on the lookout for a daring cheque artist who has made good hauls from merchants in various parts of Ontario by the smoothness of his operations. His work recalls a man who operated the same places a year ago.

The man appears to have had very little difficulty in passing worthless cheques in at least three stores in Guelph as well as in the stores of other cities, most of them visited previous to his "work out" in this city. Chief Rae has been keeping the matter quiet, with the hope of locating the man in some other section of the Province, but since the visit of this smooth gentleman to Guelph the police of Ontario cities and towns have been notified to be on the lookout for him. So far, however, this artist in cheques appears to have evaded the police and it is not impossible that he has by this time crossed the border at Niagara Falls towards which he appears to have been making his way. From the description given, the man who visited Guelph was well dressed, about 25 years of age, around 5 feet 9 inches in height, dark haired and clean shaven. He wore a navy blue suit, fawn hat, brown oxfords, tortoise shelled glasses and walked with a slight limp. The same description appears to fit the man who operated in Peterboro and Lindsay.

So far as can be learned the stranger succeeded in carrying off in the neighborhood of $300 on his visit to Guelph by the passing of worthless cheques on three local firms, who gave him cash for the difference between the cheque and the goods purchased. The firms victimized were D. E. McDonald and Bros., G. B. Ryan and Co., dry goods, and J. McTague, jeweller. The cheque manipulator was a fast worker and carried out his plans in a very short time.

Chief Rae has received notice from Peterboro asking him to be on the lookout for a man who may be the same one as visited Guelph and Lindsay police have written stating that a cheque artist giving the name of Martin and Shea, which were aliases used in Guelph, was operating there on Saturday, July 10th. From there he appears to have gone to North Bay and managed to cash several worthless cheques there as well.—Guelph Herald.

CASH AFTER DEATH

A lawyer and a minister were having a heated argument about the hereafter. With eloquence the preacher expounded the theory of a life after death. The lawyer listened, bored and plainly unconvinced. The parson finished. The lawyer was unmoved.

"Say what you will, I believe death ends all," he insisted.

The minister's sense of humor came to his rescue. "If death ended all," he observed, "most of you lawyers would be starving to death."

Harvey, son of Mr. R. W. Phillips, of Mount Forest, was struck by a motor, thrown on his head, and rendered unconscious. A fire alarm scare caused unusual commotion at the time.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Bananas may be used for making marmalade.

Whites of eggs should be beaten with the spiral egg-beater.

A little sweet cream will keep caramel filling from "sugaring."

White enameled woodwork may be cleaned with whiting and a moist cloth.

Leftover fruits, whether fresh or canned, may be used in gelatine salads.

A few vanilla beans kept in the sugar box impart a delicious flavor to sugar.

Wear goggles when using cleaning fluids—like ammonia —which give off irritating fumes.

Wash pongee with lukewarm water and a pure white soap. Do not wring the garment, but let it drip on the line till dry.

When roasting meat in the oven place in the pan in a dish of water. This will prevent the burning of the gravy, and it will not boil away.

Watercress sauce for beef is made by cutting the cress fine and stirring it into half a cupful of apple jelly which has been beaten with a silver fork.

A delicious filling for layer cake is made by mixing a few finely minced shelled almonds with two eggs, a cupful of confectioners' sugar and a teaspoonful of vanilla.

Much Sickness Due to Lack of Work

The healthy body produces more energy than it needs to keep the Heart, Lungs and Bowels working. This surplus energy must be spent in mental or physical work. On the other hand, people who work too hard use their reserve strength and wear out the system.

People who are inclined to Nervousness, Constipation, or have any of the Troubles of the Heart, Liver, Nerves, Kidneys, Stomach or Bowels can greatly improve the condition of their health if they so desire.

If you work too hard, take more rest; if you work too little, take more exercise, you will need medicine to correct the troubles caused by your indiscretions and to assist nature to restore health. Then take

Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy

and if you require a laxative take

Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills

These two preparations will work wonders and we will guarantee beneficial results because we know they will do so.

Mr. Wilson E. Eagleson, of Bay field, writes as follows: "I have much pleasure in addressing you in regards to Hacking's wonderful Heart and Nerve Remedy. I have used quite a few boxes and I must say they have done me a world of good. Please send me 5 more boxes of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and 2 boxes of Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills."

If you too want to regain your lost health, then go to your nearest Drug Store and ask for Hacking's.

THE PEYOTE BEAN.

A Man Becomes Intoxicated If He Chews One.

Continent-wide attention was recently called to the intoxicating effects of the Peyote bean when Mrs. Gertrude Bonin, a noted welfare worker among the Indians of Oklahoma, appeared before the Anti-Saloon League at its convention in Washington and made a plea for the enactment of a law that would take this narcotic out of reach of the red men.

From time immemorial peyote beans have been greatly sought for and highly treasured by American Indians. The fact that the territory in which the wild cactus grows that produces this bean is confined to a limited area around Encinal, bordering the Rio Grande, has caused Indians to make annual pilgrimages there to lay in a supply of the product as long back as the early settlers of this region can remember.

In the early days representatives of the different tribes would make the long overland trip on horseback from their northern haunts to the peyote thickets and there gather with their own hands a sufficient quantity of beans to run the braves of their respective tribes through the ensuing twelve months. With the settling up of this border country the knowledge that the beans were in demand by the Indians caused local merchants of Encinal and Laredo to lay in large supplies of them each season. For a time the practice of openly shipping the product to the Indians was carried on.

Several years ago government Indian agents discovered that the Indians, especially members of the blanket tribes, were wont to go on periodical and maniacal sprees. The cause of these cases of intoxication was finally traced to the peyote bean. Up to that time the Indians had maintained that they used the beans in certain tribal rites. With the discovery that it was the source of the wildest kind of intoxication, the Government placed a ban on the sale or shipment of beans. It was then that the Indians resumed their old practice of making personal pilgrimages to the cactus fields where they gathered their own and the tribes' supply of beans.

It is claimed that no more powerful intoxicant exists than the peyote bean. One bean, when chewed, will product a state of drunkenness that has no counterpart in all of the many varieties of inebriety. In the light of present-day knowledge of the effects produced upon the mind by chewing the peyote bean, men who have made a study of Indians do not hesitate to assert that it is their belief that most of the Indian wars and raids of the years gone by were due to the indulgence in this narcotic by braves of the different tribes. It is known that hostile Indians were often in a state of frenzied intoxication when they committed their depredations and outrages upon white settlements. The peyote bean is now held to have been responsible for many of these bloody deeds.

Strange to say, the peyote intoxicant has never gotten a hold upon the Mexican population of the border region or in Mexico. The Mexicans of the Encinal section have a healthy fear of the effects of the bean and it is seldom that a case of intoxication from that cause comes to the attention of the peace authorities.

Wonderful tales are told of the wild state of mind that is produced by an indulgence in the beans. Several years ago a young man from the north went to spend a vacation upon a ranch. As a joke the cowboys induced him to chew a peyote bean. Within a few minutes after he began swallowing the fluid from the bean he started on a rampage that is still discussed in awed voice by veterans of the border. Normally he was a quiet chap. No sooner had he come under the influence of the intoxicant than he grabbed a pistol out of the holster of one of the bowboys, chased all of them into a nearby building where they barred the door against him. He then mounted a horse and at breakneck speed rode into Encinal, where he took a shot at every person he met, finally driving the entire population into the stores and homes. The next step in his wild career was to start on a ride through the chaparral. Three days later he was found in an exhausted condition 160 miles away from his starting point.

ALBINO SALMON

Experiments Being Carried on as to Reproduction and Progeny's Color.

Two specimens of albino spring salmon in good condition, and weighing about one pound and a half each, have been received at the Fisheries Branch of the Department of Marine and Fisheries from its hatcheries at Cowichan Lake, Vancouver Island. These fish are something of a curiosity, and have created considerable interest. It is stated that 180 albino fish, almost pure white in color, have been produced from colored eggs collected in October, 1916. Experiments are being carried on to discover whether these fish will reproduce without going to sea, and if so whether their progeny will exhibit the same lack of color. Proposed experiments, it is thought, will be watched with interest by scientists and fish culturists generally.

JEAN

Jean is one of the many French names which have come to be anglicized by dropping the final ending. Though infinitely prettier when spelled Jeanne, it is apparently thought to savor too much of the Gaelic for English ears. It is one of the simplest of feminine names—its equivalent Jane being the sole example of the appelative even less burdened with affectation.

Jean means "grace of the Lord." Its earliest predecessor was Joanna, wife of Herod's steward. The Roman calendar has two feasts in honor of Joanna, the holy woman of the Bible, but the real vogue of the name is due to the numerous St. Johns of the Scriptures, of which Joanna is really the feminine.

In the twelfth century Jehanne and Jeanne appeared in the south of France and Navarre. The latter was especially a patrician name and its bearer married into many of the royal families of the times. The daughter of Henry II., who married into Sicily, was the first English princess so-called. The Scottish Joan Beaufort, whom the Scots called Jean, was the maiden beloved by the captive James I.

The sapphire is the talismanic gem belonging to Jean. It is said to attract divine favor for her and protect her from all danger and disease. Friday is her lucky day and 2 her lucky number.

SHOOTING AT CHESLEY

Bert Cavill, a Young Drayman, Who Was Shot on the Street by Joshua Green Died from Wound.

The usually quiet and law-abiding town of Chesley was the scene of a sensational tragedy Thursday morning, July 29th, at 9 o'clock when Bert Cavill, aged 38 years, a drayman, was shot and fatally wounded by Joshua Green, aged 57 years, a factory-worker and life-long resident of the district.

The two men lived on the same street and were apparently on good terms with each other. It appears that Cavill had called at Green's house the previous day to get a piano that had been stored there and was to be shipped to its owner at Toronto. There was no trouble about the matter, but the following morning as Cavill came along the street to work, Green was waiting for him and after a few words, pulled out a big 44 revolver and fired. The first bullet entered the lower part of Cavill's mouth and passed through to the neck. Cavill then turned and ran, followed by Green, who fired three more shots, two missing but the other entered Cavill's back and lodged in his liver. It was this shot that proved fatal.

Green told his story to his neighbor, Rev. Mr. Kellerman, and then gave himself up to the authorities. He was brought before the Magistrate for preliminary hearing on a charge of shooting with intent, and sent up for trial.

Cavill was operated upon the same afternoon and the bullet in his neck extracted but the wound in his liver proved fatal. After lingering on for four days he passed away at three o'clock Monday afternoon. During the interval he was quite bright and until the last said he would get better. He made an ante-mortem statement a few hours before his death before Magistrate Bell of Chesley. The facts of the statement which will not likely be disclosed until the trial, will no doubt have an important bearing on the case.

The death of the wounded man means that Green will have to face trial on the charge of killing him. The trial will not take place until the Fall Assizes, which open in Walkerton on November 15th. The prisoner has engaged David Robertson, K. C., to defend him. County Crown Attorney Dixon is looking after the prosecution.

Bert Cavil, the dead man, was a quiet, industrious, inoffensive chap, without an enemy. He leaves a wife and two small children. Green, the prisoner, is a big man, who weighed over 200 pounds in his younger days. It is reported that he had been acting queerly of late and it is expected that a plea of insanity will be entered. He had a son severely wounded in France, who died about 15 months ago and it is said he took it greatly to heart. He is a brother of Charles Green, of Southampton, who opposed C. M. Bowman at the last Provincial election. He has a wife and grown-up son and daughter.

As far as can be learned there was no quarrel between Green and Cavil about the piano. One story is that Green had been subject to sneezing fits lately and had the peculiar notion that somebody was throwing dust to bother him and he believed that Cavil was one of the offenders.

"Yes, this is it."

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS WITH ECZEMA

Mrs. Link, 12 Walker street, Halifax, N.S., states—"After three years of miserable torture and sleepless nights with terrible eczema, and after trying over a dozen remedies without obtaining anything but temporary relief, I have been perfectly and entirely cured by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. After the third or fourth application of this grand ointment I obtained relief, and a few boxes were sufficient to make a thorough cure.

SUITCASE HOLIDAY

Take a suit, either of wool, or of some silk such as faille, with plenty of blouses, both simple and fancy. Some simple morning dresses of dimity or voile will be serviceable, or white wash skirts and waists if you prefer them.

A becoming afternoon dress or two will be necessary; crepe-de-chine, foulard or printed voile are good materials. As regards a separate skirt, many attractive ones developed in sports silks are shown. One in a plain silver grey, black and green or dark blue, will be in good taste. Blouses harmonizing in color may be worn with it.

As there are many beautiful walks along the lake you will need comfortable shoes; many women wear white canvas ones. For wear over your thin dresses in the evening you will need a silk sweater or a cape wrap of some kind.

TO KEEP FRUIT

If you have opened a jar or two of some favorite canned fruit to find it a little over acid or molded on the top, prevent the cause of this with remaining jars. It is because air gets in the can, due probably to defective can rubbers, so melt a little paraffin and pour it around the cap of the jar, holding the jar top downward during the operation so as to fill any little crevice. This keeps out air very efectively and is not much trouble.

If there is canned fruit left over after a meal to keep it perfectly fresh for another one pour it back into the glass jar and seal tightly. If left in an open dish the flavor is apt to become flat and stale. This is particularly true with pineapple or apricots.

IN THE KITCHEN

Table knives are not always well treated at the hands of the dish-washer. One special point about washing them is to keep the handles out of the water or they will become loosened from the blade. Wipe the soiled knives clean on a damp cloth, after wiping them on paper, then ward in a jug of hot water in which stand them with the blades down-a little baking soda has been dissolved.

Did you ever know that you could test an oven's right heat for cooking certain eatables with a simple piece of white paper? If the paper turns a light yellow, scarcely perceptible, it is ready for cookies or sponge cake; if it turns a nearly decided yellow, it is ready for pies, pound cake and mince pies; if a deep yellow, it is ready for bread. If it blackens the paper, cool the oven right off.

If paraffin is used on top of jellies and jams when it is removed from the jar, wash it, melt it and strain it through course cotton, such as a salt bag. It is then ready for use again.

Messrs. Len and Edward Schmidt have purchased Mr. Dan Cantlon's 100-acre farm on the 3rd concession of Arthur township, the price paid, being 14,000.

WILD MAN CAUGHT

"Is the War Over?" He Asks—Says He is Russian, But Speaks English.

After an exciting eight-day hunt through the heavy forests of northern Wisconsin, a wild man who has terrorized the settlers for four years was finally locked in the Ashland County Jail. He gave his name as Charles Mills, and although he insists that he is a Russian, speaks English without the slightest trace of accent.

Officials of Ashland County have had many reports of the wild man. Four years ago they first heard of him. Finally Sheriff Eckle and Game Warden Gray of Ashland, decided to see for themselves.

The officers finally found a hut in a dense woods, and concluded that this was the home of the modern Robinson Crusoe. They found crude implements which the man used in killing, but the fugitive was away on a hunting expedition, so the officers lay in waiting.

Early the following morning the searchers, hidden in the underbrush, saw him approaching, in one hand a porcupine which he had killed with a club, and in the other a handful of herbs. He entered the cabin with the officers behind him. When he saw them he leaped at them with a rude hand-made axe, but was quickly overpowered. When handcuffed his first words were:

"Is the war over?"

Thinking he may be a draft-evader, jail officials have given him a haircut and shaved his beard, and his picture has been sent throughout the country.

He refuses to talk except to insist that he is a Russian, but he takes kindly to civilized food.

HER FIRST WATERMELON

Entering the kitchen, Mrs. Gotham was amazed to see the watermelon she had ordered for dessert immersed in a pot of water boiling briskly on the range.

"Why, Nora, what in the world did you do that for?" she exclaimed.

"Sure, I know nothing about them things," replied the recently imported domestic. "I thought they had to turn red like lobsters before ye ate 'em."

A CLEVER OPENING

Englishmen are cordial enough to those whom they consider to be their friends; but it is fair enough to say they are not loose talkers, and do not "scrape acquaintance" gracefully. Harper's Magazine tells of two Britons who crossed over to the United States a few years ago.

The Englishmen shared the sam table, and sat side by side in their deck chairs; but they did not address eash other, since they had not been introduced.

e When New York was near at hand one of them bravely decided that it was time to waive conventionality and make the acquaintance of his fellow companion.

They were standing side by side at the rail. The man with the initiative was lost in thought. Finally, when he had decided upon a timely introductory remark, he asked:

"Going over?"

"Yes," replied the other Briton, "I rather thought I would. Are you?"

DON'T WORRY

Don't worry about your position if your heart is right. God knows just where you ought to be. You do not. He may get you discharged so you will find something better, or He may have the whole management changed in order to keep you where you are. You never can tell which it will be.

Eaglets learn to fly, you know, by getting tipped out. They would stay in their nest and eat spring lamb as long as the old bird would bring it. That first drop must be a feather-raising experience for the eaglet. But he nevers falls to his death. Underneath him swoops the watchful mother. "The eternal God is thy dwelling place and underneath are everlasting arms." Deuteronomy 33:27.

But if you fly, you must expect some sickening, blood curdling tail-spins, nose dives and side slips. You may have the worst of luck, but the best of providences. Trust your Instructor.

The Baffled Bridegroom

Finding that he had a comfortable home and everything else excepting a wife, a young Chinese gentleman of the modern school approached one of his friends, asking him to find a lady who would make a good wife. The obliging friend made inquiries and found a certain Miss ——. Without stopping to make his own inquiries about the girl and taking his friend's word for granted, the young man made elaborate preparations for the great day. At a certain hour the bride was brought to her new home. As soon as she stepped out of her gorgeously decked sedan chair the bridegroom made off and could not be found. After a long search, his friends found him in a cheap tea-house and asked him why he disappeared just as the bride alighted from the sedan chair. And this, according to the Chinese Pass, is the poor "modern" young man's reply:

"When she left her chair, I saw she had small feet. I thought then she was old-fashioned and would not make a good match for me, so I quit. What I want is a nice, fashionable young lady.

9 TO 6

The Dufferins bumped into their first defeat this year at Weston on Saturday afternoon, when they were beaten by the home team by a score of 9 to 6. The largest crowd of the season attended the match and was treated to a clean and brilliant exhibition of the national game. Judging by the performance of the two teams on Saturday Weston deserved their victory. They may not have played any better lacrosse than The Dufferins when the latter were in possession of the ball, but they put more vim into their playing than the boys in green and white. They excelled in fielding and running, largely owing to the fact that they were in better condition and owing to the intense heat condition counted for a whole lot on Saturday. Fully three thousand enthusiastic spectators circled the playing oval five and six deep. It is estimated that there were at least four hundred autos parked on the grounds and many more were left standing on streets near the entrance to the grounds. The size and enthusiasm of the crowd afforded a striking demonstration of the hold lacrosse still has on the sport loving public. The Dufferins had a great following, judging from the volume of cheering as large or larger than the Weston contingent, despite the fact that the game was played on Weston grounds. Ex-Orangevillians now living in Toronto were present in hundreds and rooted for The Dufferins every bit as lustily as the fans from the home town and neighborhood. It was a great game, but say wasn't it hot. The Weston lacrosse field is in a flat right by the river and is ringed by higher ground that effectually cut off any vagrant breezes that might have been blowing on the uplands. The whole field was like a bake oven and hundreds of spectators divested themselves of coats and even collars so that they might enjoy the game with a little more comfort. Everybody sweltered and cheered and the great majority did it good-naturedly, although here and there a hot-head got out of humor and threatened to do things. There was a bit of a fight near one end of the field, but nobody seemed to know who was scrapping or what they were fighting for. The home management had enlisted the services of several stalwart policemen to keep the big crowd in order, but beyond keeping the spectators back of the playing ground the cops had an easy time of it.

The game did not start off any too auspiciously for The Dufferins. Weston secured the sphere on the face-off and carried the play into Orangeville territory. A bad pass relieved a dangerous looking situation and the Dufferin defence got possession of the ball, The home took a hand in the game and got a promising opening, but the shot went a little wide. Weston was soon on the offensive at the other end of the field and a series of sharp attacks culminated in the first tally of the game. The home team continued to press their advantage. Brown drew five minutes penalty for a check that looked purely accidental, and the Garnets ran in three counters in succession. The Orangeville home got going better and shortly before the quarter ended tallied its first goal on a swift pass from Blythe to Bert Brown, who fooled Rowntree with a wicked shot. The second quarter saw a surprising reversal in form, The Dufferins putting more ginger into their play and being on the aggressive the greater part of the time. The whole quarter was very much in their favor and they ran in three goals before the whistle sounded for the rest period, tying up the score. The green and white home ran in two more in the first part of the third quarter and with the score 6 to 4 in their favor appeared to have the game well in hand. They missed two good chances to add to their total and make the game safe and then the Weston home got busy and tallied on a rush just before the period ended. Condition, or rather lack of condition, told heavily against The Dufferins in the final period. On the other hand the Garnet home was going as fast, or even faster than at the beginning of the game and ran in four goals. The Dufferins made several vigorous attacks on Rowntree's citadel, but their shots failed to find the nets and the game ended without any addition to their score. On the whole the game was very fast, considering the extreme heat, which was very trying on the players. Weston seemed to be the heavier team and the players used their weight to good effect. The home is strong and aggressive and the players are adepts at holding the ball and endeavoring to draw the opposing defence men from their positions. The Dufferins have a faster and better scoring home and their defence compares very favorably with the Weston defence. If the two teams were in equal condition the green and white should win, but the players will have to get into better shape if they mean to stay in the running. Ernie Doyle and Len Smith handled the game. Some of their decisions didn't suit, but they seemed to be trying to do the fair thing. The Weston field is not fenced off and the ball was continually getting into the crowd, causing frequent stops and face-offs. The players were:—

Weton—Goal, Rowntree, points, E. Holley and L. McEwen; defence, L. Ramshaw and Luceby; centre, Riley; home, Kingdom, S. Farr, H. Coulter and G. Coulter; spare, Luceby.

The Dufferins—Goal, Booth, points, Densmore and Cushing; defence Henderson and Scott; centre, Stephens (Stevenson); home, Blythe Brown, Bert Brown, Clive Gordon and Dr. Zinn; spares, Ewing, Cranston and Golden.

The result of the game ties the two teams for the district championship. The tie will be settled by playing home and home games, the first in Weston next Saturday and the second in Orangeville on the following Wednesday.

The Globe's report of Saturday's game read: —

Weston, Aug. 8—Joy unconfined reigned here yesterday afternoon when the local O. A. L. A. intermediate team beat Orangeville 9 to 6 and tied for the group leadership. The largest crowd of the season attended and was treated to a clean and brilliant exhibition. Fully three hundred and fifty automobiles were parked around the playing field and in addition about two thousand ardent fans, though sweltering in the sun, remained until the final whistle blew.

To President "Bert" Booth, playing goal for Orangeville; "Len" Smith, who acted as referee, and all those who have remained loyal to the national game, it was the dawn of a new era. A delegation from Orangeville coupled with local fans made up a great part of the crowd, but there were many visitors from Toronto and following the game a large number, owing to the lack of sufficient street cars, were left stranded here for an hour and a half.

A rough game was anticipated, the riot that occurred when the Mimico team played here last season being still fresh in the minds of thefans, but the local management had a "regiment" of policemen on hand, the referees ruled firmly and the competitors showed no inclination to play anything but clean lacrosse. Two players "took the count" throughout the gruelling battle, and both were Weston boys, accidently laid low by an opponent's stick.

Weston opened the scoring shortly after the first period began and tallied three more in a row when Brown of Orangeville drew a five-minute penalty. Near the close of the period, with most of the local players up on the attack, one of the Orangeville defense men broke away and raced right up to the goal mouth, where he passed neatly to Brown and the latter scored.

The second session was all in favor of the visitors, who tallied three goals and tied the score. They ran in two more early in the third period and then Weston came with a rush and scored number five.

The locals continued their good play in the last quarter and scored four goals without an answer from Orangeville.

Reilly, at centre, played a sensational game for the locals, his redoubtable opponent Ewing being unable to hold him in check. His scoring of the fourth goal, when after securing possession at the face-off he engineered a lightning-like attack on the Orangeville citadel, was one of the feature plays of the day.

The teams will likely play home and home games to decide the group title and the result is difficult to foretell. Orangeville possesses an attacking force that shades that of the locals, but their defence is not consistent in its work. Goaler "Bert" Booth, however, is one of the best in the sport and may prove the stumbling-block to the locals. The first game will be played at Weston next Saturday and the second at Orangeville the following Wednesday.

The Evening Telegram had the following write-up:—

A crowd of three thousand rabid lacrosse fans, who came from the remote parts of the province, including Owen Sound, East Toronto, etc., in autos numbering nearly four hundred, greeted Weston and Orangeville when they took the field at Weston in what turned out to be one of the best games of lacrosse ever played in Ontario. Interest was at fever heat from start to finish and not once during the whole 80 minutes of play did it lag, while the cheers from the crowd when scores were tallied was music to the ears of those who have been endeavoring to re-establish the grand old game. Weston won by 9 to 6.

The best of feeling existed throughout the match. The outstanding star of the game was undoubtedly Edgar Kingdom, of Weston. He not only notched three goals, but was always down helping out the defence, grabbing the loose ball and then coming back help out the home. Next in the limelight was Blythe Brown, who scored three goals, but he was ably assisted by the other sharp shooters for Orangeville. In the nets both Booth and Rowntree put aside everything within reach, those getting by being impossible to handle.

BERT'S VERSION

President Bert Booth of the O. A. L. A. wishes the followers of lacrosse to have the proper version of the trouble re the disputed goal at St. Catharines on the holiday. According to Mr. Booth, one of the Brampton players, Charters, went in with the ball, but was heavily checked; he lost possession and fell to the ground with an injury, the ball meantime was being forwarded by the St. Kitt's defence up the field when Judge of Play Campbell blew his whistle owing to Charter's disablement. Not hearing the whistle play continued and the St. Catharines team scored a goal. On returning to centre to face the ball Dr. Campbell informed Booth that play had been stopped previous to the scoring of the goal, and it was thereupon disallowed. The players apparently voiced a protest, but seemed satisfied on hearing the explanation. There was some talk of protesting the goal, but it is not likely that anything further will be heard. President Booth did not mention the question of time being called too soon.

A pretty girl of sixteen kissed and shook Sir Thomas Lipton after the loss of the last race. That gallant gentleman doubtless thinks his expenditure of a million dollars was justified. It reminds us of the story of a honeymoon couple. After passing through a tunnel, the groom informed the bride that its construction had cost a million dollars. "Well, George," said the happy young wife, "it was worth it."

OLDEST ORANGEMAN

Bro. Courtney Conn Has Been Member for 82 Years.

The Orange Sentinel says that Bro. Courtney Conn, Pastmaster at Elder, in the north of Mono township, for many years, is the oldest Orangeman in Canada. Bro. Conn has been a member of the Order for 82 years. He was initiated in the county of Fermanagh, Ireland, when 16 years of age and took all the degrees there. He is now, and has been for upwards of 60 years a member of Violet Hill L. O. L. No. 354. This year, in spite of his advanced age, he drove seven miles to spend the 12th with his Lodge. Bro. Conn enjoys good health, is quite active for a man of his years and can still read without the aid of glasses. Bro. Conn was one of the earliest settlers in Dufferin County and has many interesting recollections of the pioneer days. His sons have all followed in their father's footsteps in the Orange Order, also his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Conn, in Toronto, who is a member of Unity L. O. B. A., No. 80, Toronto.

BLACK KNIGHTS SERVICE

The members of the Orangeville Preceptory, Royal Black Knights of Ireland, and visiting Sir Knights from Laurel and other neighboring Preceptories attended divine service in St. Andrew's Church on Sunday night. The Sir Knights paraded fifty strong and made quite an imposing turnout as they marched to and from the church headed by the Orangeville Citizens' Band. Sir Knight Jas. A. Patterson officiated in his usual role of Marshall and Director of Ceremonies. During the service the Band took the place of the church choir and led in a very fine song service. Bandmaster Morrow's musicians also contributed a fine voluntary while the offering was taken and also played while the congregation was leaving the auditorium at the close of the service. Mr. J. E. Jessop acted as conductor. A large congregation attended the service, practically every seat in the church being filled. Rev. W. M. Morris, pastor of the church, himself a member of the Orangeville Preceptory, occupied the pulpit and preached an impressive and eloquent sermon from Judges 5,"The stars in their courses fought against Sisera."

The words of the text, Mr. Morris stated, were a poetic statement and should be interpreted by the laws that govern all poetry. They nevertheless voiced a splendid truth, namely that God is on the side of righteousness, truth and fredom and that the very universe is arranged on the side of righteousness. The Israelites won a remarkable victory over the armies of Sisera and Deborah, celebrating the victory in this famous battle song, summed up the theology of it all in the words of the text. This ancient battle was a struggle, where the issues were similar to those involved and at stake in the recent world war. The nationality and the religion of the Israelitish people depended on the outcome of the struggle. The Israelites were engaged in a righteous warfare and recognized that God was fighting on their side in the fact that the very laws of the universe were favorable to their cause. There is no need even in these days to apologize for righteousness, religion and truth, for these are a part of the laws of the universe. The Israelites recognized that there were forces unseen and eternal that had co-operated with the seen forces to win them the victory. There has always been that battleline across the ages—an eternal conflict between right and wrong. It is well that we should remember that in this conflict God is not on the side of the big battalions, but with the man of the nation, which stands for fighting for truth, justice and righteousness. It pays a man to be arrayed on the side of right, for he is then on the side of God. It is faith of the world that the nation, which is founded on righteousness is the nation which is going to triumph. Every Christian citizen should realize that it is his call and challenge to secure righteousness for the nation. The universe is constituted on moral lines and the man who is doing the will of God is the man who is striving to promote honesty, rectitude and religion. The greatness of the nation rests upon the Bible. Christ came to the world to make known to us the will of God. There is no greater message that can be given from the pulpit than to impress upon citizens the thought that if they are to build up a great nation in Canada, its foundations must be securely laid on the pillars of truth, honesty, Justice and righteousness.

THE HYDRO

WONDERFUL DEVELOPMENT OF THE NIAGARA SYSTEM IN LAST TEN YEARS.

Reductions in Rates Have Saved the Municipalities in Niagara Group Over $5,000,000.

A statement has been issued by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission for Ontario on the business of the Niagara system up to December 31 last. In ten years the number of municipalities on the Niagara system taking power has increased from 12 to 115, and the amount of power distributed from 25,000 to 225,000 horsepower. There are 12 rural systems, 23 companies, and five Government industries.

The total assets at Niagara Falls and in the various municipalities amount to $40,693,070; the accumulated reserves, $7,654,370, and the surplus, $2,177,934.

Twenty-six municipalities operating for an average period of three and one-half years report a total operating shortage of only $39,078. These deficiencies are carried as deferred expense against future revenue, which will be produced by increased rates in these municipalities if necessary. No tax levy has been necessary to carry any Hydro enterprise in any municipality, although the rates fixed by the commission in a number of municipalities have been slightly under the cost of power.

In 57 municipalities served by private companies before joining the Hydro group consumers were paying an average per kilowat hour of 9.8 cents, and in 37 of these there was an average additional charge of 21.2 cents per month for meter rental. In the period under review these would have paid, at the rates mentioned, $35,758,972, for electrical energy. The amount actually paid the Hydro was $11,022,972, or a direct saving of $24,735,623.

Reductions in rates by the Hydro since the system was inaugurated have saved the municipalities in the Niagara group $5,046,628.

A comparison with the cost of steam-generated power is also interesting. The present price of coal in Toronto is $14.75 per ton, but taking the average price of coal at $6 per ton the power supplied by Hydro has ben equal to 18,000,000 tons of coal, worth $108,000,000, or more than twice the capital investment for the co-operative plant at Niagara, 1,400 miles of transmission lines, transformer stations and local distributing plants.

The report continues:

"Obviously the Niagara Hydro system is self-sustaining, and more, as the sums in reserve clearly demonstrate. It is always maintained at the highest point of efficiency, and at the sam etime is accumulating a fund which in less than twenty-five years will be sufficient to replace the whole central and local plant serving the district between the Niagara frontier and the St. Clair River.

Commenting upon the Hydro system as "an institution of rock-ribbed financial stolidity and stability," and referring to the Provincial Government as advancing money "merely in the capacity of a friendly bank," the report goes on to show the fixed assets of the Niagara system as follows:

Lands and buildings		$ 1,709,288.61
Sub-station eqipment		2,726,174.83
Distributing systems:
Overhead	6,131,871.17
Underground	1,082,037.59
Line transformers	1,707,936.63
Meters	2,144,083.24
Street lighting equipment:
Ordinary	1,064,380.08
Ornamental	467,220.51
Miscellaneous const'n.	2,319,093.73
St'm & hydraulic plant	97,903.59
Old plant	539,846.21
Provincial commission's plant to serve municipalities		14,098,318.19
Total		$34,088,153.38

There are also current assets of $6,604,916.62, making the total $40,693,070. The liability to the Province is $14,008,318.19.

IRISH AMBASSADORS

Rev. Dr. O'Doherty, Roman Catholic Bishop of Clonfert, Ireland, has thrown an interesting light on the attitude of the Vatican toward Ireland. He has just returned from Rome, and though his language was guarded, it is impossible to mistake its significance. Speaking at a reception given him in Loughrea, he indulged in a few references to those "who sent their ambassadors to Rome to blacken the Irish cause at the court of the Vatican at a time when the blessed Oliver Plunkitt was to be raised to the altar of God." But, he continued, the Irish people had their ambassadors there, priests and laymen, who were working unceasingly for the Irish cause; andthen came the really significant part of his speech. The visit of the Irish Bishops, he said, strengthened these men. "The cause of Ireland was appreciated in Rome because Rome knew what real justice was—not the justice and right of which English statesmen had prated so much and practised so little, but justice for nations as well as for individuals." It is quite evident that the Bishop meant his hearers to understand that the Vatican was favorable to the demand for Irish independence, and that the bishops had helped those who were demanding it. There is nothing new in this, but it raises afresh the question of the attitude of the British Government toward the Church of Rome in Ireland and to the Vatican itself. The actions of ordinary rebels may be beneath contempt, but are the British people prepared to tolerate the machinations of prelates who are using the machinery of the Church for the purpose of destroying the Empire?

For historical purposes it is desired, if possible, to obtain the origin of the name Mulmur, the designation applied to the northeast township of the County of Dufferin. If any Banner reader can throw any light on the origin of the name, we should be pleased to have them do so in our columns.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER DURING HOT WEATHER

More little ones die during the hot weather than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentry, cholera infantum and stomach troubles come without warning, and when a medicine is not at hand to give promptly the short delay too frequently means that the child has passed beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in the house where there are young children. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will relieve the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"SMASHING BARRIERS"

—entitled—

"Human Chain"

EPISODE 15

The last chapter of the Vitagraph adventure serial, "Smashing Barriers," will be shown at the Gem Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, August 16 and 17. To those, who have followed the amazing adventures and the fickle fortunes of William Duncan (Dick Daring) and his sweetheart in the picture, Edith Johnson (Bella Manners) through the other fourteen breath-taking, heart-pounding chapters, this will be a pleasing announcement. They have been anxious to see just how all this clever concoction of intrigue and romance will end up.

Manager Pownall, of the Gem Theatre, who already has had a glimpse of this last episode, claims that the two concluding reels are equal to any of the other fourteen episodes. The authors have packed dare-devil deeds, stunts and high powered action into this chapter right up to the final fade-out which finds Dick and Bella triumphant, their enemies scotched, a family feud patched up and they themselves ready for the minister.

William Duncan, according to Vitagraph, is resting up since completing "Smashing Barriers." He is taking a vacation in Southern California, but will resume work on a new serial within a few weeks, the name of which will be announced later.

Humorous Aboriginal Belief.

Australian natives tell queer stories of creation, each tribe having a different legend. One tribe says that in the beginning the earth opened up in the midst of Perigundi lake and various birds and animals came out. They lay down in the sun to be "finished" into human beings by its rays. When the finishing process was over they got up and walked away.

Another tribe says that before man was made a tribe of magical creatures, known as "Mura-muras," lived on the earth. While one of these was hunting a kangaroo the animal hopped out of sight. Parallisa, as the hunter was called, asked some old women where it had gone, but they lied to him, as they had killed it. He became angry, and seeing some half-finished bodies lying on the ground he straightened out their limbs, blew in their ears so they could hear, and rammed some clay down their throats, and clear through their bodies, to make them stiff. These then became men, and he continued to make more men and women.

Lady (to apple vendor)—Two of the apples you sold me yesterday were rotten. I was going to take them along to show you, but I forgot.

Apple Vendor (politely)—Doesn't matter, ma'am; your word is as good as the apples.

THE METHODIST PICNIC

On Wednesday afternoon, August 4th, the Sunday School and Epworth League of the Orangeville Methodist Church, held a very successful picnic to Stanley Park, Erin. The trip was made by motor. The following parody on the "Charge of the Light Brigade" was written about the event:

Half a mile, half a mile,
Half a mile onward,
All bound for Stanley Park
Rode the two hundred.
"All the way to Erin, boys,
Spare not the gas," he said,
Into the grounds at last,
Rode the two hundred.

Straight for the ditch they made,
Was there a girl dismayed?
Not though the driver knew,
The Chevrolet had wandered.
Their's not to utter sigh,
Their's not to ask him why,
Their's to enjoy the pie,
While from the watery ditch,
Were pulled the rickety car-load.

Water to right of them,
Water to left of them,
Water behind them;
Rippled and mumbled,
All dripping wet they were,
And 'tis a wonder there
Weren't a calamity,
As through the troubled pond
Rowed he the boat load.

Shone on their ankles bare,
Shone as they turned in air
Chasing the fishes there
Swimming like mad they were,
All the crowd wondered.
Plunged in like horses wild,
Bewildering the little child,
Turtle and sea-weed,
Chased by the oar-stroke,
Battered and bunted,
There they swam back each one,
Much tired and hungered.

Ice cream to right of them,
Ice cream to left of them,
Ice cream behind them,
Cones by the hundred.
Raced they like mad the while,
Younger and older fell,
They who had run so well,
Came to the supper hall,
Back from the game of ball,
All that was left of them,
To ease their hunger.

When can its memory fade?
O! the great rides they made,
The old horse wondered.
Hurrah for the merry-go-round,
Hurrah for the horse they found
To pull the toy around,
Times without number.
Then they returned to town,
Tanned up and burned quite brown,
Mary and Bill and John,
All the two hundred.

If you are thinking about purchasing a New Edison, mark this.
The New Edison today costs less than 15% over what it did in 1914. Mr. Edison has personally, held prices down by absorbing more than one-half of the increased costs of manufacturing. He may not be able to do this much longer.

THE ROMANCE OF THE PARTY LINE

I suppose things are pretty quiet in Our Town. It's hard to have a bean supper and play tucker at the Grange and make your imagination persuade you it's a cabaret show; the King's Daughters entertainments are probably not the dernier cri in dramatic effort, while the nearest we come to musical comedy is the earnest though not always tuneful effort of our church choir. But knowing no better and not realizing what we are missing, we manage to eke out an existence; and we have one institution that the city dweller lacks; at least, we make better use of it than he does. I refer to the telephone.

In the city your telephone is impersonal. You pore in a big book, take off the receiver, bark a number and say: "Marvin's? This is Johnson. Send me a four pound roast and a peck of potatoes;" or, "Meet me at the Bell-in-Hand at ten-thirty;" or "Buy me two hundred Agricultural Chemicals"; and that's all there is to it. You hang up.

Not so with us. When Asenath calls up Flo Spear, the preliminary move is to seat herself comfortably; she needs no book to consult, but forthwith she grasps the little handle at the right of the box and grinds out the two long and four short, signifying twenty-four. No machine-like central to intervene—you call your own party. We get so acute that we can tell who's calling by the way he rings. And when Flo answers the ring it's no snippy little command or request she gets; it's a conversation. Yes, the Leghorn pullets are beginning to lay; we are going to have shell beans for dinner; Thelma's school dress is nearly done; Joe Read says old Mrs. Tibbetts found one of her ducks dead this morning; Abijah Small is drafted; Jonas is going to Boston to see a specialist; and so on.

What need of University Club or Union Club when we have an eight-party line? I call Ed. Seabury to see if he can spare me a day or two. As I take down my receiver I hear click—click—click on the line. Waiting, I hear Spear's cuckoo clock strike seven, while Boutelle's baby screams into my ear—over the wire.

"Wait a minute, Ed," I say. "I don't think Frank Dodge has taken his receiver down yet."

"Pa's out in the barn," pipes Dodge's eight-year-old. And we begin.

It has its solemn side too. When, in the darkness of the hours after midnight, we hear the one long and three short we know that Doc Chandler is called out on something urgent, probably Ed Seabury's wife slipping down another notch in her long hard fight. And in the awful stillness that follows that terrific crash of a near-by thunderbolt, we wait in dread of the ring that summons help.

And yet that same friendly, provoking reliable telephone once upon a time sowed the seeds of suspicion, turned neighbor against neighbor, and would have created scandal had there been any place to hang the blame.

The line had not been long in operation. We had enjoyed its novelty and played with it for a time, calling up on every pretext and without any, until the keenness of the pleasure had worn off, and we had settled into more conservative use, employing it only on business or when we had leisure for a satisfying conversation. there were the six a. m. rush of business calls, the social good-mornings from seven to nine, a brief flurry at noon when the men-folks were in from the field, the lengthy social calls of the afternoon, business again for a spell in the evening, till nine, then mostly silence.

Upon this humdrum routine, one lazy summer afternoon, descended a bombshell. The telephone rang fifteen. This was a number not assigned to any subscriber. Therefore eight receivers were softly removed.

Came a low-pitched feminine voice, evidently disguised: "Hello," it breathed expectantly.

"Blossom?" asked a masculine voice, also low-pitched, also disguised.

"Yes."

"Is your dolt of a husband round?"

"No, but be careful. Somebody may be listening."

"Lots of good it'll do. They don't know who we are."

"They'll do some guessing."

"Let 'em. In another week everybody'll know."

"Another week?"

"Yes, I'll have the property turned into cash by that time, and then we fly and begin over again."

"I'mm—almost afraid."

"Nonsense. We can get away easily enough. All we need is—Here comes my wife"

And the connection was abruptly broken.

Slowly, reluctantly, eight receivers were replaced. After a time six virtuous, dazed women searched the fields till their eyes fell upon their honest husbands industriously loading hay, all unsuspecting, even as the Pompeians before Vesuvius broke loose. And the widows whose ears had occupied the other receivers felt their losses all the more keenly because the terrible news must be confined.

That evening six pairs of heads in six country homes along our road wagged in unision and two lone heads wagged with equal solemnity. With six men and six women as materials to work with it is safe to assume that thirty-six different pairings were suggested, assorted, discarded or laid aside for future reference.

The next day's morning telephone calls were formal, polite and dealing with impersonal but safe topics. That afternoon the hay lay in the fields, ready to go in by noon, but it was not until nearly four that we heard Ed Seabury shouting at his horses and the hay rakes appeared here and there.

And at four-thirty again came the call "fifteen." Again the cautious, breathless lifting of receivers.

"Hello."

"Blossom?"

"Yes."

"Friend husband around?"

"Out in the field."

"I'm dying to see you."

"It isn't safe. Be patient."

"Patient! Yes. Only six days more."

"I'm—almost afraid."

"What of?"

"I don't know."

"Courage. In a few days we'll have each other, with nothing to worry us."

"It doesn't seem—quite right."

"Course it's right. Anything is right compared to our present existence." A long pause.

"Blossom, you aren't going to back out, are you?"

"N-n-o. I guess not."

"That's the girl. Only a little while longer. Good-by."

And thet evening was the Reign of Terror. The brazen effrontery of the plotters of evil,, but, above all, the baffling mystery of their identity, made some uncrowned heads lie uneasy.

A burden shared is a burden lightened; a scandal pent up is a grievous woe.

The next day was Sunday and though Ed Seabury's new calf appeared ailing and his family stayed home from church, though Frank Dodge was sick and his family stayed home, though Joe Read's folks expected company and stayed home, though the others were irregular at church anyway, the telephone was silent all forenoon.

"A watched teakettle never boils," said Ed finally. "'Let's go over to Dodge's this afternoon."

"Dast we?" asked Mrs. Ed doubtfully.

"We'll risk it," said Ed.

And they went. Similarly Joe Read's folks gave up waiting for their company and went over to Spear's, and Widow Bixby called on Widow Tibbetts.

At four-thirty the long-silent telephone rang. One long ring, a pause, one, two, three, four, five.

In four houses there was dead silence, while the little bells reverberated with the last ring. Bonnets were held half way to the head, men-folks stopped with one foot in the air; hushed was the talk of crops, of politics, of theology. Gabriel's horn could not have brought a quicker pause. Each one looked at all the others.

"I don't care! I'm going to listen," said Mrs. Ed, and with firmly pressed lips she reached for the receiver.

Likewise in each of the other houses one hardy soul dared brave the lightning.

"Blossom?" they heard breathed into the receiver.

"Careful. He's coming now. Call to-morrow."

And no more.

Well, milking was kind of late that night and some washings didn't get put to soak. Now there were four groups that could exchange views, conjectures, surmises.

Monday afternoon Ed Seabury's calf was worse again, so he finished his haying by four; Frank Dodge was going to the village that evening, so he quit at four; Luke Crocker had a headache and lay on the lounge all afternoon; Gid Annis thought it would rain anyway before he could get his hay in and didn't start and Will Spear thought he would let his hay make better, as it wasn't going to rain. The two widows could be counted on anyway.

Therefore when at four-thirty the telephone signalled the call to quarters—one long and five short rings—a roll call would have shown all present.

"Yes."

"All clear?"

"Yes."

"Listen. I won't take any chances by calling you to-morrow. Wednesday night the Grange works the fourth degree, and you're to help with the harvest supper, aren't you?"

"Yes."

"Well, listen. After the grand march you skin out. There'll be so much confusion nobody'll notice. Those in the kitchen'll think you're waiting on table, and those waiting on table'll think you're in the kitchen, and they'll all be too rushed to count noses. You sneak out, meet me at the east end of the horse sheds behind the church; that'll be about nine-thirty and we'll catch the Mogul at Millbank at ten-fifty. Do you get it all?"

"Yes, but—"

"No buts about it. Look out. Here she comes. Now remember."

And nothing more was audible on the telephone but the barking of Seabury's dog, and the puffing of the way freight near Dodge's, and a jumbled chorus of "What did they say?" in several voices.

Ah me! The slowness of the time between four-thirty Monday and harvest supper, Wednesday evening! And if that interval was long, how immeasurably longer the proceedings of the fourth degree. But all things must have an end, as somebody has remarked, and at length the line was formed and the march to supper began. Down the long stretches of papered covered tables wended the lines, facing inward, to be greeted by orderly rows of empty coffee mugs, heaps of bread—white and brown—piles of apples, plates of pickles.

Anon they were seated and ready. But though the air was redolent of coffee and beans, the coffee mugs were still empty and the table was innocent of beans.

Followed a few moments of facetious comment as to strikes, sleepy cooks and locking up the goat. Then a self-constituted investigation committee, invading the kitchen, found it plentifully supplied with beans and coffee but bereft of help.

One by one the vacancies were filled and the supper proceeded, losing little of its eclat by the sudden disappearance of Mr. and Mrs. Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. Dodge, the Seaburys, the Spears and so on.

Postquam amor edendi satis est, or, to put it in New England style—"after the folks were stuffed with vittles"—rustic quip, paper napkins and bits of cake flew about, till the piano upstairs beguiled the banqueters to attest their lightness of foot and blitheness of spirit in playing tucker. "Grand right and left" it was, then "tucker," and away they went, skipping and laughing until nearly midnight, when the dawn to come, with its tasks, loomed big, and there was a general movement toward coats and hats.

Asenath and I, with some of the others, moved slowly round behind the church, down to the eastern end of the horse sheds where our faithful Ned was hitched. After a moment's fumbling I lit the lantern and looked about. Grouped here and there, sitting on the massive oaken sills, were our truants, our missing cupbearers and kitchen help with their husbands.

"Well, Good Land of Goshen!" exclaimed Etta Baldwin. "What in time are you folks doing out here all evenin'! Too good for common folks?"

As Asenath and I drove away they were still explaining to Etta about Mrs. Dodge feeling the need of air suddenly, and Ed thinking his horse might get loose, and so on. Quietly we drove away, and sober we were until well out of the village, where we dared to laugh.

For Asenath and I, being idlers and triflers, had stood on opposite sides of our telephone, after ringing fifteen, and talked alternately into the transmitter.

WRONG IN THEIR PREDICTION

Arctic Explorers Long Ago Held Belief That Eskimos Would Be Wiped From the Earth.

One hundred years ago Sir John Ross navigated his ship through Melville bay and arrived at the edge of the ice field attached to the shores. To his amazement black dots were seen rapidly approaching over the vast expanse of ice. What could they be? Eskimos and their dog teams! The most northern people in the world. Eagerly they examined the big ship and in detail everything connected with it.

Donald B. MacMillan, arctic explorer, in recalling this bit of meager history concerning the far North, relates that through an interpreter the Eskimos asked Sir John where he came from.

"From the south," he told them.

"That is impossible," they said. "No one could live down there. All our ice goes off in that direction. It must be now filled up with ice."

Doctor Kane in 1853, and Doctor Hayes, in 1861, found but a small population, and stated that in a few years undoubtedly the race would vanish. There are more there today than there were then, and they are increasing rapidly. In 1909 the total population of these northern shores numbered 218; in 1917, 261.

Dancing and Music

The emotional side of the majority of people cannot be satisfied by Free Libraries, Gymnasiums, Playgrounds, etc. The love of moving the healthy body to the rhythm of music in some form of dancing is an inborn peculiarity of the average man and woman; with liquor and indecent music, however, dances may do more harm than bacteria. It is pathetic to see in our large towns and cities young men and women rush to some dance hall to satisfy a desire for amusement.

People who have used up their strength in Dancing, Late Hours, Rich Foods or have, perhaps looked too long upon the Wine when it was Red and have let Old John Barleycorn sap their vitality will find a boon in the use of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy. It will dispel "that tired feeling," take away that feeling of depression and nervousness that comes from lowered vitality and brings back the healthy rich, red color to the cheeks. It will make your beauty sleep more satisfying so that you will awake in the mornings full of life and hope and more able to carry on with the day's work. The "habits that hurt" can more easily be overcome if you will use Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy to strengthen the Nerves, to add power to the Heart and to revive and stimulate the circulation of the Blood. Buy them from your dealer. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50.

Brick Piers Show Strength.

The National Brick Manufacturers' association and the United States government have co-operated in some very interesting experiments to demonstrate the strength of brick piers. Tests were made on forty-six piers 30 inches by 30 inches by 10 feet high, and four supplementary piers of the same cross-sectional dimensions by five feet high. Transverse, compression and absorption tests were made on each lot of bricks used. The bricks used were representatives of four districts east of the Mississippi river, two or more grades of brick being obtained from each district. Three kinds of mortar were used in the beginning and three grades of bond and workmanship employed throughout the investigation. This report, under title, "The Strength of Brick Piers," is now ready for distribution, and those interested may obtain a copy by addressing a request to the bureau of standards.

That Absorbing Question.

Desmond had been markedly attentive the day before, so when Flossie Flatfeet saw him coming up "the drive" she was all in a flutter.

She opened the door herself and led the way into the drawing room.

"Er—Miss Flossie," began the young man. "I—I—it's rather difficult to ask such a thing. I meant to ask you as I was leaving yesterday, but—but—— Do you——?"

"Yes?" breathed Flossie.

"Do you know," continued the young man, "whether I left my matches here last night?"

Looking Out for Himself.

Pat was one day driving cattle through a country town, accompanied by a collie. The dog, unknown to him, bolted into a butcher's shop and ran off with a leg of mutton. Whereupon the butcher issued forth, demanding of Pat if that was his dog.

"No," replied Pat, slyly eyeing the erring dog, which by this time was almost out of sight, "he was once mine, but he seems to be doing for himself now."

DIDN'T EXPECT HIM TO RECOVER

'Flu Pulled Gillette Down to 100 Pounds—Tanlac Pulled Him up to 148.

"For the benefit of others who are suffering from the after effects of influenza and are in a run-down condition, I want to tell of the wonderful results I have gotten from Tanlac," said George Gillette, 448 Logan Avenue, Winnipeg, Man., a few days ago. Mr. Gillette is a motorman on the Winnipeg Street Railway and is well-known there, having lived in Winnipeg for many years.

"About a year ago," said Mr. Gillette in explaining his case, "I had an attack of 'flu' that came near putting me out of commission. For six weeks I was down in bed propped up with pillows, and for eight weeks after I did get up I was unable to work a lick. I came out of the hospital weighing less than a hundred pounds. My wife could have easily carried me around in her arms, and since I have taken Tanlac and gotten well our neighbors have told us they had no idea I would recover. The 'flu' left me without any appetite and I ate so little that it was hardly any use for me to go to the table. My circulation was so poor and I was so weak that I really thought my heart was affected. I had terrible headaches, nearly all the time, and thought my back would break, it hurt so. Nothing helped me and I was just about ready to give up the fight.

"My wife had been keeping up with the Tanlac testimonials and brought me a bottle of that medicine. I had little hopes of it doing me any good, but it has completely overhauled me. It has built me up until I now weigh one hundred and forty-eight pounds, and our neighbors who thought I could not live come in to see us and go away praising Tanlac. My appetite is fine, I eat just anything set before me and have gotten rid of the headaches, pains in the back and all other miserable feelings the 'flu' left with me. I feel so strong and well now that after coming home from my run in the evenings I help my wife with her work and keep up repairs about the house. Before taking Tanlac I could hardly sleep and always felt dead tired, but now I sleep like a log and get up in the mornings feeling fine and dandy. After getting such wonderful results I can't help praising Tanlac and I recommend it every chance I have."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

The Kaiserin's Baggage.

The kaiserin seems to have been more fortunate than some queens in the matter of luggage in her flight to Holland, since her luggage, though described as rather shabby, was apparently plentiful. As a rule escaping queens have been badly provided. When Charles X and his entourage were turned out of France one who went down to see them remarked that they had nothing in the way of "furnishings," though they had money. Louis Philippe and his queen crossing the channel as Mr. and Mrs. Smith, were ill-provided, and there is the case of the ex-Empress Eugenie, whose message to a friend when she reached England was "Come to me; I have nothing—not even a handkerchief!"

AN AUTO TOUR

Former Laurel Man Describes Scenic Beauties of Eastern States.

Had Only One Tire Puncture During Tour of 1302 Miles.

Dr. A. E. Atkinson, formerly of Laurel, writes from Edgeley, Ont.:—

We are now resting quietly around the old farm after an extended auto trip of fifteen days. Starting from Buffalo, August 25th, Mrs. Atkinson, our two children, Ralph, 9 years old, and Fern, 6 years, with my brother, Elmer, of Thorndale, Ont., helping at the wheel, we reached Syracuse, 156 miles by night. We passed through a fine country and populous cities, such as Batavia, Caledonia, Avon, Canandagua, Geneva, Auburn. We had rooms booked ahead at the Mizpah Hotel, very reasonable, and under the management of a Baptist church, who worship in a part of the same building. Next morning was spent around the University and Stadium.

Leaving about 2.30 p.m. we passed through Utica City, where we drove on the banks of the Mohawk River over 100 miles, and were entertained at St. Johnsville over night, and decided to stop at small places for night rest hereafter. We soon passed Amsterdam and Schenectady, and were shown throught the State Capitol at Albany. We learned at the Auto Bureau of the hills ahead. Crossing the Hudson we entered Massachussetts and soon got a taste of up hill grades, some 5 miles long. After dinner at Pittsfield we got into the picturesque Berkshire Hills. Words cannot describe the driveways through these mountains, byt the palatial summer homes, by the summit of Jacob's Ladder, 2300 ft. above the sea. Nature's beauty spots shone out in amazing grandeur, perfect roadbeds, seldom seeing a rough spot or a speck of dust on the oiled roads. Darkness overtook us at Westfield where we put up at the Central Hotel about 10 p.m.

Next day we passed the broad Connecticut River at Springfield, a city of 180,000 people. Fifty miles east we hit Worcester, the same size, and the same distance east came to historic Old Boston, which claims, with its suburbs, 1,500,000 people. We had gone 500 miles.

We spent some time in the Forsyth Free Dental Infirmary, pictured Longfellow's resting place in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, bathed in Atlantic salt water at Revere Beach, spent a whole day on an ocean trip to Plymouth, stood on the boulder where the Pilgrim Fathers landed in 1620.

Leaving Boston we turned to Providence and crossed over the States of Rhode Island and Connecticut along the Atlantic shore through New London and New Haven.

Before reaching New York we were delayed a half hour in a small town and unjustly taxed $5.00 for running too far up an intersecting street. The traffic cops at this point were running in the motorists wholesale.

Our four days' stop in New York City impressed us with the immensity of its projects—300 million dollars to build its underground subways, 160 millions to pipe its waterworks from the Catskill Mountains. We walked over Brooklyn Bridge, went up in the Statue of Liberty, through Central Park, Zoo, Museum, Coney Island and saw the Giants trim the Cincinnatti champions at the Polo grounds.

We returned by the southern route through New Jersey, Hancock (night), Binghampton, Elmira, Watkins Glen (night), Pevin Yan, Rochester, Albion (night), Olcott Beach. Except in large cities we prepared our meals on our two-burner gasoline stove, about the size of a valise, and two of us slept in an autobed inside the car. Everywhere we met tourists with full camping and kitchen outfit, even attached refrigerators, many crossing the continent. Our new Dodge Bros. car registered 1302 miles on this trip and cost nothing except $23.30 for gasoline and $3.70 for oil. We had only one small puncture on the outskirts of Boston. We did not even take a tire pump, as garages are posted every mile or two along these improved highways. The knowledge we gained of New England repaid us many times over for our time, and could be gotten in no other way except by motor touring.

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of the little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentry and colic are most prevalent. Any of these troubles may prove deadly if not promptly treated. During the summer mother's best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

One of the most successful social evenings in the history of the Orangeville Epworth League was held last Monday evening. A number of leaguers from Alton were present and added much to the success of the meeting which was of a Patriotic nature. Miss Eleanor McCracken gave a paper on "Canadian Poetry," Mr. Clarence McConnell read an address on "The Flag" and Miss Ruth Coulter recited the "Cornflower." The program also included a humorous sketch "The Irish Philosopher," and a recitation, "The Union Jack." A Flower Contest added a measure of amusement to the event. Refreshments were served at the close and everyone agreed that they had enjoyed themselves immensely.

Next Monday evening the meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Beswick, President of the Women's Missionary Society of the Church. A good meeting is anticipated to which all are invited.

PALLID CHEEKS MEAN ANAEMIA

New Health Can be Obtained by Enriching the Blood Supply.

When a girl in her teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her and dainties do not tempt her appetite you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches and breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anaemic. Many mothers as the result of their own girlhood experience can promptly detect the early signs of anaemia and the wise mother does not wait for the trouble to develope further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which renew the blood supply and banish anaemia before it has obtained a hold on the system.

Out of their experience thousands of mothers know that anaemia is the sure road to worse ills. They know the difference that good, red blood makes in the development of womanly health. Every headache, every gasp for breath that follows the slightest exertion by the anaemic girl, every pain she suffers in her back and limbs reproaches if you have not taken the best steps to give your weak girl new blood, and the only sure way to do so is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

New rich, red blood is infused into the system by every dose of these pills. From this new rich blood springs health, an increased appetite, new energy, high spirits and perfect womanly development. Give your daughter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and take them yourself and note how promptly their influence is felt in better health.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CALEDON EAST

Dufferins Lost in Close Game At Weston on Saturday.

Orangeville lost by the close score of 7 to 6 in the championship lacrosse match played in Weston on Saturday afternoon. The match was the first of home and home games to decide the tie for the district championship, the number of goals scored by the team on the round to be the determining factor. The Dufferins are pretty well satisfied with the result of the Saturday game, and think that with anything like an even break in the luck they can offset the Weston lead in the game here on Wednesday afternoon. Disinterested spectators agree that Orangeville has the faster team, but Weston has the advantage in weight and condition. The garnet shirted players use the former advantage for all it is worth, and hard body-checking was one of their strong cards on Saturday afternoon. They were also guilty of some unnecessarily rough play, which the referee should have penalized, but didn't, and several of the Dufferins brought home mementoes of the encounter in the form of severe knocks and bruises. Stephens, the plucky little centre fielder, was the worst sufferer from the Weston methods. Near the end of the game, the Orangeville centre man, who is a slightly built chap, was bowled over while going through a bunch of Weston players. No one seemed to know just who put him out, but Riley, who was at centre for Weston, was retired to even up for Stephens' injury.

Weston did not make any runaway of the game in the opening quarter as on the previous Saturday. The home team scored the first goal, but the Dufferins evened a little later and the quarter ended with the score standing one all. Weston had a little the better of the argument so far as scoring went in the second period. They bulged the net for two counters, while the best the Dufferins could do was a single tally, making a score of 3 to 2 in favor of the home team at half time. Dufferins played a fast, heady game in the third period and by brilliant work scored three goals. The Weston home got two, making the count five to five. Weston started out to make a whirlwind finish, but The Dufferins dashed the hopes of their supporters by running in a tally early in the quarter. Weston came back with two before the period ended, leaving the score 7 to 6 when time was called. Dufferins showed much better condition than in the game a week earlier, and so far as form is concerned should meet the heavy Weston team on something like even terms on the Idylwyld grounds on Wednesday afternoon.

Len Smith was referee and Ernie Doyle, of Newmarket officiated as judge of play. The officials were fair enough, but altogether too lenient. With a stricter referee the big Weston players would be compelled to cut out a good deal of their rough stuff. An immense crowd saw the match. As usual the Dufferins had a strong backing of enthusiastic supporters. The players were the same as in the game on the preceding Saturday. Prior to the big match Shelburne and Weston Junior teams staged an exciting and well-played curtain raiser, which the Weston team won, also by a one goal margin, the score being 9 to 8. We have not been able to learn the amount of the gate receipts at either last Saturday's or the preceding Saturday's game, but it is currently reported that after paying expenses the Weston management will clear in the neighborhood of $1,000 from each game. Lacrosse is certainly demonstrating its ability to "come back."

LAUREL

Lo! and it came to pass on the eve of the last Sabbath all the folk both young and old of the Township of Amaranth girt up their loins and cranked up their Fords as was their wont and assembled and convened together in the Laurel emporium. Their number was like unto the sands of the sea-shore, yet was a place found for all. Some ranged themselves upon the dry-goods counter, some seated themselves upon the stairs, and yet others took up their abode on the breadbaskets, while one and all ate of the cherries and other store of provender that the keeper of the emporium, Warren, surnamed Grosskurth, had placed thereon for display. And seeing this the keeper was sore vexed in spirit, and he made bold to remonstrate, and addressing them he spake thus: "Verily it grieveth me at heart to see my merchandise as it goeth away, whereas the shekels in thy pockets make a joyful sound in mine ears. Therefore I pray ye cough up." But they coughed not.

And firstly the talk of the throng bore on topics of agrarian interest; the crops, the bounteous rain that giveth them increase, and the price of turnip seed. Yet in time did they make bold to discuss the laws of the Medes and Persians, the conduct of the Sanhedrin, and lastly the ordinances of the Government whose insignia is U. F. O., which being expanded, readeth United Ford Owners. And from among them there arose a man, tall and attenuated of stature. A goodly husbandman was he, who dwelt on the 10th Side Road, albeit his vineyard lay slightly to the north and toward the setting of the sun, opposite to the domicile of the keeper of the emporium. And he addressed them and spake: "Verily, brethren, it grieveth the soul of thy servant to see the land falling in the ways of iniquity. On Oct. 20th last, the action of the electors of our fair province brought sack-cloth and ashes to thy servant's head. And verily, brethren, since the day of the election in our sister province of Nova Scotia, thy servant hath made no hay." Thence did he proceed to dwell on the merits of the Federal Government, but the discussion did ned in a manner exceeding strange. For at this juncture one of the Sophists, a mighty man of wisdom, Prof. Wm. Snowden, M. A., Ph. D., murmured in sonorous tones, "De mortuis nihil nisi bonum," which being translated might be rendered "Concerning the dead, nothing if not good."

For a moment silence reigned. Then others of the Sophists, leaders in the Liberal arts, in music, science, and medicine, conversed together. And again from among them there arose a most learned leech, Dr. Elijah Fleming Dynes, M. A., D. P. H., Provincial Health Inspector, who spoke of plagues, past and present, of the 'flu' epidemic, and of the relative merits of silk and cotton masks as a preventive thereto.

And lastly it came to pass just as the Sabbath was dawning, that each man bowed three times to the earth in token of respect, and thence hastened each to his respective home.

Why We Need More Money!

Last year our rates for service were increased by ten per cent.

That was the first general increase in telephone rates in over twenty-five years.

To-day the general level of commodity prices is three hundred and fifty per cent over what it was twenty-five years ago.

Our operating expenses in 1919 had increased 99 per cent over 1915, while gross revenue was only 49 per cent greater.

Wages absorbed over 56 per cent of our revenue last year, and our wage bill this year will be at least 35 per cent higher than in 1919!

It is apparent that if we are to continue to pay good wages, and so ensure good service, and at the same time pay such a return to investors as will attract new capital to enable us to extend our plant, we must earn more money!

We must accomplish both of these things, else service to our present patrons will suffer and new applicants for service cannot be accommodated!

Increased rates are the only source from which such further revenue can come!

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF CANADA

His Fortunate Investment.

Sosthene Gallais, former wholesale oyster and ice cream dealer, who entered into business in St. Louis as a scissors grinder, and who accumulated a fortune estimated by his family at $3,000,000, through investment, several years ago, of $80,000 in Oklahoma land, on which oil later was found, died recently at his home in Tulsa, Okla.

Gallais' rise to riches is one of the most interesting of the many oil romances in Oklahoma. His original investment had lain dormant for years and he did not know that oil had been discovered on his land until he received his first royalty. Since then his wealth had increased by leaps and bounds until it enabled him to become the largest individual property owner in Tulsa, caused him to erect a 10-story office building there as a monument to the city near which he found his wealth and carried him into affluence.

The Man With a Genius for Helping

There is a man, said his neighbor, speaking of the village carpenter, who has done more good, I really believe, in this community, than any other person who ever lived in it. He cannot talk very well in prayer-meeting and he doesn't often try. He isn't worth two thousand dollars, and it's very little he can put down on a subscription list for any object. But a new family never moves into the village that he does not find out, to give them a neighborly welcome, and to ofer them any little service he can render. He is always on the lookout to give strangers a seat in his pew at church. He is always ready to watch with a sick neighbor, and look after his affairs for him. I have sometimes thought that he and his wife kept house plants in winter just to be able to send flowers to invalids. He finds time for a pleasant word for every child he meets; and you'll see the children climbing into his one-horse wagon when he has no other load. He really seems to have a genius for helping folks in all sorts of common ways, and it does me good every day just to meet him in the street.

The Canadian National Exhibition has several times been visited by fire. The last occasion was in 1906, when $350,000 worth of buildings were destroyed, including the Grand Stand.

It is estimated that vast quantities of gasoline, kerosine, naptha, lubricating and fuel oils can be extracted from the tar sands of Alberta of which there are nearly 2000 acres. These have been leased to Gen. William Lindsay for development.

Much Sickness Due to Lack of Work

The healthy body produces more energy than it needs to keep the Heart, Lungs and Bowels working. This surplus energy must be spent in mental or physical work. On the other hand, people who work too hard use their reserve strength and wear out the system.

People who are inclined to Nervousness, Constipation, or have any of the Troubles of the Heart, Liver, Nerves, Kidneys, Stomach or Bowels can greatly improve the condition of their health if they so desire.

If you work too hard, take more rest, if you work too little, take more exercise, you will need medicine to correct the troubles caused by your indiscretions and to assist nature to restore health. Then take

Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy
and if you require a laxative take
Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills

These two preparations will work wonders and we will guarantee beneficial results because we know they will do so.

Mr. Wilson E. Eagleson, of Bay field, writes as follows: "I have much pleasure in addressing you in regards to Hacking's wonderful Heart and Nerve Remedy. I have used quite a few boxes and I must say they have done me a world of good. Please send me 5 more boxes of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and 2 boxes of Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills."

If you too want to regain your lost health, then go to your nearest Drug Store and ask for Hacking's.

HAVE PURPOSE IN WALKING

Noted American Authors Gather Ideas While on Pedestrian Tours Over the Country Roads.

The other day in a little literary gathering upstairs over a bookstore in San Francisco, Bailey Millard writes in San Francisco Bulletin, I heard one more or less famous California author say to another:

"I hear you have bought an automobile. I suppose that's the end of those celebrated walks of yours."

"Not at all," was the reply of the writer addressed. "It only extends them."

"How's that?"

"Well, I have had my machine more than six months. I find that an automobile is a fine thing to take you to some place like the Marin hills, where you can go and get a good walk."

Writers as a rule are walkers. They do not necessarily walk because they write, nor do they write because they walk; but almost any of them will tell you that walking, even along a dull street in town, is inspirational. It would seem as if a writer's legs, moving steadily and rhythmically, pump out of his inner consciousness ideas that eventually get upon the printed page.

Lean as a greyhound and brown as a berry, Julian Hawthorne was walking along a country road near Poe's old home in Fordham. I happened to be accompanying him, but was saying very little, for the son of the famous Nathaniel seemed to be in what our good old bromides call a "brown study."

Of a sudden he left my side and darted up a bypath through the woods, springing up the hillside like a deer. After a few minutes he came tearing down again, apologizing for his sudden freak by saying:

"I saw a half-formed idea floating about and thought I would chase it down. It was a mythical idea and a tough one. I have it now and I'm going to put it into a story."

Henry Lewis and David Graham Phillips, two authors with whom I was well acquainted during the latter years of their lives, both took long walks nearly every day and often I accompanied them. While they walked they talked and in the case of Phillips it was wonderful talk. In New York city we used to walk from the Players' club in Gramercy park, not far from Phillips' home, to Nineteenth street and to Forty-second street and back again, always along dingy old Fourth avenue. Sometimes we would tramp along as far as Fifty-ninth street and then over the Central park paths.

Phillips told me that but for his walks he never would have been able to write his novels.

Britain Fighting Rats.

In England, where the scarcity of food during the war was a much more serious matter than in this country, they have been giving much more attention to measures to prevent the depredations of rats, and a concrete corn crib is coming into general use throughout great Britain, which will keep the grain in good condition and at the same time keep the rats out. The interior of the crib is built of concrete blocks with holes in them for ventilation of the building. The floor is of solid concrete, and on the sides where the blocks have openings the inside of the structure is covered with mesh. The trench in the center of the floor is built so that the extension feeder of the corn sheller can be placed in it when shelling out the crib. Short pieces of board are laid over this trench, and are removed as fast as the corn can be shelled. This trench is a labor-saving feature of this corn crib. It has been found by the modern farmer that concrete is the only effective way of fighting rats.

Balzac's Home Is Restored.

The home of the famous French author, Honore de Balzac, in the Rue Raynouard at Passy has been reopened as an artists' center. The house had been sadly neglected, but has been restored to present the appearance it had in Balzac's time, with its vestibule painted blue and the original oak carvings and dark red tapestries decorating the apartment where Balzac wrote his masterpieces.

On the table stands the big china coffee-pot from which the author was wont to refresh himself, for Balzac was a mighty drinker of coffee. Old woodcuts and original printing proofs adorn the walls. In the garden the vine that Balzac tended still grows and his beloved lilacs have been replanted there.

In one room there is still the trap-door through which Balzac used to disappear when importunate creditors called.

Matters of Importance.

"Young woman, I have waited here three-quarters of an hour to see Mr. Wadson. How much longer will I have to wait?"

"I can't tell you, sir. He's very busy."

"Won't you mind finding out?"

"Indeed I would, sir. Mr. Wadson is chairman of the grounds committee at the country club. He and the other members of the committee are discussing plans for improving the golf links. I wouldn't dare to interrupt him now if a million dollars were at stake."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Politics and Statesmanship.

"A politician is a statesman out of a job," remarked the superficial cynic.

"Not these days," rejoined Senator Sorghum. "A politician is a statesman who is willing to get down to shirtsleeves and hustle for what he regards as his country's best interest."

An old lady went on a visit to her son, whose work was in the Navy Yard, nearby. As they were talking, all of a sudden there was aloud noise.

"Sunset!' she ejaculated. "Well' I've lived by the sea all my life, but I've never heard the sun go down with such a bang before."

THE DIME NOVEL

One of our citizens was recently telling us of a story he had read of the effect of bad literature on the youthful mind. A ten dollar bill on the teacher's desk had been stolen. The teacher accused a boy in her form of being the guilty person but he stoutly denied the charge. The principal of the school was called in to investigate and the boy again denied being the thief. His clothing was searched without success. The principal examined the boy's desk and found one of the trashy dime novel variety and at a certain page found a leaf turned down. The principal read the page and found that it told where to secrete money on the person so that it is next to impossible to find it. A search was made of the boy's clothing at the place described in the book and sure enough the stolen ten dollar bill was found. There is no doubt the boy was tempted to steal by the suggestion of secrecy contained in the harmful pages of that book. Parents ought to carefully watch the books their children bring into their homes for habits and character are as much formed by the books we read as by the company we keep.—Chesley Enterprise.

SOMEONE SLEEPING

Speaking of the passing of a Traffic By-law in Durham, the Chronicle says:

"It is to be hoped the by-law will be enforced, but in saying this we feel as we were hoping against hope, as many of our town by-laws are never heard of after the third reading. The Council says bicycles shall not be ridden on the sidewalks. The boys say they will ride bicycles on the sidewalks—and they do it—and right up town on the front street and front of the business places. Shall we say without let or hindrance? An unenforced law is as bad or worse than no law."

Picton Gazette:After all many of our wants in these days are by no means necessities. A very large proportion of the money expended by the average family now-a-days is in the luxury class. Our forefathers had no trouble about sugar prices. In pioneer days a few pounds of sugar lasted many months. And plainer food produced a hardier race. Canada has the largest sugar consumption per capita in the world. Why not make one pound of sugar go as far as four used to. This would mean the same annual expenditure for this commodity as when it was around six cents per pound and would also, if this plan was generally adopted, bring prices down very quickly.

The price of newsprint was increased forty per cent. by the paper mills in Canada on July 1st. To prevent newspaper offices stocking up, the paper mills and jobbers for months past have refused to supply any customer beyond the average amount. Since 1915 the price of printing paper has increased sevenfold, and another jump is announced before the snow flies.

Clinton News-Record: Much harm has been done in the past by foolish persons throughout Canada stirring up a feeling of animosity between town and country. We have no room for such a feeling. We should endeavor to work out our destiny as a great nation, as a united people. If there are wrongs to right, let us right them, but no good can come to us by the cultivation of ill-will. What we need is co-operation; a spirit of good-will and fellowship; a realization of our responsibilities as citizens of a great nation within a great Empire. Only by the cultivation of such a spirit can Canadians really best serve their country and do their duty by their fellows.

Mute evidence of a tragedy that occurred centuries ago when the site of the City of Toronto was a wilderness travelled only by the savage Indian, was turned up in a cutting near Bloor and Jane streets Monday afternoon. Workmen engaged in cutting through a hill for a connecting road into the Humber Valley surveys, uncovered three skeletons and in all three were stone arrow heads telling the story of how the warriors had died. The bones were found about five feet below the surface, within a foot or two of each other.

On Monday night an unknown person gained entrance to the Bush Hardware Store here, by removing a portion of a window at the rear of the store, and ransacked the place. The show cases, cash drawer and sneives were somewhat upset, but there is little evidence that the thief got away with any quantity of goods. There was no cash excepting a few coppers and stamps in the cash drawer, which was left. Evidently the party was frightened by a passer-by. —Advocate.

Incidence of Flu.

An interesting example of the incidence of influenza was given by Sir St. Clair Thomson. In a sanitarium for consumptives seven miles from the nearest town there was an outbreak of influenza. There were 100 consumptives and about 100 on the domestic staff. Among those of the consumptives who caught the disease none had any complications, and none died; several of the cases among the staff proved fatal. Sir St. Clair Thomson said that the consumptives probably escape because the systems were already organized to fight disease and they could be considered in the same position as vaccinated people.

By Sea and Land.

"Water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink!" wailed the ancient mariner.

"Yes," said the mermaid. "Prohibition is surely a success. Even the ocean is entirely 'dry.'"
